SHRINKAGE OF A MILLION INTO ASSETS OF $300

Endless Chain Scheme Leads the Post Office Department to Search for the Missing Money.

Chicago, Ill., March 1.—A million dollars has disappeared from the assets of the "Cash Buyers' Union and Co-operative Society," and the post office department is trying to find it. President Julius Kahn admits that he received that amount by selling stock of the company in an endless chain scheme, but says he spent it in expenses.

Post office inspectors discovered that of the $1,097,000 received from the sale of stock, $1,000,000 from sales of goods in the last year and thousands of dollars received in other ways, all that the society now holds is placed at a high valuation by the post office men at $300. The receipts of the company in January and February are placed at $260,000. Many orders have not been paid. The bank account of the society is only $99.

The stockholders paid $10 a share. They were told that a 10 per cent dividend would be paid each year, and that stockholders would receive 5 per cent discount on all purchases made and a 5 per cent commission on all sales made to customers.

Coupled with the court proceedings is the story told by J. C. S. Sampson, once editor of the Co-operative, a magazine issued to advertise the business.

"Kahn took a bankrupt business on an option of $30,000 an made it into this thing that he calls 'co-operation,'" said Sampson. "It is a one-man business. There are no officers. His secretary and treasurer are mere bookkeepers drawing $25 a week. He took $2,500,000 worth of stock for his own use and sold the other $2,500,000 to the public."

E. C. Day, receiver, began work on the books Tuesday.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Brooklyn Man Had Old Grudge Against Bartender.

New York, March 1.—Murder and suicide occurred at 156 Ninth street, Brooklyn, yesterday. Thomas Dettman, 45 years old, a plumber, living at 35 Hamilton avenue, shot and killed Thomas Fennan, 38 years old, a bartender, who lived in the house where the shooting occurred. Then he turned the gun on himself. In the front room lay Fennan's wife, who was Dettman's sister, dead.

Fennan and Dettman fell out some time ago, and Dettman, who had lived with the Fennans up to that time, took up his abode in Hamilton avenue. When his sister died he came to the Ninth street house, and had remained there since. He believed that Fennan was responsible for the illness which led to Mrs. Fennan's death, and this, in conjunction with the old grudge, he had nursed, is believed by the police to have been the motive for the shooting.

Dettman and Fennan had been eating breakfast, but not speaking. When Fennan started for the door, Dettman sprang from his chair and pulled a revolver. He fired five shots, two taking effect.

GETS FOOD BY MAIL.

Illinois Woman Holds the Fort Against the Police

Jacksonville, Ill., March 1.—Miss Belle Bishop is still holding the fort. Since February 18 she has been besieged in her dwelling by the police, who have resorted to every conceivable measure to force her capitulation; but she shows no more sign of yielding than she did when her supply of food and water was cut off and she faced starvation. All efforts of the chief of police to arbitrate have been futile. "No quarter" is the battle cry of Miss Bishop, and she refuses even to discuss such a thing as a compromise.

The food and water problem has been solved by her attorney, who resorted to the expedient of sending such necessities through the mails, and she is using her furniture for fuel.

The object of the police in desiring to gain entrance to the premises is to take a census of Miss Bishop's roomers, some of whom are persons whose status in the community they desire to investigate and adjust.

FORAKER SCORES THE RATE BILL

He Believes Hepburn Plan Constitutional

WOULD BE DISAPPOINTMENT

Declares Congress Has No Power of Rate Making — States May Act Because They Create the Corporations.

Washington, March 1.—The heavy artillery of the opposition to the President's railroad rate policy opened up yesterday afternoon in the Senate, with Senator Foraker of Ohio as the man behind the guns.

In a carefully prepared speech, which required some three hours in delivery, he argued against governmental rate-making in general and the Hepburn bill in particular. He held that the latter was unconstitutional as well as impracticable, and predicted its speedy death in the Supreme court of the United States if it should pass in the shape in which it had come from the House.

He admitted that there were evils to be remedied, but this could be accomplished by merely amending the present Elkins law so as to correct matters of excessive rates and by making it specifically applicable to every kind of rebates and discriminations.

"It is not either easy or agreeable to differ with the President," he said; "but when questions arise of such commanding importance it is the duty of every man to make careful investigation and act in accordance with his convictions."

He did not minimize the evils of excessive rates, rebating, and discriminations, but charged that the fault lay largely with the officials who have failed to enforce the laws already on the statute books.

