ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., APRIL 10, 1897.

COCHITI DISTRICT.

Everybody Preparing for a Good Prospecting Season.

[illegible]

The Lone Star has let a number of [illegible] contracts [illegible] parties in the mine [illegible] during.

[illegible] Work on the Mineral Hill has been suspended for the present, the [illegible] being exhausted. [illegible] Work on the Alt mine is progressing well, and a number of new contracts have been let to develop the property. Howell Hines of Cleveland, Ohio, the prospective buyer of the Alternate group, is expected to arrive in Bland soon to examine the property.

The dispute over the Santa Sonia has been amicably settled and it is now held as before by the Washington the group of which it is one. A house is being erected on the ground covered by the Santa Sonia and other improvements are under way on the property.

Negotiations are said to be in order for the purchase of the Crown Point mine between the owners and the Bland Milling company, who, if the deal is made, will treat the ore of that mine in their mill at this place. At present the men employed at the Crown Point are working in ore of a very high grade.

W. D. Howard, of the Bland Milling company, informs the Herald Weekly that all arrangements are being made at Los Angeles for the shipping of the necessary machinery to Bland for the mill here. The company intends to push matters as rapidly as possible, and will be treating ores by the first of May.

I. W. Briggs is making a mine of the Monument and will have a fine working tunnel by the time he crosscuts the lead at a depth of forty feet and a length of 150 feet, which will be about April 10. There is no doubt about the Monument being as great and rich a property as its southern neighbors, the Iron King and Lone Star, and it only needs development to bring it forward to the front rank.

BULLION FROM GOLDEN.

R. M. Carley and Pablo Aranda Bring in Gold from Their Mine.

Messrs. R. M. Carley and Pablo Aranda, of Golden, were in the city yesterday, bringing with them 21½ ounces of gold bullion, amounting to $425, taken from the Gold Standard mine. These gentlemen employ ten men in the Gold Standard, taking out fifteen tons of ore every day from a vein six feet in width, averaging $10 and $11 per ton. The ore is treated at the Kelly mills.

In the San Pedro district about 150 men are at work in the placers, making from 50 cents to $2 per day. The C. and C., worked by Albuquerque parties, is down over 60 feet, and several deposits of fine silver and galena ores have been uncovered in the last twenty feet taken out.

The J. J. C. mine, owned by Eugenio Romero of Las Vegas, has been worked for the past three weeks and good progress made. Last week the Kelly mills made a run on seven tons of ore from the mine with satisfactory results.

Other good properties which have lain idle for some time will soon be taken hold of and thoroughly worked. Prospectors are at work in the mountains, and all indications point to a busy season in the golden and San Pedro districts.

SANTA FE'S FAST RUN.

Makes 230 Miles Between Kansas City and Hutchinson in 290 Minutes.

The Santa Fe on Friday ran a special train consisting of one baggage car and one coach from Kansas City to Hutchinson, in the remarkably fast time of four hours and fifty minutes. The distance is 230 miles and this is probably the fastest run ever made for a long distance by any Kansas road.

Train No. 17, the Santa Fe fast mail and express, from Chicago, due at Kansas City at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, did not arrive until 3:30 o'clock, missing connection with the California express leaving at 2:35 o'clock. After the arrival of No. 17, it was decided to make a run to catch the express train, which was done at Hutchinson. The run between Newton and Hutchinson, a distance of forty-five miles, was made in exactly forty-five minutes.

Shot at Each Other.

Information was received last night that Tom Haley was shot at six times by a neighbor, at his home on Mineral Creek, last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Haley was sitting in his cabin reading a paper when the man [illegible] Mr. Haley [illegible] mines on Mineral Creek, and asked [illegible] Haley [illegible] was a man of [illegible] Haley [illegible] the people of Coastal.

David Espinosa [illegible] the territory damaged [illegible] to some extent, but how serious the injury is cannot be determined for some days. In the northern part the fruit was not generally far enough advanced to be injured by the freeze.

The ground is in fine condition for working, [illegible] precipitation of rain and snow in March. A few warm days will make a good start on the stock ranges, stock [illegible] generally in good condition, [illegible] loss is reported for the winter.

Small grains [illegible] in the southern portion, but [illegible] is reported. Vegetation [illegible] well in the southern part, but warmer weather is needed for it.

In the [illegible] are progressing and seeding [illegible] very satisfactorily. A large part of the wheat and oats has already been sown.

