

Saint Mary's Beacon.

LEONARDTOWN, MD.

THURSDAY Morning, November 2.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Comptroller:
MARION DEK. SMITH.
For the State Senate:
FRANCIS V. KING.
For the House of Delegates:
WEBSTER B. HERBERT,
CHARLES A. WATTS.
For Sheriff:
WILLIAM V. WATERS.
For County Commissioner:
JOHN S. BEAN.
For Surveyor:
JOHN H. CHUNN.

The Republicans have had printed in Baltimore and will circulate throughout the county just before the election the card published in the BEACON, of December 1, 1892 by Mr. John H. Chunn. The men who are doing this sneaking work know well that a newspaper is not responsible for the opinions or sayings of correspondents or writers who publish articles in its columns over their own names. Mr. Wilkinson does not and cannot hold the junior editor of the Enterprise responsible for the published utterances of the senior editor, over his own name; he does not hold that paper responsible for the utterances of Mr. Moran, but he thinks our colored friends are too ignorant to see these things or to know anything, and believes he can play on their ignorance and prejudice. Don't be caught by any such chaff. Be sensible men and as sensible men rebuke such a spirit of unfairness!

Turn out in force Tuesday next and vote and work for the Democratic ticket.

The next Legislature of Maryland is bound to be Democratic and therefore a Republican representative from St. Mary's can render no practical service to his constituents—cannot secure the appointment of even a fireman.

Republicans are relying for success in the coming contest upon apathy in our party and treachery in our ranks. They, we believe, falsely assume that there are many in the St. Mary's Democratic party who will secretly knife the Democratic ticket. There may be some, but, we believe, they are very few and that the great expectations of our Republican friends will not be realized.

This is no time to falter or sulk. A victory now will assure to our county its rightful recognition as a Democratic county and will be the means of rewarding faithful Democrats.

We have heard that one of the great points being used against the Democratic ticket is that if it is defeated its candidates will have no power to advance the interests of true Democrats or punish traitors to the cause. That little game has been checkmated and Governor Brown will listen to the representatives of the true men and will repudiate any one who attempts to sully his name by a dicker with Republicans. Verbum sat sapientia.

What can the Republicans do for you? The National and State Governments are in the hands of the Democracy; the Commissioners' Court is Democratic and if you want to be recognized you will have to go to Democrats. Work is the watchword. The faithful will be rewarded.

THE PRICE OF LIBERTY.—"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." There is no campaign in which we can safely assume that success is certain. There is always danger. Our foe is alert and wily—ready to take advantage of every opportunity; and is counting now on victory through the apathy of our party. If a few of our voters remain at home in each district, some of our candidates may be beaten. Let there be no break in the Democratic column. We appeal to every Democrat. See that every voter is early at the polls, that the full party vote is cast, and prepare to rejoice in the overwhelming triumph for our whole ticket that is sure to follow.—Frank Shaw.

Carter Henry Harrison, aged sixty-eight years, five times mayor of Chicago, ex-Congressman, ex-county commissioner, editor, capitalist and author, was assassinated in his own residence, at 231 South Ashland avenue, at 7.50 o'clock last night. Three bullets entered his body, and within twenty minutes after the first shot was fired death ensued. The man who did the shooting escaped from the house and ascended himself at the Desplains street police station, giving his name as Eugene Patrick Prendergast.

Every voter who desires a new assessment of property should vote for the Democratic Legislative nominees. They are pledged to a revaluation of property on an equitable basis, of all the property in the State justly taxable. The Republicans are not pledged to anything, and if they were, would not count for much in a Democratic Legislature. The Legislature is going to be Democratic and if St. Mary's wishes to have any weight in framing an assessment law, she must send Democrats to represent her in the next General Assembly.

Every man who expects to be a candidate at any future election, or expects to apply for any office whatever, must realize the absolute importance of an active support on his part of the ticket. No man has a right to expect people to support him if he refuses to support them or their friends when they need him. Square dealing is as important in politics as in business, and any man to be successful before his party must stand up squarely and do his duty at the proper time, and this is the proper time for him to do it.