He numbered among the defects of the Hepburn bill, that it dispenses with jury trials in important actions to recover money; that it imposes extreme, unreasonable and burdensome penalties, and that it not only fails to provide for proper court review, but seeks to exclude the same.

"The proposition would be alarming if its utter unconstitutionality were not as apparent as is its unreasonableness," he said. "In all the legislation of more than a century no such proposition has ever before been successfully presented to the American Congress."

HOUSE TAKES UP ARMY BILL.

Point of Order Kills Important Provision.

Washington, March 1.—The army appropriation bill was taken up yesterday after the House had passed several bills by unanimous consent. By sustaining a point of order made by Mr. Tawney, Chairman Boutelle ruled out of the bill a provision for practically the entire clerical force amounting to more than 300 clerks, messengers, watchmen, charwomen, carpenters, and one gardener, employed in the office of the chief of staff, and at headquarters of divisions and departments of the army. The point of order was made to paragraphs of the bill containing increases in the clerical force, and by the ruling of the Chair, not only the increases, but the whole force, and by the ruling of the Chair, thereafter, if Congress sustains the committee action, will be rare and unusual varieties for use at experiment stations.

hereafter, if Congress sustains the committee action, will be rare and unusual varieties for use at experiment stations.

Two Admirals Retired.

Washington, March 1.—Rear-Admiral Colby M. Chester, superintendent of the Naval Observatory and commander of the special service squadron which went to the Mediterranean last summer to observe the eclipse of the sun, was placed on the retired list yesterday. He will be retained in temporary active duty in the Bureau of Navigation. Admiral Chester will be succeeded in charge of the Naval Observatory by Rear-Admiral Asa Walker. The retirement of Admiral French E. Chadwick also occurred.

Can't Sell Steamer.

Washington, March 1.—No bids have been received at the Navy Department for the steel 1,000 ton steamer Zafiro, although it had been advertised for sale for six weeks past. The vessel was appraised at $27,000.

Sidetrack Reciprocity Bill.

Washington, March 1.—The House ways and means committee has decided not to take up the Curtis bill which seeks to bring about reciprocity treaties.

ROCKEFELLER DODGED.

Now at Pocantico House After Eluding Process Servers.

New York, March 1.—Information which has come to Henry Wollman, special representative of Atty.-Gen. Hadley of Missouri, settles the question of the whereabouts of John D. Rockefeler, head of the Standard Oil Company, for whom the subpoena servers have been diligently searching for several weeks. Mr. Rockefeller is snuggly hidden in his country home at Pocantico, N. Y.

Mr. Wollman said Tuesday that Mr. Rockefeller had on several occasions taken advantage of the law which prevents the service of subpoenas on Sunday, and has attended church and taken outdoor exercise.

Lack of funds to pay detectives possessing sufficient cleverness to get within serving distance of Mr. Rockefeller is what has prevented the Missouri state department from placing the president of the Standard Oil Company in the witness chair. Mr. Wollman said if he had 10 good men at his command he could produce this important witness eventually. It might take a week or three weeks, he said, but enough men and enough money could accomplish the desired result.

Mr. Wollman has learned that when Mr. Rockefeller's presence before Commissioner Sanborn was first called for he was at his home, at No. 4 West Fifty-fourth street, and remained there while the hunt for him was hottest. Ignorance of the fact that Mr. Rockefeller had free passage from his home into Fifty-third street through the home of his son-in-law, which is directly back of his own home, was the reason he subpoena servers failed to perform their duty.

DEMANDS UPON PORTE.

Official Recognition Sought for Our Beirut Schools.

Constantinople, March 1.—The necessity for prompt recognition of the demand that the American scholastic institutes at Beirut, Syria, and elsewhere be entitled to identical treatment with the schools of other nationalities, is being urgently impressed on the Porte by the American legation. Recognition was promised on the occasion of the American naval demonstration in August, 1904, but it has not yet been officially promulgated.

In some quarters the impending visit of Rear Admiral Sigsbee's squadron to Beirut is connected with this question, but the legation points out that the warships will remain only three days at Beirut, their visit being part of the ordinary programme of the squadron for its cruise in the Mediterranean. The legation is also pressing the Porte to refund the customs duties paid under protest on consignments of educational material destined for the American schools. It is recognized that these establishments are entitled to import such articles free of duty.

CURES THE WORST CASES OF CATARRH.

Rickert & Wells Sell Hyomei Under Guarantee That It Costs Nothing Unless It Cures.

