Oriental Rugs of Merit

The phenomenal success of this great department of W. & J. Sloane, New York, is due primarily to the fact that all their importations "show a distinct character peculiarily their own." To shop all around New York and come back to "Sloane's" has become proverbial in the East.

Now this is exactly our claim for the Northwest, as our Oriental Rug stock is largely bought in connection with Sloane—so is unlike any other in this section. Our entire rug stock, comprising all known makes, is carefully selected, with regard to the individual merits of each rug. In these days of Aniline dyes, washed rugs and all the other tricks of the Orientals, it is important to know exactly what you are buying. Our rugs are sold with an exact statement of the make, grade, dye and condition—on a purely commercial basis at one price and without any sentiment in the matter at all.
