CITY GLOBULES.

Officer Ash arrested Henry Elder, late last night for beating a woman of the town.

The six o'clock train to White Bear yesterday afternoon consisted of sixteen passenger cars drawn by two locomotives.

The usual number of Sunday drunks were driven into the cooler yesterday, the most of them to boozy to claim that it was sunstroke instead of whiskey and beer.

At the fnueral of unfortunate Harry White, which took place yesterday, was a magnificent floral harp and wreath of flowers sent by the officers in the state house.

A story was current in St. Paul, yesterday that Cantieny, the Minneapolis shootist, was caught in a bear trap set by his father to catch thieves in the basement of his store.

Two little boys of Fred Shireman, of 702 Lafond street, were picked up by the police lost on West street at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and were found by their overjoyed parents at the city hall at 8 o'clock in the evening.

A vigorous and righteous protest is entered by the residents of lower town against the custom of the scavenger company of leaving the night-soil wagons on the open lot facing Jackson and Temperance streets. The wagons are permitted to stand in the full blaze of the sun throughout the day, and the nuisance during the hot weather has become almost unbearable, while fears are entertained that the noxious smells may breed an epidemic. Either the wagons or the nostrils of the neighborhood must be muzzled.

All kinds of bodily ailments are cured by the outward application of St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain-cure. All for 50 cents.

CHICAGO EMBEZZLER ARRESTED

Returned to That City in Charge of Detectives Last Night.

Detective J. O'Connor and City Detective Rohen, of Chicago, were engaged all Saturday night up to the middle of Sunday forenoon in hunting one Wm. Rex, wanted in Chicago for the embezzement of goods to the amount of $1,600. He was picked up by the officers at the Merchants where he was stopping and lodged in the county jail. The officers had frequent interviews with him, a lawyer was called in and he accompanied the Chicago detective to Chicago without putting him to the trouble of obtaining a requisition from the governor of Illinois, and he left with him for that city on the 9 p. m. train. It is understood that the embezzlement took place some time ago, and that the detectives have had him in their clutches twice before, but that he has on these occasions slipped between their fingers, the last time under promise of making his defalcation good. This time the Chicago officer said he should stick to him until he could get him back to Illinois, and by some means obtained his consent to go with him without any resistance. He was a tall spare finely formed and dressed young man, apparently about thirty years of age, and very gentlemanly in his bearing. In the jail he declined to answer any questions, while the detectives were fully as close-mouthed as he. It is rumored that he is well connected in Chicago, and that his relatives there will help him out by making good his discrepancies, of whatever name or nature they are.

Later it was learned from Detective O'Connor, who proved himself as usual a master hand in ferreting out Rex, that the latter was in the employ of Cohn & Co., a ready-made clothing firm of Chicago as one of their traveling salesmen, and that while in Texas he sold his samples for $1,500 and pocketed the money, in which the embezzlement consists.

Third Street Store Breaking.

At about 8 o'clock last evening as a clerk in P. T. Kavanaugh's auction store, 63 East Third street, was lighting the gas for the night in the front end of the store he heard some one trying to break in at the rear. Locking the front door he ran out into the street and gave the alarm to Officer Pendy on the Bridge square beat, who returned to the store with him. On entering with a pistol cocked the officer carefully examined the premises finding an iron bolt on a show case near by a money drawer which had been pried open, but which is understood to have contained no cash contents. The burglars had made their escape by the rear door through which they had gained access to the store by taking out a window light in the upper part and then prying off the lock, and evidently had no time to lug any other plunder for their pains. This door was thickly barred with iron on the upper side and inside the window, while a step ladder stood against it, whose fall when they entered evidently gave their presence away to the clerk.

John Grace's Condition Yesterday.

