

Saint Mary's Beacon. COUNTY NEWS.

Religious.

Rev. David Barr, General Missionary of the State, will hold service and administer Holy Communion, at Christ Church, Chaptico, at 11 a. m., on Sunday next, May 21st, instant, and at All Saints on same day at 4 o'clock, p. m.

George F. Sloan & Bro., Lumber.

We desire to call the attention of our readers to the new advertisement of Geo. F. Sloan & Bro., 414 Light St. wharf, Baltimore, Md. They are one of the oldest lumber firms in the City; have always paid special attention to Country business; know what is required, and propose to give good goods at very low prices. We suggest that you get their prices before buying.

A Painter for Travelers.

While Mr. T. J. Richey, of Altona, Mo., was traveling in Kansas he was taken violently ill with cholera morbus. He called at a drug store to get some medicine and the druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy so highly he concluded to try it. The result was immediate relief, and a few doses cured him completely. It is made for bowel complaint and nothing else. It never fails. For sale by Wm. F. Greenwell & Son, Leonardtown, Md.

Lowtown Local.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

The wisdom of the parting advice of such men as Washington, Jefferson and other great ones of the past, to establish schools throughout the Republic is verified, and to-day knowledge is compassing the land. With the warmth of a genial sky, coupled with proper humidity ever-fruitful Flora never fails to appear in the full exuberance of her creative power; so, whenever an excellent system of public instruction as we have in Maryland is formulated and unobtrusively pursued the essentials of education will take root in the youthful mind, and its influence will be as prolific of good as the roseate hues of Flora are appreciable to the intelligent eye. It always affords us pleasure to allude to the schools of this section, and we are certain that our occasional reports of the progress of pupils are not exaggerated. Examiner Wingate no doubt finds the same confined within the limits of the expression of a clear conscience whenever he visits them, and this is satisfactory to our mind, inasmuch as he is a proper judge in the matter.

Despite the variable weather corn appears to be growing and doing well generally. Wheat fields are beautiful and barring unforeseen visitations of rust, etc., there will be an abundant yield of this valuable cereal.

A recent calculation induces us to entertain the opinion that a large area will be put in tomatoes.

The list of truckers is considerably enlarged, and we take the liberty to give their names as it is a branch of a noble occupation. We notice that J. Frank Smith, Edgar Smith, James L. Biscoe, Philip Trossback, Walter Raley and John Forrester are engaged in the business. As nothing succeeds like success, we trust that our neighbors may realize their most sanguine expectations.

Candidates for local and State positions are gradually coming to the front, and James D. Dunbar, postmaster at the Ridge, is spoken of as a suitable republican candidate for sheriff.

Democrats hereabout are tacit, distressingly so to your reporter. Well, our appointments on this score at least have their remedy in time.

When our eyes are dazzled when we look at the gay fashions, a few of which do not find a rival in the feathers of a peacock. When we feel that dear sweet woman costumed in the gay colors of the season. Like a single star glittering upon the band of night, or like some princess adorned in all the splendor of royal apparel, she captivates the eye of the beholder. Oh!

There was Mass at St. Michael's Church 14th instant. The Church was crowded as usual, and Father Marly took occasion to warn his hearers against allowing the great obstacle to religion, pride, to usurp the place of humility, which refuses to do homage to the wisdom of Revelation and bow the neck to the yoke of the Gospel.

Miss Eselle Jarboe has returned home after an absence of several months visiting friends in Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Laura Robbs (nee Wood), of Alexandria, Va., is visiting her parents at Smith's creek.

Mr. S. Lecompte Raleigh is prepared to accommodate a larger number of boarders than formerly. He knows how to keep a Summer Resort to please and to make it remunerative.

The canning factory at the Pine will soon be in operation making cans preparatory for active work. A considerable number of employes will be required to run the concern, which we trust may prove a success.

Caroline Shorter, an octogenarian and nurse of the late John A. Dunbar, of Kitty's Point, died 13th instant.

The following ex-Confederates, native and to the manor born, are yet inhaling the dual substances which form atmospheric air: J. Dallas Evans, Walter Wood, W. A. W. Clarke and R. L. Langly.

Rev. Mr. Minnick delivered a good sermon at Ridge Chapel on the afternoon of the 14th instant. Miss Scarborough, of the Seminary is the organist.

