Gallup Gleanings.

Gallup, Jan. 29.—The Methodist parsonage is being built—an adobe of four rooms—for the convenience of the pastor of that congregation, being at the present time Rev. Adams, of Cerrillos.

Mr. C. W. Kennedy, general manager of the Crescent Coal company, was in Gallup, at the Hotel Page, sick. But to the great relief of his many friends he was reported better today, and returned to Albuquerque on the afternoon train. Mr. Wiley Weaver and Mrs. Kennedy were with him.

Mr. Brouaet, foreman of the dry goods department of the Crescent Commissary, is ill at Mrs. Riley's with pneumonia. He is recovering to the gratification of his friends.

The ladies of the Congregational Mission society were very successful in the management of a supper given on the 20th for the benefit of their church. They served a dainty and yet substantial supper from 5 till 9 o'clock.

Mrs. E. Harlem, the superintendent of the Episcopal sunday school, is preparing an entertainment to raise funds with which to run the school. It is to be the presentation of that popular comedy The Deacon's Story of Fifty Years Ago. Mr. T. A. Hood being "The Master," Mr. W. Williams one of the "committee men," etc.

I read the special edition of the Gleaner a dainty, but a sunflower, and a credit to the editor as well as the city in general.

The people of the high school are led by their teacher are arranging for a pleasing entertainment in the near future to raise money for some much needed apparatus to be used in the school room.

Mr. Amory Sayre, for a time in Columbia, also Mr. W. W. Foster. The wheeling season will soon be here.

The G. I. and H. associations are thinking of presenting a new play in place of Ours, The Colonel, which was abandoned because a traveling troupe gave it.

The Inchanogue, which has several incidents much like these in the one they had prepared.

Gallup needs still another teacher in her schools but cannot do everything at once. We have a fine building now, one special edition of Gleaner, and the rest will follow in time.

If any person overhears our boys and girls indulging in comical conversation they are to start in talks. They are only rehearsing for the new play.

Mr. Hughes is not alone. In Kansas they indicted a man for contempt of court because he wouldn't drink a glass of beer. W. H.

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Iowa, says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself with results entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others on every occasion that presents itself." Pillsbury & Walton.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT

We Receive the Right to Criticise When It Is Absolutely Deserved.

They came, they played, they sang, but they did not conquer. Still, it was a good entertainment in part. Mme. Aramenti may have been a prima donna soprano, but many years ago, and before the public taste was cultivated to so high a degree. In places where there are fewer critics and less local talent her style and manner may please, but it did not charm the large and cultured audience which greeted the madame last evening.

The ability of Miss Celia Schiller as a pianist was slightly overestimated, but due allowance must be made for the low grade piano used, which was the best that could be obtained for the occasion.

The violinist, Victor Kuzdo, certainly acquitted himself with credit, and in a measure made up for the other artists. The hearty applause and glowing tributes were justly deserved, for in his hands the violin became a living reality, and fairly entranced his listeners.

The manager of the course, in his desire to have a full attendance of season ticket holders and particularly after the glowing accounts of their success and achievements in the west, may have been a little too sanguine in indorsing the company as a whole, but it was done in good faith, believing the organization was first-class in every particular. From personal letters of indorsement and invitations to reappear next season in her possession, Mme. Aramenti either did not not do herself justice here, or we are many years ahead of our California, Oregon and Washington friends when it comes to our opinion of the relative merits of musical organizations.

Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers can be applied when at home, and is uniformly successful in coloring a brown or black. Hence its great popularity.

It is learned this afternoon that the railroad officials intend to adopt some plan to prevent water from the Pullman coaches being thrown upon passengers who alight from the coaches and desire to take a brief promenade up and down the platform.

Among the interested mining men in town are Col. H. L. McKinney and J. J. Taylor of the famous Star mine at Bell canyon. The Star and Milagras conditions is the biggest proposition on earth in regard to free milling gold ore.

Fred Fornell, city marshal, who was summoned to Springer as a witness in the case against "Kid" McPherson, returned last night. He states that the "Kid," who is a young desperate character, was found guilty.

R. S. Young, the new pastor of the Baptist church, arrived this morning, and after a few days will be found at 621 south Edith street. He is being introduced around by S. W. Alger this afternoon.

One Minute Cough Cure touches the right spot. It also touches it at the right time if you take it when you have a cough or cold. See the point? Then don't cough. Pillsbury & Walton.

Wiley M. Weaver reports Chas. W. Kennedy, who suffered a stroke of paralysis at his Gallup mine, the other day, is better today, and able to move his left leg and hand.

