HOGS NEED CARE.

Should Be Kept Warm to Prevent Pneumonia.

This is the time of the year when a great many pigs contract colds or pneumonia and die. When one considers what a thin coat a pig has to protect it from the cold and how it is in some cases exposed to the elements, it is little to be wondered at, says Farm, Stock and Home. We do not believe in pampering hogs or live stock of any sort. It does them good to get out in the cold and exercise. We believe it is a good idea to let them get part of their feed outside either in oats or corn thrown into the straw or corn stalks where they can pick for it, or in the grain to be found in cattle droppings. That does not mean, however, that the method of hog management is upheld which lets hogs wade around in snow, their bellies dragging on it, in 20 below zero weather. It is little wonder that they sicken and die.

The best place in the world to turn pigs is out into the feed yard where cattle or stock are fed, and where the snow is well tramped down and covered with corn stalks or straw. Such a yard is usually in a well protected place and even on pretty frosty days, if not stormy, hogs will take no harm there and are a great deal better off outside part of the day. The point to be emphasized is simply that precautions should be taken not to turn them out in deep snow or in a spot where cold blasts get a good sweep at them.

Drafts must be avoided inside also, if one would keep his hogs free from colds. Just like a person unused to it, hogs will take cold in drafts, and even if used to it they are a great deal more comfortable and require less feed for keeping warm, where they are not exposed to them. It is well always to allows hogs free access to their barn, then when cold, they will go in and crawl into their nest. And, by the way, they should have plenty of bedding these cold nights. This keep them off from the cold floor and when they snuggle down into it the cold does not affect them much. In this day and age when anything that possesses a squeal and grunt is worth its five, 10, 15 or more dollars, it certainly behooves the farmer to take such care of his pigs that he will not lose one of them.

A Dainty Toilet Article.

Every lady who desires to keep up her attractive appearance, while at the theatre, attending receptions, when shopping, while traveling and on all occasions, should carry in her purse a booklet of Gourand's Oriental Beauty Leaves. This is a dainty little booklet of exquisitely perfumed powdered leaves, which are easily removed and applied to the skin. It is invaluable when the face become moist and flushed and is far superior to a powder puff, as it does not spill and soil the clothes.

It removes dirt, soot and grease from the face, imparting a cool, delicate bloom to the complexion. Sent anywhere on receipt of five cents in stamps or coin. F. T. Hopkins, 37 Great Jones street, New York.

A Wretched Mistake

to endure the itching, painful distress of piles. There's no need to. Listen: "I suffered much from piles," writes Will A. Marsh of Silver City, N. C., "till I got a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and was soon cured." Burns, boils, ulcers, fever sores, eczema, cuts, chapped hands, chilblains, vanish before it. 25c at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

NEW THEATRE FOR RUTLAND.

It Will Be a Moving Picture Concern on West Street.

Rutland, Jan. 13.—As the Rutland post office will in all probability occupy the present quarters of the Dreamland vaudeville and moving picture theatre in the Gryphon building, the owners of this building, Wright and Young of Brandon, will erect a new home for the theatre, just east of the present building on West street.

The new structure is to be 53 feet wide by 90 feet in length and 22 feet in height. It will be constructed of brick and cement, with a handsome front of light colored brick. It will have a seating capacity of 600 and a stage 26 by 16 feet in dimensions, with several dressing rooms, while the building and furnishings will be modern in every particular. C. S. Fuller, proprietor of Dreamland, has signed a five years' lease of the building.

CLOTHES AND THE MAN.

Good Appearance Waits Upon the Way Garments Are Worn.

"You can talk all you please about clothes making a man," said a Walnut street tailor, "but I want to say right now that the smartest clothes in the world can't make a man 'natty' if he is not naturally so. There is an old, stoop shouldered doctor uptown that I have been tailoring for seven years. He buys four and sometimes five suits a year, and yet, except for a few days after he has broken in each new suit, he never looks nice. The trousers bag at the knees, the coat falls away in front, and the shoulders begin to look sloppy. The man's drooping figure and the poor care he takes of his clothes furnish, of course, the explanation.