A heavy storm accompanied with hail, vivid electricity, and detonations passed over this section recently. No damage of consequence so far as we have ascertained was done.

The entertainment which came off at the residence of Mr. John G. Libburn, for Church purposes was a recherche affair. Mrs. Mamie Smith and Miss Nannie Burche were the managers.

Rainbow Fete.

The public is most cordially invited to attend a delightful Rainbow Fete, to be held on the church green by the ladies of St. Nicholas congregation, May 31st and June 1st. If not fair, the first fair evening.

Supper, consisting of all the delicacies of the season, will be served both evenings, beginning at 5 p. m. Tickets, 40 cents; children under 12, half price. Ice cream, strawberries and all other refreshments will be served at the different booths.

A commodious platform and good music will afford the merry lovers of the dance a rare treat. Proceeds for the benefit of the altar and sacristy. Come one and all.

Literary Note.

Fairies, Covenanters, wolves, ghosts and dancing puddings figure one after another, each rivaling its predecessor in lively interest, in the pages of Romance for May. The special feature of this number is stories of Scotland and Ireland, and the most characteristic writers of those countries have been drawn upon for contributions. Among them are the Countess of Munster, Allan Cunningham, T. C. Spaulding, Alexander Leighton, Rose Mulholland and William Carleton, while one of our best known writers, Elizabeth W. Champney, furnishes an Irish story, bubbling over with humor. A thrilling account of a Russian wolf hunt, some charming French love stories and an exciting tale of old Indian warfare in New England, fill out a most entertaining number. This magazine is issued by Romance Publishing Company, Clinton Hall, Astor Place, New York, at 25 cents a number; $2.50 a year.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a meeting of the Trustees of Charlotte Hall School Thursday, May 11, 1893, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst Col. John H. Sotomoro, one of our most respected citizens, for many years the faithful and efficient President of the Board of Trustees of Charlotte Hall School, and of late one of the esteemed honorary members, we desire to put on record our appreciation of his excellent traits of character, and our sense of the loss that we and this institution have sustained in his death. Warm-hearted and genial, sympathizing in sorrow as in joy, generous to all, unstinted in his liberality to the suffering or needy, possessing rare polish and urbanity of manner, he was a welcome guest in all society. His duties in every relation of life, as either citizen, neighbor, friend and Christian gentleman, were conscientiously and unflinchingly performed.

Strong in his attachments, nothing daunted him in rendering substantial manifestations of his devotion to his friends; and so forcibly was this beautiful trait in his character brought out in his last hours, that truly may it be said of him, he served his friends even unto death.

His untiring attendance upon the meetings of the Board of Trustees attested his zeal and interest in everything that appertained to the welfare of this institution. We hereby order that this tribute be entered upon our records and that a copy thereof be sent to the family of the deceased and also be published in the newspapers of Charles and St. Mary's counties.

Wm. L. THOMAS, Chairman. P. R. THOMAS, J. R. T. REEVES, Committee. By order of the Board, Wm. T. BRISCOE, Secretary.

DECLARATION.

EWINGS, May 15, 1893.

Editors of BEACON.—Will you please allow me a small space in your paper to give to my friends a few of the many reasons why I must decline the honor of competing for the position of Senator. Could I call back twenty years and place to my credit a couple of thousands for each year so recalled, I should be glad to serve the people of the county in so honorable a position. But, even could all this be done I would not be willing to go before a republican convention as managed in St. Mary's. I am and always have opposed one-man power, and shall always continue to do so. As long as St. Mary's is controlled for the interest of two or three persons, I shall always be found in the opposition. There is a good deal I could say and will before the election upon the republican rule here. But, as this is simply to outline a few reasons for withdrawing my name I shall pass on. One great reason is that there is a good deal of special local legislation needed for St. Mary's, several very important laws needed, and to elect republican representatives is a guarantee of nothing being done for our county, not even a petty office in either body obtained. It is, therefore, the plain duty of every citizen who has the good of the county at heart to unite in sending such men there as may be able to secure beneficial legislation for our county. Were we to send Solomon there as a republican he would be of no more account than a bob tail pup in fly time—accuse the vulgarly for the sake of the truth. I must ask you to withdraw my name and believe me I shall do what little is in my power to secure the election of true, good men who can and will do something for the county. I shall soon trouble you again with what argument I can use for the purpose of this securing good men.