Very much to the surprise of his friends, John Grace after lying in an unconscious state for twelve hours, rallied at eleven o'clock yesterday forenoon, partly dressed himself and seemed quite comfortable during the afternoon and evening. He had, however, failed so perceptibly in his mental condition that his physician thinks the rally only of a temporary character and premonitory of his approaching dissolution, either in another sinking spell or by sudden attack of apoplexy. Mr. Grace's constitution was originally a very strong one, and his physical powers succumb very slowly to his disease.

Ruins Tumble Down.

At about four o'clock yesterday afternoon just after two ladies and a gentleman had passed the burned out shell of Wood's shoemaker shop on the conflagrated district on the north side of Seventh street, between Wabashaw and Cedar streets and where the fire was stopped, its one story brick front fell out upon the plank walk covering it with brick and debris, while the inside collapsed like a punctured balloon into the basement and lot adjacent west. It was a narrow escape for pedestrians on that generally crowded thoroughfare.

An Infectious Horse Disease.

A glandered horse, belonging to unknown parties, was found hitched in a stable with other horses on Goodrich avenue on Sunday morning. The animal was taken to Dr. Pierce, who pronounced that he had an infectious disease, and the last known of the animal a man was round trying to get an order from the city authorities to turn him loose on what is known as the "fertalizing district," while the diseased equine was hitched meanwhile to a post on the corner of Washington and Fourth streets.

Horse Thief Arrested.

Charles Schmidt was arrested by officers of White Bear, at Silver Lake, on Saturday and lodged in the county jail. Schmidt is the thief who stole a horse between St. Paul and Hastings several weeks ago and sold the animal, which was traced and discovered, and since then the officers in the several towns have been on a sharp lookout for him, having been furnished with a description of him by the party to whom he made sale of the stolen animal. He will have a hearing before Judge Burr this morning.

Kicked in the Door.

John Schwank and Dick Praegle kicked in the door of an office on the corner of Market and Fourth streets, yesterday afternoon, and were arrested by detective D. J. O'Conner, in the Tivola saloon last night.

A Royal Route Conductor.

[Special Correspondence of the Globe.]

LAKE CRYSTAL, July 26.—The readers of your valuable paper have been reading a great many thrilling events during the past week, but a beautiful incident occurred on the Sioux City train last night that is worthy of note. The train left your city at 4 o'clock p. m. There were five coaches and two baggage cars and about three hundred passengers returning home from the G. A. R. festival. After the train had left Henderson a lady looking out of the car window, lost her hat. The conductor, Mr. W. H. Monty, saw it, pulled the bell rope and then leaped off the train and ran back for the hat. The engineer seeing him backed the train to meet him. There was not one word of complaint from this gallant conductor. He did not tell the lady that it served her right and run the train right along, neither did he say one unkind word when the hat been recovered. But this conductor was so attentive to the comfort of his passengers that he would stop the train when it was under full headway between stations rather than to have anyone suffer even the loss of a hat.

After this incident as the conductor passed through the train, he was greeted by the pleasant smiles of three hundred faces and the gratitude of each heart. Many of the passengers thanked him openly for his kindness, and your correspondent heard many such remarks as the following: "How kind he is." "How generous of him to stop the train." "How safe we are with such a conductor," etc. The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railroad company are to be congratulated in having such a man to take charge of their trains as Mr. Monty.

How much happier the traveling public would be if all the conductors on the great railway lines were as kind and attentive as this model conductor is. J. H. D.

CHIPPEWA FALLS.

[Special Correspondence of the Globe.]

CHIPPEWA FALLS, July 26.—The Chippewa Lumber & Boom Co. has closed the night department of its mill and discharged two hundred men. The low price of lumber is the cause.

Transfers of pine lands are very slow at this season; and the log crop seems destined to be light this next season.

Double Drowning.

CHICAGO, July 27.—This afternoon, while a party was yachting on the lake, Miss Mamie Lavis fell overboard. Otto Mulhart, owner of the yacht, though unable to swim, plunged in to rescue her. Both were drowned. The bodies were not recovered.
