Weekly Citizen

(From Monday's Daily.)

Chas. Vondorf has returned to the city.

N. T. Cavalier left for Phoenix yesterday.

W. H. Childers left last night for Chicago.

Gen. J. C. Witcher, United States paymaster, has returned from his vacation visit.

Miss Media Tyler went out to Gallup to visit her sister, Mrs. Frank Gibson, last Saturday night.

W. J. P. Easter, the Atlantic & Pacific hospital surgeon, went out to Needles last Saturday night.

Major Ernest A. Grunsfeld, postmaster, who was at Washington on business, has returned to his duties here.

J. K. Butler, of Larned, Kansas, brother-in-law of Mrs. Rita Granger, is expected here to-morrow evening.

Geo. R. Helmick, formerly of the Cerrillos mining district but for several years located in Colorado, is in the city.

Miss Hebden, the pretty daughter of A. H. Myers, had pleasant company for her visit to Santa Fe last Saturday night.

The remains of Mrs. Ellsworth Clark were shipped to Alton, Ill., last night for burial, being accompanied by S. T. Kilsworth.

Rev. Menaul, the Presbyterian synod-missionary, returned this morning from Flagstaff, where he held services yesterday.

Mrs. Theodore Maxwell and daughter, who are a visit to W. A. Maxwell and family, returned to their pleasant Gallup home last Saturday night.

Fireman Frank Harris, on a leave of absence, left last Saturday for Canon City, Col., via Santa Fe, where his mother and sister reside.

Col. W. H. Sewald, of Las Vegas, was in the city yesterday. He met his daughter from California here this morning, and continued on north.

Mr. Kelly, of L. B. Putney's, who winters at Needles, Cal., returned to the city last Saturday, and apparently looks very much improved in health.

Gen. F. C. Burill, editor of the Cerrillos Miner, was here yesterday. He is always welcome, and he can't keep away from a game of base ball.

Rev. L. L. A. Burr and wife were passengers on their return to Ashmore, Ill., last Saturday. The doctor expects to return to the city in a few weeks.

J. M. Evans, formerly of this city, but for the past year mining at Kingston, passed through the city last Saturday from his way to Duluth, Minn.

Capt. Delmore Hawkins, of the Gossett Military Institute, this city, has been appointed and commissioned as aid-de-camp on the governor's staff with the rank of major.

Col. Max Frost, secretary of the territorial board of the National Irrigation congress, which convenes here in September, was south last Saturday and returned to Santa Fe that evening.

Mrs. Henry Westover, wife of a well-known Santa Fe road engineer running in from Chicago, and daughter are at the Armijo. Mrs. Westover is in bad health and was advised to come to the Grande valley.

The Parisian Toilet company, conducted by fairs over the French bakery, is now under the proprietress and her daughter leaving the city a few days ago. There are a few unpaid bills, but that matter is of small consequence.

F. J. McLaughlin, president of the Water Land and Irrigation company, was in the city yesterday. He feel that a big crowd will visit the city from the west next Sunday, when the Wingate soldier club plays the Albuquerques.

Capt. F. Meinke and daughter returned last night from their visit to southern California. The captain will remain here a few days, and then return to his home at Earlville, Ill. Miss Meinke will probably remain during the summer. They have rooms at the Armijo.

J. P. Aldrich and wife, father and mother of Mrs. T. B. Gabel, are in the city from Needles, Cal. It is more than likely that Mr. and Mrs. Gabel will come for the east this evening or to-morrow morning, and their departure will be much regretted, for it is understood that they will permanently leave the city.

Last Saturday, while Mrs. Fetters was in the rear of her present residence on Broad avenue, some thief slipped in the front door and then into her bedroom, taking from the bureau a fine ladies' watch and chain. The theft was discovered half an hour after its occurrence and reported to the police. No clue.

Gen. Lorion Miller, territorial secretary; T. J. Helm, general manager of the narrow gauge railroad; M. Jones, a well-known Santa Fe owner of thoroughbred racing horses, and several other prominent Santa Feans came down from the territorial capital last Saturday night and witnessed the game of base ball yesterday afternoon at the fair grounds.

J. W. Murphy, of the firm of Jackson & Murphy, of Golden, and Alex Rogers, a miner, were in the city yesterday. Murphy is an old base ball player, captain of last year's Cerrillos team, and was an interested spectator at the match game of base ball yesterday afternoon.

The gentlemen purchased a wagon load of supplies, after which they left for home.

