Services at St. James' Chapel, Western Branch, on Sunday next, May 3rd, at 8:30 p. m. At St. Andrew's Church at 11 a. m. as usual.

The Judicial Convention. We have been informed that the Republican Judicial Convention for this Circuit will be held in Leonardtown on the 2nd day of June.

A Good Sale. J. B. Kent & Co. sold for Mr. Charles A. Backler, of Charlotte Hall, 4 hds. tobacco at 94 cents around. 1 hds. at 8, 1 at 8 1/2, 1 at 9 1/2 and one at 12.

Change of Firm. We are informed that Luke F. Matthews of the firm of Greenwell & Matthews, has withdrawn from the firm. Report has it that Mr. Matthews will in the near future engage in business in Chaptico.

An Accident. One day last week Mr. Wellington S. Davis was engaged in rolling his land the young oxen attached to the roller ran off, the roller passing over Mr. Davis' legs inflicting very painful but not serious injuries.

A Suggestion. A gentleman, who, by the way, is not an oysterman, suggests that it would have been a good idea for the meeting held at the Court House on Tuesday last to have called in a third party—the oysterman, for instance.

Maryland Editors. Maryland editors met in Baltimore and issued an address to democratic voters of the State. Mr. Frank Brown entertained democrats and republicans alike at a luncheon, where he was commended as a candidate for Governor. We will publish both addresses in our next paper.

Personal. Leo. Hayden, Esq., late of our county and long and favorably known here for his business capacity, has connected himself with the Commission House of J. S. Rawling & Co., No. 305 S. Charles St., Baltimore. This house is one of the oldest and best in the city of Baltimore. Mr. Hayden represents the agricultural department, in which will be found a full and select line of farm implements. Give him a call before purchasing.

Distress Among Tobacco Planters. Reports from far and near are reaching us of the almost total destruction of the tobacco beds by the fly. This seems not to be confined to localities, but is universal in this county. Many farmers are reseeded their beds, hoping almost against hope. This is especially distressing as our farmers, on account of the rise with price of tobacco, had intended to pitch large crops. We are informed by old and experienced farmers that, under no circumstances, can over a half a crop be planted, and if the ravages of the fly continue that it will be total failure. We think it would be wise for those of our farmers who have not sold their tobacco, to hold on and take advantage of the inevitable rise in prices.

They Have a Bonanza. It seems the owners of Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedy for Rheumatism have a Bonanza, as their remedy has never been known to fail in a single case. There is certainly room in the market for a medicine that will do what they claim for this wonderful preparation. Although the price is $5 per bottle, if it does one-half claimed for it the price should be $100. If the druggist has not got it, the remedy will be sent to any address by prepaid express on receipt of price. Drummond Medicine Co., 48-50 Maiden Lane, New York.

Lowtown Local. The recent gentle showers have been very beneficial, and vegetation is not backward in manifesting its gratefulness in consequence of same.

Work appears to the farmers, wood, truckers, watchword. If we divide no it was Alfred the Great who mistook the day and night into three portions of eight hours each, and assigned only one-third to sleep, and one-third to work, and one-third to the gods. A number of our neighbors unobtrusively pattern after this great and good monarch; and as Heziod said of the gods, they find the paths of labor grow more smooth and easy the farther they advance in it.

Judging from the beautiful appearance of wheat, it seems to us that the coming harvest will prove a plentiful one. The rapid and luxuriant growth of clover is remarkable, and we make the statement without the fear of successful contradiction that there has not been so great a growth for several years past.

Roads are improving and traveling consequently is more pleasant. The saw and grist mill owned by "The St. Mary's & Company," T. Walter Langley, agent, is doing a brisk business, particularly sawing and delivering lumber. Remarkable occurrences frequently take place hereabout as elsewhere. Mr. John Abell has two well developed goslings from one egg; and a gentleman at the Pine has succeeded in hatching chickens entirely by the sun's heat.

The "Lowtown Base-Ball Club" are practicing with the view of competing with the Leonardtown Club. They anticipate extending them a challenge at an early day. Some corn has been planted, and we believe that a larger area will be planted than formerly.

There was service in the different churches on Sunday last. Pride of the inordinate kind received a severe rebuke from one of the divines. We shall remember Haman's history so long as our memory remains in its normal condition.

To show how an active railroad would enhance the value of land down here, we will state that we know of land which was bought recently for $50 per acre, and the party has been offered $500 per acre, but refused it because he entertains the opinion that we will have communication between this point and Baltimore within twelve or eighteen months, and that real estate will be exceedingly valuable. Our friend we think is over sanguine, yet it is difficult to foretell what is in store for the land owners of this section.

Oysterman Arrived.

