

NEWS IN BRIEF.

From the Baltimore Sun.

Friday, February 13, 1892.

Mr. Collins will push earnestly his bills relating to agriculture.

The Governor gave a State dinner to the members of the Senate.

The trustees of J. J. Nicholson & Sons say their statement will probably not be ready until the end of this month. It is rumored that the liabilities of the bank will aggregate about a million dollars, while the value of the assets is problematical.

Bills were introduced in the House to assess for taxation the ten million dollars of additional stock issued by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and to amend the charter of the Belt Railroad.

Mr. Sidney Wallis has petitioned the Circuit Court of Anne Arundel County for a mandamus to compel the comptroller to pay him the sum which he claims as commissions on the direct tax fund recently repaid to the State by the federal government.

The Maryland House of Delegates passed the Laird tariff reform resolution with an amendment, all the democrats present (78) voting for it, three republicans voting against it and three requesting to be excused from voting. The amendment expresses confidence in the judgment and ability of Maryland's Senators and Representatives in Congress to deal with tariff reform.

The largest and most earnest delegation of the session had an audience with the Governor in favor of the appointment of Mr. Thomas F. McNulty to official position. The Governor sent to the Senate nominations for Cecil and Caroline counties.

Saturday, February 13, 1892.

It is regarded as almost certain that no appropriation greater than $50,000 will be made to the World's Fair.

Senator John Walter Smith will take steps to have the 1 1/2 cent tax heretofore levied for the treasury relief loan continued for the benefit of the public schools.

By Mr. Wilkinson, to appropriate $100,000 of the direct tax to build and furnish white public schools and $50,000 to build and furnish colored schools.

At Roanoke, Va., Will Lavender, colored, who attempted a criminal assault on a little white girl, was taken from the officers by a party of 150 men and hanged. Lavender made a full confession.

The nomination of Edward Hall to be postmaster at Harro de Grace, Md., is to be sent to the Senate Monday next.

The Governor expresses the purpose of completing all his appointments, local and general, in a week. As soon as he gets through the appointments he will make a trip over the oyster grounds, in order to inform himself on the oyster resources of the State.

Both branches of the Maryland Legislature adjourned until Monday evening. Delegate James G. Berret, of Carroll county, celebrated his seventy-seventh birthday, and the House adopted a resolution of congratulations.

Hon. William L. Wilson, of West Virginia, makes a statement, which has the endorsement of his democratic colleagues on the ways and means committee of the Fifth Congress, in which he refutes a declaration published in Senator Kennan's interview, in which the Senator was quoted as saying the Mills tariff bill was the "arbitrary decision" of eight men. On the contrary, Mr. Wilson says, the bill was constantly committed to the judgment of the full party representatives.

Monday, February 15, 1892.

Ex-Governor Jackson, of Maryland, has determined to make his permanent residence in Washington.

For some time to come the District commissioners will confine the appointment of policemen to residents of the District.

An officer of the British army is in Washington to obtain all possible information as to the military and naval plans and operations of the United States.

Southern and Western democrats are pursuing the silver will-o-the-wisp, while the republicans are lagging in the chase. The report on the Bland free silver coinage bill is published.

In a lengthy letter published in the Atlanta Constitution, ex-Senator Joseph E. Brown, of Georgia, favors the candidacy of Senator Hill, of New York, for the democratic presidential nomination.

The New York Tribune says that at a conference between Governor Hill and leading Tammanyites Saturday night it was decided that the early New York convention should be held regardless of the protest. The Tribune also says that the Tammany leaders refused to consent to a cast-iron instruction to the delegates to Chicago to vote for Hill for President, but were willing only to support him so long as he has a prospect of a nomination.

COMMUNICATED.

Editors Beacon—Gentlemen:—Please allow space in your valuable paper for this communication. I did not intend to say anything on this subject, but to agitate to educate, and I do think the agitation of this liquor question will do our country more good than anything that has happened for several years. For instance, ours is the poorest county in the State except one (Calvert) and we pay in the State Treasury more money for liquor license than any county but one in the State. Frederick Co. pays to the State on her taxable property $41,071.80. St. Mary's county pays to the State on her taxable property $5,026.66, Frederick county paying to the State on her taxable property eight (8) times more than our county, and we pay more money to the State for liquor license than the great county of Frederick. Should not our people be educated to see the great waste that this liquor traffic costs them?

