BETHANY HOME IN LARGER QUARTERS

Members of the County Press and Other Friends Inspect Annex, Nearing Completion.

NEED FOR FUNDS EXPLAINED

Hoped That Tag Day Returns Will Be Increased So as to Aid in Meeting Expenses.

Responding to the invitation of the board of managers of Bethany home, officers of the association, members of the county press and friends of the institution gathered Saturday afternoon at the home for an inspection of the new annex which is practically completed.

The home has long since outgrown its bounds and the need has been felt for many years for a large, more commodious building to house the children who are placed in the care of the county. Although the association had limited means on hand with which to undertake any improvement, early last spring a new annex was begun and the formal opening was held Saturday.

The company that gathered there Saturday was taken for an inspection of the new building and the remodeled old home which has been greatly improved. Several of the rooms in the old portion have been thrown together making larger quarters and here and there new windows have been cut in to provide better light and ventilation. The ornamentation that formerly decorated the ceilings and window and door frames has been removed, making the place more sanitary and easier kept clean from dust and dirt.

The boiler room has been enlarged and two boilers have been installed heating the old as well as the new building with Moline heat. The old floors both up and down stairs have been taken up and new maple floors laid and the interior is being decorated. The walls are being painted in flat oil paints and the wood work is to be varnished.

The boys' bath and toilet room, which was formerly in the boilers room, has been removed and is now located on the third floor directly off of the boys' dormitory. Mrs. W. L. Velie of Moline contributed $200 which has made this change possible.

The electric wiring which had been exposed has been replaced by concealed conduit work and new electric fixtures will be placed in place.

In the basement an excellent, well equipped fruit cellar has been placed, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hamberg. The vegetable cellar and the coal and wood rooms have all been put in good condition.

This is practically the first improvement that has been made in the home in the ten years that the association has occupied the building which previous to that time was the Moore homestead, and in which but minor changes were made at that time to accommodate the needs of the institution. The Bethany Home association was organized several years previous to that time and for some time occupied a property on Alken street which was soon outgrown. The present home has long since been found inadequate for the needs of such an institution. The original property was purchased for $9,500. The upkeep of the building and the maintenance of the children has been accomplished through the work of the board and its friends which has meant the expenditure of much energy in the accumulation of funds sufficient to carry on the home. No large bequests have been given to the home so it is largely the outgrowth of small donations that have been given from time to time and as the result of tag day conducted each year.

Large Dining Room.

The new two-story and basement addition, 36x50 feet, is built of Hy-Tex brick with stone trimming. The basement has a laundry 25x30 feet, connecting with the present laundry. The first floor contains a large lighted dining room 25x30 feet, also a play room 25x30 feet. In the play room a drinking fountain has been installed and also a toilet room.

The second story contains a matron's room with private bath and a "Murphy In-A-Door-Bed." Also a girls' dormitory 28x37 feet well lighted and ventilated on three sides and large enough to accommodate 20 beds. On one side is a locker room containing 20 lockers and a large bath room. On the opposite side is a fire escape leading to the ground.

A feature of the interior in the new part is the absence of wood casings, around the doors and windows, sanitary metal mouldings having been used instead.

The general contractor was D. Hochenboken of Rock Island and Olof Z. Cervin, Rock Island, was the architect.

The entire expenditure on the home is about $10,000, which is about $2,000 more than the funds which the association had on hand to make the repairs and improvements, and it is hoped that the people of the county will help out on tag day a little more generally than has been the custom heretofore, in that the association may commence the new year free of debt and with sufficient funds on hand to defray the running expenses for the ensuing year.

There are now at the home 26 children and the force of employes is 12, including the matron, Mrs. Horn, and the kindergarten teacher, Mrs. Hefener, together with the boys' and girls' matrons, the babies' nurse, laundress, cook, housekeeper, etc. The approximate cost in keeping the home is $6,000 a year, tag day has generally netted the home about $2,000 and it is readily seen that the sum is quite inadequate for even the running expenses. A drinking fountain installed in the playroom is yet to be paid for and the cost $36, might easily be borne by someone in the community and never be felt by them were they so inclined. More furnishings are needed for the matron's room and there are ever so many places where gifts of furniture and equipment can be very well used.

Children Enj[illegible]

an institution which they call their home of such excellent accommodations. He took occasion to speak of the death of one of their number, Edwin Scherman, which occurred during the week, and pointed out to the children the necessity of care at all times.

Members of the house committee served light refreshments at the close of the program.

Tag day, Saturday, Oct. 7, should bring a liberal response from the public not only in Rock Island and Moline, but in the county at large, as children come from all portions of it for care in the home. Workers will be on the streets in the early morning and work till late at night and they should be received kindly and given some of money even though they may not be large, for every penny counts and the entire amount will go to the home.