"Did you ever notice the average college man's clothes? Almost invariably he looks neat and correct despite the easy swing with which he walks. But you'll notice that he carries his head high, his shoulders fairly erect, and his trousers never 'break' at the shoes, so that the crease is always preserved. All classes of men go to college—rich and poor. Few college men take more than fair care of their clothes. It's all the way they wear their clothes, I think. Notice the young lawyers and doctors around town too. Few of them can afford the very best in tailor made clothes. That they usually look nice is due to the fact that they have picked up the distinguished way to wear clothes, I might call it. Clothes make the man, but only when the man is willing to help."—Philadelphia Record.

The Act of Dying.

The common phrase "death agony" is not warranted by what occurs in natural death, which is a complete relief from all pain. When death is owing to heart failure or syncope it is sudden and painless, perhaps pleasant. Death by hanging, there is reason to believe, is attended by a voluptuous spasm. Death by decapitation or electricity is only a momentary shock, hardly felt. Death by poisoning varies in painfulness according to the poison employed. Opium and other narcotics probably give a painless, perhaps a pleasant, dreamful death. Hemlock, as we know from the account of the death of Socrates, causes gradual insensibility from below upward. On the other hand, arsenic, strychnine, carbolic and mineral acids, corrosive sublimate, tartar emetic and other metallic poisons inflict slow and torturing death. Prussic acid and cyanide of potassium cause quick death.—Exchange.

ABOUT THE STATE

George May of Marshfield lost three horses last week in Peacham pond, while drawing logs.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Kingman observed their golden wedding anniversary in Ferrisburg Saturday.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cain of West Rutland was badly burned last week by spilling hot coffee on himself.

E. G. McClallen of Rutland was quite ill Monday, as the result of ptomaine poisoning, caused by eating canned food.

A portion of the Brandon inn is to be closed, as the proprietor says that it has not paid for some years. The lower floor will be used for stores.

Business houses and hotels are warned by the post office department to be on the lookout for money orders numbered 28,068 and 28,209. The banks were recently stolen from the post office in Washington.

Two Mormon elders from Utah are making a house-to-house canvass of Rutland, distributing cards, which bear the articles of faith of the church, for the purpose of removing from the minds of the people their mistaken ideas concerning the religion.

Leon Morton, aged six years, had one leg broken Monday in Rutland, while "catching bobs." The boy tried to get aboard a log team, when he slipped and fell, one of the runners of the sleigh passing over his leg. He was taken to the Rutland City hospital.

The tuberculin test was applied on 90 head of cattle on the farm of the state hospital for the insane at Waterbury, and out of the herd only one was found diseased and condemned, which is considered a very satisfactory showing. The herd is made up of Holsteins.

The voters of Moretown in special town meeting have voted to extend one year, or until March 1, 1911, the time for Moody & Almon to complete their additional electric power plant in the Mad River valley. The builders of this plant live in Waterbury and Montpelier. The new plant will give them 900 additional horsepower.

The golden wedding of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Goodall of Essex Junction was observed Monday at the home of Mrs. Goodall's sister, where Dr. and Mrs. Goodall's marriage occurred, 50 years before. Three of the company present at the anniversary were also present at the wedding. Rev. Dr. Goodall is a retired Baptist clergyman and is widely known as a forceful preacher, learned theologian and writer.

Two hundred and fifty friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Richmond in Rutland tendered them a surprise party Monday evening, the occasion being their 27th wedding anniversary. The occasion resolved itself into a reception and the celebrating parties were reunited in marriage by Rev. Thomas Stratton, while the orchestra played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin. Mr. and Mrs. Richmond were presented a handsome art square.

In the 246 towns of Vermont, there are 212 public libraries, besides several school libraries. There are 73 towns without libraries of their own, a part of which numbers is served by the state traveling library system. In the last ten years, 51 towns have formed free public libraries by voting an appropriation and securing the $100 given by the state to aid in the establishing of a new library. During the last year, thirty-five towns have received annual library aid from the state. There are now sixty-seven library buildings in Vermont.