(Reported for the Beacon.) The Mass-Meeting held at Hollywood on the 23rd inst., under the auspices of the Democrats of the district, in the interest of the Oysterman, protesting against the leasing or selling of the oyster grounds of the State was one of the largest gatherings and most enthusiastic meetings we have ever seen in St. Mary's county. Fully from five to six hundred persons were in attendance and we feel that not a small share of the credit is due the editors of the BEACON for the tasty manner in which they got up the handbills and the extensive circulation they gave them. Most every part of the county was represented and even Calvert was not lacking in her appreciation of the worthy call.

The meeting was called to order at 3 o'clock, p. m., Mr. H. F. Moore being chosen the presiding officer. Dr. R. P. Blakistone then addressed the meeting and was followed by Mr. B. Harris Camaller. Both gentlemen thoroughly sifted the oyster question and pointed out the great evil of such an act of legislation, etc.

Mr. Wilkinson and Mr. Jos. H. Ching also delivered addresses explaining their positions, etc. A resolution was then presented by Mr. Leo. J. Lathron (who was instrumental in the call) protesting against the leasing or selling of the oyster grounds of the State. Mr. Wilkinson offered a preamble and resolution, which he stated was an amendment. Mr. Lathron then offered a substitute to his original resolution as follows:

Resolved, We, the oysterman and citizens generally of St. Mary's county meeting in the sixth election district, St. Mary's county, Maryland, in Mass-Meeting assembled at Hollywood, do most solemnly protest against the leasing or selling of the oyster grounds of the State of Maryland or any part thereof and that we do further solemnly pledge ourselves to resist by all lawful means the consummation of such an outrage on our rights and liberties as at present enjoyed.

Be it further resolved, that the following gentlemen be elected to represent us at the meeting to be held in Baltimore, Md., on the 29th inst. S. Chapman, Thompson B. Harris Camaller and P. H. Dorsey.

The question occurring upon the substitute, it was adopted amid great applause. The gentlemen named in the substitute were therefore declared elected delegates to represent the oysterman of St. Mary's county on the 29th inst.

The meeting then adjourned and the band of music which was in attendance, struck up a familiar and inspiring air, and the crowd dispersed, feeling that their interest and that of the people of the county would be protected.

Meeting of Oysterman.

The meeting of oysterman as called by the St. Mary's Enterprise in its last issue to assemble in Leonardtown on Tuesday, the 29th inst., was rather thinly attended. Dr. R. P. Blakistone was elected President, John H. Bond Vice-President and John H. Backler Secretary.

Dr. Blakistone on taking the chair made some happy remarks explanatory of the objects to be obtained by a determined resistance to the proposition urged for the sale of the oyster grounds, etc.

Mr. Jos. H. Ching at once offered a resolution, which was seconded by Mr. D. E. Graves, to elect certain gentleman delegates to the Baltimore convention, himself and Mr. Graves among them, which he proceeded to read, at the conclusion of which Capt. Frank Russell interposed with a substitute, endorsing the action of the oysterman's meeting at Hollywood, with the addition of the President and Vice-President of this meeting and Mr. Henry Smallwood, of St. George's Island, to the delegation selected by them.

Mr. Ching insisted upon his motion being voted on, which elicited considerable discussion, when Mr. Joseph H. Key addressed the meeting at some length, making practical suggestions, and moved that the meeting accept as their choice the delegates heretofore selected by the oysterman at Hollywood and the eighth district, adding thereto the President and Vice-President of this meeting and Mr. Henry Smallwood, of St. George's Island.

Mr. Key in his remarks having made some casual allusion to the responsibility of our delegates in the Legislature for certain acts, etc., Mr. Cecil, Mr. Ching and Mr. Graves, in turn, came forward showing some personal feeling in reply, the two former announcing themselves as candidates again for the position, the discussion settling down to party politics.

Mr. Holmes claimed that the gentlemen were not in order, stating that Mr. Russell's substitute was first to be considered, yet while he approved of the selection delegates named therein he would oppose it on the ground that other resolutions were also adopted at the Hollywood meeting not inserted therein.

Mr. B. Harris Camaller, who was present at the meeting, arose and informed Mr. Holmes and the others that no other resolution was passed from his personal knowledge and as shown by the record in the possession of Mr. Moore, the President, who was not here present on account of sickness. Mr. Holmes, still insisting, proceeded with his remarks.

Mr. Camaller obtained the floor and proceeded to explain the proceedings of that vast assemblage, which he said was entitled to all respect and should not be misapprehended, then following up with a full and instructive explanation of the oyster question in all its phases, urging upon the oysterman and others that as those desiring the sale of the oyster lands proposed to petition the Legislature to pass a law to that effect, the oysterman of St. Mary's would be fortunate indeed if represented in that body at the next session by democrats who would be in accord with the majority—this would certainly be democratic—a party which never fails to protect the laboring man against the monopolists and syndicates.

Mr. Holmes followed, asking a vote on his proposition. Pending the discussion thereof a motion was made, seconded and carried to adjourn, and so declared by the Chair, the meeting thereupon dispersed.

(Correspondence of the Beacon.) Our Texas Letter.