There is an abundance of water for irrigation, and great quantities of snow in the mountains to keep up the supply.

Stock [illegible] at present is very [illegible].

The following extracts from a few of the reports received at the office will be found of interest:

Springer—M. Cristero—On the 2nd, high wind [illegible] Highest temperature 77 and lowest 27. No rainfall during the week.

Raton—Mather Gabriel—There was a high wind on the 20th, from noon to [illegible] followed by a cold rain, with sleet and snow in the Sandia mountains north. Cold and dry [illegible] winds part of the day. Cold nights with frosts greatly injuring the apricots. High wind from the northeast all day on the 24 with frost at night causing more damage. Apple, pear, plum, peach and cherry trees not yet advanced sufficiently to be injured. Grapes [illegible] and ready for pruning. Outlook more favorable than for many years.

Hillsboro—R. A. Nickle—The cold spell about the 22d did not injure the fruit crop as much as was supposed at first. The oldest settlers, who claim to know, say that fruits are less liable to injure than those in bloom during the light of the moon.

Las Cruces—Jas. E. Mead—The week has been changeable with winds on the 20th all day, part of the 24th and all day the 25, while the remainder of the week has been very calm. The temperature on the 23rd and 24th fell to 21, seriously damaging the fruit crop, although considerable escaped without injury. There was no rain during the week.

Las Vegas—D. D. Harkness—Ground in fine condition, ploughing in progress; wheat, oats and peas sowed. Plenty of water for irrigation. Nights too cool for growth of crops, but otherwise the weather is good.

Rincon—A. J. Coates—Highest temperature 75 and lowest 27. No rain during the week. Fruit crop shows considerable damage from the freeze on the 23d and 24th.

Roswell—W. M. Reed—Thunder storm on the night of the 27th ending with a rain which did much good to the range. Heaviest wind of the season on the 31st. Peaches hurt some by frost, but there will be a fair crop if no more frost reaches them.

Santa Fe—United States Weather Bureau—Nights too cool for satisfactory growth of crops. Wheat and some other small grains have been sowed and ploughing going on. Ground in excellent condition and water abundant. Apricots were injured some by the freezing weather about the 23d of March, but other fruits are in good shape and the outlook is favorable.

DISTRICT COURT.

An Important Litigation Suit Decided—Other Matters.

In the case of Sedillo vs. Sedillo, an ejectment suit for the recovery of a piece of land near Barelas, a default against the defendant for failure to appear and judgment for the plaintiff for the recovery of the land and one cent damages was entered.

Ambrosio Armijo et al. vs. George K. Acher, ejectment. This case, which has been on trial since Saturday last, was concluded this morning, and resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff by the direction of the court. The verdict is that Ambrosio and Anita Armijo are the owners of an undivided two-tenths interest in the property known as the St. Elmo saloon and that they recover two-tenths of the profits derived from the rental of the property since the date of the bringing of the suit up to the present time. This has been a very stubbornly contested litigation and many questions of far-reaching importance were raised by the attorneys on either side and decided by the court.

Immediately at the conclusion of the above case, a jury was secured in the case of the Territory vs. Candelario Montoya, indicted for the crime of assault with intent to kill, and as THE CITIZEN goes to press the trial is still on.

This is the first appearance of District Attorney Finical as a prosecutor, and from the manner in which he is conducting this case he certainly will be a vigorous prosecutor.

Simona Gutierrez, wife of Cruz Gutierrez, deceased, and Melquiades Martin, both charged with murder, were brought into court this morning, and each served with a list of the petit jury.

An Appointment and a Pardon.

Governor Thornton has appointed Col. F. H. Bergmann superintendent of the penitentiary for a term of two years, beginning May 1, 1897.

He also pardoned William Shirtz, serving a term of five years in the penitentiary for robbery from Bernalillo county. At the time Shirtz was sentenced he was but 17 years of age, and the district attorney who prosecuted the case, feeling that the boy had been sufficiently punished, recommended the pardon.

Situation in Washington.

J. H. Crist, Esq., returned from the east last night, after an absence of three weeks. After attending his father's funeral in Pennsylvania, he went to Washington on legal business, which detained him longer than he anticipated. In speaking of appointments for New Mexico, Mr. Crist said that J. E. McKinley, of Albuquerque, would be appointed collector for New Mexico and Arizona. Of the governorship he knew nothing more than is known in Santa Fe. Unless a person is on the "inside" there is no advantage in being in the national capital. H. N. Price, of Socorro county, has the solid Michigan delegation backing him, and for that reason is a strong candidate. The other applicants, nine in number, are pressing their claims, but with what success, Mr. Crist was not informed.—New Mexican.

