SUPREME COURT.

The Borrego Case Will Have Another Hearing in this court.

The New Mexico supreme court met yesterday morning at its rooms with Chief Justice Smith presiding and all the associate justices present.

The case of Frank Borrego, appellant, vs. the Territory of New Mexico, appellee, from Socorro county, was set for hearing yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, but by agreement of counsel it was put off for hearing on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in order to give Mr. Catron time to prepare the brief which has been long due and which was promised the territory. The case is one of great importance to the people of this territory, and involves the validity of the law under which the territory has been prosecuting its cattle thieves for years. The case will be argued by Catron and Spence for the plaintiff in error, and by District Attorney Collier and Judge H. L. Warren and Captain Fornoff for the territory.

The case of Sophie Tetard, plaintiff in error, vs. the Territory of New Mexico, has been set for hearing on August 19.

The motion for a rehearing in the case of Frank A. Eberle, plaintiff in error, vs. Wm. Mandabach et al., defendants in error, was argued and submitted. This case was argued at the last term of the court, and the court appeared to be divided in opinion.

The case of Lee vs. Lee, involving property in the Mesilla valley, was argued. The question before the court was one of a homestead work on the mining claim, and the question was whether the land was subject to the laws of Congress or the laws of the territory. The court took the case under advisement.

The case of Wm. Rankin, plaintiff in error, vs. the Territory of New Mexico, from Socorro county, was argued by Catron and Spence for the plaintiff in error, and by District Attorney Collier and Judge H. L. Warren and Captain Fornoff for the territory.

HIGH HANDED PROCEEDINGS.

Governor Thornton Resorts to Illegal Displacement of County Officials.

A PIECE OF DIRTY POLITICS

Yesterday morning by grace of Governor Thornton, acting under the direction of New Mexico, on last Saturday afternoon removed Acheson Merrimack and Charles E. Miller, republicans, elected by the people, from their offices as county commissioners and appointed Francis E. May and James Baird to fill the vacancies thus created. From an editorial appearing in the New Mexican, we take the following reasons for this high handed proceeding:

"Owing to their official bonds being delivered under security, i. e., New Mexico sureties, owing to their attitude to the county court, most engineers months after taxes were due, because of their attitude to make affidavits as to their freedom from indebtedness to the county and territory, commissioners Miller and Merrimack, in Dona Ana county, were take this afternoon removed from office by the governor and James Baird and Francis E. May were appointed in their stead.

"The exigency which led up to this action arose in the fact that Union Raymond and Desiderio Romero, sheriff and the county treasurer, absent to appoint a better person as his successor whereas the management of the affairs pertaining to the delinquent taxes in Dona Ana county shows that that Col. F. Martinez services as sheriff are essential to the peace and welfare of the community.

"As soon as the news was received a number of the Republican leaders met in Judge Laws' office and through the removal was begun and the grounds therefor established it was decided to prepare a new bond and calls and refused same to Judge Laws. When came down from Santa Fe yesterday to appoint the bonds of the appointees. This action was taken but Judge Laws refused to approve the bonds of the commissioners elected by the people. The point on which the removal are made is not a political one, unsupported by any law. The bonds of possible, to law, in such cases only official proceedings but this was considered unnecessary. As Thornton Merrimack in Public offices an authority in no instance, save that where parties accepted upon the duties of their office cannot be ousted from their office except by judicial proceedings in the nature of a quo warranto and a judgment that they have failed to qualify. They are also authorized if they have failed to qualify to make the necessary bonds and oath of office before the forfeiture shall be declared. And by following the law Thornton would not have accomplished the result desired by his friend, A. B. Fall, that result being the removal of two honestly elected officials of Dona Ana county. Fall, as he himself acknowledges made a statement to Thornton that the county commissioners had received Sheriff Raymond's resignation, that they were about to appoint a bitter partisan meaning Hon. Martin Luhman, than whom there is no better citizen in the county, and that he, Fall, believed such an appointment would cause trouble. Therefore, solely upon presentation of belief of A. B. Fall, Thornton overrides the law and removes officials from office without granting a hearing. That crazy Dutch king, Canute, when he commanded the waves to silence, did not exceed the assumption displayed by W. L. Thornton."

