ALBUQUERQUE, JUNE 13, 1896.

TRISCO'S NEW PRESIDENT.

D. B. Robinson to Leave the Santa Fe to Accept the Place.

The Kansas City Star [illegible] that D. B. Robinson [illegible] will resign [illegible] to assume the presidency of the St. Louis & San Francisco road.

D. B. Robinson [illegible] the Santa Fe railway [illegible] accepted a position as president of the St. Louis & San Francisco railway. The sale of the Trisco property takes place in St. Louis on June 25, under decree of the federal court, and it is expected that the new company will take possession on July 1, which the new fiscal year will begin. There were three names prominently mentioned in connection with the new presidency, viz., D. B. Robinson, the late president, Colonel A. Leslie Moore, of the Atlantic & Pacific, and Mr. [illegible] a personal friend of President Cleveland. Upon whom the choice will fall [illegible] Mr. Robinson [illegible] Mr. Cook [illegible] Manager Morse will be continued in that position to President Robinson.

It is probable that with Mr. Robinson as president [illegible] that Mr. Cook will be changed. The Dry Goods Reporter of Texas [illegible] Mr. Robinson [illegible]

Major W. H. H. Llewellyn, secretary of the New Mexico delegation to the St. Louis convention, will reach the city from Las Cruces this evening. The special car for the delegates will be attached to the north bound No. 2 passenger from Deming.

Ralph Cameron of Flagstaff and Col. Christy of Phoenix, two Arizona delegates to the St. Louis republican convention, passed through the city for St. Louis last night. They were requested to stop over and join the New Mexico delegation this morning, but declined.

H. T. McKinney and J. J. Taylor, drove in from the Bell ranch mining district late yesterday afternoon, and remained for the evening at the McKinney ranch south of the city. They report the mines looking up nicely in the district and state that there will become a rush in a short time, they say.

S. G. Zimmerman has resigned his position as stenographer in the passenger department of the Santa Fe in Topeka to accept a similar position in the passenger department of the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix railway at Prescott. Mr. Zimmerman will pass through Albuquerque tomorrow morning for Prescott.

Sheriff Chas. Ilfeld of Chaves, one of the delegates of that county to the Las Vegas democratic territorial convention, J. L. Leon, delegate to the states models for the counties of Lincoln, Eddy and Chaves, and E. E. Crooks, arrived in the city last night and are among Albuquerque friends today. They leave this morning for Las Vegas.

W. A. Williams, student at the Berkeley, Cal., university, son of Col. W. W. Williams, of the Socorro Chieftain, was introduced at THE CITIZEN office this morning. Both father and son met here last night, the former arriving from the south and the latter from the west. Col. Williams leaves this evening for the St. Louis convention, from which city he will write his editorials for the next issue of the Chieftain.

NEW MEXICO NUGGETS.

The people of La Belle are making up a fund for the erection of a mill in that camp and will soon demonstrate that they have one that will pay.

Many cars of cattle went through Rincon the past week.

The river is dry below Rincon, but plenty of water for irrigating is reported at Doña Ana.

A party by the name of Antonio Olivas, writes to La Voz del Pueblo, from Hot Springs, a two-column article, claiming that Billy Green was in that place after he was supposed to have been killed, and that he is still in that section, which statement, he claims, may be proved by live witnesses.

Next Sunday, June 14, is flower day at the penitentiary.

The trial of the department suits of the Anaconda mine claimants against the Lincoln Lucky Lee company continues to occupy the district court at Santa Fe.

It is probable that the present garrison at Fort Bayard will be shortly transferred to Utah, to be succeeded by companies of the 15th infantry from Fort Sheridan.

The Socorro democrats endorsed Tom Thornton and passed free silver resolutions.

W. S. Prager, of Roswell, has returned from California, where he has left his family, and the chances are that he will go into business at Los Angeles.

Prof. C. W. Ward will shortly leave Las Cruces for the City of Mexico on a sight seeing tour, and will then go to Nova Scotia for a couple of months' visit.

At Pino's wells, southeast of this city, water is scarcer than for twenty years past, and in the Montezuma district, where water has always been plentiful, the sands are as dry as a Sahara.

May Schlott, the little daughter of Chas. Schlott, was severely bitten by a cross dog belonging to Manager Brooks, of the Western Union Telegraph company.

Of Local Interest.

The Topeka Journal of June 9 contains the following items of local interest:

Mrs. Don A. Sweet, wife of the general agent of the receiver of the Atlantic & Pacific, passed through Topeka this morning in an Atlantic & Pacific special car en route from the east to Albuquerque.

J. W. Walker, chief clerk in the office of general superintendent Wells, of the Atlantic & Pacific, stopped off in Topeka yesterday on his return from the east to Albuquerque. Mr. Walker was formerly connected with the Santa Fe in the capacity of agent at Albuquerque.

Pleasant Occasion.

The home of J. W. Anderson was opened last night to the members and friends of the Epworth League of Lead Avenue M. E. church, who spent the evening in social intercourse, songs, recitations and games. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson proved able entertainers, having made every provision for the pleasure of their guests, and the enjoyment of the occasion held the company until a late hour.

He Will Make Them Suffer.