There are very few people in our county that has any idea of the vast amount spent in this traffic. It does appear that there are $200,000 or more spent in our county every year, and it ought to be one of the richest counties of the State. Nearly surrounded by oyster beds more productive than the gold mines of the far West. Our oystermen, most of them poor and hard working men, work in rain, snow and ice. They take out for tonnage about 750,000 ter licenses. Each boat will average $3 or more, making $2,250,000 solid money in our county every year, not allowing scrap-iron and oysters, which would pay $20,000 to $30,000 more. Our oystermen, most of them poor, pay to the county schools $2,200; and some of our people that take out liquor licenses and stay behind the counter in a warm room and take in a good portion of this oyster money are opposed to a higher license that would bring to the county some revenue. And they handle not less than $200,000 of it every year, and what does the county get for this $200,000? Does it enhance the value of our lands? Does it lower our taxes? Does it make us better men? Does it make us any richer? I will answer no! Well, what does it do? It increases the expenses of our courts, jails, prisons, almshouses, hospitals, &c., &c. It depreciates the value of our lands. It demoralizes our labor. It sows seeds of poverty, crime and distress all over our county, and weaves coils of bad habits about our young men. It breaks the hearts of fond mothers, takes bread from hungry children and clothes them in rags. It begets the mind, paralyzes reason and benumbs the conscience of our fellow men. It generally ruins the man that sell it and a great many of us that drink it. It destroys some of the best talent in our land. Think of it! $200,000 wasted by this traffic. Most of it goes out of the county to the manufacturers and wholesale dealers to make them richer while it makes us poorer—if it does enrich the 101 that are now selling it in our county—that I do not claim that it does not. It is making 14,000 people in our county poorer, and I will venture to say that liquor traffic cost the people more than all the meat and bread used in the county. Our Representatives at Annapolis should try and do something by higher liquor license—say $100 or $200 to relieve them in part—and I do believe a license, I will say of $100 per annum, would be the best thing for the county. It would do the people generally more good and reduce tax in more than anything we could recommend to our Representatives at the State House. They each and every one of them very well know the immense expense it costs the people of this county. It treats all alike—the rich and the poor. We should agitate and educate against rich tariff or impost, against high direct taxation. But I will say here that the liquor traffic of this county costs us nearly three times as much as all the tariff duties and direct taxes put together. These are near facts by a man that has studied it for the last 20 years. Our tariff duties and direct taxes cost us from $200,000 to $250,000 each year, not including lost time and labor. Well, we will see what high license has done for Baltimore city.

In 1891 Baltimore city received from liquor license $304,870.17. The State received one-fifth, $60,974.04. Leaving Baltimore city, $243,896.13. The taxes of Baltimore city in 1890 were $1.85 on the $100. In 1891 it was $1.53, a reduction of the city tax in one year 30 cents on the $100; and if we had a $100 liquor license, as I will probably seventy places would take out license, it would bring in a revenue to the county of $7,000; and with a small reduction of county expenses, also taxing mortgages, would bring our taxes down to about 60 cents on the $100. Messrs. Editors, the farming interest has so much depreciated in our county it is almost alarming. There are a great many farmers today that do not make enough to pay their taxes, county and State, amounting to $1.07 cents on the $100, and I can assure you and the people of the county, if the legislature passed the assessor act under the former system it will cost our county quite $5,000, and our taxes must go up to 100 cents on the $100. But even with the assessor law as it was, a $100 liquor license would be worth as much as we stand now on the tax question. For the first year, and then the reduction would come later.

In conclusion, I will say here that if we continue to go on as we have for the last 15 or 20 years that the most of our farmers and laboring people will become more and more the monopolists and a few moneyed people in less than twenty years.

OBTUARY.

Mrs. S. E. D. CANTER, widow of the late Judge L. H. Canter, of St. Mary's county, died on Wednesday, the 7th of January, at her residence near Charles de Pall, in the 62nd year of her age, and on the 25th instant, was interred by the side of her husband, in the burial ground of St. Mary's Chapel, Bryantown, there to await the resurrection morn. The deceased was one whose whole life and character were so characterized by simplicity of manner and acquiescence in the will of God, that she would forbid any attempt to eulogize or to speak words of flattery touching her death. It can, however, be truly said of her that she was modest and unassuming, gentle and kindly disposed, and forgiving to the last degree. She was greatly beloved by her relatives and very highly esteemed by her neighbors and a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Her consistency of walk as a Christian, her conscientious respect to the duties of her office, her deep solicitude in all affairs of her church, her readiness to serve to the utmost all in need of help or sympathy, endeared her to all who knew her. And surely, of one possessing such qualities, we can say her end was peace.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

Cure Indigestion, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Nervousness, and General Debility. Physicians recommend it. All dealers sell it. Genuine has trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper.

WHAT IS THE USE?—What is the use of both bringing your mind, in these days of doubt and uncertainty, when you can go safely to the Brown Store, at Leonardtown, where you can get the best goods, honest weights and measures, and at prices that cannot and will not be matched. Furthermore, Johnson will (as in the past) always pay the highest market prices for eggs, poultry and all kinds of produce—adv.