Easter Ball.

Those interested in the public library should assist the hard-working ladies in their untiring efforts to make the coming Easter ball a great success. The library is such a deserving institution and does so much good to citizens and strangers alike that the association deserves the hearty co-operation of all Albuquerque. At the coming ball, which will offer all that can be desired in every direction, the ladies expect to realize enough to tide them over the summer months, and they earnestly hope for the support and aid of the public.

The graceful minuet, with its slow and stately movements, will be danced at this ball by sixteen well-known ladies and gentlemen.

The supper committee has arranged to serve the most delicious refreshments, and the ball and supper room will be artistically decorated.

Tickets are only $2 per couple, and $1.25 for a single person.

A BROTHER HERE.

W. H. Langstaff, Brother of Al. Langstaff, Murdered.

W. H. Langstaff, of Cripple Creek, Colo., brother of Al. Langstaff, whose dead body was found near Sands station last Saturday morning, came in from the north this morning, registered at Sturges' European, and was introduced at THE CITIZEN office by Officer Carson this afternoon.

Mr. Langstaff is here gathering some facts relative to his murdered brother and to ascertain with whom he left the city. The visitor informs this paper that he reached San Miguel station, Monday night, where he found the body of the murdered brother in charge of the justice of the peace. He then took the remains to Rivera, where they were buried at noon yesterday.

"An examination of the body," continued the brother, "showed that Al. must have met a frightful death. His skull was cut from the back of the crown to the forehead; the throat cut almost from ear to ear, and the arteries of both arms, at the wrist, were severed in two and one side of his face had evidently been crushed in by a heavy blunt instrument.

"I looked over the ground where the body was found, and every indication pointed to the fact that there must have been a terrible struggle before Al. was finally killed.

"I am under great obligations to the telegraph operator at Rivera, Mr. Lane and wife, for taking interest in the case, and who were only too willing to give me all information regarding the foul murder of my brother."

Mr. Langstaff is here to look into the affairs of his brother, and to find any tangible clue that would put the officers on the right track of the murderers. Mr. Langstaff will remain here until to-morrow evening, when he will go north to Las Vegas. He is determined to run the murderers to earth, if possible, and the Albuquerque officers will render him valuable aid.

Marshal Fornoff, who is almost certain that the man J. H. Oliver knows more about the murder than he desires to tell, left last night for Las Vegas, where Oliver, Lacey and Wilson, the three suspects, are now in jail.

Trampled to Death.

Curtis I. Herbert met a sad death the evening of the 26th of March, in the vicinity of Pagarito mountains. He was assisting to corral a bunch of wild cattle and while striving to head off those which had broken away, Mr. Herbert's horse fell, the rider caught and held by his weight, when the cattle ran over and trampled on Herbert, mortally injuring him. Mr. Herbert, still unconscious, was carried to Lincoln, where he died Tuesday following, and was buried by the Knights of Pythias.—Las Cruces Democrat.

Up at Red River City.

Elwood Madden, well-known in northern and central New Mexico and specially in this city in the early days, when he and his brother, Hiram Madden, conducted the Madden house, now Sturges' European, is now a citizen of that thriving mining camp of Taos county, Red River City. He runs a saloon and a boarding house in a tent, 66x22 feet, in that camp and is about erecting a commodious frame building to be used as a hotel. He has just shipped in a car load of eatables and drinkables for the purpose of supplying his hotel and bar. Since leaving Albuquerque he has been in Idaho, but now again prefers New Mexico.

TO REPRESENT NEW MEXICO.

Geo. H. Wallace as Delegate of the New Mexico Wool Growers' Association.

Hon. Geo. H. Wallace, of this city, has been specially urged by Hon. Wm. Lawrence, president of the National Wool Growers' association, to attend the meeting of the Wool Growers to be held Tuesday morning next at the Ebbitt house in Washington, and leaves to-night for Las Vegas to consult with the officers of the New Mexico Wool Growers' association to-morrow at Las Vegas so that he can speak with full authority for, and in full accord with their sentiments on the pending tariff, at the meeting in Washington. He will be fully accredited with credentials, etc., so as to make the voice of New Mexico heard, in securing "full and adequate protection" for wool growers, as was promised in the St. Louis platform. Eastern senators must remember that New Mexico is an integral part of the Union, and is entitled to a fair and just share in national legislation.—New Mexican.