Wm. Arthur states that he and not Wm. Wickham, as erroneously quoted in last night's CITIZEN, has signed the contract for the Crystal Ice Company's building.

CONVICT COOPER SHOT.

He Made a Desperate Break for Liberty from the Penitentiary.

Last night, while the convicts employed at the capital grounds were marching in close order to the penitentiary, and when opposite the house of Ignacio Coriz, on the west corner of Manhattan avenue and Railroad avenue, leading to Lowell, convict No. 806, named John Cooper, made a desperate attempt to regain his freedom, says the New Mexican. Breaking from the ranks, he dashed headlong through a hallway entered the yard beyond, vaulted over a board fence into an adjoining orchard, and was ready to repeat the performance, regardless of the repeated commands of the foreman and guards to "stop," when the shot-gun of a guard brought about the desired result.

The flying convict literally got it in the neck, one buck-shot passing through the fleshy part of his shoulders a little below the spot usually located by phrenologists as the "bump of adhesiveness."

This timely shot, although not inflicting serious wounds, proved most potent in its influence upon the unruly convict. He stopped running. In a few days he will be all right when the chance to escape from the work gang will again be afforded him.

Cooper was sentenced last November in Chaves county to imprisonment for six months in the penitentiary for horse stealing. He is a very young man but of land experience in the art of jail breaking. He is also an adept in the usage of what might be called cultivated profanity. While in jail at Roswell, awaiting trial, he made two attempts to escape, and tried the very same game last December in the penitentiary.

Convict Cooper hails from Mulvale, Mo. His parents, as is usual, are represented to be very respectable and, of course, good Christian people.

Since the above was written information has reached that Miss Trujillo, sister-in-law of Mr. Larkin G. Read, was struck in the side of the head by one of the buck shots and knocked down. This shot, however, produced no more serious result than a bruise on the lady's cheek.

THAT SCREEN LIGHT

The secretary of the Surplus Light Distributing association, of Santa Fe, has a communication to the association's Albuquerque organ this morning. He first denies Jim CITIZEN's statements about the light, claims it back and then admits them in detail. He admits that the board purchased a lot of old machinery from one of its members, but he forgets to say that the price paid was a little more than twice as much as the same old stuff had been offered for about a year before. He says the territorial legislature authorized the construction of an electric light plant at the prison, but he neglects to say that the principal purpose of the appropriation was the construction of a terra cotta plant, while the light machinery was to be merely incidental. He admits that the whole appropriation has been exhausted in buying the old machinery, above mentioned, from one of the members of the board, and fitting up the light outfit, but he hasn't a single word to say about the terra cotta plant. That's clearly an oversight.

But we are sorry to see that the secretary becomes so deeply interested in his subject that he wanders away from the truth. He says: "We have asserted that 'this is a job on the part of the prison authorities to furnish Santa Fe free electric lights at the expense of the territory.' We did not, nor intimate anything of the sort. On the contrary, we stated distinctly that the people of Santa Fe were not to be permitted to share the profits of the speculation, but were to be held up on the one hand, while the territory was held upon the other. That it was to be, in short, a double hold up, that the light to be stolen from the people of the territory at large, was then to be sold to the people of Santa Fe at full rates," and every word of this is practically admitted by the secretary of the association in his communication published this morning.

In the meantime, where is the terra cotta plant, which was the principal object of the legislature in making the appropriation, that the prisoners might be profitably employed without bringing their work into competition with the free labor of the territory? And how does it happen that the small electric plant which the legislature authorized just large enough to light the prison, is now found to be sufficiently powerful to light up all the prison buildings, and have enough "surplus light" left over to illuminate the whole city of Santa Fe, streets, houses and all?

Queer how some things grow, in this country, without irrigation.

It Saves the Croups Children.

SEAVIEW, Va., March 9, 1895.

We have a splendid sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and our customers coming from far and near, speak of it in the highest terms. Many would have said that their children would have died of croup if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given. KELLAM & CURRIN. For sale by Dr. L. H. Burgess & Son.

Should have been Content.

The London Times admits that "there is no particular anchitis in the Schomburgk line." That perpetuate botanist should have rested content with the discovery of the grandest flower in the world and kept out of international politics.—Globe Democrat.

Still in Progress.

The gospel meetings under Evangelist Rankin still go forward in the Congregational church. Last evening the meeting was of intense interest. Many were impressed, and Mr. Rankin spoke with such earnestness that it seemed impossible for those who listened to refuse the offer of Christ. Mr. Rankin will close his meetings Sunday night. Service this evening at 7:30. All cordially invited.

