ANOTHER FINE BLOCK.

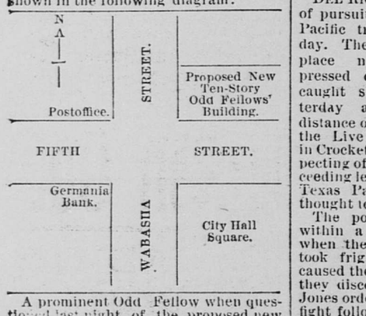
The Odd Fellows Will Erect a Ten-Story Building for a Home.

Such a Proposition Being Submitted to the Several Lodges.

Strange to Say, the Medical Board Is Opposed to Newspapers,

And Objects to Successful Physicians Advertising Their Work.

The improvement of Wabasha street will receive a great impetus early next season, unless an unexpected turn is taken in affairs. Within a few days the various lodges of Odd Fellows will be called upon to pass on a proposition to erect upon their corner at Fifth and Wabasha streets, an imposing edifice, one of the finest in the city. The corner is one of the most desirable sites in St. Paul, and the Odd Fellows own from the corner to the Astoria hotel, a frontage of about 100 feet, now covered by the building occupied by several stores, their own hall and a number of offices. It is an old-fashioned structure and the lodges have entirely outgrown it. The plan is now to replace it with a magnificent ten-story building that will cost not less than $500,000. The location is shown in the following diagram:



A prominent Odd Fellow when questioned last night of the proposed new building, said:

"Yes, the plan is under discussion, and, while I feel sure it will be carried through, it has not yet reached that stage where I feel I would be justified in saying so over my own signature. We want the new building, and the sentiment among the lodges favors it very decidedly. It has been very generally discussed, and within a short time the public may expect to hear something of interest."

DOCTORS DID IT.

Of Course the State Board Convicted the Advertising Doctors.

In view of the evidence, it was altogether surprising that the state board found Drs. Blair and Hutton guilty; but it was not surprising that a board of old-line doctors should do so. The real offense was in being successful through advertising, and that could not be forgiven by the old-liners.

After an unsuccessful attempt to get together yesterday morning, the state medical board assembled in the senate chamber of the capitol yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock to resume the hearing of the case of Drs. Blair, of Minneapolis, and Hutton, of St. Paul. W. F. Gilmore, an itinerant druggist who has roamed all over the United States during the past two years, was the first witness called to the stand. He testified that at the request of Dr. Sweeny he had visited Dr. Hutton and that Dr. Hutton had represented himself as Dr. McCoy.

S. J. Halliday, of Thiel's detective agency, testified that he had repeatedly addressed Dr. Hutton as Dr. McCoy and had never been corrected.

Dr. Blair took the stand, and testified that he had never led people to suppose that he was Dr. McCoy; that he may not have corrected them always on their first visit, but that his patients were never allowed to remain in error as to his true identity.

Dr. Sweeny announced that owing to his connection as secretary of the board, he would take no part in the board's deliberations.

George Heiser, clerk of the West hotel, in Minneapolis; Squier Wooten, a bell boy, and Jacob Ickle, the barber, were witnesses for the accused, Dr. Blair. They testified that he was well known about the hotel as Dr. Blair; that his cards bore the name of Blair, and that he had a cup in the barber shop marked "Blair."

Dr. Hutton's testimony was earnest and clear. He testified that he had never, by act or word, led any one to suppose that he was Dr. McCoy; that nobody had ever addressed him as McCoy; that he had not known till he came here that McCoy was debarred from practicing in Minnesota; that he had never been guilty of unprofessional conduct. He had negotiated with the firm of Blair & McCoy, and knew that McCoy was in New York permanently. He was paid a salary for maintaining the St. Paul office, and about once in three days paid all receipts to the firm's business agent. He had never opened mail addressed to Dr. McCoy, but had sent it to the Minneapolis office. He considered the McCoy system of treatment the best in existence. He had never read the advertisements, and did not know that anyone supposed Dr. McCoy was in St. Paul personally, but it was his method of treatment that was used. Dr. Hutton's testimony was very emphatic, and was totally unshaken by cross-examination.

James Compton, of Fergus Falls, United States surveyor general, and Judge Williams testified to having known Hutton for years, and that his reputation for truth and veracity was good.

S. O. Goldman, the usher in Hulton's office, testified that he had received patients, and that nobody had ever, in his hearing, addressed Hutton as McCoy. Hutton had never represented himself as McCoy. Witness had never seen Gilmore or Halliday in the office.