Not until Hyomei was discovered had it been possible to say truthfully that a remedy for catarrh was known.

Hyomei cures the worst cases of catarrh simply by breathing the remedy through the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit. Using the treatment in this way for a few minutes four times a day, every particle of air taken in the air passages and lungs is laden with germ-killing and health-giving Hyomei.

Stomach drugging often causes disordered digestion and never makes a permanent cure of catarrh. Hyomei not only kills the germs in the throat and nose, but penetrates to the minutest air cells in the lungs and enters the blood with the oxygen, killing the catarrhal germs in the blood.

The complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a vest pocket inhaler and medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei, costs only $1. If this does not effect a complete cure, extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents.

Rickert & Wells know of many people who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei. They believe in it so thoroughly themselves that they offer to refund the money in case it does not cure.

SENATORS BACK UP CROMWELL

Senate Committee Protects Him from Morgan's Questions

LAWYER STILL ON STAND

Again Refuses to Testify About His Relations With the New Panama Canal Company—Senator Morgan Appeals.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—When the Senate committee on interoceanic canals convened yesterday, Senator Morgan was not prepared to take up his examination of William Nelson Cromwell for nearly half an hour. He spent the time reading the record. When he resumed the inquiry was in relation to the plan for the Americanization of the Panama canal. Mr. Cromwell said his reply would be the same as had been made Tuesday, that professional secrets were involved. He said he entered the employ of the New Panama Canal company in 1896, and the employment still exists.

Question after question was asked by Mr. Morgan, and the witness replied to each one: "I make the same reply," or "Whatever knowledge I acquired was gained in my professional capacity."

"Your case of lockjaw seems to be getting worse," said Mr. Morgan, who added that he was not shutting out any information.

"Then why are you asking these questions?" asked Senator Kittredge.

"I want to see if the witness can tell the truth on any point," said Mr. Morgan. "Furthermore, if any senator cares to interrupt, he should address the chair. I do not choose to be interrupted in this way."

Mr. Morgan asked: "Did you assist Senators Hanna and Kittredge in making the minority report from this committee?" The report referred to was against the Nicaragua route and in favor of the Panama route.

"I decline to answer," said the witness.

Senator Taliaferro took up the examination and the witness said whatever information he might have furnished was given as counsel for the Panama Canal company. Mr. Taliaferro asked the witness concerning the monetary agreement entered into between the secretary of war and the republic of Panama, particularly thep art he played in the transaction.

"Is this not covered by your professional reticence?" asked Mr. Morgan.

"No, sir," said the witness, "and I hope I may say this finally."

"No, we shall return to it again, if I see fit," said Mr. Morgan.

"Very well, you seem to enjoy it, and it is the first vacation I have had in a long time," replied the witness.

Mr. Cromwell then explained the coinage system on the isthmus, and for the first time since he went on the stand he was permitted to proceed without interruption. In the meantime, Mr. Morgan was busy studying the records.

SHORT SESSION FOR THE NEW RUSSIAN DOUMA

The Novoe Vremya Intimates Significantly That It Will Be Prorogued Almost at Once.

New York, March 1.—The Times, in a copyright cable from the London Times' correspondent at St. Petersburg, says:

Leading organs of public opinion fail to evince the slightest exuberance or satisfaction over the announcement of the date of the meeting of the douma.

The only exception is the Novoe Vremya, which indulges in much high-flown language, but concludes with the significant intimation that the douma will be almost immediately prorogued till the autumn.

According to the statements of financial experts the next loan will have to carry 7½ per cent. interest. The Slovo assets that it will have to be sanctioned by the douma, and fixes the amount at $225,000,000, to be redeemed within two years.

Laughter in the Commons.

London, March 1.—In consequence of the illness of both Arthur J. Balfour and Joseph Chamberlain, the latter being confined to his bed by an attack of influenza, Chancellor of the Exchequer Asquith agreed in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon to an adjournment of the fiscal debate fixed for today. Mr. Asquith amid shouts of laughter remarked that the debate in their absence would be equivalent to a performance of "Hamlet" in the absence of not only the Prince of Denmark, but also of the Ghost. He would not presume to allocate the parts between the twain.

REAL HAVANA FOR FIVE CENTS.

