J. C. Weihler Farm at Auction

Friday, September 24, 1920, at 2 O'clock p. m.

Having bought a larger farm I will sell my fine, well improved farm to the highest bidder at the premises located 3½ miles west of Sherrard and 1¾ miles east of Preemption, Illinois, on the main state aid road.

124—ACRES—124

IMPROVEMENTS:

Consist of nine room house as good as new, furnace heated, two horse barns, one holds eleven head of horses and the other sixteen head, double corn crib that will hold 3,000 bushels of corn, good oats granary and implement shed combined, wagon scales and scale house, ice house, chicken house, hog house, cattle shed and corn crib in same and silo attached, never failing well and windmill with 108 barrel supply tank, good orchard in bearing condition, abundance of small fruit, shade trees, ornamental trees, shrubbery, etc.

Farm is fenced with good new woven wire fences, all hog tight, no old fences or hedges to contend with.

Soil and General Surroundings:

The farm lays as level as you would wish a place to lay. The soil is black and very productive, typical of the splendid lands lying between Preemption and Sherrard. It is tiled wherever needed. It has been well cared for, a great deal of stock has been fed on it and the manure intelligently spread on it, crops have been rotated, and clover has been used freely as a fertilizer. You might travel through the states of Illinois and Iowa and not find a better laying farm or better producer and the improvements are all that anyone could ask for on this sized farm. It is located only a mile and three-quarters from a good market town with two banks, stores, churches, etc., and is only ¾ of a mile from school, good farms with high class improvements surround it on all sides and are mostly occupied by the owners, thus insuring a high class of prosperous citizenship to neighbor with.
