FOREIGN BORN IN LINE WITH VOTES

Interesting Reports of Canvas Among Women Brought Out at Meeting of Wilson Club.

ALL ARE THOROUGHLY INFORMED

Gathering at East Moline Tonight to Be Attended By Delegation From Rock Island.

BY MARY AQUIN.

Women of the Woodrow Wilson club go en masse tonight to East Moline to take part in the further organization of the women of that community. All persons intending to go should be at Hardy Bros., real estate office on the east side of the State bank building, opposite Young & McCombs', at 7:30 o'clock when the aggregation will commence its journey to the aggressive little city.

In this respect, at the meeting of the women last night at the Rock Island house, it was brought out by a woman who has canvassed her entire precinct that the immigrant foreigner commonly so termed by social workers for themselves, is not so ignorant and not at all hypocritical and evasive, and no difficulty was experienced in learning at once that the naturalized foreign born women are going to give their vote to Woodrow Wilson. Six Hughes' votes was the sum total in this precinct. Despite the fluid assertions of Theodore Roosevelt on what intervention he would have had the United States take on Germany's entering of Belgium territory, the citizens of that country, men and women, are each and all for President Wilson. They saw the inevitable outcome because of their country's location after rules of war were abandoned, and know the added chaos that the United States intervention would have caused and as a native people of Belgium revere the honest intention of President Wilson in keeping this country out of the cataclysm. It will be remembered, in this city, that at the meeting of the Hughes' women's special, the millionaire train de luxe, that Mary Austin boldly asserted the presence of the German hyphen in this country and gave sinister threats as to what a change of administration would do to that element. Nevertheless it is believed that past all her haste in judgment the German native born of this country are generously thankful to President Wilson for making no attacks upon their mother country by force of arms.

The feature of the meeting last night was the presence of a committee of Moline women, who had come to learn of organization methods and who further gave every evidence of establishing a Woodrow Wilson club at Moline that will give the Rock Island organization a run. The Moline women are out to elect Wilson. There will be a meeting in Moline Thursday evening at 8 o'clock and as many Woodrow Wilson women from this city as possibly can should plan to attend. No further invitation, introductions are unnecessary, and any woman with a vote for Wilson is cordially welcomed to all meetings in the county. The Woodrow Wilson club is a body of earnest women, not a clique, nor a place-seeking committee. The meetings are open and aboveboard.

Electoral Vote Explained.

At every meeting of the club educational features are introduced. Last night the electoral vote was explained, telling of its origin and how it came to be the form by which a president and vice president are chosen. A real treat was the remarks by Margaret Bock of Moline, who spoke of the cause of suffrage. [illegible]

Is Non-Partisan.

Next regular meeting of the Women's Woodrow Wilson club will be Monday, Oct. 23, at the Rock Island house at 8 o'clock. The women are invited to attend the meeting of the men's club tomorrow night and this evening's meeting of women in East Moline must not be overlooked, as well as that in Moline Thursday. It should be borne in mind that this club is non-partisan, its one object being to get votes for Wilson, irrespective of other candidates for office. Republican women will meet republican women friends at these meetings as well as progressives and democrats, prohibitionists and socialists. It is a people's organization primarily for keeping this country out of war and at peace with the world, and it is known that this is guaranteed only by retaining the president of the United States.

Difficult to Maintain Opera.

New York, Oct. 17.—It will be difficult to maintain the opera here for another season after the one soon to open, if the European war continues through the winter of 1917-18, says Giulio Gatti-Casazza, impresario of the Metropolitan opera house. The reason, he said, is that the men singers abroad cannot obtain release from military duty and the women singers fear to cross the ocean because of the danger of submarines.

John Day, Rock Island.

The appointment of Mr. Day to a place on the capital stock committee of the state board of equalization is a pleasing recognition of his ability and fitness for the position which he now occupies. This is the most important committee on the board and his selection by Judge Baker, Pontiac, chairman, to fill a vacancy caused by resignation, comes as a just tribute to his honesty, efficiency and rare devotion to the duties of his office.

Mr. Day, who is a prominent Rock Island business man, is a candidate for reelection on the democratic ticket and is in every way qualified and competent to serve the people of the 14th congressional district in this important capacity.

BUSINESS BOUND TO EXPAND

European War to Mean Commercial Prosperity for United States if Money Is Conserved.

Thrift Is Trend.

[illegible] Griffiths said.

[illegible]

"The one thing we hear most discussed about the war in Europe is its probable effect on business and the cost of living in this country. Those who know aver that we will have to feed and clothe Europe for a while besides supplying many other needs of the warring nations, and take over much of their former commerce with other countries. This means great business and industrial activity in this country.

"But the prices of living necessities here are bound to rise to some extent, and they probably will stay high for some time to come. Since the war started there has already been some increased business activity and a still further increase in the cost of living.

"In a few years it is probable this country will be called upon to help pay for the destruction and impoverishment in Europe. Our share may not be heavy but we will have to pay something. Its other years our fat years may be followed by lean ones.

"So now is the time to make and save as much money as you can against a time when living expenses may be higher and earning opportunities less than they are today. There has never been a time when the general practice of thrift would result in as much benefit to the country as the present time."

COUNTY BIRD CLUB WILL MEET FRIDAY

A real treat is in store for bird lovers in an address to be delivered at the Rock Island Y. M. C. A. Friday night. At this time Dr. R. H. Struck of Davenport will give an illustrated address on "Guests at Your Window." Dr. Struck is well known as an authority on birds and their habits, and has been an ardent supporter of all measures which have to do with the preservation of our friends, the birds. The illustrations which he will use here, many of them made from his own photographs, will be shown in Rock Island for the first time. This is the annual arbor and bird day in the state of Illinois, a day set apart by a proclamation of Governor Dunne.

The Rock Island County Bird club, through its president, Burtis H. Wilson, has already made arrangements for the presentation of this subject at all the schools of the county on this day. Admission to Friday night's lecture is free and the public is invited.

Bishop Is Decorated in War.

Paris, Oct. 17.—Monsignor Emile Lobbedy, bishop of Arras, has been decorated with the cross of the Legion of Honor for heroism and devotion. The official decree says he "remained at Arras amidst the first lines from October, 1914, to June, 1915, under a bombardment which was sometimes very violent and exerted himself unselfishly to the accomplishment of his ministry."

DR. STOCKER IS HURT CRANKING HIS AUTO

Dr. Alfred Stocker was severely injured yesterday afternoon when the crank of his automobile backfired, breaking two bones in his right wrist as he was starting the machine.

The accident occurred in front of the court house. He was taken to the Lutheran hospital in Moline, where the fracture was set, and he was later removed to his home at 1161 Twentieth street. Dr. Stocker may be incapacitated several weeks as result of the accident.

IDENTITY OF BABY REMAINS A MYSTERY

The identity of the male child deserted by his mother at St. Anthony's hospital remains unrevealed, according to an announcement made by the hospital authorities today. Sunday evening a woman rang the door bell of the hospital. When the nurse answered the call a woman placed a bundle in her arms and fled. The nurse failed to get a good look at the woman before she disappeared. The infant was wrapped only in a blanket. No clue of any kind which might lead to the identity of the child has been found thus far.
