Which Was the Wiser.

the matutinal noises of the country home. He had his perfect fill of rest, and enjoyed it to the utmost—for a time. Then he began to realize that it is possible to have an overdose of rest, and that to enjoy it fully he needed some form of work to occupy the mind and weary the muscles to the extent of making rest a luxury. In other words, he came to know by experience that the "tired farmer" ekes out a most wretched remnant of existence if he snuffles off every form of mental and physical exertion, and lapses into a state of dry rot.

After all it is not necessary to point a moral in this little story from real life.—Ex.

From Idaho.

July 22, 1901.

We are now having the warmest weather of the season with very cool nights.

On the morning of July 4 there was ice frozen on all the still water. A miner that wished to lay off and celebrate the 4th went to disconnect some pipe and found it frozen, so he had difficulty in getting it seperated.

The hay crop is very short this season but grain is fairly good.

The forest fires are doing a great deal of damage to the timber this fall. The timber inspectors are trying hard to catch parties setting out fires.

The sky is almost cloudy with smoke.

Quite a little stir is being experienced in this part of Idaho in the way of capitalists buying and bonding the Quartz mines.

We are in receipt of a letter from our "old sweetheart" Libbie Morrison, of Blackfoot, stating that she is having a "rag-time" and that her mother is eating corn dodgers with her relatives and friends in old Missouri.

The railroad being built between Blackfoot, Houston and Challis, Custer Co.; is progressing as rapidly as possible. This enterprise will cut off a 150 mile stage line and cause several freight outfits to move to other quarters, but the mines of Blaine and Custer counties will be worked extensively after getting cheaper transportation for their ore.

The Mining Congress now in session at Boise City is attracting quite a little attention, being represented by people from nearly every state.

We are informed through a friend that two ladies, a mother and her daughter, met with quite a serious accident in the Yellowstone Park recently. The parties were tourists taking in the park. While at the Fountabe Hotel they, with many others, went to see the geysers, when the two ladies fell into a mud geyser of boiling hot mud. They were rescued with difficulty and were badly burned to their waists. The park physician says their recovery is doubtful.

Another Good Man Gone.

George Gardner, an aged and respected citizen, died Sunday afternoon at the residence of his daughter Mrs. J. B. Watson, in this city. Mr. Gardner was a native of Scotland and had the unanimously acknowledged good traits of societher best people. He came to America in 1865 and to Rich Hill in 1885. He was a coal miner and worked at this occupation until a few years ago when by reason of advancing age he had to give up active labor. He was 82 years of age and left surviving him Mrs. Mary Watson, Mrs. Agnes Cartwright, James, John and Robinson Gardner, all of whom live in Rich Hill, and are well and favorably known to our people as was their father before them. The funeral took place Monday afternoon from the Presbyterian church, Rev. W. B. Chancellor preaching the funeral sermon. A large concourse of people followed the remains to their last resting place in Greenlawn cemetery. Another good man gone.

—Oscar Miller and wife returned from their Kansas City visit Monday.

—Dr. Dudley and wife, of St. Louis, are visiting Mrs. D.'s parents, Jno. Griffith and wife.

—Dennis Miller has so far recovered as to be about the barn and help do the bossing.

—From the number of people who are planting, sowing and making garden one would think it spring if it wasn't August.

—Miss Lizzie Mauer came home Monday from Shreveport, La. She was obliged to give up her position on account of ill health.

—Sam K. Oldham is in the city this week on a visit to his aged father and mother and his sister Mrs. Dr. Dobbins, of Chicago, who is also here with her husband visiting the home folks.

—G. G. Barnett has taken the road again in the interest of the Modern Woodmen of Appleton City.

—Miss Minnie Winchell, who has been on the sick list, is reported about well again.

—In an editorial notice of the State Fair the Marble Hill Press says: "Good premiums are offered for the best in every line of industry. This is a state institution established by an act of the legislature, in which the people should, and no doubt will, take great pride in making successful in the highest degree. The initial exhibition will be held at Sedalia, September 2-13, 1901."

—Miss Sallie Johnson returned to Butler Monday, after a visit with her sister Mrs. Chas. Pierce and other relatives.

—J. Rowe, who suffered a sunstroke last week, was taken to the hospital in Kansas City Monday.

Here's a Queer How-to-do.

Georgia has just passed a law to this effect:

"If a woman fails to manage the house according to the husband's ideas, he is justified in insisting that his ideas be carried out. It is solemnly made his prerogative to determine what servants shall do and not do, the hours at which meals must be served and the menu at each meal."

The man that undertakes to act upon the law will have more experience to the square inch than he ever had before. It were better that a millstone were hanged around his neck and he were drowned in the depth of the sea.—Ex.