C. H. Kendrick & Co. at Last Find a Nickel Cigar Worth Smoking.

When C. H. Kendrick & Co., who probably have the largest sale for high-grade cigars of any dealer in Barre, heard that a long Havana filler cigar was being retailed for 5c they were naturally incredulous. As they wanted to give their customers the best cigars for the least money, they got a sample box of Wadsworth Bros.' Chicos.

The samples were all right and they ordered a trial 1,000 to see how they would please the trade. The result was wonderful, as men who had been buying ten and fifteen cent cigars said they preferred the Chicos. It is a good and satisfactory smoke with a clear Havana aroma.

Try a Chico today and you will enjoy it, if you like a good cigar.

SOFT COAL MEN TO MAKE PEACE

Steel Corporation Intervenes to Prevent a Strike

ANTHRACITE TERMS READY

Mitchell Sent Them by Mail to Baer—Conference in Pittsburg the Result of Corey's Straight Talk to Robbins.

Pittsburg, March 1.—The conference of the bituminous coal operators, at which it will be decided whether or not an advance in wages will be given to the miners, began shortly before noon yesterday. Most of the representatives arrived early, but the forenoon was spent in formal discussions.

The delegates refused to discuss the situation in advance of the conference, and the rumors concerning a disposition on the part of some of the independents to fight against making any concession to the miners could not be confirmed.

The United States Steel Corporation forced the bituminous coal operators' scale committees of the different states to take steps for a peaceful settlement of the miners' demands. W. Ellis Corey, the president of the steel corporation, told Francis L. Robbins, of the Pittsburg Coal company, that the corporation had contracts that must be carried out and that it could not fulfill them without fuel. The call for the meeting of the operators was sent out at once, followed by the announcement that there would be no soft coal strike.

The only development in the local situation yesterday was the announcement by President John Mitchell of the miners that the anthracite committee of seven had finished its demands and that they had been sent by mail to President Baer of the Central railroad of New Jersey, in Philadelphia, Tuesday night.

FOR ANNUAL WALK-OUT.

Preparations Made in Chicago by the Lathers' Union.

Chicago, Ill, March 1.—Some novel features unusual in the ordinary strike in Chicago are seen today in the annual walk-out of the Lathers' Union. According to custom, the strike will last about 24 hours. It may be shorter, but probably the best of good feeling between employers and strikers will exist.

In preparation for the annual "difficulty" two adjacent halls were engaged Tuesday. One is for the strikers and the other will serve as a headquarters for the employers. In another room a big blackboard will show the names of the various lathing firms involved in the "strike."

As fast as one firm settles its name will be erased from the board. That also will be a signal for the men in the employ of that contractor to return to work.

The lathers hope that their employers will see fit to raise their wages from $4 to $4.50 a day. In the event of a refusal however, it is probable that no radical steps, such as calling of a real strike, will be taken. There are 450 lathers in the city, all of whom belong to the union, and about 50 firms of lathing contractors.

BALFOUR'S BIG MAJORITY.

Returned to Parliament With 14,340 More Votes Than Opponent.

London, March 1.—The result of the latest bye-election in the city of London is as follows:

Arthur J. Balfour (Unionist) 14,474
Thomas Gibson Bowles (Free Trade Unonist) 4,134
Mr. Balfour's majority 11,340

The election was robbed of much of its expected excitement by the illness of the former premier, whose doctor has ordered him to remain in bed.

Mr. Balfour's health has not been satisfactory for some time, and is complicated by weakness of the heart. Monday evening after a meeting in the city he suffered from overfriendly buffeting on the part of the great crowd of people who desired to shake hands with him. Exhaustion led to a chill and the doctor peremptorily cancelled all his engagements.

TROOPS CHARGE FRENCH MOB.

Another Violent Disturbance the Result of Church Dispute.

Mazamet, France, March 1.—A detachment of troops yesterday charged a mob of manifestants outside the Church of St. Sauveur, where the government officials were taking an inventory under the law providing for the separation of church and state.

Col. Berge, in command of the soldiers, was struck by a stone and seriously hurt, and a number of men were wounded.

Mrs. Corey in Divorce Land.

Sioux Falls, S. D., March 1.—Mrs. William E. Corey, who has arrived here presumably for the purpose of establishing a residence to secure a divorce from her husband, the president of the Steel Trust, keeps close to her apartments, even having her meals served in private. Yesterday she received a telegram from an Eastern paper asking for a statement and was greatly surprised that her identity should have been discovered so quickly.

She still refuses to see or send any message to the newspaper men who are seeking interviews.

McCurdy and Family to Sail for Europe.