Future Ball Games.

Captain Young, of the Albuquerque Browns base ball club informs THE CITIZEN that the Browns will not visit El Paso the coming Saturday, as has been announced in the El Paso papers.

He states that the Leadville Blues, on their return north from their trip to El Paso and Silver City, will stopover here again and play three games, August 21, 22 and 23.

The Friday, Saturday and Sunday following, August 28, 29 and 30, the Browns will visit El Paso and play three games with the club of that city.

THE BEET CROP.

Encouraging Reports as to Its Condition Now.

Very encouraging reports come from all parts of the Pecos valley with regard to the sugar beet crop. The farmers are carefully watching their crops and are encouraged with regard to their present condition. It can be seen that the crop is in excellent condition from the fact that ninety five per cent of all the beets sown have made a good stand.

It is especially to be desired on the part of the farmers that they cultivate their beets and keep them free from weeds. When the crop is choked with weeds the farmer loses a large per cent of his profits.

More than one half the sugar of the world is now made, it is said, from beets, and the United States pays more than one hundred million dollars yearly for foreign sugar.—Eddy Democrat.

Invited to Visit Us.

An effort is being made by the democrats, through Judge R. F. Adams, to get Senator Money, of Mississippi, now at Santa Fe, and Gov. Altgeld, of Illinois, now at Colorado Springs, Colo., to visit Albuquerque soon and address the citizens here upon the political situation. The citizens of Gallup through Hon. W. E. Kuchenbecker, have already petitioned Mr. Altgeld to visit Gallup and deliver an address. "It is almost certain," said Judge Adams this morning "that Senator Money will respond, and that he will address the people here in about eight or ten days."

FOURTH COURT

Long Jail Sentence Followed Police Court.

This morning, about 2 o'clock, "Kid" Lewis, an alleged prize fighter, brother of Billy Lewis, who is well known to the local sports, was arrested by the night force and thrown in the city jail on the charge of vagrancy. This morning at 9 o'clock the "Kid" was brought before Justice Crawford and after hearing his case, sent him to Jailer Garhart's chain gang for fifteen days.

Juan Emperando, alias "The Burro," who follows the profession of enticing little girls from their homes, was caught at his nefarious business last night and was arrested. His case was heard this morning by Justice Crawford, who sent "The Burro" to the county jail for thirty days.

Juan Duran, the justice of the peace of old town, who was arrested on the complaint of his wife, alleging that she was afraid of her husband and that she feared he would kill her and her children, had a preliminary hearing before Justice Crawford this morning. The testimony showed that Mrs. Duran, at times, drank to excess and would make a ridiculous show of herself to her neighbors. While drunk Mr. Duran would take his wife home and keep her in close confinement until she returned to her sober senses. The justice therefore dismissed the charges against Mr. Duran.

Yesterday afternoon the third trial of Harry Lang, on the charge of vagrancy came up in Justice Crawford's court before the following gentlemen, who composed the jury: M. P. Stamm, W. B. Harper, J. S. McClure, E. A. Fournier, R. E. Franklin and S. Vann. The testimony adduced shows that Lang was a civil engineer, but preferred following an unlawful occupation for a livelihood. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, and this morning Justice Crawford sent Lang to the county jail for sixty days. Lang is a partner of Trout, the alleged murderer of the Japanese woman, and is now selected by the police as a danger to society.

Plain Fact.

The intelligent thinking people of New Mexico are rapidly concluding that protection to the wool interests would be far more beneficial to the people of this territory than free silver even if were to have the most extravagant results from that movement.—Raton Range.

Back in Santa Fe.

The New Mexican says: "Hank Elder, the old time Santa Fe cracksman, who has resided in Albuquerque for several years, arrived here today with a spanking nine team and the handsomest street hack ever on our streets. Hank says he has come back to stay, and many old friends give him a hearty welcome."

