Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

ABOUT THE STATE

W. P. Bartlett of Morgan has entered upon his 42d year as town treasurer.

Of 19 deaths in Chelsea the past year, two were infants still born, two were men killed by accident, and the 15 remaining were people whose ages ranged from 63 to 92.

A civil service examination will be held at St. Albans, March 27, for the position of fourth class postmaster at Sheldon Junction. The salary of this post office for the past fiscal year was $271.

The suit of C. E. W. Brown vs. the Spear-Martin Fur company, an action to recover $1,500, has been entered in Chittenden county court. The plaintiff seeks to recover on the ground of an alleged violation of a contract for a salary and commission, while he was a salesman in the employ of the Burlington company.

Teachers' Conference.

For several years the university of Vermont has invited the schoolmen of the state to an annual educational conference. This is to be held at Burlington on March 11th and 12th, in conjunction with the Vermont Schoolmasters' club, and to have as special theme the teaching of chemistry and physics. Educational leaders from within and without the state are to contribute to the program, including Professors Mann, of the university of Chicago, Woodhull, of Columbia and Webster, of Clark university. The first afternoon will close with a reception at President Buckham's, the second by the banquet of the Sevhoolmasters' club.

At these meetings the renewal of acquaintance, the free discussion and exchange of educational ideas and the inspiration from addresses by educational leaders have combined to make them highly worth while.

These conferences are arranged for the benefit of the teaching profession generally and a general invitation is extended.

COINS AND SKELETON FOUND.

Discovery Made in Hollow of Old Oak Tree in Benson.

Two hunters, John Falkenbury and son, Horton, last week while hunting on the shores of Lake Champlain in Benson, found old English coins to the value of $36.23, in the hollow of an oak tree with the remains of a skeleton, probably that of a British scout, together with a powder flask made of copper and an old English flint lock musket, each bearing the coat of arms of the English government, says The Plattsburg Press. It is thought probable that the skeleton is that of an English sharpshooter, and that when the Americans evacuated Ticonderoga he was dispatched ahead by Burgoyne to ascertain the direction of St. Clair's retreat and was killed. Or again is might be one of the six men whom Burgoyne sent to Canada bearing gold and valuable charts and papers before his surrender at Saratoga.

The old flask and gun, with the stock rotted off, attracted the sightseers of all the neighboring towns and many theories are advanced as to how it came to be found under these circumstances. The coins which bear the dates mostly from 1760 to 1779, will probably be deposited in a local bank, and if no claim is made for it by the state, it will be disposed of to coin collectors.

For the Truth's Sake.

Mr. Editor:—Please allow me to say, I am surprised at the inventions of men and "Bible Students," to get away from the torment of hell. I wonder how a candid, intelligent reader of the Bible can doubt that there is a hell of eternal punishment for the finally incorrigible, without believing that God don't mean what he says. Surely, God means we shall understand there is a judgment at death, and that the wicked dead are turned into Sheol or Hades (a kind of fore-hell) see Psalms 9:17, Luke 16:23, awaiting the final judgment of the last day, when they will be cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, "Prepared for the Devil and his angels." The sentence is irreversable and irrevocable, to an awful condition of conscious, endless misery. There is no respect of persons with God. See Rev. 14:10, 11; 19:20; 20:10; 20:14. To this agree the words of our Savior, see Mark 9:47, 48; Matt 25:41, 46; also the words of Paul, II Thes. 1:8, 2:12.

Concerning the Old Testament saints in Sheol, or Hades, before Christ's resurrection, the Scriptures clearly teach that they were in a separate place or part of Hades, higher than the wicked abode, a place of bliss, and exalted into heaven at Christ's resurrection. Compare Luke 16:23 and Luke 23:43 with Eph. 4:8-10 and II Corinthians 12:3-4. David and Peter so understood it. See Acts 2:22-36. Who is he that will presume to know more about it than David and Paul and Peter and Jesus Christ?

Who says the Greek word aionios does not mean endless duration? Webster's dictionary says it does, so Paul and Peter and John invariably use it, and so our Saviour used it, twenty-five times, once of heavenly habitations, Luke 16:9, one of eternal punishment, Matt. 25:46, once of eternal sin, Mark 3:29; twice of eternal fire, Matt 18:8, 25:41, and twenty times of eternal life, twice in Matt. 19:29, 25:46, once in Mark 10:30, once in Luke 18:30, and sixteen times in John, 3:15, 16, 36; 4:14, 36; 5:24, 39; 6:27, 40, 47, 54; 10:28; 12:25, 50; 17:2, 3.

God made man with an immortal spirit, Gen. 1:26, as another has said, "Gigantic, immortal, mighty to suffer or enjoy, mighty to love or hate, mighty to soar or sink." When man sinned, God warned him to flee from the wrath to come.

He calls us to repentance and faith, that we may obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ. I believe God is just and holy, and means what he says, and would not mislead or deceive His creatures.

A WEALTHY RESPONDENT.

He Was Arraigned on The Charge of Intoxication.

Rutland, March 6.—Among the seven respondents who were in city court yesterday was J. Hale Gates of East Wallingford, a man who is reputed to be worth between $50,000 and $75,000. Gates owns several houses in Rutland and is said to have mortgages on half the farms in his own town. He dresses like a woodchopper, chews the blackest kind of tobacco and never brags about his wealth. He gave his occupation as dealer in real estate and chattel mortgages.

"What do you plead, Hale, to the charge of intoxication, second offence?" asked the judge.

"Well," said Hale, "I should call it the first offense. I don't remember nothin' about it. Sometimes a fellow's stomach ain't right, you know, judge."

"well, how do you plead?"

"Oh! Guilty!"

"Fifteen dollars and costs of $5.25."

Gates picked up his hat and started for the door, handing a $5 bill to Grand Juror Harvey R. Kingsley. "There's $5 to bind the bargain," he said, "I'll be up on the morning train tomorrow and give you the rest of it."

The judge had no fear that Gates would not keep his word, so he let him go.

The other respondents in court were J. E. Straight of Boston; John Shannon, jr., Henry White, Frank Schofield of Cambridge, Mass., George Wells and John Carey of Pike, N. H. All of them were up for intoxication in varying degrees, and all pleaded guilty.
