SOCIAL EVENTS

Surprised on Birthday.

During her absence yesterday the children of Mrs. William Willetts went to her home, 1935 Thirty-second street, and arranged a genuine surprise party to honor her birthday anniversary. They prepared a sumptuous dinner, and upon the return of the mother in the late evening she found the room dark but for the light from candles that decorated the top of a large birthday cake. Carnations, daffodils and narcissi were used to decorate the table. Mrs. F. E. Cookson of Rio, Ill., an only daughter, came for the occasion and the affair was a very pleasant one. Mrs. Willetts was given a purse of money as a birthday gift.

Fleming-Etzold.

Local friends will be interested in the marriage of Wilson Gordon Fleming, son of Mrs. Fannie Fleming of Fort Byron, and Miss Ruth Etzold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Etzold of Milwaukee, which took place at the home of the bride Saturday evening, Feb. 17.

Rev. E. Reginald Williams officiated at 8 o'clock, the ceremony being performed before an improvised altar on which four cathedral candles were burning, set in a channel of palms and ferns roped on with tulle. Mrs. Martin Alger was matron of honor and the Misses Florence Weschler and Katherine Mactillich were bridesmaids. Martin Alger of New York was best man and ushers were I. J. Dahle and Carl Martzahn of Davenport.

The bride wore a gown of white tulle over silver lace with bodice of silver brocade and a tulle train falling from the shoulders. Her veil was arranged with lilies of the valley and she carried a formal bouquet of white lilac, sweetpeas and lavender, centered with pink roseburs.

Mrs. Alger wore a gown of pink satin brocade over silver lace, with iridescent trimming and she carried a bouquet of pink shaded sweetpeas. The bridesmaids wore gowns of pink tulle and satin over silver lace petticoats with bodices of silver cloth. They carried pink tulle muffs adorned with bouquets of Karen Ward roses and lavender sweetpeas.

Mrs. Etzold, mother of the bride, wore turquoise satin over silver cloth with decorations of rhinestones and her corsage bouquet was of Russell roses. Mrs. Fleming, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of shaded orchid satin and a corsage bouquet of violets and lily valley. After the wedding a reception was held.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. F. E. Cookson of Fort Byron, mother of the bridegroom, D. A. White of Fort Byron, and Carl Martzahn of Davenport. Mr. and Mrs. Fleming will be at home to their friends after April 1 at 901 Hazelwood street, Milwaukee.

Local Singer Wins Honors.

J. Ellison Johnson of Davenport, who sang Bach's organ mass one night and a rare selection new that night in the white contest held in Milwaukee Saturday in competition with soloists from 10 other states.

Mr. Johnson has a voice of rich contralto sweetness and quality that his admirers have visions of grand opera using organ as an and only possibilities, but possibilities of the future.

Lewis B. Cunningham, who has been Mr. Johnson's perpetual ever since he began his work, was his accompanist at the piano in the contest.

Mr. Johnson's songs Saturday were "Where Go You Will" Handel "Sunset" .. Elijah Mendelssohn "Wellbeing" Schumann

Singers from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Kansas and Nebraska took part in the contest which was at the north district of the General Federation of Musicians and was the finale of elimination to determine the artists who will appear on the special program of the general federation in Chicago this in May.

The honor bestowed upon Mr. Johnson he will also secure numbers before the national convention of musical clubs here will in turn bring certain honors of publicity, etc.

OFFERS POWDERLESS GUN TO UNCLE SAM

Mrs. Kathryn Stanton.

Mrs. Kathryn Stanton, an American woman, owns the patent on a powderless gun which is being used extensively by the allies. She says if the United States gets into war she will turn her patent over to the government without charge. The gun was invented by Prof. Albert Albertson, a naturalized American of Danish blood.

Sunshine Six Dinner Party.

Miss Florence Newberry in her home, 2412 Eighth-and-a-half avenue, entertained the Sunshine Six Saturday evening at a dinner party. Games and contests were enjoyed after the dinner hours and the prizes went to Miss Frances Anderlik and Miss Elizabeth Dunlap. Washington day favors were given and the same idea was carried out in the place cards and table decorations. The club will be entertained next time by Miss Louise Monclair, 919 Twelfth street, at a doll party.

To Honor Miss Garber.

