ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

Fern picking commenced in Chittenden this week.

There were 17 commitments to the house of correction during August.

The Shaftsbury Association of Baptist Churches closed its 137th annual session at Fair Haven, Aug. 30.

Attorney Frank E. Barber, whose house and barns in Brattleboro were destroyed by fire recently, is making preparations to rebuild.

Sixteen tomato vines from the Thayer school garden in Burlington have already harvested 250 ripe specimens, with prospects of a considerably larger number.

Rev. F. W. Anthony, pastor of the First Congregational church in St. Albans, has written to Burlington applying for a place with the Vermont Y. M. C. A. contingent for overseas duty.

Harley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buston of Wells River, was so badly stunned during a recent electrical storm that his condition is critical and he has had two trained nurses in attendance ever since the accident.

B. E. Merriam, for two years superintendent of schools in Bellows Falls, has been given a year's leave of absence and soon will go to France for Y. M. C. A. work among the French and American troops near the firing lines.

Miss Esther E. Anderson, for three years stnoegrapher in the office of Clerk F. S. Platt of the United States court in Rutland, has been made deputy clerk for the district of Vermont by Judge Harland B. Howe of St. Johnsbury.

Patsy Polcello, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Polcello of Rutland, had its right thigh broken a few days ago when, in playing about a motorcycle which stood near his home, the machine tipped over onto the baby.

James Lockyear had a narrow escape a few days ago at his barn in South Wallingford, when he was with his team in the basement and the floor above piled with stove wood, caved in onto him, hurting him and the horses to some extent.

G. S. Parsons of Benson has purchased the farm of Mrs. E. E. Wygant, situated between Poultney and Fair Haven, and will use it as a breeding farm in connection with his big establishment at Benson. Much of the property will be devoted to the raising of blooded stock.

Mrs. Maria Newton, who has spent considerable time in Bradford with her son, Rev. J. H. Newton, now lives in London, and during a recent air raid a piece of shrapnel tore a hole in the roof of her house and a gas bomb exploded in front of her door, no one being injured by either.

Crossman M. Lincoln, one of Rupert's prominent citizens and a veteran of the Civil war, died Aug. 28. He was 73 years old. Mr. Lincoln enlisted in Co. E, 10th Vermont volunteers and was wounded in the battle of Cold Harbor. He represented the town of Rupert in the legislature of 1894.

Commissioner of Education Milo B. Hillegas did not accept the resignation of William H. Darrow, who has been superintendent of schools in a district composed of Waitsfield, Warren and Waterbury, but has granted him a year's leave of absence. Mr. Darrow is to assist in work connected with the war.

Miss Sara Parker, associate editor of the United Opinion at Bradford, has so benefited from treatment at the Lakeview sanatorium in Burlington for a nervous breakdown, that she will leave there the first of next week and visit at the home of her brother in Montpelier for a few days before reassuming her duties in the newspaper work.

Clayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fish of Ira, was badly hurt the first of the week while threshing at Fred A. Fish's. The long belt slipped off the pulley on the thresher, caught him and threw him onto the rapidly revolving fly wheel, after which he was thrown to the ground. He was unconscious for some time and his left leg was broken.

A Ford car driven by Mansel Martin of Bradford and a motorcycle run by Albion Smith of Piermont collided a few days ago in Bradford, both machines being badly damaged. Little Winnifred Jewell, who was riding in the Ford, was thrown through the windshield and was badly cut and bruised. Several stitches were necessary to close a scalp wound.

When lightning struck the lighting apparatus in one of the cars on the street railway in Bennington during a shower Aug. 30, a near panic resulted. The accident happened at noon, when the car was filled with people going home to dinner. Packages, glasses and umbrellas were left in the car and their owners were too afraid to return for them.

P. H. Gobie, a Bellows Falls printer, has recently bought of the H. A. Manning Printing company of Greenfield, Mass., its large business of printing directories, and this business will be consolidated with Mr. Gobie's job printing, in a new building to cost about $15,000. Of this, about $5,000 will be loaned to Mr. Gobie by Bellows Falls citizens. This was done because of rivalry, as the Greenfield board of trade tried to persuade Mr. Gobie to move his business from Bellows Falls to Greenfield.

E. M. Menard was injured in his stone shed in Montpelier Aug. 30, when a granite chip flew from the hammer of a workman and struck his left eye, tearing the flesh back towards the temple and going through some of the membranes of the eye. He nearly severed the end of one finger Saturday while handling a razor in a barber shop which he owns.

The first unit that the Vermont and QQuebec Powder company has been installing in its new power plant at Stevens Mills was started Aug. 29. It will furnish power in Sutton, Cowansville and Sweetberg, P. Q., and Richford. At the latter place the Quaker Oats company will double its plant because of the added power.

The population of Bellows Falls is about evenly divided on its ideas of Sunday baseball. Two Sunday games have been played there recently, and the one last Sunday was announced as a Red Cross benefit. However, the Red Cross branch as yet has seen none of the money. Those opposing the games on Sunday allege that philanthropy is being used as a cloak for violating the Sunday law.

At a recent special town meeting in Brattleboro, the proposition to improve the highways was turned down. The frequent hard showers this summer have made the roads in bad shape and one Thursday put on the finishing touches, damaging the main street about $100 worth. That day, L. E. Holden, who led the opposition to the proposed improvement when it came up at the meeting, was given a personally conducted tour over the rain-washed section.

A petition is in circulation in Waterbury, sanctioned by Rev. V. L. Smith, pastor of the Waterbury Methodist church, for a temporary federation of the Methodist and Congregational churches, inasmuch as Rev. W. L. Boicourt, pastor of the Congregational church, has been given a year's leave of absence by his parishioners, that he may engage in Y. M. C. A. work in France. This would mean union church services and united support of the services, but each church would maintain its separate auxiliary organizations. Action will take place later on the proposed federation.

Plymouth, N. H., Sept. 1.—The papers were passed in Boston at 10 o'clock Thursday morning in the gigantic sale which involves almost the whole of the township of Lincoln, about 70,000 acres. The consideration is said to be more than $3,000,000. The Parker and Young Manufacturing company of Lisbon came into possession, supplanting the J. E. Henry and Sons company.
