New inside blinds are being placed in the chief's office in the Central fire hall.

The public schools will be closed on Friday, the anniversary of the birth-day of the father of his country.

There was a virtual settlement by the city with Julia B. Oakes, whose case was in hearing before a jury in the district court yesterday on an action for $5,000 damages to her house by excavations for a sewer on St. Paul street, the defendant making a motion that the judge instruct the jury to retire and bring in a verdict of $1,000 for the plaintiff; which was accordingly done.

The clerk's office in the district court building is being very conveniently refitted its dingy walls are being whitened, the counters and desks re-arranged, and new carpets will be tacked down to-day. The rearrangement fences the general public out of the vault and office room proper, and to make all things agreeable a clerk should be put in for their special service.

The St. Paul Crusaders are about to organize an employment bureau to assist young men, especially strangers coming to the city, in finding suitable employment. The bureau however, will not confine itself to this work entirely but will furnish advice and assistance to Catholic emigrants passing through the city for the west and points in Minnesota. The society expects to commence active work at once.

Some ingenious individual has erected a temporary structure on the roof of the northwest corner of the Prince block opposite the Merchants hotel on which he is to nightly show on a strip of white cloth various pictures for a week running in between them illuminated advertising which he has picked up in the city to keep his light fed with oil in a window of the topmost story of an opposite block. The illumination is not so far a brilliant success, while the audience failed to count up a baker's dozen at the first opening last evening.

Judge Simons, yesterday, rendered a decision in the matter of the proceedings against Henry O'Gorman, sheriff, to show cause why a certain sale of brick, under execution, should not be completed. The complainant, Louis Bourdin, at a sale by the sheriff of brick belonging to C. T. Meyer, bid $1.50 per 1,000. This the sheriff refused to accept on the ground that it was far below the value of the brick. Bourdin presented an order from the court for the sheriff to show cause why he did not perfect the sale, but yesterday the order was dismissed by Judge Simmons, who held that it was a well understood fact that the sheriff is not justified in selling property at a figure far below its actual worth, and therby working a grave and unnecessary injury to the debtor.

Canada.

A state document just issued by Norquay, premier of Canada, says: "The province of Manitoba ranks third among the provinces cited as a revenue contributor to the Federal treasury, and cost the central government much less than any others. It yielded in proportion to her population a much larger amount per capita than that yielded by any of the provinces forming the union, her average during the past ten years being $10.76 1-5 as against British Columbia, of $10.27 3-5; Quebec, $5.16½; New Brunswick, $4.21; Nova Scotia, $3.49; Ontario, $3.14 3-5; Prince Edward Island, $2.41 2-5. Manitoba contributed twice as much as Quebec, two and a half times as much as New Brunswick, three times as much as Nova Scotia, three and a quarter times as much as Ontario, and four and a quarter times as much as Prince Edward Island.

The Winnepeg Sun criticises the representatives of the province for the mild language used in their demands for concessions from the central government, and thinks the following language, used by Hon. Mr. Taillon, attorney general of the province of Quebec, would be more appropriate, viz.:

"We, the ministers of Quebec, are going to the parliament of Canada at Ottawa, in a few days; we are going as applicants on an errand of charity, but at the same time, we are going to say to parliament, if you do not give us what we demand we shall pull your house down, we shall blow your brains out!"