"New York, March 1.—On the list of cabin passengers of the Hamburg-American line steamship Amerika, sailing today from this city by way of Plymouth and Cherbourg, are "Richard A. McCurdy and man-servant, Mrs. Richard A. McCurdy and maid, and Louis A. Thebaud, Mrs. Louis A. Thebaud and maid."

Refuse Carnegie Gift.

London, Eng., March 1.—The citizens of Bath decided by a vote of two to one against the acceptance of Andrew Carnegies offer of $65,000 for a public library.

ARE YOUR LUNGS EASILY AFFECTED

A Little Precaution Now may Save a Lot of Trouble Later—Remember, "An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure."

Weak Lungs are a constant source of danger and one cannot be too careful during this trying winter weather. People are altogether too prone to neglect what they term a "little cold." This cold is very often the forerunner of death. From a "little cold" it develops into a big one, and then follow serious complications. A cough starts in the throat. No particular attention is paid to this, but it goes on slowly but surely getting in its deadly work. The cough gradually descends until it fastens itself upon the lungs, and then for the first time the victim begins to realize his danger. Unless energetic action is taken, this cough will develop into consumption.

Cod Liver Oil has long been recognized by medical authorities as the most efficient remedy in Throat and Lung difficulties. In Mage's Emulsion you get the purest Norwegian Cod Liver Oil combined with Extract of Malt. There is no ingredient in Mage's Emulsion that is not of benefit to the system. It acts almost immediately and its results are certain.

Restores Vitality and Strength.

Miss Nellie Nolan of Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I have been a long and patient sufferer from a lung difficulty; have taken a great amount of medicine and been under the care of several physicians, all of which finally failed to benefit me. I had lost two sisters and one brother from the dread disease of Consumption, and when the doctors gave me up, I thought I should follow them by the ravages of the same disease. I was terribly reduced in weight, scarcely weighing 100 pounds. I took Mage's Emulsion and at once began to experience relief, gained strength and now weigh 150 pounds. No other medicine could have done as much for my lungs I am sure, and I can recommend it without hesitation."

Start taking Mage's Emulsion today. Don't wait until to-morrow, as that never comes. Don't wait until your cold has developed into that dread disease, Consumption. Mage's Emulsion will help you as surely as the sun will rise on the morrow.

ON SCRIPTURAL PLANS.

Wall Street Man's Widow Runs His Bond Business.

New York, March 1.—Notwithstanding recent revelations of grasping underwriting syndicates and predatory financiers, Mrs. J. Alden Gaylord, head of the bond-investment firm that bears her name, firmly believes that there is no place in the world where there are so many Christians as in Wall street. "Otherwise," says she, "where would I be?"

Mrs. Gaylord is the manager of a bond business which was founded by her late husband 40 years ago. She is conducting the business on original lines, and expresses the confident belief that she will make several million dollars in a few years. Her friends in banking and brokerage firms in the financial district say she has displayed remarkable aptitude for business.

Seated at her desk in a spacious office, this plucky little woman, whose hair is only slightly tinged with grey, spends her time discussing with her clients the flotation of security issues and the financing of railway lines. Religious mottoes are posted on the walls and a Testament and prayer books occupy a conspicuous place on the desk.

"Yes, every morning after I arrive in this city," said Mrs. Gaylord, "I spend a few moments in Old Trinity to pray. Before we begin business here we have a prayer meeting in the office. I conduct the services, assisted by my partner, Mr. Fletcher.

"We carry on our work here according to the teaching of the scriptures. Even if I make only one-quarter of one per cent, that is enough. And business is coming in from every part of the country. Only yesterday two loans came in, one for $5,000,000 and another for $2,000,000.

"I believe the Lord has educated me in all this. I know He is helping me, and the money I make will go to the Lord. I only want to provide for my grandchildren. All the rest will go to charity and the missions."

J. Alden Gaylord was for 40 years a conspicuous figure in Wall street. He was of striking presence and had a multitude of friends. He died in 1904 at his home in Boonton, N. J., at the age of 62, leaving his business affairs in a rather complicated state.

KING "NEVER BETTER."

Edward's Physician Denies All Rumors of Ill Health.

Vienna, March 1.—Dr. Ott, King Edward's Marienbad physician, on his return from England publicly denies the rumors of his majesty's ill health. There, Dr. Ott declares, are malicious inventions possibly traceable to political motives. He says King Edward was never in better health than at present.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