The board retired to the ante-room, but returned in a few moments to hear the argument of the counsels. Daniel W. Lawler waived technicalities, and opened the argument very briefly. Judge Rea, in summing up the evidence, characterized it as the flimsiest he had ever heard. He said that the only detective who had put the point blank question to Dr. Blair, "Are you Dr. McCoy?" had received an emphatic "No, I am Dr. Blair." There had been not one of the 400 patients treated in the offices who had made complaint of any description; that there was no evidence to show that Dr. Blair or Dr. Hutton had ever represented himself as Dr. McCoy, or tried to deceive any one. After paying a warm tribute to Dr. Blair's professional ability and gentlemanly conduct, Judge Rea closed his argument.

After retirement the board returned the surprising verdict of guilty as charged. The licenses of the two doctors are revoked, but a stay of twenty days was granted. It is probable that an appeal will be made to the governor, or the case carried to the supreme court by virtue of a writ of certiorari.

BENCH AND BAR.

Legal Bonbons in their Various Stages in Court.

A venire of 125 petit jurors has been drawn for the November term of the district court.

The jury has the case of the Provident Investment company against Lawrence Fahey et al.

William M. Bushnell has sued Henry E. Hope to recover $175 for money loaned at various times.

The mechanic's lien case of Nels J. Ness against E. E Davidson and others was on trial before Judge Egan yesterday.

Judge Cornish's time was taken up yesterday in hearing the mechanic's lien case of Benjamin F. Knauft against Frederick J. Nicuolson and others.

The J.P. Gribben Lumber company has begun action against Lucy A. Murray and others to assert a mechanic's lien for $278.14, upon lots 20 and 21, block 14 of Halcomb's addition.

The trial of the action of the Powers Dry Goods company, against the Boyeston Insurance company, of Boston, is still pending in Judge Brill's court. Several other cases remnants of the fire, hinge upon this one.

Judge Kelly and a jury are in the midst of the trial of the action brought by Charles A. Hawks to recover on a building contract from John E. Williams. The defendant admits that A. Wallentine gave the plaintiff an order for $795.15, which the defendant agreed to pay, but asserts that this order is not the one set up in the complaint.

W. G. Johnson, general manager of the Yellowstone Park association, left last evening via the Northern Pacific for the West.

FIGHT WITH BANDITS.

One Blows His Brains Out in Defiance.

DEL RIO, Tex., Oct. 22.—Full details of pursuit and capture of the Southern Pacific train robbers reached here today. The posse struck the trail at a place near Juno Tuesday, and pressed on in hot pursuit. They caught sight of the robbers yesterday at 3 o'clock p. m. at a distance of 300 yards in a deep canon on the Live Oak near Grierson Springs, in Crockett county. They were unsuspecting of the pursuit, and were proceeding leisurely in the direction of the Texas Pacific, which road they are thought to have had designs upon.

The posse approached unseen to within a hundred yards of the men, when the pack horse of the robbers took fright and made a dash, which caused the men to look around, when they discovered the pursuers. Capt. Jones ordered a charge, and a running fight followed. Langsdon soon weakened and gave up, and Tom Fields soon afterwards, finding himself hard pressed, surrendered. Wellington and Flint ran several miles when the former's horse was shot from under him. He left the animal and took up the side of a mountain, but Captain Jones was right upon him and cut off his retreat, whereupon he surrendered.

Flint then ran at full speed a distance of ten miles, firing back upon his pursuers as he went. The fire was returned and he was mortally wounded in the left breast. He fell off his horse, and, sitting up in the road, coolly produced a pencil and paper and wrote a will, bequeathing his effects to his brother. He then pulled a pistol from his belt and blew his brains out. Sixty or seventy dollars in gold coin was found in a belt around his body. Langsdon had about $600 in greenbacks in his vest pocket when searched. A sack on the pack horse contained $400 in Mexican silver.

AN UNLIKELY YARN.

Comrades in Crime Come to a Violent End.

TELLURIDE, Col., Oct. 22.—A murder and suicide were enacted here last night. The principals were Mrs. A. Watson, formerly of Rio, and J. A. Mercer, express messenger of the Denver, Rio Grande Southern. Mercer, although married and having two children at Colorado Springs, has been living with Mrs. Watson here. Last night they quarreled and attracted the attention of the neighbors. Three shots were heard.

On making entrance into the house, Mrs. Watson was found dead on the floor with a bullet hole through her breast. Mercer was unconscious, with a bullet through his abdomen and another through his head. He regained consciousness, and was still alive this morning, but he will die. He made a statement that Mrs. Watson shot him through the abdomen, next shot herself, and then took the revolver and shot him through the head. The statement is doubted, however. It is thought Mercer did all the shooting.