Mrs. David Gellerman in her home, 1708 Eighth avenue, entertained at a very pretty and delightful party last evening to honor Miss Goldie Garber of Red Wing, Minn., sister of Mr. Gellerman of this city and honor guest of Miss Fanchi Gellerman. The house was brightened with spring flowers, roses and carnations filling vases about the rooms. Six tables were surrounded with twenty people at games of 500 in which the high score prizes were awarded to Miss Tillie Silverman and John Gellerman and the consolation to Miss Lena Wolfstil of Moline. Miss Garber was given a pretty mirror table platform as a guest favor. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. Borowitz, served a three-course lunch at the small tables, each of which was adorned with a bud vase holding a rose. The evening hours following dinner were passed with dancing and music and happy informal sociability.

Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. M. Tarkman Jr., will entertain at bridge in honor Miss Garber and Thursday Mrs. William Goldman of 1421 Ripley street, Davenport, will entertain at cards in her home. Other parties are arranged for the week.

Baker-Milam Nuptials Saturday.

Announcement is made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Pearl Milam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Milam, 829 Seventh street, and Clarence Baker of Moline, which is to be an event of Saturday afternoon, March 3, at Trinity Episcopal church.

Social Announcements.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Roenig, 1818 Sixth avenue, will entertain the members of the Idlewyle club and their husbands at cards Friday evening.

STRIKES AT CONTROL OF BIRTH IN SERMON

From the text, "Increase and multiply, fill the earth," Father William Cleary of Elmwood, who occupied the pulpit of St. Joseph's Catholic church last evening in the ministry series of Lenten lectures, delivered a most powerful lesson. He paid the most eloquent tribute to motherhood and womanhood and left with his hearers a vision of life's sweetest duties.

Beginning with Mary's journey to Jerusalem and the well known reception accorded the coming of the Son of God, Father Cleary typified the Mother of Jesus as unconsciously setting an example for the motherhood of all time. Circumstances could not be more trying than those of Mary and Joseph. They had not a place to lay their head except a manger. Herod's palace, aflame that night with light and warmth and filled with pleasurable intoxication, was contrasted most vividly with the earthen floor and straw filled chamber of Mary's Immaculate Conception, thus placing for all time the Man of God amongst the lowly.

Taking the lowliness of scene of the birth of Christ as a setting, Father Cleary illuminated the way down to the modern aspect, which, he said, is seeking to destroy a natural, God-given source into a stream of depravity. He told how God had fashioned woman for love, made her beautiful and chaste in the sight of man that two should be wedded and found a family. From the hideous archives of the reign of Herod a constant onslaught has been made upon the purity of womanhood, a diverting of her destiny of sacred endowment. Birth control, Father Cleary held, could be naught but a moral sin whose penalty is death. Urging restraint, forbearance, love, every

WEALTHY WOMAN IS CHAUFFEUR'S BRIDE

Mrs. Margaret Judge Hutchins.

Love came to Miss Margaret K. Juarez, of Louisville, Ky., 57 and wealth a million, in the twilight of life, and today she is on a honeymoon with Joseph Ewell Hutchins, 50, and until the wedding her chauffeur.

[illegible] all the power of man to exercise in the control of love he urged upon vicegerently the prevalent fear of certainties of family duties. Surrounding the name "mother" with the halo of memory in the hearts of her sons and daughters, Father Cleary touched the tenderest chord in the souls of his auditors.

An audience that taxed the capacity of St. Joseph's heard him. Special music was a feature of the service and was given much complimentary benediction received the sermon. Next Sunday evening Father McCarty of Ottawa will deliver the sermon. He is an ex-army chaplain and a man of great charm of thought. The evening services begin at 7:30 during Lent, but usually the office is overfilled at that hour. Music is sung every morning at 8 which is St. Joseph's and the stations on the cross at 7:30 every evening except Friday, a period of fast, omit this week.

MARRIAGE ENDS PRETTY ROMANCE

Marguerite Farthelmer, Daughter of Prominent Peoria Manufacturer, Weds J. H. Pinson.

