BOTTLED CREAM
Commencing December 1st, 1911,
We shall sell in small quantities bottled cream only from our teams.
This we know will be much more sanitary, save slopping and dripping on floors and steps and insure more accurate measure to everyone, which is impossible in cold weather by the old method.
The cream will be put up in ¼ and ½-pint jars, 6 cents and 12 cents worth of cream respectively. In regard to the jars, we shall follow the same plan as at our store, that is, charge 5 cents extra for jars, which are returnable to the teams or at the store.

ABOUT THE STATE

John Benton of Lincoln raised 1,000 bushels of corn this season and is considered the banner farmer in this respect in this section of Addison county.

Mr. Page of Topsham shot a bald eagle recently, which measured eight feet from tip to tip of the wings. The bird was found eating a sheep, which it had killed. Mrs. Page is having the eagle set up.

Merrill Stockham, the 18-year-old Lowell hunter, who was accidentally shot Thursday, died that day from his injuries. He fell and the gun was discharged, the bullet entering his right arm, passing through his breast and coming out below his shoulder blade.

The treasurer of Middlebury college has received a check for $22,845.95 from the general education board as the first payment toward the $50,000 they have pledged toward the $200,000 fund. The board pays proportionately as subscriptions are paid in by other subscribers.

Mrs. W. K. Porter, jr., of Thetford has made that town a gift of a watering trough, in memory of her husband. She had a large granite boulder cut to a convenient depth and placed where it is accessible from several different directions. The Village Improvement society will raise funds to pay for piping the water to the trough.

At Newport, Sunday, Nov. 19, as the helping engine was coming from Willoughby, it ran into and killed a large buck deer, which was either standing on or attempting to cross the railroad track. Mr. Creaser, the engineer, picked up the deer, brought it to Newport and notified the game warden, who turned the deer over to Mr. Creaser.

A serious fire was narrowly averted one evening recently, when Mrs. Porter of Montgomery Center was putting out the lights in her store for the night. The screws that held up a large hanging lamp fell out and let it drop to the floor and soon there was a blaze. Help came and the lamp was carried to the street before the interior if the store had been much injured.

Peter Woods of Bradford was badly injured a week ago in a peculiar manner. He was sitting on a board on top of a load of wood when, as the team was coming down a hill, the board slipped and threw Mr. Woods headfirst onto the frozen ground and under the horse's feet. The horse stood still, which is probably all that saved his life. As it was, his head was cut and his foot and shoulder were bruised.

Mrs. Herbert Hadd of East Berkshire was so badly burned while lighting a lantern at her home Tuesday, Nov. 21, that she died within a few hours. Mrs. Hadd ran out of doors and her husband, hearing her screams, came to her rescue, but her hair and clothing were burned off and the flesh on her arms and body dropped from the bones. She was conscious most of the time and realized her condition. She was 30 years old and leaves a husband and five children.

In the attic of the Taconic part of the Equinox house in Manchester, which is being enlarged for the coming summer, a large old-fashioned wooden lock was found. This lock is a very quaint and curious one and is about nine inches long by five inches wide, made out of hard wood with the iron all hand forged. It would take an artist to pick the lock, owing to the peculiar construction of the bolt. This section of the hotel is one of the oldest in the state and was raised by Capt. Thaddeus Munson on March 4, 1801, Thomas Jefferson's inauguration day.

WOULD TAX CHURCHES.

Rev. James S. Braker of Burlington Has Pronounced Ideas.

Burlington, Nov. 28.—Rev. James E. Braker, the new pastor of the Baptist church, has pronounced views on some things, among which is the taxing of church property. Rev. Mr. Braker in a strong sermon Sunday morning before a large audience advocated in emphatic words the idea of taxing all church property as well as other property.

The sermon was upon "Paying the Full Price," the principal thought being that the full expression of a soul yearning for God and forgiveness, must find expression in giving to God all that there is to give in paying the full price. The text was from the words of David as he expressed his desire to pay for the site of the threshing floor for the ark of the covenant, upon its being offered to him freely.

"I see no good reason why all church property should not be taxed," said Dr. Braker, "the worst thing in the world for the religious life is not to give. Giving of tangible things is the expression of the soul toward God. I was pastor of one church where there was an endowment sufficient to provide a revenue of over $2,000 a year, toward current expenses of the church. It was the hardest pastorate I ever was in.

"There may have been reason for the exemption of church property years ago when the church and state were more closely allied, but there certainly is not now. We ought to preserve our self respect by paying the full price, we cannot do it if we do not."