LINGERED TOO LONG.

A Laggard Robber Taken in Leisurely Laziness.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 22.—Two mail pouches containing a number of registered packages and several hundred letters were stolen from a mail car of the Little Rock & Memphis railroad at an early hour this morning. The theft was cleverly perpetrated and was not discovered for several hours. A search discovered George Woods, a well-known crock, in the suburbs, leisurely opening letters, taking their valuable contents and burning the letters. He was placed under arrest. It is believed he had an accomplice.

The Smith Inquest.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 22.—Coroner Harrigan began the Smith inquest to-day. County Attorney Mahoney was present, and conducted the examination. Dr. C. C. Allison said he performed the post-mortem examination. In his opinion Smith's death was caused by fright.

Heavy Failure.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Israel Liebermann, of Drohobiez, Galicia, has failed, with liabilities of $300,000. He was a member of a syndicate working ozocerite mines. His financial difficulties arose from a flaw in a title deed. It is feared that other firms belonging to the syndicate will collapse.

A Heavy Sentence.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 22.—David Douglass, the defaulting township treasurer, to-day pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $26,000. He embezzled $13,000.

DILATORY BANKERS.

Unavailable Security Must Be Replaced.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. — Notwithstanding the fact that interest on 4½ per cent bonds ceased Sept. 2, and that they have since been unavailable as security for national bank circulation, and the further fact that the comptroller of the currency has officially advised all national banks to that effect, the treasurer of the United States still holds $221,900 of these bonds to secure the circulation of eleven national banks. In order to correct this state of affairs, the comptroller of the currency to-day addressed a letter to each of the delinquent banks in which he says that these bonds are being improperly used as a basis of circulation, and should be immediately replaced by interest-bearing bonds as required by law.

Miller Made Trustee.

GRESHAM FAVORS BEN

The Judge and His Friends Will Aid Harrison to a Second Term,

With the Idea of Capturing the Presidential Prize in 1896.

Farmers' Alliance Men Meet and Resolve on Plans for Action.

Blaine's Appetite Is Tremendous--Cleveland to the Michiganders.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 22.—A publication this afternoon to the effect that Judge Gresham and his friends would not antagonize President Harrison's nomination, was confirmed by one of the closest friends of the judge, who is looked upon as always speaking for the judge himself. It is said that Judge Gresham's followings have for months recognized the nomination of Harrison as the logic of the situation, and that now they will assist in securing it. It is asserted, by friends of the judge, that he has always discountenanced opposition to President Harrison's renomination, and that the conference of anti-administration people held here early in the summer was not with his consent. On the contrary he discouraged it.

"The friends of Judge Gresham," said one of those most near to him, and who adds his confirmation of the purpose, "consider that it will ripen his nomination chances for 1896. Judge Gresham is constantly growing in the country, and his position on the tariff will make him the kind of candidate the Republicans will want in 1896. He is not a high tariff man, and could not consistently run on the kind of platform the Republicans will be forced to put up next year."

HOOSIER ALLIANCE MEN.

Co-Operative Buying and Insurance Considered.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 22.—The State Farmers' Alliance met in secret session to-day with eighty-one delegates present. The committee on trade recommended the adoption of the "Illinois plan." This is, briefly, that purchases be made of the National Trade union, which is said to be an amalgamation of different businesses, having close relation to agricultural interests, whose purpose it is to sell directly to the consumers. These businesses represent millions, and, by selling directly to the agent of the Alliance, the profits of middlemen and the expense of traveling salesmen are cut off.

Another matter was the adoption of a plan of insurance submitted by the National Alliance Aid Association of Washington. This company will, like the trade unions, supply all the capital necessary to conduct the insurance plan if the Alliance will provide the persons to be insured. The cost of the insurance is thus reduced to the minimum, it is claimed.

A programme was adopted for the meeting here of the National Alliance Nov. 7. The following officers were elected this afternoon: Thomas W. Force, president; Mrs. Lou Snyder, vice president; W. F. Prigg, secretary; Mrs. Sadie Brandenburg, treasurer; B. F. Horn, state treasurer; J. W. Nolan, chaplain.

JERRY CAUGHT 'EM.

Kansas Farmers Are Still Enthusiastic.

SALINA, Kan., Oct. 22.—This is a big day for the Farmers' Alliance in Kansas. By numbers and demonstration, it appears that the Alliance in Kansas is as enthusiastic as it was last fall and that the farmer holds the key to the business and political situation of the state. The city of Salina has been besieged with members of the order, and at 10 o'clock this morning not less than 10,000 of them had gathered about the city. Every road leading in was filled with wagons, buggies and horsemen.