The Masquerade.

Dr. J. S. Eichelberger has received the appointment of medical examiner for the new lodge of Maccabees, which will soon be organized in this city by A. S. Knapp, deputy supreme commander from the state of Michigan. Mr. Knapp yesterday informed THE CITIZEN that he would be ready to commence the organization of the Maccabees as soon as the health certificates of applicants are acted upon by the head officials of the order at Fort Huron, Mich.

Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggist handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. Pillsbury & Walton.

Suffering from Paralysis

C. W. Kennedy who suffered a stroke of paralysis of the left side at Gallup the other day, and was brought to his Albuquerque home last evening by his wife and Wiley M. Weaver, is reported considerably better today, with fair chances of an early recovery of health again. Mr. Kennedy was shown up his coal mine and struck his head against the roof of the tunnel, which produced a peculiar feeling to his left arm. He came up to the surface, and did not feel the shock in his left leg until he had reached the town. The report that he had to be carried from the mine is altogether incorrect.

Read Ayer's Almanac, which your druggist will gladly hand you, and note the wonderful cures of rheumatism, catarrh, scrofula, dyspepsia, eczema, debility, humors, and sores, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the only Sarsaparilla admitted at the World's Fair.

MORE RAILROAD NEWS.

President Ripley Determined to Reduce Expenses in High Places.

News reached Albuquerque yesterday and was being talked about among local railroad employes, to the effect that General Manager J. J. Frey, of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company, by order of President Ripley, had notified General Superintendent Charles Dyer, of the western grand division, of the abolishment of that division of road and of his appointment to be superintendent between Dodge City and Denver. Genet at Superintendent H. L. Mudge will have charge of the territory between Dodge City and Topeka.

This new order of arrangement, which came directly from the new president of the company, will reduce Division Superintendent L. H. Sears to trainmaster at La Junta, Colo., Division Superintendent Dyer still having his office at Pueblo, Colo.

The office of the assistant superintendent of the Chicago division will be abolished, and C. E. Strohn, now holding the position, will be trainmaster at Chillicothe. Present Trainmaster Scott will be made chief dispatcher. The offices of general roadmaster of the Chicago and eastern divisions, held by E. A. Raymond and R. J. Parker, will be abolished, and the general superintendent will oversee the work.

The report from Kansas City that the railway company is about to sever the relations existing between it and the Pullman company, and to make a contract for the use of the Wagner sleepers, is pronounced untrue by the officials of the road. They affirm that no negotiations are under way, nor have they ever been under way, looking to a deal with the Wagner people. The contract with the Pullman company, which was canceled when the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad company was reorganized, was renewed temporarily. The contract at present in force can be terminated on the giving of sixty days' notice, but no such notice has been given by the road, and it is declared that there is no immediate intention of giving it.

Brought Here and Buried.

The body of Miss Ethel May Butler, whose death occurred in San Francisco last May, was brought here last night by a sister, and turned over to Undertaker Montfort who interred the remains in Fairview cemetery this afternoon, next to the grave of her father, Richard Butler, he having died in this city in 1886.

Quick in effect, heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds, old sores, it is magical in effect. Always cures piles. Pillsbury & Walton.

BLAND BUZZINGS.

Items of Interest From the Cochiti Country.

BLAND, Jan. 27, '96.

Business would be fairly active in this camp at present had it not been for the failure of Mr. Snyder, lessee of the Beckman stamp mill, to meet his obligations. This is the second time in six months that such a failure has occurred, and it works great hardships on all citizens of this place, being mutually interdependent upon each other for support. This, however, is only a temporary inconvenience, and will not retard the growth of this young camp, which will certainly win its way to the front on the strength of its own merits.

The Lone Star people have just let a contract for further development work, and are, besides, working a few men. It is confidently expected that within a short time this great mine will be employing a large number of miners, as they then will have ample room.

The Albermarle has started work with a good force preparatory to shipping ore, of which there is a large supply already on the dump.

The Washington has completed a fine large boarding house and offices on its property, and also a road from the mine to town, down which they are daily hauling high grade ore. This mine should also be able to employ a large force of men when they have the mine sufficiently developed to place them.