CROWDS ATTEND CHURCH OPENING

Dedication of Trinity Lutheran Chapel at Coal Valley Draws People From Over Country.

VISITING PASTORS TAKE PART

Rev. Ph. Wilhelm Preaches Sermon, Also Revs. Wessel and Schnack—Collection Is $250.

Crowds that packed to overflowing the new Trinity Lutheran chapel at Coal Valley gathered yesterday for the dedication services which were continued throughout the day. Fully 500 people from Rock Island, Davenport, Hampton, Geneseo, Edrington township, Buffalo Prairie, Sherrard and nearby towns attended the services, 150 people going from the German Immanuels church in this city. The people assembled at the church at 10:45 in the morning for the ceremonies of formally opening the church edifice, which was done with the Lutheran ritual service performed by Rev. P. E. Mayer, the pastor. Upon the opening of the doors the crowd took possession of the building, the seating capacity being more than filled with the women who were given preference by the men who stood on the outside of the building or were seated about the grounds, being able to hear very well the entire service. After the singing of several hymns of praise the dedicatory sermon was delivered in German by Rev. Ph. Wilhelm of the German Immanuels Lutheran church of this city. It was especially fitting that Rev. Mr. Wilhelm should deliver this sermon because of the fact that he has supplied the congregation as pastor for years before the installation of Rev. Mr. Mayer as pastor. He took as the theme for his remarks, "How Amiable Are Thy Tabernacles." He spoke of the true purpose of the church—the spreading and preaching of the gospel, of what this should induce—namely, love of the house of worship and opportunity to attend divine services within it.

At about time more than 400 people were served with an excellent dinner prepared by the women of the Coal Valley church, the meal being served in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Sommerson, who has been actively instrumental in the upbuilding of the church.

Dr. Wessel Afternoon Speaker.

The afternoon service at 2:30 o'clock was addressed by Rev. Professor L. Wessel of Concordia seminary at Springfield, Ill., who took as his theme Rev. 2:5-6, "Turn Back Keep The Word," in the church emphasis on how church words are applicable to the interest church. Speaking of the attitude of the Lutheran church to the bible the speaker said:

"They believe in a plenary verbal inspiration of the scriptures. He uttered his sentiments as bearing on pastoral to musical passages. Continuing he said:

"Isn't it a fact that the various denominations have different views as to baptism, the Lord's Supper, the means of grace, etc., and still there is but one bible? True and pure, 'tis true."

"So it entirely depends upon how this or that passage is expounded to find scripture foundation for one's preconceived opinion.

"What kind of an place does Christ occupy? Sung as above by My word. What does that mean? Adhere to Hi every word. Read it, accept it, believe it, live it, just as it reads. What does He say of such disciples? 'Ye are My disciples indeed, I n. ye are My true disciples. So Mi disciples should abide by My word.' What promises does He make if they abide by Hi every word? Ye shall know—what? the truth. Don't ask How can this be, or that I, Christ, am God, abide by My word just as it reads and ye shall know the truth. Can anything be plainer? Whence then, the various interpretations of one and the same passage? Because we interpret the scriptures, instead of allowing the scriptures to interpret itself. The bible is a perfect book and contains all rules for its own interpretation. But the trouble is man do not abide by the Word. Everlastingly the question comes up 'How can this be?' You have no right to ask this question.

"Canst thou by searching find out God? God says so and so. And you infinite small little creatures say 'How God, can this be? Impossible. With God nothing is impossible. What reads cut thou? Abide by My word. Brethren, what are we coming to?"

"The Santanical trick Satan practiced on Eve, when he said: 'Yea, God hath said'—What if God has said so—He did not mean it—he is practicing still today. Eve fell. Adam fell. And Satan is felling others in great numbers in the same manner.

"The motto of the Lutheran church is: 'What is not biblical is not scriptural.' With us the question: How can these things be? find no room. How can water do such great things in holy baptism? How can the Lord's body and blood be present in the sacrament? Scripture says so. That settles it. God speaks and we, His servants, hear and believe. Oh, my friends, to know the Lutheran church is to love her. We Lutherans know what we believe. Creed revision is an unknown quantity to us. The demands of the new theology made in Germany and transported to our shores are not unknown to us. The cry twentieth century preaching in the pulpit has reached our ears but they are deaf.

"The old God still lives and so does the old, old—but ever new gospel."

The sermon was an able and eloquent one and admirably suited to such an occasion. Following the afternoon services many of the congregation went by automobile to the county infirmary, which is not far distant from the church. From 5 to 7 the ladies of the Coal Valley church again served lunch and the evening service was called at 7:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. F. Schnack of Hampton. He took as his text "He Loveth Our Nation and Has Builded His Sanctuaries," speaking of the church as a testimony of the existence of God and as a testimony of true love, faith and charity. The afternoon and evening services were conducted in the English language and large crowds were present for both services, again overflowing the edifice. The collection of the day amounted to $250 and from the sale of refreshments the ladies cleared about $75.