Editors of Beacon.—As my subscription to your valuable paper will be due now in a short time and as I am in luck to be in such a glorious country and Brown County, Texas, I am prepared to pay in advance, and while I inclose the very small amount I will, with your permission, give you an outline of our trip to Texas, and also of this country. We left dear old St. Mary's about the 1st of March last and reached Baltimore on time, and after getting our baggage in shape for Texas we, Capt. W. B. Wise, Frank Dent and myself, went out to give Baltimore a farewell call, and in the late hour of midnight we found our way to our respective stopping place. On Friday, at 4:30 o'clock, P. M., Frank Dent, Derby A. Lynch and myself and family stepped aboard the train for Harrisburg, Penn., at which place we changed cars for St. Louis. On the route from Harrisburg to St. Louis we saw some very pretty and seemingly thrifty country, and on reaching St. Louis, to our surprise the train was waiting for us, though we had been informed that P. M. till 9 P. M., and we (at least Derby and Dent) intended to take that city in, and I guess also to paint the house elegantly, but they were disappointed, as we only had time to change before the iron horse pulled out for Fort Worth, Texas. We very soon engaged berth in the sleeper and everything was pleasant enough for Mr. Dent especially until next morning, for as he began dressing he did not find until he was ready for his shoes were there gone, and if you could have seen him with those long limbs of his going from one end of the sleeper to the other you would have thought him slightly tipsy, but before he could get hold of anyone stopped him by explaining to him it was all right, that the porter had simply taken his shoes out to shine them up and would soon bring them in. That quitted him for the time, but when he ordered a very simple breakfast and the bill was handed him and he found it to be one dollar I thought we would have to put him in irons or leave him on the road, but before he reached Texas he became very gentle and submissive to all the railroad rules.

We passed through a portion of Arkansas from Texarkana to Fort Worth, and I think without any exception it is the poorest, God forsaken country I ever saw, as the ground seemed literally covered with rock all along the route. I have often thought the people there were compelled to keep their chickens shut to prevent them from wearing out their feet. After we left Fort Worth the land, country and scenery cannot be surpassed in the United States. The soil was as black as night and soft, mellow and productive. I tell you, Messrs. Editors, if the farmers of St. Mary's could but see this country where from 50 to 75 bushels of corn grow per acre, 20 and 30 bushels of wheat and oats, and from one-half to one and a-half halves of cotton can be raised per acre and not one pound of fertilizer used and they simply make a crop with one-third the labor and expense they do there, and after it is made and gathered they are not forced to place it on board a steamboat and shipped to commission merchants to be sold at once, so as to pay that dear little fertilizer bill. No, indeed, they simply roll their cotton in their wagons and drive it to town and sell it themselves and put the cash either in their pockets or in bank and come home satisfied with their years work. There are a dozen men right here in two miles of me that came from Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi four or five years ago with nothing except what they brought in their wagons, and today every one of them own good farms, plenty of stock and some cash, owing no living soul. They are, indeed, the happiest people here I ever saw. I know the people of the East are under the impression that this country is settled up with thieves and cut-throats, but it is a mistaken idea, as I believe there are as many good people here as in any other country and morals superior to many. The farmers here are now planting cotton; their corn is up and growing nicely and the prospects here are fine for a good crop this year. I am very sorry, indeed, that my friend Frank Dent did not remain longer with us as he would not have returned at all if he could have seen the country after Spring came.

I am happy to inform the many friends of Derby A. Lynch, Esq., that he has formed a co-partnership with one of the first lawyers of Brownwood, Texas, and has bright prospects for himself in the future. He says that there is one little charm in Maryland for him and but for that he would be all O. K. Lands here are selling from two to ten dollars per acre and on long time, so that nearly any one can buy a farm and in a few years have it paid for. Nearly all the farmers raise from 5 to 50 yearlings each year, for which they can get from $4 to $6 per head; and remember these yearlings have not cost them (the farmers) one cent, as they do not have to feed them Winter or Summer, besides they have the use of all the butter they can use. They feed their hogs entirely on milk during the Summer, so that they have no meat or lard to buy, and I was informed the other day that they use all the lard they can buy eggs from three to seven cents per dozen; meat from 4 to 8 cents per pound; corn from 30 to 40 cents per bushel and oats from 25 to 50 cents. Goods are very much higher in this country than in Maryland, as the merchants make from 100 to 250 per cent, and the beauty of it is they sell a lot of them and get their money too. This is a high license country, and for that reason you will find few rum mills in the county and little or no drinking, which I think speaks well for any country; and another thing that makes it pleasant to live in here is that we have no colored brethren here, and the people will not allow them to emigrate here, so you see this country is run entirely by the white man with no help at all from our dark skinned statesmen. I have not seen one since I reached Texas. There are but very few Republicans in this country and no Republican party here at all. I think if you could get some of your politicians to emigrate to Texas they could find more profitable work, but I do not much political work here. Well, I will now close by giving my love to every man, woman and child in old St. Mary's, yourselves included.

Respectfully, THOS. LYNCH.