HON. HUGH LENOX BOND, Chief Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit, comprising the states of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, died at his residence in Baltimore, on Tuesday morning last, aged 65 years. He had been in failing health for over a year, the result of a severe attack of grip. He was a native of Baltimore and a son of Rev. Thomas Emmerson Bond, M. D., who was a prominent physician in his day and also a local minister of the Methodist Protestant Church. Judge Bond was admitted to the bar in 1851 and in 1860 was appointed Judge of the Criminal Court, to which position he was subsequently elected by the people. He was a staunch Union man during the war of the rebellion, and in July, 1870, President Grant appointed him Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of the United States, which position he held up to the time of his death.

DEED.

At the residence of his parents near Park Hall in the eighth district, A. P. GORHAM, infant son of James T. and Charlotte R. Cox, aged one year and eight months. Sleep on in thy beauty.

Thou sweet angel child. By sorrow unblighted. By sin undefiled. Like the dove to the ark. Thou hast flown to thy rest From the wild sea of strife. To the home of the blest.

On Monday, September 25th, 1893, beloved son of John J. and Mary L. Alroy, age 7 months and five days.

The crib is empty, our darling has gone. To dwell in that happy land above. And to cherish his soul is gone. To wait for the ones he loved. All is dark within our dwelling. And lonely are our hearts to day. For our baby whom we loved so dearly. Has forever passed away.

At the residence of his parents near Park Hall in the eighth district, BENJAMIN THOMPSON, aged 18 years, 11 months and 22 days. May he rest in peace!

Death seems hard at all times but never more so than when its victim is one so young and promising in life. It might well be said of the subject of this humble tribute that passion and pride were to his soul unknown. Honesty and virtue were alone his own. By his death, the neighborhood has lost one of its most beloved citizens, the Catholic Church a devoted member, father and mother, a dutiful son and their children a most affectionate brother. Beyond our grief, there is our consolation left you though gone he is not dead, but sleeping with all the virtues of Heaven blessing around him.

Quietly, he now lies at rest. With the good green sod o'er him; Honored, beloved and blest. By all who knew him.

Sleeping the sleep of the just. Singing the praise of God. His body is mingled with dust. His soul is with the angels alone.

At the residence of his parents near Park Hall in the eighth district, on Friday, Sept. 29, 1893, and called on us little HARRIS, and again called on us Friday, Oct. 30th ult., and again called on us Saturday, Oct. 31st ult., aged 3 months and 3 days.

At the residence of his parents near Park Hall in the eighth district, on Friday, Oct. 29, 1893, after a painful illness, which he bore with Christian fortitude, BENNIE, beloved son of Benedict and Ann Elizabeth Thompson, aged 18 years, 11 months and 23 days.

Death is sad when it comes to the aged, but it is doubly sad when it comes in the springtime of life and tears from the arms of his beloved parents a youth of not quite nineteen. One who always plucked the prettiest buds and the ones he thinks is best prepared. He was much beloved by all who knew him, both old and young.

Not one of our kind say aught of him save he was a true Christian, a dutiful son and a devoted brother. He spared no labor to increase the ray of sunshine in the household, and the best of his friends could know him only to love him, or speak of him but to praise him. His bereaved parents and grieving brothers and sisters have the sympathy of his large circle of friends as well as the whole community.

We placed him in the graveyard beside his brother dear Whom we thought it very hard We should inter him there.

He lies beneath the green sod. His soul has fled on high; It now lives with his dear Father. Where it can never die.

Grief and sorrow have ye none, Nor do you dare to mourn, But live as he has done.

And drift ye where he has gone. By his cousin EMILY H. RALEY.

In Charlotte Hall district, on the 19th instant, Mrs. AMELIA G. BARBER, widow of the late Dr. Thos. Barber in the 74th year of her age.