The procession moved through the main street of the city to the fair grounds. While this demonstration was in progress President McGrath was delivering his annual address. It was in accord with his often repeated declarations that the Alliance must preserve a business organization intact; that to enter politics as an organization is to impair its usefulness. He urged the speedy adoption of both a local and general co-operative system. He hoped that all jealousies and political differences would be laid aside and united support be given to those in charge of the business affairs of the body. He stated that during the past year 249 sub-alliances has been formed. President McGrath, National Lecturer John Willitts and Mrs. Vickery, vice president, headed the council in the procession. At the fair grounds an immense dinner was waiting the participants in the parade.

An amusing feature of the convention is the endeavor of the National Woman's Alliance to gain recognition. Inasmuch as women are entitled to membership in the Alliance, the lodges with the same privileges as men, the delegates cannot understand why a separate organization should have been formed.

Jerry Simpson was the favorite with the crowd during the parade and his name was conspicuous on the banners, one of them read: "For President of the United States, Jeremiah Simpson." An old woman was seated in a wagon immediately behind busily knitting and on one of the streamers floated this legend, "Jerry Shall Have Socks This Winter." "What a pity said a bystander to the Seventh district statesman. "No pity at all," was the prompt respone, "we'll have the constitution changed when I grow more ambitious.'

BLAINE WELL RESTED.

The Secretary of State Has a Tremendous Appetite.

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—Secretary Blaine and party left Boston for New York on the 1 o'clock train this afternoon. Mr. Blaine was met this morning at Young's hotel, and in the course of conversation remarked that he had enjoyed more than four months of absolute rest, something that he had not had for many a long year before. Mr. Blaine said that it was nearly a month after reaching Bar Harbor before he began to realize an improvement in his health, but that from then on, the gain had been greater than he could have hoped for.

"I suppose some of the worthy correspondents will keep up the old story of exhausted nature, shattered constitution, etc. My appetite is vigorous, almost inconveniently so. Now, there is nothing so exhaustive to the average man as travel. Well, I have done a great deal of that in my time, but this summer I did none, and found that rest from that alone was highly beneficial."

Mr. Blaine met a delegation from the Merchants' association, and talked with them quietfully and freely upon the reciprocity question. He made a conditional promise to speak thereon in Boston some time during the winter, qualifying his promise with the statement that he did not wish to be oversanguine about his physical restoration, and that he could not put the requisite test upon his strength until after the resumption of his Washington work.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Secretary James G. Blaine reached the Grand Central depot from Boston this evening. Mr. Blaine will stay in town to-morrow and leave for Washington on Saturday night or Sunday morning. The exact time of his departure has not as yet been settled.

YAQUI INDIANS RISE.

A Brave and Relentless Tribe on the War Path.

NOGALES, Oct. 22.—The state of Sonora, and, in fact, the entire republic of Mexico, is again in a fever of excitement by reason of the Yaqui Indians along the Yaqui river having declared war and entered upon a campaign which promises to be a bloody and troublesome one. The Mexican government is concentrating troops as rapidly as possible, and preparations are being made for a vigorous campaign. The Yaquis are a formidable people, for they fight to kill, and are brave almost to recklessness. It is believed that they are now thoroughly organized and the war will be a bitter one.

FAITH IN THE PEOPLE.

Cleveland Compliments Michigan Voters.

GRAND RAPIDS, Oct. 22.—I. M. Weston has received a letter from ex-President Cleveland, in response to an invitation to assist in the congressional campaign now in progress. In it he says he does not think he ought to advise or instruct the people of this district how they should discharge their political duty. "You tell me the congressional campaign is being conducted on the tariff issue," he continues. "I do not fear that there will be any lack of arguments and reasoning by those who are on the spot and who advocate such an adjustment of our revenue laws as will give to our workingmen the best rewards for their labors, and supply to them and all others who earn their living the necessaries of life at a cheaper cost. If these things were accomplished, it is perfectly evident that the condition of all who work would be immensely benefited."

THE GRIND GOES ON.

Pennsylvania's Senate Still Hearing Testimony.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 22.—The senate continued its inquiry to-day into the charges against State Treasurer Boyer. The examination of Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction Stewart was resumed. The main point drawn out was that, according to the practice of his department, Mr. Stewart believes that the payment of $420,000 of Philadelphia's portion of the school appropriation for 1891 was legally made. Attorney General Hensel presented in evidence a table of monthly receipts at the treasury department in which the receipts during June, July, August and September of this year show a large increase as compared with the same months in preuious years.