Respectfully, L. J. SUTROS.

About Base-Ball.

Messrs. Editors.—The wind sets squarely from the South; the ice and snows of Winter have thawed and melted away under the influence of the vernal sun; "the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love"; and that nondescript individual, commonly yept crank—as for him, poor fellow, through his distorted brain thoughts of the restless curve and shoot with Mahonic speed. That germ of base-ball, locked in the icy grasp of Winter, now released through the agency of smiling Spring, creeps and crawls again; like the ghost of Banquo and Wang's royal elephant it will not down. As certain as the Spring-time sun, so certain does the base-ball fiend lay in kaleidoscopic colors before his mind's eye the ins and outs of the national pastime; the chagrin of the batsman but just struck out; the elation of the pitcher, the instrument of this discomfiture; the smashing hit; the timely pickup; the shout of the victors; the wily play of the vanquished; all these and a train of others, successive rise before his fanciful imagination. Whether your writer is to be placed in the category of cranks, fiends, beezebubs, or by whatever other pot name you may choose, is a matter of slight moment, as this opportunity is taken not to enquire into the sanity of individuals, nor to free oneself of any dissertation on the game, but rather to ascertain whether we are to have a ball team here this season or not; and if we are, to suggest that we try to establish a Southern Maryland League, comprising teams from eight or ten of the towns down here in the southern part of the State. This is merely a suggestion, but to its consequences. What a sudden flood of ridicule and abuse such a hint stirs up among us, the outburst is spontaneous, 'tis like, if I may use the hackneyed and commonplace expression, pouring a gourd of water in a pot of boiling lard. Carp on, ye carping critics, your shots are as futile as shells thrown upon the iron-ribbed Cushing. Our youthful friends are inclined to denigrate these censurers as "old fogies" and laugh at their opposition: Not so with us; we revere their wisdom; we respect their ripened years; but to us at the same time remember, "Eudatur temporis acti."

Se pueri, castigator censorque minorum.—But to return to our suggestion. If not in us premature, for at present we can make no pledges, as it is a matter of uncertainty yet, whether we shall even have a team here or not this year, but if we do we are in favor of something of the kind and hope to learn what our sister towns think of it. If Bryanstown, Prince Frederick, McCoochie, St. Inigoes and other would favour it, it strikes me that it would bring about pleasant relations between the young people of each place and lead some amusement to the long days of Summer.

And now, with all due deference to those of diverse opinions why should we not have a team here? Is material lacking? Is it not a healthy, invigorating and innocent pastime? Is it not less expensive than and preferable to a game of poker or some other such diversion that those having too much time at their disposal are too prone to fall into? Is it not a source of amusement to players and some few others and are we so overburdened with resorts of pleasure down here that we can find time and place for none other? Does not the game invite some little custom and lend some little life to the town? It strikes me that these ideas answer themselves and I know of none to offset them unless, perhaps you claim that it is better for our mental and physical well-being to sleep away the sober afternoon of July or drag through them in some other such listless manner. And so, if we do have a team, let us have one unlike that of last year; let us have one made of men that will play and not of men that can and won't; then the prophet of last Summer who undertook to presage the doings of the club beforehand will not be afflicted with the same misgivings that he must have suffered at the end of the last season, for, contrary to his prophecy the club was a failure as dismal as the Everglades of Florida. So let us get up the right kind of a club; one that can afford to stand upon its achievements as a matter of record and not as a matter of prophecy.

Very truly yours, CRANK.

A Popular Remedy.

The promptness and certainty of its cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy famous. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and is the most effectual remedy known for these diseases. Mr. C. B. Main, of Union City, Pa., says: "I have a great sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I warrant every bottle and have never heard of one failing to give entire satisfaction." 50 cent bottles for sale by Wm. F. Greenwell & Son, Leonardtown, Md.

Localities and Otherwise.

Oscar Miles, Esq., of Berden, Kansas, formerly of this county, is on a visit to his old home.

Up to date 50 applications for licenses to sell liquors have been filed in the office of the Clerk to the Circuit Court.

William, son of Mr. William S. Coppage, of the Second district, has won a place on the St. John's College boat crew.

Mr. Wilmer Raley, of Leonardtown, Monday last, caught in the Bridge Run a German carp, which weighed 94 pounds.