The Iron King and Crown Point mines are both temporarily shut down. There are rumors of sales on both these properties, but nothing official has been made public yet. The No Name has a quantity of shipping ore on its dump ready for the cars. The Union mine is being actively developed under the personal supervision of its owners, who are piling up their ore in the anticipation of more mills being erected in the near future. Very fine looking ore is being brought in frequently from Colla and Peralta canyons, where work is being vigorously pushed on a number of claims. This end of the camp will be heard from in no uncertain tones as soon as it is connected with the railroad by good wagon roads.

It is rumored that a road down Colla canyon to the river is among the near probabilities.

It is likely that several stock companies will be organized to operate in this region during 1896.

Those of Albuquerque's citizens who are interested in this camp and are anxious to see its interests promoted, might do a good deal in making its merits known outside of Bernalillo county if they would lustir themselves. BUZ.

THE SILVER ORATOR.

Ex-Congressman Bryan Passed through the Metropolis this Morning.

Hon. W. J. Bryan, ex-congressman of Lincoln, Neb., passed through the city this morning on his way to Las Vegas, where he delivers an address on "Bimetallism" this evening.

Mr. Bryan was seen at the depot by the CITIZEN's representative, and he stated that he "found, on his visit to Roswell and Eddy, one of the greatest irrigated valleys—that of the Pecos, and was astonished at the plans and the immense water system of that valley."

The distinguished silver orator lectured at Phoenix, Arizona, on Monday night, and, speaking about the Salt river valley, said "he never saw a valley so well adapted to irrigation." He also considers Phoenix as having a bright and prosperous future.

He expects to visit Santa Fe to-morrow, but will not lecture there, confining on over the narrow gauge and the Denver & Rio Grande to Denver.

Marvelous Results

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery, it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in its results." Trial bottles free at Pillsbury & Walton. Regular size are 50c and $1.

New Mexico for Consumptives.

"Every man, woman and child who has phthisis in its early stage should at once go to the best climate this country furnishes."—S. W. Strickler, Medical Journal.

"The change to the southwest has given the best results in the largest number of cases of lung disease. The Pacific coast and Florida have been disappointing, except for certain cases. There is too much moisture, and the eyes of all have been turned to the southwest."—New England Medical Gazette.

"The high interior of our continent comprised in the great table-land extending from the Great Divide in Colorado, through New Mexico, is not excelled anywhere in the world as a resort for consumptives. The altitude, the dryness, the purity of atmosphere, and the large amount of ozone it contains, combine to create conditions very favorable to the recovery from phthisis."—Dr. Gatchell, in the Medical Era.

"I think that New Mexico surpasses any locality for consumptives I have yet visited, and I have been all over California, Colorado, the south, the Sandwich islands and Europe. I am decidedly of the opinion that this region is, for consumptives, superior to any other part of the United States or the world, of which I have any practical knowledge." J. F. Danter, M. D., M. C. P., in Medical Visitor.

Died Near Home.

Dr. J. F. Pearce, who accompanied Carl Alther, a consumptive, back to the latter's home at Warsaw, Wis., has returned. The doctor states that the patient stood the ride over the Glorietta and Raton mountains without any apparent exhaustion, and was getting along splendidly until within about thirty miles of his home, when he died. "It was a sad death," remarked the doctor, "for the young man knew that he would not live long, but he was anxious to reach home and say farewell to all his home folks. He died gazing his eyes in death."

District Court.

Thos. M. Michaels vs. Crown Point Mining Co. et al. Warren, Fergusson & Gillette entered appearance for the defendant.

Henry Lockhart vs. J. Q. Wills et al. Death of defendant Lee Walker suggested by Warren, Fergusson & Gillette. Appearance for heirs and administrator of Lee Walker entered by W. C. Heacock.

Wm. Fraser vs. Oberne Sales, dismissed.

Wm. Fraser vs. Pedro Sales, continued by consent.

The board of education of the city of Albuquerque vs. Martin P. Stamm, et al, dismissed.

F. Frank vs. W. F. Bledsoe, assumpsit, is being tried by jury.

Geo. C. E. Culley was admitted to citizenship.

St. Valentine Entertainments

Yesterday, THE CITIZEN made mention of the fact that the young ladies of the Catholic church were arranging to give a ball at the Armory hall on St. Valentine's day, Feb. 14, and to-day THE CITIZEN is requested to state that the guild of St. John's Episcopal church will give a valentine party on St. Valentine's eve, Feb. 13. Articles will be placed on exhibition for sale, a musical program rendered, and a supper. Guests will be received by the Guild members in colonial costume.

R. C. Gortner, of the law office of Catron & Spiess, Santa Fe, is in the metropolis to-day.
