

Saint Mary's Beacon.

COUNTY NEWS.

Store Robbed. Monday night last, burglars entered the store of Mr. G. William Maddox, at Mad dox's, Chaptico district, and stole six dol- lars from the cash drawer, and it is thought the thief or thieves took the steamer for Washington. An effort is being made to apprehend the offenders.

George F. Blum & Bro., Lumber. Whose card appears in this paper are very well known throughout this county. They are making a special effort for country business, and we are confident that our patrons will do well to see them before buying. The boards quoted for are sound, largely 16 feet long and fair widths. The flooring is well-dried, and the shingles will make a good serviceable roof.

Who Says Rheumatism Can Not Be Cured?

My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing that would afford her any relief, and as a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. To our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regularly she was soon able to get up and attend to her house work. E. H. Johnson, of C. J. Knutson & Co., Kensington, Minn. 50 cent bottles for sale by Wil- liam F. Greenwell & Son, Leonardtown, Md.

The Tyger Destroyed.

Saturday last, while the steamer Tyger was near Kinsale, Virginia, she was obliged, because of the loss of her rudder, to anchor. A storm came up and the steamer dragged until she grounded. Mr. F. Oscar Morgan, of Leonardtown, was among the passengers and did not reach home until Monday evening. Mr. Morgan reports that the captain and crew of the Tyger did every- thing possible to make the time of the passengers pass pleasantly, and when the Arrowmouth arrived Capt. Robinson trans- ferred to her the Tyger's passengers and paid their fares to their destinations. Cap- tain Robinson is a good officer and a pleas- ant gentleman and we hope to soon hear of his running a finer and more commodi- ous boat.

Lowtown Locals.

(From our Regular Correspondent.) Unmolested by persons who obtain sub- stance by precarious means, that is, tramping, we are comparatively relieved from that unwholesome element which more or less disquiets those who reside in these towns frequented by the class mentioned. We seldom or never see one of these un- fortunate creatures, which is due principally to our isolated position.

Vaccinations of the mercury indicate that the weather is unsettled, consequently we have nothing to open up which predicate a calculation of what kind of a day to-morrow may be.

Frequent rains interpose a bar to the progress of planting corn and other farm work. In a world burdened by that pride which produces discontentment in regions celestial and caused a number of its inhabi- tants to descend therefrom, we as sentient and rational beings, should not expect to have every thing conveniently arranged to please our finite and transitory ideas.

The flowers of the fields shake their un- cultivated heads in the breeze and seem to say, "pride learn of me, O Man, contentment. The dear little birds as they look heavenward whenever they praise the great and benign Creator tell us in their sweet notes that a cheerful acqui- sence in the condition of life in which we are placed gives serenity to the same and banishes all inordinate desires from the heart.

We notice with complaisance that our littoral fishermen are very successful. Al- though they are reasonable in their prices we are certain that the business is remun- erative. We have educated ourselves to eat certain species of the finny tribe, and a piece of rich sweet pudding is not more palatable than a shad properly cooked.

Luna encircled with clouds does not cheer with her rays, and the Sun as he speeds his way to the west is often obscured and as he bids us good night the horizon is quickly darkened, forcibly reminding us of a Soul from which the rays of hope have taken their flight.

We have been reliably informed that several ladies and gentlemen of the district contemplate visiting the World's Fair. The Star Spangled Banner will wave over wonders never before displayed and the scream of the eagle will be heard through- out the nations of old mother earth. The per- ser Confederate will continue a passive obedi- ence and bear the trials which like a fog incubus press upon him. Alas! his sword is sheathed, his shield is broken and the great cause for which he died to strike a blow has been swept into the merciful ocean of oblivion. The great God Man, him who pined for his persecutors—"Father pardon them, they know not what they do" will not refuse to listen to the humble prayer even of the "man in gray" and blessed spirits will sing a Te Deum in honor of one who does homage to the wis- dom of Revelation, and bows his neck to the yoke of the Gospel.

We inadvertently omitted to state in our last week's issue that Mr. John S. Jarboe is going to raise a crop of millet and buck- wheat, cereals which the farmer heretofore has no experience in cultivating. Meslles (Rubeola) are gradually disap- pearing, and there are sporadic cases of mumps (Par-titis).

Mr. Drury A. Lynch, of Texas, is visiting his brother Dr. T. H. Lynch of the Pine and Rev. Mr. Bray, of Washington, D. C., is the guest of Mrs. K. E. Dunbar, Salt's creek.

The carpenters, Samuel L. Rawleigh and Edgar Collins, are industriously at work erecting the counting factory for the firm of Benville and Company. The site is near their store at the Pine. We are inclined to think that the factory will be of much benefit to truckers, inasmuch as they will have a home market for their produce.

The Hog Island Site May Be Abandoned.