Mr. White, of Holbrook, died at the Atlantic & Pacific hospital last night at 8 o'clock, and will be sent to Holbrook for burial. Mr. White was a sheep herder, and in rounding up a band of sheep fell over a cliff to the bottom, the fall being at least forty feet. He was frightfully injured about the head and face, besides receiving internal injuries. He was brought to the hospital last Friday for treatment, but never regained consciousness.

THE FIRST GAME.

The Albuquerques Still Hold the Title of Champions.

ALBUQUERQUES 18, SANTA FES 15.

Yesterday was a grand day for the opening of the base ball season in the territorial metropolis, and in the afternoon, under a clear sunshine, a large crowd of local fans, with a fair sprinkle of Albuquerque's pretty women, assembled at the fair grounds to witness the match between the Albuquerque Browns, under Captain McDonald, and the Santa Fe Athletics under Captain Hill.

The capital city lads arrived on the No. 1 passenger train, at 2:45 a. m., being met at the depot by the manager and treasurer of the local club, and escorted to the quarters assigned. They rested for a few hours, and showed up in good form yesterday morning, ready and more than willing to "do battle" with their old foes in the afternoon.

At 2:30 p. m., the two captains got together and decided to try the double umpire system, John Conway, Jr., of Santa Fe, and Thos. Virginia, of this city, being chosen to fill the thankless and much-abused positions.

At 2:45, the Santa Fes took the bat, the Albuquerques going to their positions in the field, after which "time—play ball" echoed from the umpires.

FIRST INNING.

Santa Fe—Ashford hit to Raymer, who threw to McCue, who failed to catch and the runner safe; Morgan drove a grounder to Raymer, who fumbled the ball, and Morgan reached first safely; Estes struck out, and Ashford, in trying to steal third, was thrown out; Morgan was also thrown out at second base.

Albuquerque—Vorhes hit a fly over third and reached first safely; R. McDonald hit a safe grounder past short, got to first safely, and sent Vorhes to second; Herbert struck out; Quier hit to pitcher and out at first; McCue hit to band stand, scoring Vorhes and R. McDonald, and a moment later McCue, in attempting to steal home, was thrown out at the plate.

SECOND INNING.

Santa Fe—Wynkoop drove a fly to Quier, who missed, and the runner got first safely. He got to second on Vorhes' muff of Catcher McDonald's throw ball. Zinsser hit to Raymer, who made an other error, and Zinsser safe at first, sending Wynkoop to third. Tapia threw strikes and out at first, Wynkoop crossing the plate on a high pitched ball, and Zinsser going to third; Hill to bases on balls; Garcia hit grounder to Raymer, reaching first safely, and scoring Zinsser and Hill. Shoemaker hit to Pitcher McDonald and out at first. McCue threw wild to Herbert to catch Garcia, but on the throw Garcia scored; Ashford hit fly to center and Holland threw to McCue, who missed, and Ashford went around the bases and scored. Morgan hit to pitcher and ended the inning by dying at first.

Albuquerque—Ortiz struck out; Raymer three strikes and out; Holland drove out a two bagger, and on the throw in made home; C. McDonald flew out to Ashford.

THIRD INNING.

Santa Fe—Estes hit to Raymer and out at first; Wynkoop three strikes, and Catcher McDonald threw to McCue, who allowed the ball to get past him, and Wynkoop was safe at first. Wynkoop stole second, and came home on Zinsser's safe ground hit. Tapia hit to Herbert, and reached first on the latter's fumble. Hill struck out. Garcia followed suit, leaving Zinsser and Tapia on bases.

Albuquerque—Vorhes hit to third, reached first safely, and went on to third base on a wild throw. R. McDonald tried to take the advice of the crowd by "knocking a small chunk out of the ball," and hit down to pitcher and was thrown out at first base. Herbert listened to the crowd to knock the ball over the right field ditch and in consequence struck out. Quier struck out, leaving Vorhes on third.

FOURTH INNING.

Santa Fe—Shoemaker hit to Herbert and McCue missed the throw, and Shoemaker safe. The runner got mixed between first and second bases, but escaped being put out. Ashford hit safe to right field, sending Shoemaker to third and himself to second; Morgan hit safely to left, scoring Shoemaker and sending Ashford to third; Estes hit to Pitcher McDonald and out; Zinsser drove a liner to McCue and out.

Albuquerque—McCue struck out; Ortiz hit at plate and got to first safely; Raymer hit to short and safe at first, sending Ortiz to third; Holland hit to Morgan and out at first, Raymer going to third and Ortiz scoring; C. McDonald sent out a cracking two-bagger, scoring Raymer; Vorhes to bases on balls; R. McDonald hit a liner to Morgan, who missed, and scoring C. McDonald; Herbert struck out, leaving Vorhes and C. McDonald on bases.