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

The week ending August 1 was quite warm and more or less cloudy in most parts of the territory.

In many localities frost did light damage, occurred but in some places instantly killed.

Heavy condition gave a capacity of crop. Where there was sufficient rain fall the week was perfect for growing crops, but where there was no rain everything suffered for rain.

It is said to be well that any great extent Alfalfa was not injured with frost or heavy rainfall and taken as a whole the week results well. Corn is fast growing. The unusual rainy season in Lincoln county which is about ruin the whole springer, which is about ruin the whole springer, north, injure the range and everything suffering badly. The hard times are go rally in excellent condition and [illegible] well in most localities.

The signal bureau reports that the valley is expected to be in a very promising condition and those planted in the Santa Fe valley the crop immediate and prospects are very well. In some localities the crop is reported to be behind in percentage, though and their prospects not yet are with the be determined. The apple crop in the Santa Fe valley which bids is much better than was expected earlier in the season.

Vegetable garden are in a healthy condition and the market are well supplied with a variety of vegetables.

The fruit crop is critical from which of the very it depended, of the crop will be found in more.

Bernalillo. Chas. Grabill, second crop of alfalfa cut and with very slight factors to cut. Third crop is coming up strong with a good of occasional rains and good irrigation. Corn is generally very fine. Vineyards looking well in most localities, but other fruit is very discouraging, and in some localities not an apple can be seen. Vegetable gardens pretty fair. Precipitation this week much better than in the past. Range are in good condition and stock improved considerably. Days warm and nights becoming quite cool.

Cimarona A. M. Hollenbeck. No rain and the days have been hot and dry. Everything is beginning to need rain again. Early corn is earing and tasseling out but will be a light crop as the stalk is short and ears small.

Espanola E. A. Phillips. Days generally hot and hot. No rain in the valley but enough in the mountains to supply water for garden and trees. Corn and wheat night which a very light second crop of alfalfa is being cut.

Gallinas Springs. Jas. E. Whitmore. Week has been fine for growing crops. Some small hail with the rain last of the week but no damage done.

Las Cruces. Fabian Garcia. Weather has been quite warm and somewhat cloudy, with rain nearly every day along the foothills. The relative humidity has been above the normal and altogether the week has been very favorable to plant growth. All vegetation looking well. Grapes on the market, also melons, etc. Water continues in the acequias.

Las Vegas. Dr. E. H. Atkins. Though rather dry it has been a good week for growing crops. Corn is very promising, alfalfa second crop harvesting without loss by rain. More rain needed for prairie grass.

Los Alamos. Wm. Frank. Have had very warm weather the last week. Some small patches of wheat being cut, also some oats being cut for hay. Second crop of alfalfa is now being cut and promises to be a good average crop. Rain needed again.

Lower Penasco. H. von Bosse. The past week brought occasional rain showers, but not enough to amount to anything. Every day was partly cloudy and thunder and lightning were daily features. Crops are doing well but need rain. Stock of all kinds are fat.

Rincon. C. H. Raitt. There has been little change this week from the week preceding. Warm cloudy days with an occasional light rain. It is good growing weather and late crops and grass are getting the benefit.

Roswell. W. M. Reed. Crops doing well, having been assisted by timely rain. Sugar beets looking very well, indicating that this will be the greatest sugar producing section in America. Cattle ranges in good condition.

Shattuck's Ranch. J. S. Shattuck—Grass excellent, cattle fat and stock out look better than for ten years.

Springer. Dr. L. Hines. Very warm and dry. No water for irrigation and grass and crops drying up. There is no prospect now for grass, oats or corn.

Santa Fe. L. S. Weather Bureau. Temperature a little above the normal with some partly cloudy weather. Total rain fall for the week was 0.50 of an inch, amply sufficient to keep everything growing nicely. Very favorable week.

Valley Ranch. H. M. Strong. Weather continues clear and warm. Wheat ripe and crops doing nicely.

THAT SHOOTING!

Banal Report of the Hemingway Shooting Scrat Out.