The prospects at present seem to be de- cidedly against the purchase of Hog Is- land by the government for a quarantine station. Surgeon-General Wyman is still an earnest advocate of the purchase, but Secretary Carlisle is inclined to give con- siderable weight to the protests that have been received at the department against locating the quarantine on the island. He certainly will not buy it at the advanced price the owners ask for it, $7,000. If they are really anxious to sell their prop- erty they would have a much better chance to sell it at their original price, $1000. It is possible the department may abandon Hog Island and select some other spot for a quarantine station for Chesapeake bay and the city of Baltimore.—Sun, April 25.

Cholera in Pennsylvania.

Swickley, Penn. We had an epidemic of cholera, as our physicians called it, in this place lately and I made a great hit with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I sold four dozen bot- tles of it one week and have since sold nearly a gross. This remedy did the work and was a big advertisement for me. Several persons who had been troubled with diarrhoea for two or three weeks were cured by a few doses of this medicine.

A Virginia Store Destroyed.

Officers of the steamer Essex report the total destruction by fire on Sunday night of the store of B. H. Morgan, at Mary's Point, Va. The building was burned to the ground and the stock which was sent down from Baltimore only a week ago, was valued at $2,000, and is a total loss. Mr. Morgan is a traveling salesman for Messrs. Uman, Boykin & Co., of this city.—Baltimore Morning Herald.

Mr. Morgan is a native of St. Mary's county and is well-known to many of our older citizens. He is first cousin to Joseph F. Morgan, Esq., of this town. In the War between the States, Ben Morgan cast his fortunes with the South and became noted as a daring scout and a gallant sol- dier. He was a member of Co. K, 1st Va. Cavalry and of McNeal's Rangers. Mr. Morgan's many St. Mary's friends sincerely regret his misfortune.

School for the Feeble Minded.

The Board of Visitors and the Superin- tendent of the Maryland School for Feeble Minded at Owings Mills, Md., announce that there are still some vacancies in the institution and that children from the counties are given the preference, as Balti- more city has so far sent the greater num- ber of cases. The institution is supported by the State, and children whose parents are unable to pay for them are received and cared for free of cost.

Careful physical and mental training is given by a medical superintendent and teachers who give their entire time and at- tention to this work. The age for admis- sion is between seven and seventeen. Ep- ileptics are not received. Full particulars may be procured by addressing the super- intendent, Dr. B. A. Turner.

Localwise and Otherwise.

The Orphans' Court was in session Tues- day last and examined and passed accounts against decedent's estates.

The excursionists to Hampton Roads returned home Monday night last and everyone declared himself delighted with the trip.

The exact status of the Hog Island quar- antine project seems past finding out. Those who know are not distributing the information.

Our thanks are returned Labor Statistician Howard for a copy of his report and to U. S. Senator Gibson for interesting Public Documents.

Col. L. A. Wilmer sold Tuesday last, at Trustee's Sale, "Physic Hill," containing 180 acres, for $805. Mr. John F. Ching was the purchaser.

The schooner Mattie F. Dean, Capt. Foxwell, with the Leonardtown excu- rsionists on board, made the run from this place to Hampton Roads in twenty four hours.

It is reported here that the Steamer Sae is to make her first call for 1893 at Leonard- town wharf to-day (Wednesday). We hope the report may be true for our shippers are greatly in need of additional Baltimore freighting facilities.

Mr. Leonard S. Herbert has been ap- pointed postmaster at Newport and Mr. W. T. Tippet at Chaptico. Both these young gentlemen are St. Mary's men and are pleased to see that Charles county recognizes their merits.

A. Kingsley Love, Esq., has located for the practice of his profession—the law—at 11 E. Lexington street, Baltimore. Mr. Love studied under Judge Crane and ex- Sate's attorney Hammett. We wish him a successful career in his new home.

The Baltimore News says: "Few bach- elors are left among Maryland country editors. The newest beneficiaries are Philip H. Myers of the Carrollonian, H. W. Lewis of the Banner of Liberty, and Mar- ion W. Browning of the Salisbury News.

Mr. William M. Lewin has been appoint- ed one of the Assistant District Attorneys of Washington. Mr. Lewin is a son of the late Dr. Lewin, who was educated at Charlotte Hall Academy and his many school friends here rejoice at his success. He was a bright boy and, we are told, is a good lawyer.

In many of the Maryland counties the School Commissioners have been com- pelled to shorten the school term because of lack of funds. Though St. Mary's is a poor county she is giving a full ten months term and we think it speaks well for the financial management of our school au- thorities.

Farmers and Planters Agency, 27 East Pratt street, Baltimore, have a chance of card in today's paper. This is an excel- lent commission firm, and is under the management of an excellent board of officers and directors. They handle every kind of produce grown in this section, and to the very best advantage. See their card.
