NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS

HAVING begun business about the last of the Spring, and consequently only having at that time purchased a Summer Stock we have been compelled to buy FALL & WINTER GOODS EARLY, and since the middle of August have been receiving lines of goods to suit these seasons. We are now prepared to offer full lines of all goods we carry, and purchasers have an ABSOLUTELY NEW STOCK from which to select, we having been doing business here for too short a time for old stock to accumulate.

BOOTS, both leather and rubber, men's and boys' neck wear, under wear and over shirts. In dry goods to our bleached and brown muslins, cottons, sheetings, tickings, kerseys and cassimeres.

In dress goods to our prints, ginghams, cashmeres, cheveruses, saris, chevrons, cam-elhair, storm goods, Henrietas, for novelties and other suitings. A first-class line of Groceries and Flour, Harness, Woodenware,
Hardware and Glassware

In the latter line we would suggest you examine our line of "patent colored" LAMP. These colors are not put on as in the old style with plaster of Paris, which, as soon as it becomes saturated with oil, causes to hold the color in place, but are fitted to the lamp by a patent process in such a manner that they will not come loose.
Will be pleased always to show goods, and if prices and quality of objects purchased, is to think we can satisfy them.

CONFIDENCE.

O show me a safe and sequestered spot In the heart of an honest friend, Where the wrongs I have done may be far got,
And there may find their end!
For the world's gay life had no love of mine While its weary road I trod, And I have but one more true design:
'Tis "sweet repose in God!"
—Ethelbert Riley in Catholic News.

What Bad Roads Cost The Country.

The Board of Trade in a recent memorial to the legislature demonstrated that bad roads were costing the people of that commonwealth more than $7,000,000 annually. Prof. W. W.
Carson, of the University of Tennessee, after careful investigation, found the average cost of hauling to the Knoxville market by wagon to be $7.50 per ton—aggregating $1,250,000 a year on the total tonnage hauled. He maintained that this hauling could have been done for half the sum over good dirt roads, and for one-sixth of it over good macadam roads, saving $1,- 000,000 annually. Prof. Richard T. Ely, of the John Hopkins University and Secretary of the American Economic Association, affirmed that poor roads cost this country over $20 a horse, and Prof. Jenks, of Knox College, Illinois, thinks $15 a horse a low estimate for the loss. Mr. Hord, a former commissioner of agriculture for the State of Tennessee, estimated the number of horses, mules and asses in that State in 1889 at 475,000. The number has increased since his estimate, but taking this number and the lowest estimated loss per horse, say $15, an aggregate loss of $7,- 125,000 a year for one State is shown. From papers calculated by Prof. Carson for an agricultural experiment station it is shown that on gravel a horse will draw one and a half times the load, and on macadam over three times the load he can draw on a dirt road. Of course there is great economy in drawing power in the proper grading of roads, and disregard of this fact has wasted large quantities of money in the road-building of the past. The greater speed made on scientifically graded and patent race-tracks illustrates the advantage of the grade.—Albert Roberts, in the Engineering Magazine for July.

IT COULDN'T FAIL.—His history is briefly told. After several days of thought he discovered a sure way of making money, and, like other men, he was in a hurry to try.

He made haste to insert an advertisement something like the following in several country weeklies:
"Sure way to kill potato bugs send twenty 2-cent stamps to X. Y.
Z.,—, for a recipe that cannot fail" Then he hired a dray to bring his mail from the post-office and had 10,000 of his recipes printed. Inside of two weeks something like 6,000 or 7,000 farmers had contributed twenty 2-cent stamps each for the printed recipe.
Then several hundred of them bought clubs and railroad ticket and started out to interview the advertiser. At his office they were informed that he had left to attend to some business in Europe, and he was not expected back. All he had left was a package of 3,000 or 4, 000 slips of paper, on which was printed the following:
"Put your bug on a shingle. Then hit it with another shingle."—Chicago Daily Tribune.

THE LATE GEN. SMITH.—Maj. Gen.

John Glynn, commanding the Louisiana Division of the United Confederate Veterans, has issued a formal announcement of the death of Gen. E. Kirby Smith, in which he pays an eloquent tribute to the deceased general. Among other things General Glynn says: "While modest and retiring by nature, he was dashy and bold in the field and wise and prudent in administration, fitting him eminently for independent command. His record as commander of the trans-Mississippi department is one of brilliant success in the midst of great discouragement."

CHOLERA REDIVIVUS.—The signs of spring and the revivification of nature have brought with them forces which promise something besides the hope of early planting and prosperous harvest. Disease germs apparently are springing up as luxuriantly as the grass or the daffodil. Particularly in Europe is the dreadful cholera showing signs of life which inspire anything but a comfortable feeling along the lines of the world's commerce.

In Russia the cold of winter was not sufficient to bind the giant with its icy fetters. It is believed to have been prevalent in parts of the Czar's dominions during the entire winter. In Hamburg also it has never entirely let go its hold, and reports have reached this country that the disease has been carried to several parts of Europe upon vessels leaving Hamburg. There was an outbreak at Marseilles, another town in the interior of France is suffering with it, and the plague is likely to break out in a dozen places at once with the return of warm weather.

There are a few who affect to ridicule the idea that cholera will come to America this year. It came last year, and the chances are six to one that it will appear again at some one of the ports of entry this year.
It is not necessary to treat the matter as a sensation, but simply to look the facts in the face. The probability is very strong that the cholera will be on this side of the Atlantic before the middle of July. If it comes it will quite likely get past quarantine. Coming to New York, Philadelphia, Boston or New Orleans, it would undoubtedly reach Baltimore, and the part of wisdom is to act upon the supposition that it will come.

By so acting the city will be made clean, our dirty streets will be swept, and all outward precautions taken to keep off the pestilence. We submit that looking at the facts plainly and acting promptly is not getting scared or creating alarm. It is the part of common sense.—Herald.

NO MORE OF THAT SORT OF RE- CIPROCALITY.—The President has concluded, it is stated, to discontinue the discriminating duties imposed by Mr. Harrison, under the terms of the McKinley act, on the coffee and sugar products of Venezuela, Hayti and the United States of Columbia. Reciprocity of this sort destroyed commerce instead of increasing it, and created bad feeling besides. Reciprocity is very fine if applied with a view of promoting equitable trade relations with our best customers—those that buy most of our farm products from us. But Great Britain, Germany and France are among our best customers, and trade with them did not suit our tariff lords.—Sun.

HOW HE GOT 'UP HEAD.'—Ex- cellence is, after all, a matter of comparison. A boy of six years, who attends a private school, where prizes are given on all sorts of provocation, but who, as yet, had never earned a prize, came home one afternoon and exhibited proudly one of these rewards of merit.

'Good,' said his mother, 'but how did you get it?' 'I was first in natural history,' said the boy.
'Natural history, at your age! How did it happen?' 'Oh, they asked me how many legs a horse had.'
'And what did you say?' 'I said five.' 'But a horse hasn't five legs, child!' 'I know it, but all the other fellows said six.'—Philadelphia Record.
