FANCY CODFISH. "Mamma would like a package of decorated codfish," said Harold to the grocer's clerk.
 The clerk looked puzzled.
 "Decorated codfish?" he repeated.
 "Are you sure that is what your mother wants?"
 "That is what she said."
 The man thought a minute and then he said, "Oh, I have it," and began looking along the shelf. There was an amused expression on his face when he handed the package to Harold.
 "Tell your mother," he said, "that if it is not what she wants she can send it back."
 Harold repeated the message, adding, "He did not seem to know, at first what decorated codfish meant."
 "O, Harold," cried mamma laughingly, "I said decorated, not decorated codfish."
 Harold looked ruefully at the package.
 "I thought he wanted to laugh about something," he said. "Guess that was it."

Ayer's Pills promptly remove the causes of sick and nervous headaches. These Pills speedily correct irregularities of the stomach, liver, and bowels, and are the mildest and most reliable cathartic in use. No one should be without them.

An old colored woman on hearing the jubilee melody, "Nobody knows the trouble I have seen," said "Yes, and nobody knows how much less trouble we might see if we would stop looking for it."

"This tea is weak as water," growled the irritable boarder. "I've seen water hold up an ocean steamship," retorted the boarder, who was in love with the landlady.

"Be sure you get Ayer's" is an important caution to all in search of a thoroughly reliable blood-purifier, Ayer's Sarsaparilla being the one on which there can be no manner of doubt. It has stood the test of nearly half a century, and has long been considered the standard.

HE WAS ALL RIGHT.
 "You are a man who was not such a fool as he looked."
 A tall, thin fellow, with a vacant stare, walked into the police station of a western city, stepped up to the officer on duty and said in a hollow voice:
 "Sir, I have an important communication to make. I am dead. I was murdered and I request you to find the murderer and have me buried."
 The official involuntarily started back; it was evident he had a lunatic before him. He rang a bell, and the captain of the division, the police surgeon and all the constables obeyed the summons. In a moment the room was packed with a crowd of men, all of whom turned toward the surgeon, who in each case had the first word.
 "Just so," the latter said, addressing the stranger; "I could tell at the first glance that you were dead. Do you happen to remember your name?"
 "Certainly," the man replied; "my name is Berthold Schwarz."
 "And your address?"
 "The grave."
 "Who is your murderer?"
 "Columbus."
 "The same who discovered America?"
 "Yes."
 "Then allow me to congratulate you.
 We have captured the smart chap.
 Come, and I will show you his cell."
 "Directly," said the madman in reply to the surgeon's diplomatic little speech, and began fumbling in his pocket, from which he quickly produced a thick packet of neatly bound almanacs.
 "Gentlemen, when I was alive I used to sell these almanacs; they are the best sold in this country and only cost threepence apiece. You will admit that these handsome little volumes ought not to be left to molder in the grave, and, as we appear to be on such friendly terms, perhaps the gentlemen will not object to buy the lot."
 Ten minutes later the "madman" had sold out and taken his departure.—Tagliche Rundschau.

THE NEWEST NOVELTIES.
 In receptacles of all sorts the shell
 takes the lead.
 Column clocks are for boudoirs and
 Louis XVI rooms.
 Lamps of glass are six feet high and mounted in brass.
 Three swans—blue, pink and white—
 with linked necks, form a new table ornament for flowers.
 A great deal is done in science with appliances of metals. There are flower stands of grotesquerie.
 Small articles, as vases, cups, bowls covered with flowers with spread petals
 such as daisies, have been brought over.
 The English gold ornamented glass is having great vogue. The German glass contains in the design glass the bottle.
 Onyx clocks in the shape of green por-porites, with round columns supporting pediments, are exquisite. Some clocks have the pillars and pilasters covered with gilt and colored tinsel.
 There are numerous displays of ornamental glass. The Webb's cameo glass is striking, but has many successful imitations in cheaper glasses which would deceive all but the cognoscenti.
 There are new mechanical clocks.
 One represents the engine of a ferryboat, another a pile driver with the figure of a man. The materials are silver and bronze, and the workmanship is ex-

AROUND THE THRONES.
 The Princess of Wales sits and makes gowns for herself and family.
 There are fourteen great gates to the Escorial, the palace of Spanish kings, and the building is lighted by 1,110 outer and 1,178 inner windows.
 No nihilist will ever get a chance at the czar of Russia with a razor, at least in the guise of a barber. The autocrat has his whiskers carefully trimmed, but with scissors.
 Emperor William has given 15,000 marks to aid the publication of an elaborate literary souvenir of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America.
 The work will be edited by the Berlin Geographical Society.
 The Shah of Persia has more than $35,- 000,000 worth of ornaments, gems and precious stones in one strong room, 30 by 14 feet. There are scarabards in this treasury said to be worth $1,000,000 each. When leaving home the Shah, it is said, locks up his jewelry and travels "in paste."
 Tip-O-Tip, son of the late Zulu King Cetshwayo, is in this country and aims to secure an education here before returning to his own people. To pay his expenses in college he is giving small entertainments of native songs, chants, translations of the English to the Zulu tongue and in answering questions.

ODDS AND ENDS.
 It is said that three-fourths of the entire manufacturing capital of the United States is based on patents.
 France has had thirty-eight embassa-dors to England since 1814, while in the same period the queen has had but eight representatives at Paris.
 More than a fourth of the gold and more than a third of the silver produced throughout the world in the year 1891 was mined in the United States.
 A mob of seventy-five women prevented a wedding in a town in Kentucky recently, for the reason that the bride's husband had been dead but two weeks.
 The next lord mayor of London will be a Roman Catholic priest as his chaplain.
 It will be the first instance of a Roman Catholic holding the latter position since the Reformation.
 The streets of London are cleaned between 8 in the evening and 9 in the morning. Many of the carriages are washed daily by means of a hose, and the courts and alleys inhabited by the poorer classes are cleaned once a day.

GRAVEY ABOUT BIRD.
 Senator Manderson plays a strong game of chess.
 Carlyle's two brothers reside on farms near Grand Rapids, Mich.
 Joseph Arch, the pioneer in the agricultural laborer's movement in England, is only sixty-six, but is said to be quite broken down.

 In receptacles of all sorts the shell
 takes the lead.
 Column clocks are for boudoirs and
 Louis XVI rooms.
 Lamps of glass are six feet high and
 mounted in brass.
 Three swans—blue, pink and white—
 with linked necks, form a new table
 ornament for flowers.
 A great deal is done in science with appliances of metals. There are flower stands of grotesquerie.
 Small articles, as vases, cups, bowls
 covered with flowers with spread petals
 such as daisies, have been brought over.
 The English gold ornamented glass is having great vogue. The German glass contains in the design glass the bottle.
 Onyx clocks in the shape of green por-porites, with round columns supporting pediments, are exquisite. Some clocks have the pillars and pilasters covered
 with gilt and colored tinsel.
 There are numerous displays of ornamental glass. The Webb
