Jasper seems to be rather quiet since Jonathan departed for his Dade county home.

Nice roasting ears of corn appeared in town last week the drouth notwithstanding.

Only a short time now (?) till Joiner will pump oil and gas from the wells west of town.

The public benefactor this winter will be the man who makes one blade of grass do the service of two year in and year out.

A city has reached a very low plane when its citizens hold a mass meeting to formulate plans as to how to get rid of those who desire the enforcement of law. Ft. Scott has reached that level.

The News acknowledges the receipt of a pipe, a sack of Durham smoking tobacco and a match case nicely packed in a leather-topped box, artistically done in gold lettering with the compliments of the Evans Snider Buel Co., live stock commission merchants of Kansas City. Accompanying it was a neat folder containing a selection from "The Song of Hiawatha" where the peace-pipe has to do with the poem. We can use the match-case and the poem, but as for the pipe and tobacco—well we don't know what to do with it.

Education for the Farm.

From the Burlington Journal.

"I don't need an education, for I never expect to be anything but a farmer."

This is a common expression, and most unfortunate because it is a false view. Both of business education and requirements of correct farming. If any business on earth demands method, system and the application of correct business principles that business is farming. Of course, we do not mean by this that every farmer should keep a complicated set of books and have an office equipped with all the modern conveniences, but we do claim that so far as it goes his business should be as much regulated by correct system as that of a large commercial house.

A farmer is both a manufacturer and a merchant, and the good results of the manufacturer can be destroyed by the bad methods of the merchant. To secure good crops is one thing; to get them converted into the most money is another.

There are more failures produced by bad management than poor crops. A poor crop this year may be remedied by the results of next year, but bad methods entail continuous failures.

Business education includes system, order and method, and does away with the guess work, haphazard plan which is valuable only in affording the study of "awful examples." We want more business farming, and we shall get it only by educating for it.

Study the Soil.

From the Orange Judd Farmer.

This season's drouth has awakened great interest in the subject of irrigation, even in the states of the middle west. We are not going to say that irrigation in some manner has no place in the agriculture of Missouri and adjoining states, but we are going to say that the farmer who will give the subject of soils careful study as to their chemical and physical characteristics with reference to the action of water on and through the soil will make themselves in great measure independent of costly irrigation works and the evil effects of drouth.

We believe that what our farmers throughout all the region that has been suffering from the unprecedented drouth of this season stand most in need of is more knowledge of soils—how they were formed, what they are composed of, how they can be modified for better or worse by man's manipulation, what nature does to make a rich soil, what she does to make a soil "hold water," and how a farmer should handle his soil so as to cooperate with nature. And a most important preliminary lesson to be learned is that nature is kind and sympathetic when the farmer asks to be taken into her confidence, but to him who ignores her she becomes a jealous jade and will delight in kicking him at every possible turn.

Astounded the Editor.

Editor S. A. Brown, of Hamersville, S. C., was once astonishingly surprised. "Through long suffering from dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vitality and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For indigestion, loss of appetite, stomach and liver troubles, it's a positive guaranteed cure. A Minister's good work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, and a bottle of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, took two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's colic, cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured." PERSIN STRUP CO.

Dear Sirs: I feel it my duty to write to you and let you know how much good your medicine has done for me. Twenty three years ago I was taken with some kind of stomach trouble and I tried everything I heard of. They did me far little good. Three years ago neuralgia set in on me and I grew so poor and weak that I could hardly walk. Doctors didn't work any. My husband received a book through the mail, advertising your medicine, and he sent our little boy to the drug store to get one of your ten cent bottles. I began to use it. It is strange to say, but it's the truth, the second dose I took gave me lots of relief. I kept on using it till I used it nearly one year and now I am nearly as strong as I used to be and can do any kind of work. I recommend it to all, for it seems to me it would cure anybody. I have gotten several to use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and they all say it has done them so much good. God bless Dr. Caldwell and his medicine for doing me so much good.

Yours with respect,

MRS. LOUISA WHETZEL.

It positively cures coughs, colds, la grippe, bronchitis, and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at Webb Bros.