FIFTH INNING.

Santa Fe—Tapia struck out; Hill hit to Vorhes and out to McCue; Garcia hit to Vorhes and out to McCue.

Here Hill came in from third base and changed with Pitcher Garcia.

Albuquerque—Quier struck out; McCue hit safely between third and short; Ortiz knocked a high fly to Shoemaker and out, and McCue stole third; Raymer to base on balls, and McCue scored, Raymer going to third; Holland drove out a two-base fly to center, scoring Raymer; C. McDonald hit to short and out at first, leaving Holland on third base.

SIXTH INNING.

Santa Fe—Shoemaker out an foul fly to Catcher McDonald; Ashford struck out; Morgan hit fly over Herbert's head and safe at first; Estes hit short to center, scoring Morgan, and he getting to second base himself; Wynkoop to base on balls; Zinsen to base on balls; Tapia hit safe and reached first, forcing Estes out at the home plate.

The Santa Fes changed again, Shoemaker going in to pitch and Ashford behind the bat.

Albuquerque—Vorhes hit a grounder down to third and reached first safely, and on a wild throw scored; R. McDonald hit fly to left and got to second base, Herbert hit safe to short and reached first; Quier hit safe to right field, advancing R. McDonald and Herbert each a base. With three men on the bases, McCue went to the bat, and was sent to first on balls, when R. McDonald scored on a wild throw. Ortiz was at the bat, and he missed three strikes. Instead of standing still and the men on bases remaining where they were, Ortiz rushed for first, thus forcing out Quier, McCue and himself.

SEVENTH INNING.

Santa Fe—Hill to base on balls; Garcia three strikes and out; Shoemaker struck a liner down to short and reached first safely; Ashford struck out; Morgan drove out a terrific two bagger, scoring Hill and Shoemaker; Estes flew out to Quier, leaving Morgan on base.

Albuquerque—Raymer hit by pitched ball and sent to first; Holland hit high fly, reached first, and while monkeying between first and second, Raymer scored, and Holland reached second safely. C. McDonald sent out another two bagger to right field, scoring Holland. Vorhes hit safely to third, and C. McDonald scored, Vorhes going to second; R. McDonald hit hard passed third, scoring Vorhes, and going to second and then on to third; Herbert hit to second and out at first, when R. McDonald scored on a passed ball. Quier to base on balls, and to second on a wild pitch; McCue hit to short and out at first; Ortiz hit to pitcher, reached first safely, bringing in Quier; Raymer drove out a grounder, reaching second, and scoring Ortiz; Holland was thrown out at first on a slow grounder to second.

EIGHTH INNING.

Santa Fe—Wynkoop struck out; Zinsser hit a liner over Herbert's head and reached first safely; Tapia sent a fly squarely into Quier's hands and out; Zinsser attempted to steal third and was thrown out.

Albuquerque—C. McDonald to base on balls; Vorhes out on strikes; R. McDonald out on slow grounder from short to first; Herbert batted down to to third base and reached first safely, sending C. McDonald to third; Quier struck out.

NINTH INNING.

When this inning opened the score stood Albuquerque 18, Santa Fe 15, but the latter came very near tieing the score in this inning, as the following details show.

Santa Fe—Hill hit a high fly to Quier, who missed; Garcia hit a hard grounder to Raymer, who fumbled, and both runners safe on bases; Shoemaker hit to pitcher, who threw Hill out at third; Ashford hit safely to right, advancing Garcia and Shoemaker; Morgan to base on balls, scoring Garcia. Estes hit to Raymer, who threw wild at home to prevent Ashford scoring; Wynkoop hit a corker to band stand, scoring Morgan and Estes; Zinsser to base on balls; Tapia hit to Raymer, and Wynkoop went out at third; Hill drove a fly to center, scoring Zinsser; Garcia hit to Vorhes, safe at first, and scoring Tapia; Shoemaker ended the agony and game by a slow grounder to Pitcher McDonald and out at first.

The score in tabular form is as follows:

ALBUQUERQUES.	R.	O.
Vorhes, 2b	3	1
R. McDonald, p	3	2
Herbert, 1b	2	3

SHORT NOTES.

As usual, half a dozen old professionals occupied prominent standing room among the crowd.

Holland and C. McDonald, for the Albuquerques, got in two two-baggers each, and Morgan, of the visitors, one.

The Athletics put up a stiff game, and although uphill, came very near winning out.

Considerable money changed hands, Albuquerque being the favorite on defeating their opponents five or more runs, which the score tells a different tale.