Electric Light Plant Assured.

M. W. Neff informed a reporter of the Independent last Saturday that the electric light plant in Silver City was a forthcoming certainty and that he hoped to be able to turn on the light not later than June 1. Some delay has been occasioned through inability to lease a desirable building, but that difficulty has at last been overcome. Mr. Neff will erect a building of his own near his residence property in the northern part of the city, and has already commenced work on the same. The necessary machinery has been ordered and will be put in place as soon as the building is ready. He is now in correspondence with several parties regarding poles, wire, etc., and will have these articles on the ground in a few weeks.—Independent.

Manager Jaffa, of the Jaffa Grocery company, informs THE CITIZEN that he will commence moving into new quarters, No. 115 south Second street, from Railroad avenue, to-morrow, and hopes to have everything arranged for the transaction of business by Monday next.

H. A. King, who played here last season with the Los Angeles club, is in the city, and Capt. Young, of the Browns, had the gentleman in tow last night. Mr. King will remain in this city, and will probably play second base for the Browns.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

[illegible] week ending April 5 was not favorable to the growth of crops. The night's were cool and on two or three days a frost prevailed.

On the 23d and 24th heavy frosts in the northern part of the territory damaged peaches and apricots to some extent, but how serious the injury is cannot be determined for some days. In the northern part the fruit was not generally far enough advanced to be injured by the freeze.

ELECTION AT GALLUP.

The Result a Big Surprise to Some of the "Rest."

THE CITIZENS' TICKET SUCCESSFUL.

Gallup, N. M., April 8.—The result of the election in Gallup was a surprise to everybody, to victor and vanquished alike. No one dreamed that the victory would be so decisive, one way or the other. The defeated ticket contained the names of some of the most popular citizens of Gallup, many of whom were considered invincible in a contest before the people. The explanation of this phenomenon is to be found in the fact that the contest was over a principle and not over personalities.

Last Friday night, a number of the citizens of Gallup, of both political parties, who have taken a deep interest in the political affairs of the town for years, met together to talk over matters and come to some agreement on nominees for the different offices. They put up a ticket and named it the "Non-Partisan," as it was composed of republicans and democrats alike.

This was too sooner in the field than parties, who had not attended the caucus, commenced an agitation which culminated in the nomination of the "Citizens" ticket. Its supporters called upon all the voters who had not attended the caucus which nominated the "Non-Partisan" to support the "Citizens" ticket. This request was complied with, and the victory was won.

The following is the vote for the different candidates:

For Treasurer:

Hart	184
Keegan	82

School Directors—Two to be chosen:

Risdon	138
Brown	129
Harding	110
Cotton	96

For Marshal:

Green	184
Brady	98

Town Trustees—Five to be chosen:

O'Brennan	247
Sharp	157
Swartz	156
Bowie	141
Kinney	127
Hinch	120
Stewart	98
Aldrich	97

Mr. O'Brennan was on both tickets, and having received the largest number of votes will, according to custom, be chairman of the next board if he desires it.

The opponents of the "Citizens" ticket christened it the "Hobo" ticket, and had quite a little sport at its expense. The tables have been turned, however, since the result became known, and the winners seem rather to like the title.

While the contest was spirited, the best of feeling prevailed and the vanquished are taking their defeat gracefully and good-naturedly. Gregory Page about expressed the sentiments of his associates, as well as himself, when he said, "I felt morally certain that the people wanted me but I found out they didn't want me at all. So it's all right. If it suits them, it suits me."

It is quite generally conceded, too, by the supporters of the Non-Partisan ticket, that the men elected are thoroughly competent. Edward Hart, treasurer-elect, is an old resident of Gallup and a successful business man, eminently qualified to make a good treasurer.

J. W. Green has already proved his worth as marshal and he was re-elected on the ground that "one good term deserves another."

Messrs. Risdon and Brown, school trustees, and Messrs. O'Brennan, Sharp, Swartz, Bowie and Kinney, trustees, are men well known in this community and men who enjoy its confidence and respect.

There is some question raised as to the legality of the election of school trustees. The voters cast their ballots for school trustees and town trustees in the same box. Under these conditions the judges of election could only accept ballots from the registered voters of Gallup. On the other hand, there were a large number of men, working in the neighboring mines, who unquestionably had the right to vote for the school trustees, whose ballots were rejected because they were not registered. The fault, however, lies in the law and not with the judges; the correctness is unquestioned.