FULL OF FALSEHOODS

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 13.—Mrs. E. C. Hemingway and Miss Hemingway, of Carrollton, Miss., sister and niece, respectively, of Senator J. Z. George of that state, passed through here today en route to Santa Fe, on an extremely melancholy mission. It was to be at the bedside of a son and brother, who was probably mortally wounded last Friday, in either a peculiarly accidental or an atrociously designed manner.

The name of the wounded man is W. S. Hemingway, 22 years old, one of the most prominent and promising lawyers of that territory. As explained by a brother of the young man here today, and made known to him by wire, Hemingway was in the midst of a stirring speech-speech before a Bryan fulmination, audience of 2,000, having just finished the following sentence, which struck in the addressed by a veiled thrust from the audience by a party as yet unknown to Evan Walsh member but despite the honest expression of the American people on the money question.

Since the indiction of the wound he has been unconscious. Hemingway went to Santa Fe some eighteen months ago. He is related to United States District attorney Wm. B. Childers, and at the meeting at which he was shot many of the prominent men of that city and county had spoken in support of the democratic national ticket. Young Hemingway is a cousin of Judge Wilson Hemingway, of Little Rock, also of the former state treasurer of Mississippi. His father, E. C. Hemingway, was United States District attorney at Santa Fe [illegible] Mar.

In commenting on the affair the New Mexican says:

"The language is strong and not almost to warranting dispatch to Associated Press in the St. Louis Republic to show the reading public of New Mexico what gross and crass falsehoods, multiplied in newspaper circulation, go to the credit and effect, also disposition, where after [illegible] time.

[illegible]

Santa Fe, N. M., Aug. 13.—The above extract is [illegible] publication of the St. Louis Republic with the comments of the New Mexican are indeed rich. While it is quite sensational and not point out wherein [illegible] statement is false, except [illegible] that the Mexican Republic is a democratic [illegible] Called United States attorney [illegible] at the time he was shot he was in Santa Fe recently but in San Miguel county. He was not attending a political meeting but was at a Mexican fiesta. He was not making a speech and there was not more than one hundred people present. But, as he has stated, he had a pistol in his hand, and his finger through the guard and was twirling the pistol over his finger, when it fell to the floor and shot him.

Other statements imply that he might have been shot for some one else without giving any particular reason for it, but there is one thing sure that he was not at the time making a political speech possibly he might have been making love.

This is a sensational report sent by Governor Thornton's following to the Associated Press, and like everything that has emanated from Governor Thornton and his newspaper, the New Mexican, it deals in gross misrepresentations. When the article reached here in the Republic it was so outrageous and so gross that the New Mexican tried to escape of its connection with the falsehood and drag its underside patron, the governor, out of the mud by simply speaking of it as "ridiculous and sensational," without giving any of the particulars. It is willing to leave the people of the east to believe, as it has tried heretofore to impress upon them, that the people of New Mexico are a set of wholesale, unmitigating and outrageous murderers, who shoot people for opinion's sake and violate the law for the love of it. It nowhere undertakes to show the south bound action of Governor Thornton and his minions who have traveled all over the country running down honest men and accusing them of crime simply because they are republicans, and have gone to the extent of suborning perjury, and committing other outrages and wrongs which would be tolerated in no other country but this and only in this because they are backed by the practically unlimited power given by the federal government and courts generally willing to act at their bidding and decide according to their will. It is to be hoped that as they have opened the doors in this matter something will be done to show them up.

This is a sensational article gotten up for its political effect, and possibly to cover up the indiscretions of young Hemingway, who has been their political adherent.

Near Reply.

There is nothing which gives the gold bug republican so much satisfaction as a tariff discussion, as thereby he avoids discussing the live issue of free silver.—Prescott Courier. There is nothing which so much perturbs the mind of a democrat as the mention of tariff, which four years ago they declared to be the only issue before the country, but which they now declare must not be mentioned.—Prescott Journal-Miner.

Waking Sale Bets.