The umpires were slightly off in some of their decisions, but as a rule very good and impartial.

A careful reading of the details of the game will show where the Albuquerques are woefully weak, and they gave Pitcher McDonald wretched support.

Catcher McDonald is a wonder, and throws to bases like a veteran. He is like his brother—an all-round good player.

Herbert will surprise the fans at the bat before the season is over. He was annoyed considerably yesterday by outsiders telling him what to do; likewise the other players.

Richard Powers scored for the Albuquerques and John Conklin for the visitors.

A SANITARIUM.

Las Vegas Raises the Money for Dr. Gentry.

Special to Citizen.

Las Vegas, April 30.—At a meeting of the Citizens' club last night, a committee who had been appointed to see Dr. Gentry and find if arrangements could be made with him to move his national sanitarium to this place, reported that the doctor found Fort Union too isolated and lacking in all modern conveniences and facilities for transportation and communication to suit his needs, and that if the citizens would loan him what money he had expended at that place, he would make arrangements to come here. The doctor was present and spoke in regard to the matter, and also as to his methods of treatment, and that he believed Las Vegas had advantages for invalids that could be found nowhere else in America. The club appointed a committee at once to secure the money the doctor asked. Diamond lodge No. 4, A. O. U. W., at once put down $100. One-third of the money was put up before the club adjourned. The balance will be raised to-day.

Nothing Like Knowing.

Are you sure the kidneys are not the cause of your trouble? In hundreds of cases the patients are treated for other diseases, when a simple kidney remedy would have cured them. It is worth your while to find out, and a trial package of Oregon Kidney Tea costs only 25 cents.

It is strictly vegetable and can do you no harm, and our opinion is, it is the medicine you need. Sold by all druggists.

Burglar Killed.

Chicago, April 30.—In attempting to arrest three unknown colored burglars at the corner of Spring and State streets late last night Officer Golden shot and killed one instantly, after he had been twice wounded, and Officer Mclermott narrowly escaped a mortal wound in the abdomen. The wounds were the result of a fusilade between the colored men, each of whom was armed, and the officers. Two colored men who seemed to be unharmed, escaped.

Invest Your Change

A silver quarter is about as much as some people care to invest in medicine for immediate use. Spend this sum for a package of Simmons Liver Regulator, powder. It's the woman's friend—cures Sick Headache in the right way, and quickly, too; just as good for Biliousness.

Missouri Democrats for Silver

Jefferson City, Mo., April 30.—Thirty-five of the fifty-eight democratic members of the state house representatives in caucus late last night adopted a resolution favoring the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. The vote stood ayes 22, nays 9, not voting 4. The caucus precipitated a discussion which will probably result in holding a state convention.

COCHITI COUNTRY!

Veins That Go Deep Into Earth and Are True Fissures.

With Outcrops That Stand Out Boldly for Two or Three Miles.

And in Places Are From Thirty to Forty Feet Wide.

THE SAY OF AN OLD MINER.

Col. F. A. Blake, the old newspaper writer and miner, whom THE CITIZEN interviewed yesterday, recently prepared several articles on the Cochiti country, and among them was the subjoined article, which is clipped from the Denver, Colo., Mining Record:

Bland City, N. M., April 21.—The ore-bearing porphyritic rocks of various types show up here miles in extent, forming high mountain peaks and ridges, cut deep in various directions by canons and gorges, formed by the recent erosion of the softer parts of these rocks by flood waters and streams. Prior to the erosion that formed these canons in some places by volcanic action, great breaks occur, opening deep crevices into the interior of the earth through these upper ore-bearing rocks. Through these crevices vast masses of molten volcanic rock matter is pushed up, and, in places, overflows and covers the porphyritic rock with a capping, where it is solidified and now appears in the form of non ore-bearing rock of a volcanic basaltic character. It was probably during the second upheaval of these volcanic rocks that the rents and great crevices were formed, caused by earthquake motions; they now appear in the older porphyritic rocks which were ore-bearing.

The crevices broke through the porphyritic rock in a northerly direction and now appears as true fissure ore bearing mining veins. The vein filling of these fissures, or earthquake-formed cracks, must have been derived from the surrounding rocks through the action of very hot waters which dissolve a very large percentage of silica together with the ores of gold, silver and other rock material which, while in solution, were carried by the water into these veins or crevices and there left to harden and crystallize into the form of vein matter now to be seen after the water evaporated.

If these facts, briefly presented, are true, then it is safe to conclude that the veins, whether barren or rich in ores, go deep into the earth, and are true fissures of great extent instead of surface contraction cracks or shattered cracks in the rocks of slight extent and depth.