The new manager of the old Union Hotel, Leonardtown, makes announcement in this week's BEACON of his rates, &c. See his adv.

Baltimore county will receive $37,950 from liquor licenses this year. Of the 273 licenses applied for all but 19 were granted.

The Supper and Dance advertised to take place at Mr. Robert M. Bean's, near Valley Lee, has been postponed until further notice.

Mr. F. Oscar Morgan is greatly improving the appearance of his store by the addition of show windows. Mr. Neal Millburn is doing the work.

The railroad is still railroading as far as Mechanicsville, but we have not been able to learn of any effort to build it further. We are, however, living in hopes.

There will be preaching at St. Paul's M. E. Church, Leonardtown, next Sunday, May 21st, instant, at 3:30 p. m. Sunday School every Sunday at 2:30 p. m. All are invited.

We hope all St. Mary's householders will see to it that their premises are kept scrupulously clean and that time is liberally scattered around. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

The postal script will soon take the place of the postal note. This script promises to be more popular than was the note. By this method any amount up to $3 may be transmitted through the mail for one cent.

It is reported here that Monday last a house on "Clover Hill" farm caught fire, and that while aiding in extinguishing the flames Mr. John Nash was severely bitten by a dog. "Clover Hill" is the residence of Mr. John J. Hess.

Mr. A. Y. Gray, the popular Washington Commission Merchant, is furnishing his patrons, who apply for them, with a numbered tin tag to be used in shipping stock. The instructions are: "Always mail card giving number of tag used."

Richard, a young son of Mr. Hayden M. H. Yates, of Newtown, is quite sick with typhoid-pneumonia, and Mr. Yates' adopted daughter is also ill. His daughter, Mand, aged about 16 years, died May 14th, instant. Mr. Yates has our sincerest sympathy in his affliction.

The County Commissioners will meet, May 29th, instant, and among other business, will approve Collectors' bonds and hear objections to the ratification of the finding of the Examiners in the matter of condemning land for a road and bridge across St. Clement's Bay run.

The Frederick Clinics of the 12th instant, in noting improvements at Montrose Hospital, concludes its article with: "Nor must we turn our county building into an insane asylum for other counties." The Southern Maryland counties will soon have to build and equip a hospital for their insane.

During a recent visit to Leonardtown, Phil. H. Tuck, Esq., of the Baltimore bar, had occasion to examine Liber No. 1, J. J. G., one of the Land Records of our county, and spoke in a highly complimentary manner of its neatness and beauty. Mr. Harry Spalling keeps the record and is a painstaking and accommodating clerk.

Messrs. Saks & Company the great Washing Clothiers, have sent to the BEACON office an interesting game for children which they desire to be distributed gratuitously to the good little St. Mary's boys who mind their parents and learn their lessons well. The game will be given out on the principle of "first come, first served" until all are gone.

Since our last paper death has been busy in our county and four estimable ladies have gone to their reward, viz: Mrs. Wilyam Ingram, nee Shadrick, of the Pine Point neighborhood; Mrs. John Jacob Hess, Mrs. Emily Abell and Miss Mand Yates, of Leonardtown district. Miss Mand was a daughter of Hayden M. H. Yates, of Newtown.

We invite attention to the advertisement of the Excelsior Guano Co., of Baltimore, of which Mr. W. V. Waters is agent. The company, we believe, is a good one, and we know it has a hustling agent. Mr. Waters also represents the Champion Harvest Machine Company and will be pleased to explain the merits of his machines to prospective purchasers.

A Dairyman's Opinion.

There is nothing I have ever used for muscular rheumatism that gives me as much relief as Chamberlain's Pain Balm does. I have been using it for about two years—four bottles in all—as occasion required, and always keep a bottle of it in my home. I believe I know a good thing when I get hold of it, and Pain Balm is the best I have ever met with. W. B. Denny, dairyman, New Lexington, Ohio. 50 cent bottles for sale by Wm. F. Greenwell & Son, Leonardtown, Md.

The republicans elected a Senator in North Smithfield R. I., Monday, which gives them, with the Lieutenant Governor, 55 votes in the next General Assembly. This constitutes a majority in grand committee and enables them to elect republican State officers unless further complications arise by the unsetting of republicans by the democratic House. If republicans are unseated the Senate will refuse to meet the House, and a hold-over government will result.