The church is not fully free from debt, but with the liberal contributions yesterday the expenses will be practically met. There is in connection with the church a parochial school that has enrolled 26 pupils. Mr. Mayer of theological seminary at St. Louis and a brother of Rev. P. E. Mayer, is the teacher and sessions of the school are held in the building at the rear of Mrs. Sommerson's home.

"The White Flour Pinch"—have you felt it? With the advancing price of wheat "the five-cent loaf is doomed," say the bakers. In its place we have the six-cent loaf—in many cities only the ten-cent loaf. A loaf of white flour bread is not a complete ration. However wholesome and pure, it does not supply all the proteids the human body needs. In Shredded Wheat Biscuit you have all the body-building nutriment in the whole wheat grain prepared in a digestible form. It is always the same price, always the same high quality. Eat it for breakfast with milk or cream or with fruits. Made at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

But Prowler Pulls Away From Miss Maud Emmett in Sherman House and Drops to Skylight Roof.

HARRY STORK LATER ARRESTED

Petty Larceny Thief, a Charge of Watertown, Admits Stealing $10 and Is Held by Authorities.

Miss Maud Emmett, awakened in her room at the Sherman hotel on Market square early today. She thought she heard a noise. The room was in darkness. She rubbed her eyes and looked again. She saw a faint figure moving about the room.

Switching on the light, she jumped up. The figure was that of a man. He made a dash towards an opened window, pulled away from her grasp after she had caught hold of him while he was on the sill, and dropped out of the opening onto the roof of a skylight some a few feet away.

Today Harry Stork was arrested at the I. & I. depot in Davenport. He had purchased a ticket for Clinton. At the Rock Island police station he was identified by Miss Emmet as the man who came into her room.

Admits Theft.

Stork did not deny the charge. He admitted stealing from his room, which was located across the court from Miss Emmett's, climbing in through the window of her room and taking a $10 bill from her pocketbook. Stork is a escape of Watertown hospital, police said. He has been arrested here numerous times for petty larceny. He will be returned to Watertown. As a escape of that institution he cannot be prosecuted.

REV. OGLEVEE HEADS PASTORS' ALLIANCE

Rev. W. G. Oglevee of South Park Presbyterian church, was this morning chosen president of the Ministerial alliance of Rock Island, his election taking place at the annual meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. and presided over by the retiring president, Rev. David A. Johnson of Central church. Rev. M. L. Neill of Oak Grove United Presbyterian church was made secretary and treasurer, succeeding Rev. Mr. Oglevee.

The alliance gave its endorsement of the rescue mission project that is being advocated by Evangelist Harry Rogers, the purpose of which, provided it can be established, is to furnish a home for homeless men where they may receive care and such attention as they may require.

Dr. O. T. Dreimell, who leaves for Peoria, was tendered many complimentary expressions and regrets upon the severing of his connection with the city alliance in which he has worked actively for two years.

The program for the year's work was discussed and will be worked out shortly.

The paper of the morning was read by Rev. M. L. Neill, who spoke on "The Psychology of Religion," being a review of the work of Professor Starbuck on that subject.

MEMBERS OF FAMILY OVERCOME BY FUMES

A cry of a baby saved three members of the Brahm family from death by suffocation at the home, 1321 Second avenue, Saturday afternoon, it became known today. A leaky hot water heater was responsible for the accident. Those overcome were Mrs. Amelia Brahm, wife of Bernard Grahul, fireman at the central station, her daughter, Mrs. Daisy Holm, and the latter's 2-year-old son Robert. The boy was the first to collapse from the deadly fumes. He was carried into a bedroom and shortly afterward Mrs. Holm collapsed. Although faint and weak, Mrs. Brahm summoned enough courage to keep her feet until she had summoned a physician and her husband, who was at the fire station.

When Dr. Joseph De Silva arrived he worked over the victims for some time before they were revived. Had Mrs. Brahm collapsed all three would have been smothered to death.

In speaking of the accident today Mrs. Brahm stated that they had been using a gas hot water heater in the kitchen. There was a slight odor of gas about the house all day, but they paid no attention to it. Shortly after 3 o'clock, Mrs. Brahm was telephoning to a grocery store for supplies. While there the 6-months-old baby son of Mrs. Holm began to cry. Going into the kitchen Mrs. Grahm found Robert reeling and dizzy and he asked to be put to bed, stating that he felt sick. Shortly after he had been placed in the bed, Mrs. Holm collapsed. By this time Mrs. Brahm began to feel the effects of the gas and she collapsed into the arms of Dr. De Silva, as he arrived at the home. The water heater was one of the old type and not in good condition.