An interesting romance culminated last week when Miss Marguerite Farthelmer, aged 17, daughter of a prominent Peoria manufacturer, was united in marriage to James H. Pinson, aged 21, of Chicago, the ceremony taking place in the parsonage of Broadway Presbyterian church in this city, the pastor, Rev. James Edgar Wilson, officiating at the service. A wealth of news was announcement was duly made of the engagement of the couple and the wedding announced as a surprise of the coming summer, but not wending the publicity and pomp of a big church space and the attendants are limited parties and courtesies. Mr. Pinson and his bride-elect quietly left Peoria and coming to Rock Island were united in marriage in the simplest way possible. Miss Florence Schneider and Ralph C. Burgess, both of this city, accompanied the couple as witnesses. Following the service the company had dinner at the Davenport Commercial club, and later Mr. and Mrs. Pinson left for an eastern honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will reside in Davenport, from which point Mr. Pinson travels for the Dodge Manufacturing company of Mishawaka, Ind.

The bride comes from one of the wealthiest and most prominent families of Peoria, her father being connected with several large automobile manufacturing companies.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
STRENGTHENS PUNY CHILDREN

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 15 years old and I am a favorite among a good many boys.

(1) Do you think I am old enough to go auto riding with a boy 20 years old? He has asked me many times, but I have never known whether to go or not, and so I have never gone.

(2) Is 11 o'clock too late to stay out at night sliding with boys of my own age?

(3) Do you think a boy is foolish to pay out 25 cents sometimes just for a talk over the telephone?

(4) Is it all right for a boy from out of town to come and see me and stay all night if my mother does not object?

(5) Is it all right for a boy of 17 to smoke cigarets?

DIMPLES.

(1) You are too young to go unless your mother or some other older person is along.

(2) Yes, 11 o'clock is far too late to stay out.

(3) No, he isn't foolish if the money is his own. Some boys are reckless with their father's money and I think that is wrong.

(4) It is all right if your mother invites him.

(5) I think that a boy of 17 who smokes cigarets makes a great mistake.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am a girl 20 and I have my younger sister of 17 to care for. We have no mother and our father is out of town almost all the time on business. Last evening my sister was entertaining a young man who has been to call on her often and whom I like very much. I walked into the room and surprised them kissing. Of course I sent the young man home and talked with my sister. She declares that she will run away if I say anything to father and that she will see the young man all she wants to. She says that there is no harm in kissing. She is very impulsive and unruly and I do not know how to control her. What would you advise me to do?

(2) Should I allow her to go out riding with a party in the evening when there is no chaperone?

(3) I have found my sister smokes when she is out. Shall I speak to her of this? WORRIED SISTER.

(1) Avoid antagonizing your sister. I think it would be best to tell her that you are sorry you acted impulsively the other evening. If you have been kissed yourself admit it and say that you understand why she likes to be kissed. Most young girls see nothing wrong in kissing and they have to take the word of someone older, whom they trust, that it is not best. Tell your little sister that it is up to her whether or not she is kissed, but you thought she might like to know how you felt about the matter. When she learns that her judgment is respected she will be more eager for your approval.

(2) If your sister is unruly probably you cannot prevent her going. Talk to your father about her going riding unchaperoned and he may be able to prevent it. She is really too young.

(3) Don't speak to her about too many things at once. Wait and when the opportunity presents itself say something. If you expect to have any influence on her you will have to be very tactful and handle her with gloved hands.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a young man about four months. He comes away to see me every Sunday night and takes me to the show and dances once or twice a week. I love him very much and he says he loves me. But I do not understand this about him—when I are at a dance or anywhere with my chum he hardly speaks or recognizes me. Why do you think he acts this way? I am very good to him and I dress well and act like a lady. Do you think I ought to ask him why he acts that way? Or shall I say nothing to him and let him think I don't notice it? Or shall I give him up? I don't see how I can because I love him so.

MORNING.

The man possibly does not like the looks of your chum and so he avoids meeting her. Some time when you and he are getting along especially well and you are not angry, it will be all right to ask him why he's so different when you are with the girl.

Household Hints

The Table.

Hash With Bread—Save that potatoes are so expensive why not use bread in their place? To about one and one-half cups meat use two generous slices of bread (hold under faucet until well wet, then crumble into meat), do not press out the water). Fry in skillet with bacon drippings or butter, add a little milk, salt and pepper. Fine.

Beef or Meat Balls—Chop cold or leftover meat of any kind with same amount of potatoes and one onion if liked. Take same amount of dry bread, wet with hot water, mix all together, form in patties and fry.

