The Phoenix on Barre Matters.

Judge Scott of the municipal court of Barre differentiates between expectorating and spitting. He holds that a tobacco chewer may bedaub the sidewalk with impunity, but that the man who ejects phlegm from his mouth is liable to a fine under the anti-spitting law. A Daniel come to judgment.—Brattleboro Phoenix.

The school directors of Barre will dispense with the services of seven married women who are school teachers. One of those who will be given her walking papers has taught in the schools of the city 17 years, another 10 years. The argument is that these women have husbands, are not dependent upon their own work for support, that they keep out of the service young women who must support themselves, and that the place for married women is in their home. If the object of the public school is to provide a maidens' retreat the theory is all right, but the common sense view would be to make the quality of the service the first consideration.—Brattleboro Phoenix.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Mrs. C. E. B. Bliss, who has been matron of the home for Aged Women at Burlington since the establishment of the home nineteen years ago, has resigned her position.

Dr. and Mrs. C. F. O. Tinker and the latter's mother, Mrs. Martha Ellis, of St. Johnsbury, went last week to West Somerville, Mass., where, May 12, Mrs. Ellis celebrated her ninetieth birthday anniversary at the home of her daughter.

Henry G. Mullings, formerly of Bristol, who is serving a sentence of two and one-half years in Windsor for forgery, has been declared insane and taken to the state hospital for the insane at Waterbury. His wife and four children reside in Bristol.

The petition of Rutland business men, seconded by the Merchants' association of Boston, asking that letters sent to Boston from Rutland on the midnight train be worked en route, has been granted and two extra postal clerks will be engaged in two weeks to do the work. Under the present system Rutland letters for Boston are not sorted until they reach the Hub and although the train arrives at 7 o'clock in the morning the mail is not distributed by the carriers on their first morning trip.

Those Brattleboro Seamstresses.

Representatives of the Brattleboro society of seamstresses, sewing women and shop girls, accompanied by attorneys went to Boston Friday to seek what they call a more equitable distribution of the income of a trust fund, amounting to $25,000 to $30,000 annually, left by Thomas Thompson, who was a resident of Boston.

This unusual bequest was left to the seamstresses, sewing women and shop-girls of Brattleboro in the form of a trust, the trustees being two well-known Boston men, Laurence Minot and Richard M. Bradley, the latter of the firm of Bradley & Tyson, real estate brokers. The trust became operative in 1901, after the death of of the widow of Thomas Thompson. The bequest resulted in the forming of an organization among the sewing women and seamstresses of Brattleboro, the beneficiaries of the trust.

After the meeting Friday afternoon Mr. Bradley said:

"The trustees have not, until the last three days, had any definite statements of the wishes of the sewing women. It was thus impossible at this short notice to take final action in the matter.

"Some time ago the sewing women appointed a committee to look into the question as to how the fund was used. The decree of the court provides that it shall be used partially for the establishment and maintenance of a kindergarten and hospital for the several women and their families.

"The meeting was for the purpose of stating to the trustees the wish of the sewing women as to the administration of the fund so far as it concerned them, and for receiving information as to how the fund was actually administered.

"Their complaint is mainly that the women who have come to Brattleboro in the last few years and have gone into the shops have not received the benefit of the fund.

"The main point in the discussion is whether substantial direct aid could be given these women without causing their occupation to be overcrowded and rendering their condition worse in the long run."

Mother-of-pearl.

A microscopic examination of mother-of-pearl shows the shell to be made up of very fine lines, so closely put together, that the white light is broken up into its prismatic colors, and we get the so called "play of colors." Taking a careful cast of such a shell, the wax cast will yield the same prismatic effects.

In the first daily newspaper, started in London in 1709, the editor announced that he would not bother his readers with editorial notes, because readers were all wise enough to make their own reflections.

Origin of the Fan.

A Chinese legend makes Langsin, daughter of a great mandarin, responsible for the fan. At a feast of lanterns, overcome by the heat, Langsin removed her mask, a daring thing for a Chinese maiden to do, and waved it rapidly to and fro, near enough to her face to conceal her features. Her ladies quickly followed her example, and the fan was evolved.

MEN ARE POWERLESS

To Fight Against Disease Unless They Strike at the Underlying Cause.

To treat Dandruff, and Falling Hair, with irritants or oils on which a parasitic germ will prosper, is like scooping water from the ocean to prevent the tide from rising.

You cannot accomplish a satisfactory cure without having a right understanding of the fundamental causes of the trouble.

You must kill the Dandruff Germ.

Newbro's Herpicide does this because it is specially made to do that very thing.

When the germ is removed, the hair has no choice but to resume healthy growth and beauty.

HOUSE FOR SALE.

There is no place like a home you can call your own, and the above saying applies to this property especially. Here is one of the most beautiful places on the French estate which has just been put on the market. Situated on Franklin street, one of the best residential streets in the city, not a tenement house on it, best of neighbors, and a property that can be sold at any time by buyer. On this property you can realize your cash for it, with a handsome profit on what it can be bought for, as it must be sold this month. This house is situated on a large lot (no clay), plenty of shrubbery, apple and cherry trees, currant bushes, grape vines, etc., is full two stories with spacious attic, the best of cellars, heavy wall, large, broad piazza 12 ft. wide, front hall 12 x 14 ft., round parlor, dining-room, kitchen, pantry and woodshed. Four large, airy sleeping rooms with closets and large bath-room up stairs. Every door in house heavy birch veneer, hard wood floors in every room. All hard wood finish done in the most artistic style known to modern architecture. This house is not built after the old style of a dry goods box, but the very latest design, something that is artistic and attractive. If you buy this house you can rent rooms for $12 per month and then have enough for your own family. Now do not run away with the idea that it will cost too much, for you can buy it as cheap as you could a less expensive house, as the owner is bound to sell now. If you have a cheaper cottage or tenement and you think it is not quite good enough for you, or a small farm or timber lot, I would take either in exchange and give plenty of time for balance. I would be pleased to show you through the house at any time. Bring your wife along and back her over. Remember this is a new house, built last fall. For further particulars call at 77 Franklin street, or telephone 443-4.