Now, let us see what the facts present, so far as development has gone in on some of the principal veins and prospects, and those also, that can be determined by nature's digging through the erosion by water hundreds of feet deep down across some of these veins to the bottom of the deepest canons.

Some of the principal veins show their vein ore-bearing matter cropping boldly in places, one, two and three miles in length, north and south, the vein matter being largely hard, whitish, chrystalline quartz, in which the valuable ores are disseminated. This was not so easily attacked by the elements and eroded away as was the softer country rock on either side. So in some places it stands out in ridges ten or fifteen feet above the enclosing walls and from ten to fifteen or more feet in thickness.

This vein matter, sometimes, in places, reaches a width between its walls, of from thirty to forty feet.

The pay ore so far as developed show on the surface, and in the Crown Point, Lone Star, Washington, Albemarle and other prominent prospects, is irregularly distributed throughout the quartz and other gangue matter of the veins. In places it is found well concentrated and in others thin or lean.

Enough work has been done to prove that the rich ores are continuous, amply rich and abundant enough, in proportion to the whole of the vein matter that must be moved during the exploring work, to warrant rich returns for the most extensive development.

Smelter returns show a general average of 25 to 35 per cent. gold, the balance silver. Specimen assay samples have run very high, but the average smelter returns so far, for assorted ores shipped, appears to be from $80 to $100 per ton; ores taken out of all of the principal prospects ranging from $20 to $40 per ton, are not being shipped at present. Hundreds of tons of such ores can be seen on the dump of the Crown Point, Lone Star and Albemarle, or where much work has been done.

So far as working depth has been reached the combination of the gold and silver ores, with other mineral compounds, makes them better adapted to smelting processes than free milling, but there are some strong indications that as considerable depth is reached in all of the mines, the tendency of the ores will be to become more concentrated from the balance of the vein matter and also toward a free milling character.

In the lower workings of the Lone Star I found, by panning, an average of more than twice as much free gold from specimens than from the upper ones, over 100 feet above.

In the Albemarle, which shows to have been dug down by nature to the bottom of a canon 500 feet at least below the workings of the Lone Star, I panned free gold, which ran high from all parts of the vein matter.

The Albemarle is one of the largest veins, two and a half miles south of the Lone Star, and its vein matter crops out at that point fifteen feet above its wall rocks and is fourteen feet thick.

The Washington is another location on one of these great veins, and at the point where I found work was being done the ores seemed to be much more evenly distributed throughout the entire vein matter than it was in some the others so far.

It is unreasonable to expect that all of the many locations on the numerous veins that crop out in this district would prove to contain ores abundant and rich enough, if opened up, to make them great, workable, shipping mines, but the evidence presented now is that a large number of them will do so in time, and that in places bonanzas will be found in addition to the regular uniform amounts extracted as exploration progresses. In any event it is safe to state to the world that New Mexico has a mining camp in the Cochiti mountains that will prove in the years to come as durable and profitably productive as any that one that has been yet found in any state or territory in the Rocky mountains.

Lucky Democratic Criminal.

The luckiest criminal ever sentenced to the New Mexico penitentiary seems to be S. M. Folsom, president of the defunct Albuquerque National bank, who is now out on bail, his case having been carried up to the United States district court of appeals. The court of appeals certified his case up to the United States supreme court, and a day or two ago that tribunal advanced it on the docket and directed that it be heard on briefs next October. So Folsom remains out of the penitentiary at the present time, and until that time, at least, Louisburg, Jr., Esq.

Official Call for the Fourth National Irrigation Congress.

By the authority of the national executive committee, the Fourth National Irrigation Congress is hereby called to meet in the city of Albuquerque, New Mexico, for the four days beginning September 17, 1895.

The present year is proving to be the most remarkable in the history of American irrigation. It has been a wonderful awakening of popular interest in the cause throughout the east, resulting in the organization of most potential forces for the purpose of cooperating with the western people; the enactment of well considered irrigation laws in eight states, and the creation of administrative systems in five of them; the recognition of the pressing nature of the problem by the departments of interior and of agriculture, under whose direction a national board of irrigation has been formed, being officials in various departments of the government.

These splendid evidences of the triumphant progress of the irrigation cause demand a large, representative and effective session of the Irrigation Congress in 1895. A further reason for such a gathering is the fact that the presidential campaign of 1896 will be inaugurated previous to the assembling of another session of this body, so that it is the time necessary to formulate at Albuquerque the demands which the friends of irrigation will desire to make upon the great political parties of the nation.