SUMMARY ACTION.

A Reverend G. A. R. Man Not Allowed to Explain.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 22.—There is war on in the national conference of the Wesleyan Methodist connection, which opened its quadrennial session in this city to-day. Rev. G. P. Reilly, of Marion, Ind., was accused by John Livingston, of Detroit, of being a member of the Grand Army of the Republic. Mr. Reilly did not deny the accusation, but asked leave to explain, which, however, was not granted him, Rev. N. Wardner, of Syracuse, N. Y., president of the conference, declining to hear him further, or to fellowship with the heretic.

Rev. Mr. Reilly entered the military service as chaplain, but ended the war as colonel of the Sixth United States colored regiment. He says he joined the G. A. R. nine months ago, is not ashamed of that fact and will take the consequences. The Wesleyan church is much opposed to secret societies, and it is said Mr. Reilly is likely to find himself thrust out of the fold unless he repents.

Foster on the Stump.

FINDLAY, O., Oct. 22.—Secretary Foster made his first speech for the Republicans in the Ohio campaign at the wigwam in this city to-night. He was greeted by a large audience. He discussed the silver question and the tariff, in the main, devoted a small portion of his speech to state issues and to the gerrymander of the congressional districts by the last Democratic general assembly.

California Third Party.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 22.—The People's party convention opened here to-day for the purpose of effecting a state organization, the adoption of a platform and other business. There was a large attendance of delegates representing the labor organizations and the Farmers' Alliance. President Polk, of the National Alliance made an address.

Is Warner Called?

CHICAGO, Oct. 22. — Maj. William Warner, of Kansas City, ex-commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., passed through Chicago to-day en route to Washington. Friends of the major here intimate that he has been called to the national capital by President Harrison and that he has again been offered the pension bureau.

Florida Farmers.

DADE CITY, Fla., Oct. 22.—The state Farmers' Alliance at 1 o'clock this morning, after a discussion lasting from 9 o'clock Wednesday night, endorsed the Ocala demands by a vote of 71 to 5. Senator Pasco voted against indorsement, being opposed to the sub-treasury bill. To-day was devoted to work on amendments to the constitution. This afternoon A. P. Baskin was elected president, Rogers declining re-election.

Cut His Wind-Breaks.

Appearance of German Troops to Be Transformed.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—The kaiser has given his consent to the changes proposed by the war office in the appearance and equipment of the German army. The chief object sought to be achieved is the change of bright colors that attract the aim of the enemy for hues that will make the soldier a less conspicuous target. White leather accouterments are abolished, and the heavy spiked helmet is discarded for light headgear. The change will entirely transform the appearance of the German troops.

PARNELLITES CONFIDENT.

A Canvass of Cork Adds to Their Hopes.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Parnellites profess to be greatly elated with the result so far shown by an extensive canvass of Cork. They claim that the people everywhere admit that Parnell's death has removed whatever there was in the moral issue raised against him, and left only to be considered the principals which he upheld and defended, and on these principals the large majority are with the Parnellite cause.

Present attacks on Parnell's memory have, it is said, also converted many to their side. The Parnellits, therefore, profess that they are certain of success, especially as the warm adhesion of Pierce Mahony, M. P., to Redmund, is regarded as binding the Parnellite Protestant vote securely to the cause. The anti-Parnellites, on the other hand, while they are not apparently sanguine, state their belief that the action of Tories to nominate a candidate will inure to the benefit of the anti-Parnellite cause and perhaps insure a plurality for them.

DIED AT HER POST.

Worry and Watching Cause a Mother's Death.

MOBERLY, Mo., Oct. 22.—Last Tuesday the little twelve-year-old son of Newton Smith, of this city, was shot in the knee-cap with a rifle by a playmate. Mrs. Smith was very careful about the child, and for forty-eight hours watched him constantly. About 8 o'clock this morning she fell from the chair a corpse. It is thought by the doctors that the strain of keeping watch by the side of her son, combined with the mental anxiety, was the cause of her death.

Ship and Crew Lost.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 22.—The schooner Albert Woodbury, of Beverly, that sailed the latter part of August for the cape shore codfishing has not returned, and it is believed to have been lost with her ten men in the gale of Sept. 6 and 7.

Schooner Wrecked.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 22.—The schooner Ellen May was totally wrecked off Newport News this afternoon about 3:30 in a fierce southeasterly gale which swept across the James river. The crew was saved.