A Prescott gentleman offers the following group of twelve bets on the election: First, that Bryan does not carry his own ward; second, that he does not carry his own city; third, that he does not carry his own county; fourth, that he does not carry his own congressional district; fifth, that he fails to carry his own state; sixth, that he fails to secure a majority of the electoral college. The other six are that McKinley will do all of these respectively in his ward, city, etc. The entire twelve must be taken in a group.—Journal-Miner.

Christian Endeavor Evening.

Those who attended the Christian Endeavor rally at the Presbyterian church last night, were well repaid, says the optic. Quite a number of the Christian Endeavor hymns were sung, among which were "Blessed Sunshine," "Keep Step With Jesus, Whatever Betide," and "Faith is the Victory."

The Endeavorers and pastor read, in concert, a portion of John 15, followed by prayer offered by the pastor. A letter from Miss Lulu Hamilton, of Socorro, who attended the convention at Washington, was read by Miss May Howard. From this letter was received a glimpse of the "Whole Lot," the name given to the plot of ground on which were pitched the three large tents.

Miss Mabel Milligan read a very interesting paper, summing up her observations and experiences while at the convention, the theme of the paper being, "Six Steps up the Mountain." This recapitulation of the six days journey up the Mount of Transfiguration was very inspiring.

Mrs. Mary Riggle of Socorro, reviewed her impressions of the convention to the edification and inspiration of all present.

The entire evening was a happy, helpful one, and it is sincerely regretted that a larger number of the Christian people of Las Vegas were not present to hear the echoes from the greatest gathering of young people ever assembled on our shores. The pastor, Rev. Skinner, closed the exercises with a few earnest words. He said:

"Peace has its victories, no less than war, and this army of 2,000 young people is the largest which ever passed in review before the capitol building in Washington since the federal troops marched to at the close of the late war."

CIVIC FEDERATION.

The President Outlines the Plan of the Organization.

To the Citizens of Albuquerque:

The following stabulatory law known as the "scarlet letter law" is plain in content and meaning.

"Any person of persons who shall be found on the first day of the week, called sunday, engaged in any sports of the horse racing, cock fighting, or in any other manner disturbing any worshiping assembly, or private family, or attending any public meeting, or public exhibition, excepting for religious worship or instruction, or engage in any labor except works of necessity, charity or mercy, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding fifteen dollars, nor less than five dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail of more than fifteen days, but less than five days, at the discretion of the court, upon conviction before any district court." Page 43, Laws of N. M., 1887, 1889.

It is apparent to every citizen that the above law is being violated openly in our midst every recurring Sunday. It has been said that there is not enough law abiding sentiment in Albuquerque to enforce this law. But from the list of petitioners before me, obtained by the Women's Christian Temperance Union, amounting to several hundred names of the best citizens of Albuquerque, I am persuaded that the charge is unfounded, but, in any case, it has been determined to test the question of law abiding sentiment in this city. In order to more effectually express this sentiment and in answer to a spontaneous feeling among law abiding citizens, an organization has been effected to be respected with similar organization in other cities, to be known as the Civic Federation of the City of Albuquerque.

We urgently solicit all the friends of law and order to immediately enroll themselves as members of this organization. The enrolling committee, under the direction of Mrs. M. J. Borden, temporary secretary of the organization, will be at work in the various churches and community at large during the next few weeks.

The regular meeting will be held on the first Tuesday night in each month. In the meantime a wide awake executive committee is busy forwarding the work of the federation.

CHARLES L. BOWDIE,
President Civic Federation of the City of Albuquerque, on behalf of the Executive Committee.

It appears from the daily report of the secretary of the treasury that the deficiency in the receipts of the government for the thirty one days ending with the month was $13,000,243, or over $121,000 per diem. The increase in the public debt during the same time was $10,500,458. Adding the two major totals we have the sum of $23,000,695 to be charged to the wrong side of the national ledger. These figures point with unerring certainty to the need for a better and more business like adjustment of the revenue and expenditure accounts.

A FORT GRANT correspondent of the Graham County Bulletin, commenting on the Indian campaign, says: "The Seventh cavalry to date has killed four bucks, wounded two squaws, taken two children, twenty ponies, sixteen saddles, six guns and three complete camping outfits belonging to the renegades. Extensive reports now being prepared by Lieutenants Rice and Averill, will soon appear in the New York World."

The funeral of the workingman in Japan costs eighty three cents, unless the family wishes to have it especially fine, when it will cost as much as $1.25. The price of a coffin is twenty five cents, and the rate for cremation is from forty to seventy five cents. Refreshments figure up from eleven to twenty five cents.

It seems that Talbot was the wicked partner in the firm of Talbot & Bryan, attorneys at law. Talbot was employed by the Missouri Pacific and worked that hated monopoly, while Bryan held aloof among the "plain people" and merely took his share of the proceeds.

EVERY American workingman knows to day the value of the dollar he gets for wages, he knows also what the value will be when McKinley is elected, but he does not know what it would be worth if our finances were entrusted to democratic blundering.

THE republicans of Kansas have renominated Gov. E. N. Morrill. He is one of the pioneers of that state, having located at Hiawatha in 1857. He has helped develop the state and is deservedly popular.

OUR politicians should turn their undivided attention to territorial and county matters, and let the national campaign take care of itself. Begin at once the selection of good men for business at home.

DAN CHACON DEAD.

An Indian Scholar Accidentally Shot Himself.

Last night, at about 7 o'clock, a telephone message was received in this city by Dr. Mahaffey, physician for the Carlisle Indian school, informing him that a runner had reached the school from Bear canyon, out in the mountains, with the sad tidings that one of the scholars, Dan Chacon, had accidentally shot himself.

As soon as the news gained circulation in the city, the story of the manner in which it occurred, as it passed from lip to lip, became so disjointed that it was hard to ravel out a true version.

However, the doctor went out to the school early this morning, and all that today was learned by THE CITIZEN's representative and from him the following facts were obtained:

About a hundred of the boys from the Albuquerque Indian school went to Bear canyon on their usual summer outing. The sad accident occurred three miles from their camp and the body had to be carried over the mountain peaks and canyons to the place where the party was met by a team from the school. Dan Chacon, in company with Jose Ruiz and Carlos Vigil, left the camp early yesterday morning on a hunt, Chacon having the only gun in the crowd, a Winchester rifle. They were climbing the roughest part of the mountains, covered with boulders and undergrowth. Chacon was twenty thirty yards from his companions when the accident occurred. It is supposed that a loose rock rolled down and struck the hammer of the gun, for Chacon was doubtedly holding the weapon by the nozzle with his left hand, as the left hand is powder burnt.

The doctor further stated that the bullet went in the left ear, entered the brain just behind the ear, and came out about three inches from the ear.

Chacon was a half breed from Los Cruces, N. M., and lived, after the death of his parents, with his uncle, Francisco Chacon, until about 6 years ago, when he came to Albuquerque. He was about 19 years of age, attended the local government school three years, learned the carpenter trade and was a good carpenter, was honest and trustworthy, and was considered one of the best captains and best scholars in the school.

The doctor also submitted the following additional facts: "Leonard Lee, night watchman and second in command of the camp, who is one of the party, saw eight of the boys from the camp, who had been notified of the shooting, went and hunted for and found the body, superintended its removal across the mountains and canyons to the place, a distance of three miles, where the team met them. Leonard had improvised a stretcher of blankets and poles, which was tenderly laid the body on, and truly acted a noble part throughout the whole transaction."

Zack Chacon, a brother of the Indian boy, is a carpenter, doing work in the city, and was one of the callers at the school this morning. He has notified his folks at Las Cruces of the sad death of his brother.

The remains were buried in the Barbara cemetery this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Only Armed Country.

Charles Quinlan, the artist painter, is back from a two months' trip to Jemez hot springs, where he went in search of relief from stomach troubles brought on by lead poison. He is back much improved, and says he feels better than he has for three years, in fact it is the first time that he has found any relief, though he visited springs all over the country. Results of Jemez are unstinted.—Roswell Record.
