CROWS REVEAL GHASTLY SIGHT

The circling of crows around a spot in the woods near Neck City led to the discovery of the half eaten body of a babe and the subsequent arrest of Jessie Hockler, a single woman who is charged with having killed the child and hidden its body in the woods. Miss Hockler is in the city jail in Joplin, but she denies all the charges.

[illegible] arrest she was [illegible] in Neosho jail and is held for her hearing.

An inquest will be held today. Coroner Boland [illegible] an inquest, decided that the child, which was but a few days old, had been hit over the head and killed that way.—Carthage Democrat.

CASSVILLE PRODUCE & SEED CO. AND CRAIG MILLINERY BURN

Fire starting late Monday night in the millinery store of Mrs. J. A. Craig, just east of the Henry & Thompson building at the southeast corner of the square, completely destroyed the stock of millinery and the building in which the store was located. [illegible] the opera room on the north, farther east [illegible] Craig's dwelling [illegible] By hard work some of the furniture and [illegible] is kept in stock by the firm were saved. [illegible] loss is almost a total loss.

The Produce & Seed Co. is the principal loser. Its loss is not yet exactly known but will total at least $300. It had no insurance. The building it occupied was owned by Mrs. C. C. Pharis and was insured for $800. The building occupied by the millinery store was owned by Mrs. Helen Hobbs and was insured for $300. Mrs. Craig carried $600 on her stock of millinery. The stock was valued at $800. The risks were all carried by the Manley agency.—Cassville Republican.

MILLINERY SALE

The big sale is now on at Mrs. Martin's millinery store. Everything will be sold at cost and a great many things below cost. Hats, plumes, fancy feathers, buckles, ornaments, ribbon, everything in the millinery line, as I must reduce my stock before selling out. I am going to retire from business. These sales will be strictly cash, positively no credit.

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Mrs. Shaw is having her birthday.

The pet little [illegible] is expected to get up and go when the snow has fallen.

Mr. and Mrs. Grissom, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hammd, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Shaw and Peter Zinn are enjoying a visit from relatives from Nebraska.

Mr. Shaw and wife spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Grissom.

We are certainly always glad to hear from Nix but there is one thing and that is give dad a rest. He is surely getting tired and we never get too old to learn.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zinn spent Friday with their daughter, Mrs. Grissom.

With success to the editor we will ring off hoping to hear from the other scribes.

MASQUERADING IN MEN'S ATTIRE

While Frisco officer, W. H. Dennis was making the rounds of the west yards yesterday afternoon he came upon two people in the stock yards who had gathered together a quantity of hay and with a quilt for a covering had prepared to camp for the night.

Being suspicious of them he proceeded to search them. Nothing of a suspicious nature was found upon the larger one of the two, but when he began to search the smaller one, who appeared to be a boy about sixteen years old, he was astonished to find that it was a female he was searching.

On demanding an explanation the man said that the woman was his wife and that they were making their way from St. Louis to Oklahoma.

Dennis placed them under arrest and they were placed in the lockup by Constable O'Dwyer. This morning, there being no charge against them they were set at liberty and advised to hit the gravel.

The man said that his name was Lawrence Haulan and that they had been married two years. His age was given as 22 and that of the woman as 24. The man and wife story was not believed. There seems to be no state law against a woman dressing in male attire.

It has been learned that the couple came into the east yards Wednesday night in a freight car and that they were there discovered and made to leave the train. They afterward spent a part of the night sitting by the fire in the depot.

W. H. Floreth bought the entire lot of Pitkins & Brooks of Chicago, holiday Queensware samples at a great reduction in price, and is now giving the public the benefit of his purchase. The finest and best line of Queensware ever in Monett.

WOODMAN CIRCLE

The Woodman Circle elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Guardian, Mrs. Mike Murphy; Advisor, Mrs. W. C. Bray; Clerk, Mrs. Laura Fritzen; Banker, Mrs. J. Thomas; Attendant, Mrs. H. A. Matthews; Chaplain, Mrs. J. W. Ruggles; Inner Sent., Mrs. W. L. Swartzel; Outer Sent., Mrs. W. T. Allen; Musician, Mrs. W. H. Florith; Managers, J. W. Ruggles, Mrs. Prigmore, Mrs. T. J. Dwyer.

REVIVAL MEETING

The revival meeting began last night in the M. E. Church. There was a fairly good attendance. Rev. Meisker, evangelist, preached a strong sermon on faith as the first essential and effective work. The sermon greatly encouraged the people. A number declared victory was already in view. Meeting every night. Everthing is favorable, so come, everybody.

THREE INJURED BY RUNAWAY

Yesterday while Mrs. Robt. Houston, of Purdy, and Mrs. Dr. Dummit and baby of Peirce City were driving from Peirce City to Purdy, the horse became frightened and ran into a ditch upsetting the buggy and injuring the occupants of the vehicle.

Mrs. Houston had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Dummit, at Peirce City and was going home to Purdy. [illegible] Mrs. Houston and the baby, who were both [illegible] were taken to Peirce City, and Mrs. Dummit was taken to the home of her father, Dr. Hocker. Dr. Hocker was called to attend Mrs. Houston. The baby regained consciousness last night and is on a fair way to recovery but Mrs. Houston was still unconscious this morning and there are fears of her recovery. Mrs. Dummit was badly bruised and cut by the fall.

Mrs. Houston is a widow with two children.

LOU BEAUCHAMP

The second number of the Lecture Course will be given in the opera house, Wednesday, December 21. Lou Beauchamp will deliver one of his famous humorous lectures. He appeared in the first Chausauqua in Monett five years ago, and all who heard him at that time will want to hear him again. He is considered the best and funniest speaker that ever appeared in the Monett Chautauqua. A good, hearty, wholesome laugh just before Christmas will do good to all that go. Monett is fortunate to get such a man.