In view of the nature of the opportunity, a program of extraordinary variety, interest and importance will be arranged, and it is anticipated that this session of the congress will be more widely useful than the previous conventions at Salt Lake in 1891, at Los Angeles in 1893, and at Denver in 1894. The friends of irrigation throughout the United States for to-day the movement is national in its scope and interest—should unite in an effort to obtain a worthy result at Albuquerque.

BASIS OF REPRESENTATION.

In accordance with a resolution of the Third National Irrigation congress at Denver, Colorado, September 8, 1894, the Fourth National Irrigation congress will be composed as follows:

1. All members of the national executive committee.

2. All members of state and territorial irrigation commissions.

3. Five delegates at large to be appointed by their respective governors, for each of the following states and territories: Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

4. Three delegates at large for each state and territory not heretofore enumerated, to be appointed by the governor of said states or territories, or in the case of the District of Columbia, by the president.

5. One delegate each from regularly organized irrigation, agricultural and horticultural societies, and societies of engineers, irrigation companies, agricultural colleges and commercial bodies.

6. Duly credited representatives of any foreign nation or colony, each member of the United States senate and house of representatives, and each governor of state or territory will be admitted as honorary members.

The use of proxies and the manner of casting the vote of delegations will be regulated in accordance with a resolution adopted at Denver and printed on page 98 of the official report of that meeting. By order of the National Executive Committee.

WM. E. SMYTHE, Chairman.
FRED. L. ATKINS, Secretary.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

As will be seen by notice elsewhere in this paper Rohrs & Pratt, of which D. H. Rohrs, the senior member of the firm, died in February of the present year, will close their retail coal yard to-morrow, May 1st, preparatory to going out of business. Mr. Pratt will attend to the settling of the affairs of the firm and will remain with the Crescent Coal company at their home office in this city, where he has been employed for the past five years.

A committee from the Gentlemen's Driving association started out with a subscription paper yesterday afternoon, and in two hours' time had secured $485. This is good work, and shows that Albuquerque is alive when it comes to giving up to enterprises that will bring visitors to the metropolis. Secretary Crawford informs THE CITIZEN that the success of the spring races is now assured.

Thomas Kelly, the hobo who stole a pair of pants from Webb's Bargain store and who was captured, fighting and kicking his way along the route until thrown into a cell at the city jail, was on yesterday sent over to the county jail for sixty days. Kelly is becoming a great nuisance to the police, this being the second time they have had to pull the obstreperous tramp.

Mrs. Clara Cutter, the competent hospital nurse at the Indian school, enjoyed a birthday party at the school last night, at which all the employees of the school participated in the pleasures. Dancing was kept up until 11 o'clock and elegant refreshments were served. Dr. Mahaffey and wife, of the city, attended, and it is said the doctor was as giddy as the young.

Wm. Harold, W. J. Morton, John Scranton and John Thompson, four hobos, were up before Justice Crawford this morning and sent to the chain gang for ten days each. Morton and Scranton were identified as two of the tramps who called at Mrs. Hartnett's last Sunday and scared that lady into giving them something to eat.

The "ice cream opening" at Mrs. Fetters' last evening was a genuine success and a magnificent blow out, although the weather was chilly. The Indian school brass band rendered the music, and the members all enjoyed a nice dish of ice cream.

A cup of Parks' Tea at night moves the bowels in the morning without pain or discomfort. It is a great health giver and blood purifier. Sold by Dr. H. Burgess & Son.

Superintendent McKinley, of the government Indian school, went out to Gallup last night.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canaseraga, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykman, druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at Dr. T. H. Burgess & Son's, drug store. Regular size 50c and 1.00.

COCHITI GOLD DISTRICT.

Facts About One of the Important Enterprises Under Way.

THE BLAND TUNNEL COMPANY.

Among the big enterprises of the district is the Bland tunnel. This enterprise was started August 6th, 1894, and, when completed, will extend 2,500 feet through the cone of Gold Hill, tapping at about right angles, and at a depth of about 900 feet below the surface the great ledges that crop out at the apex of the mountain. The tunnel was begun in the porphyry formation at a point on the west bank of Puerco canon, 900 feet above the creek bed, at the town of Bland, and will terminate about fifty feet above the bed of the creek in Colla canon. On the apex of this hill are located the celebrated Washington, Sunny South, North Star, Lone Star, King Solomon, Last Chance No. 2, Iron Queen, Corona and No Name mines. The tunnel side is 1,000 feet in length by 1,500 feet in width, virtually forming a consolidation of these claims, besides the many blind leads and mineral deposits that may be encountered in the progress of the work.

