DISCUSS HOSPITAL PROPOSITIONS

M. O. Griswold, county supervisor and Dr R. J. Lachner, a member of the board of the city tuberculosis hospital, discussed the county and city tuberculosis questions yesterday, speaking before the civic department of the Rock Island Woman's club at the October meeting in Masonic temple. Mr. Griswold argued for the county hospital, claiming that such an institution should be well removed from the dirt and smoke of the city to a place of real quiet and where there can be procured at times a supply of eggs and fresh milk. Dr Lachner spoke for the city institution claiming that patients confined there are frequently in need of the immediate attention of a physician and should be in a place where the doctor can reach him on very short notice. He also believes that from an educational standpoint the city location is preferable, greater numbers of people having the opportunity to visit the sanitarium and becoming better acquainted with the necessity of care in the treatment of tuberculosis. He spoke also of the saving in money in the city taking care of its own patients rather than in the care of county patients which would be more and add a greater burden to the city taxpayer. He described the excellent equipment that is provided at the new sanitarium that next week is to be thrown open to the public.

Business of the department was small. Mrs. F. L. Bible, president of the Sans Fourth association filed a report of the society and stating that $104.12 is in the treasury as a surplus for next year's celebration.

Mrs. F. O. Custadler, chairman announced the district federation meeting Oct. 24-25 when Mrs. Perry V. Pennypacker, ex-president of the National Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. Fenela Palmer, Writer, secretary of the state Historical society and others will be speakers. Delegates will be entertained by the ladies of Rock Island women and those having lodging to give may inform Mrs. [illegible] Sharpe and Mrs. J. W. Bender.

SCRIPTURE

Galatians 5:16-24.

This I say then: Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh.

For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.

But if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these: Adultery, fornication, uncleanliness, lasciviousness.

Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies.

Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith.

Meekness, temperance: Against such there is no law.

And they that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs Thompson. I am going with a young man who has told me he loves me and asked me to marry him. I love him with all my heart too, but he is not the first man I have loved. I am 27 years old. When I was only 23 I loved another man who was not true to me. He was a traveling salesman. Just before we were to be married I learned in a round about way from a woman that he was engaged to her, too. I mentioned the matter to him and he did not take it in a nice way. He said that I need not pry into his affairs. I had not pried. What I learned came to me without looking for it at all. I could not stand his treatment and so I broke the engagement. The man was so furious with the woman that he wouldn't marry her either. I was miserably unhappy for years and I have not loved again until I met this man.

My fiance is very jealous and I am afraid that if I tell him about the other man that it will hurt him even if he knows that I no longer care for him. Do you think it is necessary for a girl to tell a man everything that has come into her life before she met him? He has told me everything even about the other girls he has had, but he says he has not really loved them. Do you think I better explain?

ENGAGED.

Perhaps from your own peace of mind it will be better to tell him. It is a mistake, I think, for a man and woman to feel that they must tell each other everything. They love each other now and why worry about the past. Do just as you like in the matter. It is not of a nature that you need fear having your husband learn of it later in life, but it is something you probably always will feel sad as may as well go it out your mind now.

* * *

Dear Mrs Thompson. I have been going with a young man for some time and I do not love him. He doesn't love me either, because he tells me about a love affair that he has had and never got over. I know the girl and so he enjoys talking about her to me. People have begun to say that it is about time for us to settle down, or quit. Do you think we ought to quit since we do not love each other? Or is it all right to be friends?

HELEN K.

It is all right to be friends. Don't worry about what people say.

* * *

Dear Mrs Thompson. A boy that I met in another city this summer came here on a visit. While he was here he called on me once and took me to dinner another time. When he left he said that the man engaged owing me very much and that he would drop me a few lines after he got back home. He didn't ask me to write to him. Should I answer his letter if I get them?

DISTRESSED.

It depends upon the nature of what he writes whether and how soon you should answer him. If you think he wants you to, it will be all right to do so. Don't worry unless it seems best.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Thompson. We are two girls 17 years old and we both love the same boy so much. He smiles at both of us, but he goes no go with either of us. He has another girl. We are going to have a Hallowe'en party and we want you to know if it will be all right to invite him and tell him to bring the girl. We know her, too, and like her very much.

(2) One of us is going to have her boy cousin on the party, and the other doesn't know whom to invite. Would it be all right for the cousin to bring a friend of the boy if she doesn't know him?

TIT AND TAT.

(1) It will be all right to invite him and have him bring his girl.

(2) I think your plan is good, since you do not know any other boys to take.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BROWN BREAD.

The following are a few out of many good bread recipes:

Measure off: One-half cupful cornmeal, one-half cupful graham flour, two-thirds cupful molasses, two cupfuls sour milk, one teaspoonful soda, or a little salt. Steam two and a half hours. Then place in an oven for 10 minutes.
