FIVE BISHOPS' LORE

IT IS TO BE MADE EASILY ACCESSIBLE TO ST. PAUL PEOPLE

CHURCH CLUB'S GREAT LIST

Sessums, Seymour, Tuttle, Grafton and Thompson the Quintette of Diocesans Who Will Give a Series of Addresses on the History of the Church—First to Be Given Tuesday.

The Christian people of St. Paul, irrespective of denominational affiliations and preferences, for five successive Tuesday evenings, beginning with Tuesday next, Feb. 21, will be treated to an intellectual feast, without money and without price, provided for them by the Church Club of Minnesota. This club is composed of the leading members of the Episcopal church, resident in the Twin Cities, and Hon. R. R. Nelson, of this city, is its president.

During the Lenten season of each year, in the interests of our common Christianity, the club arranges for a course of free lectures by men eminent in the church, and who are specialists upon the topics whereon they speak. Heretofore the lectures have been delivered by leading clergymen, resident in Minnesota. This year, however, the club has made a decided forward movement, and has secured for lecturers some of the most eloquent, scholarly and distinguished members of the American episcopate.

The year last past has been a memorable one in the history of English-speaking people, who realize as never before the mission of the Anglo-Saxon race to humanity the world over. Accordingly, the lectures will treat of some great names and great periods in the history of Anglo-American Christianity, for it is impossible to leave out the English church and its daughter church in America, in any statesmanlike consideration of the marvelous development of that masterful Anglo-Saxon race, which today among the nations of the earth stands first in its reverence for Almighty God, the Holy Bible and the Lord's day; first in its love of liberty and respect for law; first in its responsiveness to the call of duty, and in the desire for the unlifting of humanity.

The first lecture in the course on the topic, "Wycliffe, and the Pre-Reformation Period," will be delivered on Tuesday evening of this week, Feb. 21, by the Rt. Rev. Davis Sessums, D. D., bishop of Louisiana, well known for his eloquence, as the Chrysostom of the American episcopate. Those who heard Bishop Sessums in this city during the sessions of the general convention in the fall of 1895 will not soon forget the eloquence with which he swayed his audience.

Bishop Sessums is a Southerner by birth, and unites in his person all the best characteristics of the intellectual, cultivated, high-bred Southern gentlemen. He is but forty years of age. He was educated at the University of the South, where, after a brilliant course, he received his degree of A. M. in 1878, and his doctorate in divinity in 1891. He was made deacon in Christ church in his native city of Houston, Tex., Feb. 5, 1882, by Bishop Gregg, who advanced him to the priesthood in the same church the following August. His early ministry was spent in Galveston, Tex., and Memphis, Tenn. In 1887 he became rector of Christ church, New Orleans, where he remained until his election as bishop-coadjutor of Louisiana. He was consecrated bishop June 24, 1891, and on the death of Bishop Galleher, the same year, he became diocesan of Louisiana.

Bishop Sessums' career in the church has been of meteoric brilliancy. Consecrated Bishop before he was 33 years of age, his advance has been most rapid. Still young in years, a magnificent future lies before him. An able writer, a subtle and metaphysical thinker, of fine presence, possessing a countenance expressive of lofty intellectuality and deep spirituality, easy and graceful in gesture, a fervid and impassioned orator, he literally holds his audience spellbound with his eloquence. His lecture will be delivered at Christ church, corner of Fourth and Franklin streets, at 8 p. m., Tuesday next, Feb. 21. While in the city he will be the guest of Bishop Gilbert, and will speak at the noon-day Lenten service for business people either on Tuesday or Wednesday, as will be announced later.

Following is the complete programme of Minnesota Church club lectures, Lent, 1899, to be delivered at Christ church, corner of Fourth and Franklin streets, St. Paul, Tuesday evenings, 8 o'clock:

1. "Wycliffe and the Pre-Reformation Period," Rt. Rev. Davis Sessums, D. D., bishop of Louisiana. Tuesday evening, Feb. 21.
2. "Cranmer and the Reformation Period," Rt. Rev. George F. Seymour, S. T. D., LL. D., bishop of Springfield. Tuesday evening, Feb. 28.
3. "Hooker and the Post-Reformation Period," Rt. Rev. D. S. Tuttle, D. D., bishop of Missouri. Tuesday evening, March 7.
4. "Pusey and the Catholic Revival Period," Rt. Rev. C. C. Grafton, D. D., bishop of Fond du Lac. Tuesday evening, March 14.
5. "Seabury and the American Period," Rt. Rev. Hugh Miller Thompson, D. D., LL. D., bishop of Mississippi. Tuesday evening, March 21.

The Tobacco Industry.

The immensity of the tobacco manufacturing industry of the United States does not appear until one has the curiosity to look at it in come of its important details. The report of the internal revenue department of the government gives some figures that are surprising. In the fiscal year of 1887 there were manufactured in the United States 4,048,483,306 cigars or about 60 for each man, woman and child in the United States. To make the cigars required about 35,000 tons of tobacco. Besides the cigars were made 4,967,444,232 cigarettes, 153,397,907 pounds of plug tobacco, and 11,761,630 pounds of fine-cut chewing tobacco. Smoking tobacco to the amount of 83,548,984 pounds was manufactured, while 12,708,919 pounds of snuff were made. To make all these manufactured goods 261,417,530 pounds of tobacco were used, and this embraced 213,345,527 pounds of leaf, 16,375,883 pounds of scrap, 4,840,494 pounds of stems, 30,972,213 pounds of licorice, 23,391,757 pounds of sugar and 15,408,107 pounds of other materials not enumerated were used. This makes a grand total of 416,567,733 pounds of material that went into the manufactured tobacco made in the United States.

The American people are the largest consumers of tobacco of any on the globe, and it is almost an exception in a party of men to find one who does not use tobacco in some form, more or less temperately.—Globe Year Book and Almanac.

SCHUNEMAN AND EVANS

THE NORTHWESTS GREATEST STORE. SIXTH AND WABASHA, ST. PAUL.

Needtime Comes Just Ahead of Springtime

every year—so judging by these bright, warm days, there'll be many wants to be supplied all through this week, beginning Monday. Hence we've laid our plans and cut our prices of the very articles you're most likely to call for—enabling us to make this the center of interest to St. Paul people for the week's buying. Spring goods are coming in every day now, the direct result of choice selections by a dozen or more buyers now in the New York markets. Then, too, extra special bargains in closing-out prices for odd lots of goods now in stock to make room for the Spring merchandise. All in all, this week will be one of bargain values for the bargain-loving woman—the dividing week, we might say, between dying Winter and full-fledged Spring.

Last Week of Our Wall Paper Sale.

This will be the last week of our Wall Paper Sale. No extension of the time will be made. If you expect to take advantage of the low prices, be on hand, for we will positively close up the department the last of this month. We remind you again of the coming higher prices in Wall Paper. The "Paper Trust" will force up the prices. Be forehanded and buy of us now.

Optical Dept.

Eyes examined without charge by a New York Refractionist of ten years' experience.

Dull, mysterious headaches you can't account for, smarting, burning eyelids, generally come from eyestrain. Properly adjusted eyeglasses will entirely rectify. The value of Spectacles consists of—

First—The skill with which they are adjusted.
Second—Their method of construction.

There are thousands of people in the Twin Cities wearing glasses adjusted in this department. We refer you to them.