Gold Hill apex, on which the Washington mine is situated, is 1,500 feet from the town of Bland, and the ledge will be intersected by the tunnel at a depth of about 900 feet from the surface. The Washington ledge is on the highest peak in the mineral belt, and it is claimed by many to be the mother lode of the district. This ledge is likened to a mammoth spider, from whose head and tail the other numerous ledges of great value radiate.

By constant work up to the middle of March the Bland tunnel was driven 480 feet. It is seven feet high, seven feet at the base and six and a half feet across the top, and is designed to accommodate a double track. The company has a complete working outfit, with cars and track in place. Preparations are now being made to resume active operations next month, when machinery for necessary ventilation will be put in. So far two blind leads have been encountered, one at 52 feet and the other at 150 feet from the mouth of the tunnel, each showing the characteristic quartz formation of the district. It is believed that within 150 feet the Iron Queen ledge will be cut, the Last Chance No. 2 at 250 feet more, and that at 500 feet more the drills will pierce the great Washington ledge, in which the recent big free gold strike has been made.

The Bland tunnel is the grandest enterprise undertaken in the district, for it will definitely demonstrate how much the great veins on Gold Hill will increase in richness as depth is gained, and it will confirm the theory that many blind leads much richer than those exposed underlie the hill. The completion of the tunnel will enhance the value of the Colla canon and Peralta canon mines by guaranteeing to their owners a good outlet for their product; and above all, it will tap the greatest known mineral veins of the Cochiti district at a depth of nearly 1,000 feet from the surface.

It is an enterprise that means much to the community generally and it deserves to be helped along by our citizens. The officers of the company are: W. W. Strong, president; F. H. Mitchell, vice president; M. L. Cole, treasurer, and M. L. Chase, secretary.

A Hop, Skip and Jump

An athletic caper of this sort would scarcely be considered indecorous in one, even of mature age and sedate habits, impelled thereto by excess of joy on recovering his digestion through the instrumentality of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, foremost among remedies for dyspepsia, biliousness and constipation, a trio of evils usually found in conjunction with each other. As the stomach recovers its tone, and the gastric juices are secreted in healthful plentitude through the agency of this superb restorative, nerve tranquility, appetite and sleep return, the body gains in substance and the muscles in vigor. For the prevention and cure of malarious, rheumatic and kidney trouble the Bitters is a most direct and thoroughgoing medicinal agent. Its effects are speedily felt and comprehensive.

Folsom Arrested.

S. M. Folsom, of the Albuquerque National bank and the New Mexico Savings Bank and Trust company, two institutions that closed doors in this city and made times hard, arrived last night from Chicago, and as he stepped off the train Deputy United States Marshal Knight placed him under arrest upon indictments found against him by the recent United States grand jury. F. W. Clancy, attorney, and W. P. Metcalf, regular bondsman, were present to render the banker any assistance. This arrest was expected, and a bond had been arranged, which was accepted. Mr. Folsom remains in the city to-day, leaving this evening for California.

The bondsmen on this bond are W. S. Hopewell, of Sierra county, and E. A. Cahoon, brother-in-law of Mr. Folsom, of Roswell, Neill B. Field signing as attorney in fact for the bondsmen. The bond calls for $8,000, and was approved this morning by Judge Collier.

Grant County Interested.

It is certain that there will be a large attendance at the irrigation congress to be held at Albuquerque next September. Already extensive preparations have been made for advertising the congress and very low rates on all the railroads will be given. People will attend from all parts of the country and it will be to the interest of the people of this county to have a creditable exhibition of the products of the county at Albuquerque during the session of the congress. An attempt might also be made to get one of the proposed excursions to come here.—Silver City Eagle.

A New Musical Organization

The Indian Quartette is an organization of four of our Albuquerque young ladies. The first soprano is Miss Edna Mills, whose voice gives promise of a great future. The second soprano is Miss Grace Hawks, who made her debut as a singer before Albuquerque people as Bettina in the opera La Mascotte, last year, and whose sweet mezzo soprano voice surprises even her best friends. The first alto, Miss Grace Nettleton, is the happy possessor of a very sweet voice and is a very good musician. The second alto, Miss Ruth Jenks, is one of the best quartette singers in Albuquerque and has had great experience in this particular line. These young ladies are under the direction of Mr. Dupuy, and will make their debut in a concert in the near future.

DISTRICT COURT.

A Young Murderer on Trial for His Life.

