THE CITY.

CITY GLOBULES.

That was a high old plumb full harvest moon last night.

Volumes 90, 91 and 92, of the Indiana Supreme Court Reports, were added to the state law library yesterday.

An elegant metal cornice is being placed above the Cedar and Fourth street store fronts of the new Union block.

The Weekly Toledo Blade was being thrown about the State house yesterday very promiscuously as a Republican campaign paper.

The new Sherman block on the corner of Wabashaw and Ninth streets was topped off yesterday as to its five story front with a very showy metal cornice, in the center of which rises a tablet on which are the raised figures, "1884."

The roof trusses over the Representative hall in the State house have settled three inches in the centre, and have had to be shaved off to make the ceiling level. It seems to be only a question of time as to the dome's making a basement call.

Mrs. Mary Ann Presley and John S. Robinson filed $120,000 bonds in the Probate court yesterday as administrators of the estate of the late Bartlett Presley, which were approved and letters were issued to them. It is thought the estate will foot up to the figure of $225,000.

The stalls in the Market house are filling up with some first class dealers, a wholesale and retail oyster and fish house having moved into its stalls this week, a man named Ryder having taken a stall for the sale of poultry and game, and Michaud Bros. having hired three stalls therein for the sale of groceries.

Prof. D. L. Kiehle has engaged Miss Sarah E Sprague, formerly principal of the Teachers' Training school at Manchester, N. H., a graduate of Lawrence university and of the Oswego State Normal school, as an instructress in the Minnesota Teachers' institutes the coming year.

Miss Fannie Cundall, of Tripoli, Syria, is at present in the city, and will address a union meeting of the Ladies' foreign missionary societies of the Presbyterian churches of the city this afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Central Presbyterian church. Mrs. Gen. Van Cleve, of Minneapolis, will also be present and make a short address.

Mr. Henry Zwick, Postmaster, Bingen, Ind., writes: "Mr. J. F. Hone and Mr. Lewis Purdy, were cured of severe sprains to the ankle and back respectively, by the use of St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain-reliever.

A Span Stolen.

Two mares hitched to a platform spring wagon were stolen from William Walterstorf at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the Afton road, about two miles from this city, by two young men who were thought to have driven in the direction of the same. One of the animals was black and the other a bay, and they weighed about 1,000 pounds each. The bay had a star on the left hind quarter.

Another Old Feud Settled.

FREEDONIA, Tex., Aug. 7.—A desperate fight occurred three miles north of this place Monday evening, in which one man was killed and three mortally wounded. Faulkner and Henry Allen met two Woodall brothers on the road and attacked them with Winchester rifles. The party dismounted and fought from behind their horses. Nearly twenty shots were exchanged. Allen was shot through the heart about the fifth round and killed. One of the Woodalls was shot through the shoulder and neck and disabled. The other Woodall and Faulkner closed with bowie knives and a fearful combat ensued, in which Woodall was stabbed just below the heart. Faulkner then then turned to look after his dead companion Allen, and as he did so received a bullet in the breast from the pistol of the elder Woodall, who was lying on the ground with his neck and shoulder split open with a Winchester. Faulkner may possibly recover. Both Woodalls will die. The fight was the result of an old feud which originated in Kansas, where they lived, and were friends. Both parties were going to camp meeting when they met.

Accidentally Killed.