Veal Loaf Garvey Mix—Get about one and one-half pounds veal, scrap veal, and ask for a shank bone with the meat and have it sawed up. Put the meat and bone into a kettle, add one onion, one bay leaf, six whole allspice, six whole cloves, salt and pepper, cover with water and let boil until very tender. Take out meat and let cool. Remove bone and put meat through a meat grinder, then put back in juice in boil, season with salt, pepper, small onion and little ground cloves. Boil until quite thick. Then put in some dish usually over night in a cold place. Serve same as meat loaf, cold.

Spaghetti and Tomatoes—Take one tomatoes, one-fourth box 10-cent spaghetti, cook tomatoes and spaghetti in separate pans and take bacon or ham cut in real small pieces, four medium-size onions cut fine; put in skillet. Fry meat and onions together, put in tomatoes and spaghetti, season with red pepper; salt to taste (make it pretty hot). Serves six people.

Strawberry Dessert—When you have some canned strawberries left and not enough for a meal, add some water and sugar, put on stove to boil, then thicken with potato (it has better taste than corn starch), let boil about two minutes, then serve cold same as any sauce.

Date Pudding—To one small cup sugar add yolks of two eggs and mix with a fork, add one cup dates cut in small pieces, one cup chopped nuts, two tablespoons flour, one-half teaspoon baking powder and last the stiff whites of the eggs. Put in ramekins and bake in pan of water in moderate oven one-half hour. Serve with whipped cream. This will serve eight persons, a delicious and pretty dessert.

Eggs a la Bonne Femme.

Peel and chop one large Bermuda onion. Fry slowly with one heaping tablespoonful of butter. When a delicate brown, add three or four drops of vinegar and spread over the bottom of a buttered pie plate or shallow dish. Sprinkle lightly with salt and paprika and over this carefully break as many eggs as the dish will accommodate. Again sprinkle with a little salt and place in a moderate oven until the eggs are nearly set. Sprinkle over the top two heaping tablespoons of crushed dried bread crumbs that have been moistened with melted butter, return to the oven for a couple of minutes and serve as hot as possible.

Lamb's Liver En Casserole With Vegetables.

There are many housekeepers who do not know that a lamb's liver is quite as delicate as one from a calf—with the additional merit of being less expensive. Cut the liver in thick slices. Cover with boiling water, let stand for five minutes and drain thoroughly. Butter a casserole and arrange in the bottom a layer of uncooked vegetables, consisting of sliced onions, carrots and turnips, add the liver, a bouquet of herbs (parsley, savory and thyme) and about one pint of strained and seasoned stock. Sprinkle over the top one teaspoon of minced green pepper, cover the casserole and simmer about one hour and a half. Thicken the vegetable gravy with a teaspoon of flour blended to a paste with cold water, flavor with a teaspoon of Kitchen bouquet, let it boil up once again and serve in the casserole.

Romaine Salad With College Dressing.

Discard the outer green leaves and detach the others from the stem. Wash thoroughly in very cold water, dry carefully, put into a salad bowl and toss lightly in the following dressing.

College Dressing—Rub over a soup plate with a clove of garlic, cut in halves. Put in half a teaspoon each of salt, white pepper, chili Colorado (mild Mexican pepper) and curry powder, one teaspoon of finely chopped parsley, the grated yellow rind of half a small lemon and one teaspoon of grated onion. Mix well and four tablespoons of oil, crush the solid ingredients in the oil, add two tablespoons of vinegar, mix again and strain over the romaine. This quantity will serve four persons.

Sandwiches.

Sardine-Pickle Filling — Chop together one 10-cent can of sardines, three or four pickles; mix with dash of salt, pepper and a few cracker crumbs. Spread between buttered slices of bread.

Pimento—Grind enough meat of any kind for one cup, add one-half can pimento (grounds). Mix with a dressing made with one beaten egg, one tablespoon cornstarch or flour, two tablespoons sugar, pinch salt and mustard, one-half cup vinegar; boil slowly till thick. Spread mixture on thin slices of bread. This will make about twenty sandwiches and if kept in tight can will keep several days.

Cheese—Break in pieces 10 cents' worth of cheese. Roll out one-half cup cracker crumbs, one beaten egg, one-half cup sweet milk, a little salt and pepper and bake. When cold slice for sandwiches.