Part of the carcass of a large doe was found last week in the woods in Pownal near the dugway switch of the electric road. The discovery was made by Paul Wolleschlegger of Pownal, who was working on the electric road near that place. His attention was attracted by a trail of blood and trampled snow, which he followed several hundred yards up the hillside and into the woods. The hindquarters of the animal had been removed, apparently cut away with a sharp knife. The skin had been removed but was left, and it was apparent that the person or persons who had taken part of it intended to return for the rest. County Game Warden Harry Chase of Bennington was notified and sent for the remains of the animal, to be taken to Pownal station.

Almost a Centenarian.

Mrs. Sarah A. Chase celebrated her 93d birthday anniversary in Rutland, January 4, by entertaining a number of her friends at a party in the evening. Mrs. Chase was born in Quebec, January 4, 1817, her father, Deacon Benjamin Hutchinson, being one of the early settlers of this state, having cleared the farm he lived on at the time of her birth. With the exception of two years, when she lived in New Hampshire, her whole life has been passed in this state. She was married in 1840 and her husband died in 1882. Her two daughters and one son are residents of Rutland.

Nine years ago she suffered a slight shock, which has stopped her activities to a great extent. She is able to read without glasses and can tell the time across the room and see the dates on a calendar with the naked eye. She remembers Rutland when it had only two streets and when there was no railroad. Her father was one of the original stockholders in the first railroad from Bellows Falls to Burlington and rode on the first train that was ever run on that line.

Mrs. Chase comes of a long-lived family, her mother dying at the age of 94.

Returned After Being Lost Many Years.

A medal lost in Virginia in the Civil war by Jesse G. Taylor, who enlisted from North Pownal, has just been returned to the family of the deceased veteran. Mr. Taylor was awarded this medal, which bore on one side the emblem of the United States, an American eagle, and on the other the words, "J. G. Taylor, Company A, 14th Vermont Volunteers, North Pownal, Vt.," for his devotion to the Union cause. One night it was missing, and he never knew whether it was lost or stolen. He regretted its loss very much.

The middle of last November, the postmaster at North Pownal received a letter from Norfolk, Va., stating that the writer was in possession of the medal, which had been dug up in that city 26 years ago, and asking for information concerning the family of the man named on it. By correspondence, Mrs. Taylor learned that the medal had been found by a negro, who was digging a trench, and that he sold it for 85 to a man who thought it a gold piece. This happened 26 years ago, and when it fell into the hands of Mr. Licklider, the writer of the letter, he realized the intrinsic value of the medal.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

ELEVEN LAWYERS ON CASE.

Hearing on Failure of the Columbian Marble Company.

Rutland, Jan. 13.—Law cases growing out of the failure of the Columbian Marble company were taken up yesterday before Walter A. Dutton of Hardwick, special master, at a hearing in the county courthouse in this city, and the array of prominent legal lights was the largest here in a long time. W. H. C. Stickney of Bethel, and Lawrence, Lawrence & Stafford of Rutland represent the receivers, and the attorneys present looking after the other interests included H. F. Woodward of Washington, D. C., Gordon Ireland of New York, O. M. Barber of Bennington, J. G. Sargent of Ludlow, and F. S. Platt, Edward Dana and F. D. White of this city.

Lieutenant Governor Mead, Henry F. Field and Newman K. Chaffee were appointed receivers for the company in 1906, and two years ago certain bondholders petitioned for their removal on the ground of mismanagement. The hearing will be a long one.

WAS BADLY HURT.

Daniel M. Huffnail of Reading Fell Under Road Roller.

Springfield, Jan. 13.—Daniel M. Huffnail of Reading, former sheriff, who figured in the alienation suit recently tried in the Windsor county court, is in a serious condition, as the result of an accident which happened yesterday, which may prove fatal.

He fell from a snow roller, which passed completely over his body and so injured him that his back and lower limbs are paralyzed. Mr. Huffnail was recently married to Vanessa Blake, who was named in the alienation suit mentioned above.

MOSTLY DOCTORS' BILLS.

Are Owed by Rutland Man Who Filed in Bankruptcy.

Rutland, Jan. 13.—Leonard W. Foye of this city, railroad employe, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with Clerk F. S. Platt of the United States court. He has liabilities of $348.30, mostly for doctors' bills and drugs, and no assets.

If she had only saved her breath,
But she feared the hay would'nt last all day,
So she choked herself to death."

You can get the same old fashioned Coal they used to get. Clean, bright and satisfactory in every way.
