SANATORIUM WILL OPEN ON OCT. 19

Public Invited to Formally Inspect Rock Island's Modern Plant for Treatment of Tuberculosis.

KING'S DAUGHTERS IN CHARGE

Institution Has Latest Up to Date Scientific Equipment to Care for Patients Free of Charge.

Formal opening of the municipal tuberculosis sanatorium, located at the corner of Seventeenth street and Twenty-fifth avenue, will take place on Thursday, Oct. 19, according to announcement made today. The public generally will be welcome to visit the institution during the afternoon and evening and inspect the plant.

The nurses and other attendants will be at ease, and all are invited to attend. The average citizen has no adequate idea of the project, its size or its purpose and this opportunity to visit it seems to be eagerly grasped.

King's Daughters Hostesses.

The different circle of the King's Daughters will act as hostesses on the occasion. The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. J. D. Clarkson, chairman, Mrs. W. I. Sweeney, Mrs. Joel Thomas, Mrs. R. C. Smedley, Mrs. Dorine Simonson. There will be music by an orchestra and vocal selections will be rendered. Light refreshments will be served.

The committee held a meeting with the medical commission in charge of the sanatorium yesterday afternoon and mapped out plans for the public opening. The medical commission is composed of Dr. Joseph De Silva, Dr. Louis Dorsey, Dr. R. J. Lechner and Dr. C. F. Tower.

Have Fine Plant.

The work of remodeling and repairing the new building is almost completed. A course in this structure is a passage 12 feet in width and 48 feet in length which nearly surrounds the whole building. A solarium, where patients can bask in the sun, has been placed at the south end of the porch.

Tents have been erected to the east of the building, a large septic tank has been constructed, a fumigation house, where all bed clothing can be cleaned, has been provided, an incinerator for burning of sputum built and all of the other modern and most up to date scientific equipment provided for the proper treatment of tuberculosis without regard to class.

ORCHESTRA LIFE DEPENDS ON FUNDS

Effort Being Made to Raise $10,000 in Three Cities As Guarantee for Tri-City Orchestra.

The energetic efforts being put forth by a number of people in the tri-cities looking to the establishment of three years' foundation for the purpose of maintaining a symphony orchestra in the tri-cities, seems likely to be crowned with success.

In order to make certain a project of so worthy a character, it was found necessary that a guaranteed fund of $10,000 for each of three years be established. This amount was apportioned among the three cities, and it is reliably reported that the Davenport quota has already been guaranteed. It will be necessary, therefore, for Rock Island and Moline to secure their portion at once, if the enterprise is to succeed.

While it is proposed to have concerts of the Tri-City Symphony orchestra alternately in the three cities, the courtesy of the new auditorium at Augustana has been extended, should the promoters in the cities of Rock Island and Moline desire to unite, and hold the concerts on this side of the river at a central convenient point.

Knowing the tendency of Rock Island and Moline to manifest its appreciation of the highest order of music, it is believed that those in charge of the fund on this side of the river will meet with the encouragement essential to the success of the proposition.

SUGGESTS HOUSE NUMBER CHANGES

City Commission Advises Property Owners South of Twelfth Avenue to Have Numerals Correspond.

DUE NEW AVENUE DESIGNATION

Simplification of Locating Residence in Section Affected Would Result, Authorities Say.

People living east of Eleventh street and south of Twelfth avenue who are objecting to the confusion resulting from the divergence between the house numbers and the avenue numbers should call at the city hall and get their new numbers, according to advices from the municipal authorities today.

Last spring the commission passed an ordinance making what was formerly Eleventh avenue east of Eleventh street, Twelfth avenue. Twelfth avenue was changed to Thirteenth avenue. There being no Thirteenth avenue in the vicinity of Eleventh street before no change was necessary, but Fourteenth avenue was changed to Fifteenth avenue, making the highway on both sides of Eleventh street correspond in name.

House numbers have not been changed. Now when a person is looking for a house in the 1100 block east of Eleventh street he must go south of Twelfth avenue. The numbers should be changed to 1200 instead of 1100, and all house numbers south of that avenue to Sixteenth should be increased by 100, city officials believe. In this way locating an address in the section affected by the change in the names of the avenues would be simplified.

No Changes As Yet.

Thus far no one has made any effort to change the number on the house. There was considerable protest at the time the new names were given, but city officials claim they took the simplest way out of it by changing the avenues on the east side of Eleventh street. Authorities say the new names of the avenues will stand and as they will be permanent the householders should see that the house numbers are accordingly changed to correspond to the avenue numerical designation.

HARP AND VOICE ENTHRAL HEARERS

As many as can imagine Palais de Chasse could accommodate were present Tuesday afternoon to hear Frances Wade Hodge in harp recital and Julia Paul, contralto. It did not take the accomplished song recitalist long to discover that it was in the presence of a virtuoso, a regular of the highest artistic order and a beautiful voice were entitled. That the group of people of exceptional musical taste of which it could find proof in every demonstration upon that it was equal to the expectations of a musical, a notable listener, a critical last value to efforts, was a source of revelation to many. Besides, the combination of an extremely beautiful voice and an exquisite instrument made a picture not soon to be forgotten. Mrs. Wade took her audience by surprise in her initial number "Vanitas Vanitatis, Lagrilla" by Franck and kept it entranced throughout. She gets real music out of the harp and simply thrilling melody.

Miss Paul is a very young woman—seventy 20s with a voice that finds its notes from the sky lines, a mezzo-soprano that is void of any shortcomings in execution and shows that natural gifts need not be encumbered with artifice. She is severely unassuming in manner, but the music of her voice makes one thankful even of that.

The aria, "He is Kind, He is Good," by Heloniade, was full of soulfulness and high musical thought. In her group number of more familiar songs she was especially pleasing. Both ladies are of the south and have just completed a most successful tour of the southern states. They had the opening of the series of de luxe entertainments which will be presented from time to time at the Villa de Chasse this fall and winter. The program of yesterday presented these selections:
