Longfellow Day at High School and Other Interesting Matters.

The high school yesterday afternoon observed Longfellow Day, and it was a pleasant occasion in that way. The room was tastily and appropriately decorated in pink and white and the name of Longfellow and his immortal verse adorned the walls. Beautiful gems of thought from the poet were written on the board. The exercises were present Mr. [illegible] who had charge of the exercises, Mr. [illegible] order and [illegible] from the Longfellow [illegible] Mr. [illegible] were all [illegible] Mr. Wagner, the teacher, [illegible] which the [illegible] were all [illegible] right. [illegible] Longfellow's life, his works, his [illegible] were discussed by the pupils. The exercises were very interesting and profitable to all present.

GREAT COPPER DISTRICT.

Operations Going On—Good Strikes Being Made—Other Items.

Jack Mecomber is working the Ballou ledge, a promising property in Bear canyon, two miles northeast of Bland.

A force of men eight hour shifts is at work on the lead in the Colorado, [illegible] below the sixty foot [illegible]

[illegible] Peralta canyon has [illegible] work completed and [illegible] undergoing development.

[illegible] Flowers finished the [illegible] in the north drift of the Montezuma and were [illegible] the shifts in sinking the north shaft.

Messrs. Stiff, Spivey and McPherson finished up their contracts of a ten foot [illegible] at the Albemarle tunnel and a [illegible] in the Palmetto tunnel yesterday and will go to work the day on the Albemarle, on Monday.

We learn that the only thing now delaying the sale of the Victor group is [illegible] a gentleman who recently visited the properties, a month ago, is the [illegible] of the present owners. Whose signature to the deeds is at present required to consummate the deal.

Chas. Mercer for the [illegible] Mining company, is driving a tunnel on the Hopewell which is intended to cross cut the main lead near the surface, in order to ascertain its exact situation, when another tunnel will be run from lower down the hill for the purpose of developing the lead of this valuable property.

Alex Conrad, also, with Fred Rubichand, owns the Climax claim, a claim possessing four distinct leads, the largest of which is thirty feet in width, in Peralta canyon. He is over from there during the week and reports forty feet of tunnel work at present completed on the property and further work progressing in order to develop what is another of the Cochiti's remarkable properties.

The assessment work on the Portland was finished during the week. This property, which is near the mouth of O'Banion canyon the ville, was formerly known as the Lost Lead, for which $5,000 was refused three years ago. It has as strong a lead as any in the district and the quartz carries high values in gold. It is now owned by Arthur J. Finch, George Holbens and Ed Smith.

Harry Wood and W. F. Read are doing the assessment work on the Elkton and Barney Ronetto and will later do that on the Henry M. Teller, in Peralta canyon. The first two properties mentioned are recent acquisitions of C. A. Stringo, S. W. Young and John Hart, the last of Messrs. Young, Hart and Wood. All three are promising claims and are expected to become mines of no mean importance.

Thomas H. Benson lately finished the assessment work on the Puzzle No. 2, the southern extension of the Puzzle, which he is again developing. The Puzzle is less than three-fourths of a mile below the Albemarle mine, in Colla canyon, and is a property of exceeding value. Mr. Benson intends to sink a shaft at the mouth of the present thirty-foot tunnel that will develop his property more thoroughly than by any other means.

John Murphy was over from Peralta canyon last Saturday and brought with him the finest piece of quartz we have yet seen from that end of the district. It came from the Master Irvin, in New York gulch, which is tributary to Peralta canyon, and contains high mineral values. Mr. Murphy is now working the Master Irvin, and as he says, development will prove that any part of the district has its equal in the Peralta.

More actual development work is now under way in Peralta canyon than ever before and the mines there are showing up better with every stroke of the pick. The great need of that part of the district is capital. There is no question that the Peralta offers good inducements to investors in mining property. The number and extent of the leads is seemingly endless, and although the values thus far discovered there have not been of as high an order as that of the shipping mines of the district, there is every reason to believe that money judiciously expended in the Peralta would demonstrate that the canyon possesses a number of properties that will become big profitable mines.

From Cripple Creek.

After the big fire in Cripple Creek, I took a very severe cold and tried many remedies without help, the cold only becoming more settled. After using three small bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, both the cough and the cold left me, and in this high altitude it takes a meritorious cough remedy to do any good. G. B. Henderson, editor Daily Advertiser. For sale by W. A. Maxwell Drug Co.