Hon. Andy Laird, of Grant county, who was in the east on important matters, passed through the city for Silver City this morning. Mr. Laird is the popular republican collector of Grant county, and during his absence some malicious enemy started the report that Mr. Laird was short in his accounts and had left the country for "keeps." The report was so absurd and ridiculous that as soon as it was published, THE CITIZEN branded it as a "lie," and this denial was followed immediately by a general denial from the deputy collector under Mr. Laird. It is a safe bet that when Mr. Laird reaches Silver City and commences his hunt for the defamers of his honesty that not one of the loud talkers will be found, and should they, he would be perfectly justifiable in letting them understand without the process of law, that he is still an honest man.

BEATS THE REED RULES.

How a Santa Fe Democratic Politician Interprets Parliamentary Law.

At one of the precinct primaries of the democratic party at Santa Fe, Sol Spiegelberg was chairman of the meeting. In this capacity he introduced some new ideas into parliamentary practice. The question was upon the necessity of polling, before the meeting, the report of a minority of a committee on credentials. Mr. Spiegelberg ruled, as he remarked, "under the circumstances I rule that everybody who knows anything about the rules of parliamentary law, know that no chairman can present to a meeting of the democratic party anything but the report of the majority. The majority report is before the meeting, and is carried, and the meeting is adjourned under the circumstances."

Just what these circumstances were, explained by this exponent of parliamentary law a little later, was the subject of the very moment when he was called upon for the ruling of a large crowd of cunningham heelers and deputies armed to the teeth and thoroughly prepared to carry out Sheriff Cunningham's program.

We don't know or care for what purpose this parliamentary practice was not only well advised, but entirely proper. Under the circumstances Chairman Spiegelberg was justifiable in letting the democratic party know that when Mr. Laird reaches Silver City and commences his hunt for the defamers of his honesty that not one of the loud talkers will be found, and should they, he would be perfectly justifiable in letting them understand without the process of law, that he is still an honest man.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

An Interesting Talk Had With Prof. R. W. D. Bryan.

Prof. R. W. D. Bryan, who was one of the orators at the commencement exercises at the Agricultural college, returned last night and from him THE CITIZEN is indebted for the following interesting interview.

The third annual commencement of the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts was held at Mesilla Park this week.

On Sunday the baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. James A. Menaul. On Monday special class exercises were held, and in the evening the students were favored with an address on the silver question by the Hon. L. Bradford Prince. On Tuesday the literary societies of the college had their annual meeting, and in the evening the graduating class was addressed by R. W. D. Bryan, of Albuquerque, New Mexico, the subject being "Life's Ideals." On Wednesday the graduating class read extracts from essays and delivered orations, and Prof. Metcalf presented the diplomas.

"The music was furnished by a very fine orchestra from El Paso.

"Every arrangement was made that would add to the comfort and pleasure of the visitors at the college.

"The McFie hall was very tastefully decorated with grasses, grains and with the college and class colors, and with emblems designated to set forth the purposes of the college.

"The exercises were largely attended and great interest manifested in the work of the college.

"The graduating class consisted of three young men and one young lady. The young men were fine manly looking fellows, and certainly gave every appearance of having profited by their college course. The essays and orations delivered by the members of the graduating class were of high order and showed faithful research and originality. The college seems to be in a very flourishing condition and certainly reflects credit upon the management of the board of regents. The people of Las Cruces manifest a justifiable pride in the institution and are looking forward to its taking a prominent place among the educational institutions of the territory.

"The names of the graduates are Alfred Moss Holt, Albert Henry Peterson, Mel Mac Gilmore and Clarence Edgar Rhodes."

Major and Mrs. E. L. Scott will hold several meetings in this city and then attend the territorial W. C. T. U. convention at Las Vegas, the 12th to 14th inclusive. Several lady delegates from Albuquerque will leave for the convention Tuesday evening next.

Do not fail to attend the last social dance of the season to-morrow evening at Prof. Wendell's dancing academy. All the favorite dances. Admission 25 cents; ladies free.

L. A. Judt, who was back on a visit to Louisville, Ky., relatives and friends, has returned to the city. He reports having a splendid time.

Mrs. Thos. E. Wade, widow of the late comedian, came in from the south last night and is registered at the Santa Fe.

J. H. Price and wife, and C. M. Fisher, of Topeka, are in the city.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. Worry and work and care and anxiety count for nothing against the monthly delight clinging to a child's little hands and the sound of its baby voice. This happy function gives to woman beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Nothing equals that—nothing can compensate for the want of it. The woman who has not borne a child has accepted one of the real functions of womanhood. Over thirty years ago the needs of women suggested to Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. The result of his study, experience by thirty years of practice, is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It serves but one purpose. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives the woman the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children, and it makes the bearing of them comparatively easy. It is sure to cure any weakness of a dangerous or peculiar to women character, such as inflammation, ulceration, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, leucorrhœa, etc. Thousands of women have been made happy by its use. Hundreds of letters like this one from

Mrs. W. P. Cain, of Clayton, Alcorn Co., Miss., testify to its wonderful curative powers. I had been sick for three years and was entirely unable to do my housework. I had no appetite, could not sleep, was nervous, had a bad cough, and was very much reduced in flesh. I had tried many medicines and doctors without any good result, when I began taking Dr. Pierce's medicines. I used three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' one bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one vial of 'Pellets.' I am now in good health, can do my housework, can sew, can walk a mile or two without fatigue, and I owe all this to your medicines. Other ladies who saw the great benefit I received from your medicines have taken them with good results. Yours truly,

Mrs. W. P. Cain