Case 2,304, Wm. Strickland vs. F. A. Blake, assignee, to the money in deposit of the stock in the De Mier Ex. D. Trade School service. Trial and verdict for the defendant, resulting in a verdict for the defendant on the issues.

Case of Jesus Yrisarri, Pedro Miguel Montoya, appeal to justice of the peace, in which a set off was made by defendant. Judgment for defendant for $[illegible].

Case of the Territory vs. Juan Antonio Lucero y Pena, charged with the murder of Demetrio Sanchez on the 26th of January last, at the town of Bernalillo. A unique case, to be sure, and the defendant is at work of securing an acquittal, or, if he try the defendant for a crime in which the death penalty must be inflicted if a verdict of guilty be rendered, is dragging its weary way along. The murderer is a young beardless lad, probably 18 years old, but he possesses a mean countenance. The story of the killing, how he was put out of the Sanchez home for his insults, and then went to his house, where he secured a pistol, and how he crept up to his victim, unaware, and then fired the fatal shots, was told at the time in the columns of THE CITIZEN.

WATER STORAGE.

A Splendid Enterprise in Western Valencia County.

Hon. Amado Chaves, superintendent of public instruction, has just returned from western Valencia county, says the New Mexican, where he has been on official business for several days. He reports that the Blue Water company has met with great success in the construction of their big reservoir. The dam has new back of it seven miles of water about twenty feet deep. The company has 200 men at work breaking land, planting, putting up fences and constructing ditches. Some 2,000 acres are already planted and several thousand more will be put under cultivation. The most improved machinery is being used and all kinds of grain is being planted. The enterprise seems to be in the hands of plucky and practical men, who are about to turn a barren waste into a perfect garden. Arrangements are being made to set out orchards of the best fruits from the very start. This enterprise has been a God send to hundreds of native people who have found employment with good wages in these hard times.

Wheat Market.

Chicago, April 30.—Wheat started weak today. Rains, the big north western receipts, large European supplies and the publication of a San Francisco story that six and a half millions of wheat were to be sold today, all affected the market. July opened ¼ lower at 64¼, sold to 64½, advanced to 65¼, reacted to 64¼. Corn and oats were easy with wheat.

Indian Supplies.

Chicago, April 30.—Bids for over half a million dollars' worth of Indian supplies were opened to-day at the United States warehouse. The list of goods required filled twenty pages of printed matter, and the bids were so numerous that the task of opening and indexing them will occupy the entire day. The big items include 25,000,000 pounds of beef and 9,000,000 pounds each of flour, pork and bacon. Commissioner Gregory will commence on the awards to-morrow.

Van Slyck Blanchard.

H. S. Van Slyck, general agent of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad company, leaves to-night for Chicago, where he will be married to Mrs. Dell V. Blanchard, formerly of this city, the ceremony to take place at the residence of the bride's brother, W. B. Hennessheets, on Friday evening, May 3. Mr. and Mrs. Van Slyck will not return to the city for at least ten days. The best wishes of THE CITIZEN go with a company the general railroad agent to Chicago this evening.

Reunion of Blue and Grey.

New York, April 30.—The blue and the grey will commingle this evening at the Lenox lyceum, when Secretary of State John Palmer, ex-commander-in-chief of the Grand Army will introduce Judge Roger A. Pryor, the noted lawyer and ex-confederate general, to deliver an oration on George Washington. Colonel James Tanner will also speak on "Home, Country and Flag." The celebration is under the National Providence union.

Costly Diadem.

Rome, April 30.—King Humbert and Queen Margharita have given an order to a Turin jeweler for a magnificent diadem in pearls and diamonds, to cost 100,000 francs. This will be their joint present to the Princess d'Orleans on the occasion of her approaching marriage with the Duc d'Aosta.

Arrest of an Embezzler.

New York, April 30.—A dispatch from London says the steamship Tartar Prince, from Buenos Ayres, having on board Jabez Balfour, the ex-member of parliament who was the principal in the wrecking of the Liberator Building society and a number of other kindred organizations, and who fled to the Argentine republic to escape prosecution, is expected to arrive at Southampton within the next three days. At the instance of the government the police authorities have taken extraordinary precautions to surround with secrecy the trip from Southampton to London, there being little doubt that an attempt would be made to lynch the prisoner if the time of his arrival in London were made public.

Murder and Suicide.

Brazil, Ind., April 30.—James Young, janitor of the court house, shot his wife at Hoosierville and then drove to the court house and shot himself dead.

C. R. Gantling, general manager of the Springer Cement company, of Springer, N. M., is in the city on business.

The territorial board of immigration will meet in this city on the 11th of May.