Clay Young, a nephew of W. F. Kuchenbecker, who came here from the east about two months ago, for his health, died Tuesday from consumption and was buried yesterday, a large number of the citizens of Gallup attending his funeral.

T. N. Hinch, who has been visiting in California for some time, is wonderfully improved in health, and is expected home Saturday. ON THE ROAD.

Fatal Accident.

A sad and fatal accident occurred Sunday morning at the old fair grounds east of the city. Antonio Deparita, an Italian lad about twelve years old was left by his brother to guard some sheep, which were grazing on the hills along the roadside. The boy wore a belt, in which dangled a 38 caliber revolver. About 10 o'clock a couple of Mexican boys passed along and found the lifeless body of the boy. In his hand he held the revolver. A bullet wound in the right eye told the story of his death. It is surmised that Antonio was playing with the revolver, and at the time of the accident was looking down the barrel and snapping the trigger. After viewing the remains and surveying the situation, Coroner Sipe decided that a formal investigation would not be necessary, and the remains were taken to the undertaking parlors, where they were prepared for burial, the funeral taking place from the Catholic church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.—Trinidad Advertiser.

Died.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Curtis had the misfortune to lose their little two-year-old daughter, of bronchitis, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Curtis is at present employed at the Needles, Cal. THE CITIZEN extends condolences.

A Big Contract.

A contract has been entered into between William Sayre, of Denver, and Joseph Routledge, the owner of the sawmill at Bland, for 200,000 feet of lumber, to be supplied to Mr. Sayre before the expiration of six months. The lumber will be used in the construction of the big mill at Allerton, and in order to more conveniently produce it, Mr. Routledge will move one of his large mills from Glorieta and set it up at the spring, a mile and a half this side of Allerton, where plenty of good timber is to be had. This will cause quite a little town to spring up in the neighborhood of the spring. Mr. Sayre, at least during the fulfilment of the contract, will occupy a house at Allerton, in company with Mrs. Sayre, who is expected to arrive from Denver before long.—Herald Weekly.

Information Wanted.

Editor Citizen:

Mesilla Park, N. M., April 7.—Will you kindly permit me to ask your readers for information on subjects mentioned below? They both have relation to an inquiry as to the effects of our climate etc., in the one case on horses, in the other on people, and in the latter case also as to the results of certain customs. I do not attempt to indicate what I believe to be true answers to the questions, because I wish those who contribute information to be as little as possible biased by previously expressed opinions. Full credit will be given in publication to all assisting, and copies of the publication or publications will be mailed to them:

MEXICAN PONIES.

1. Not unfrequently, in New Mexico, one sees small light yellowish brown horses, with darker legs, showing more or less striping. Are these numerous in your locality? What is your opinion as to their origin? Are they less numerous than formerly?

2. It is well known that in former years herds of horses ran wild over the western plains. Have you any information as to the character of these horses? Their size or color? Were they uniform in color, or of various colors?

3. What were the horses like that were used by the Indians before they were subdued?

DISEASES.

4. Do you consider that the Mexicans are more, or less, or equally, susceptible to smallpox than (or as) Americans and others? If there is a difference, does it consist in a different degree of liability to catch the disease (circumstances being equal), or in a different degree of mortality among those contracting it?

5. Do you know of any cases of phthisis (consumption) among native Mexicans prior to contact with Americans and others? If so, how frequent, approximately were such cases?

6. Is consumption more frequent now among the Mexicans than formerly? Do you know of any cases where Mexicans (especially hired girls) have contracted consumption after living in houses where there were American or other consumptives? If so, have such cases resulted fatally? Yours very truly,

HOLBROOK NEWS.

A Collection of Good Items from a Lively Town.

Holbrook, A. T., April 8.—The Hotel Holbrook changed hands on the first of the month, F. M. Zuck, who had been the proprietor for years, selling out the hotel to P. Stanfer.

Mr. Stanfer has been connected with the King's Canyon Moqui Indian school for six years as general mechanic. Besides being a man of good business ability, Mr. Stanfer is also possessed of a pleasing address, which cannot fail to make him a successful hotel keeper. It is safe to predict that the hotel will be kept up to a high standard under his management.

F. M. Zuck, the retiring proprietor, is a candidate for postmaster here, and it seems to be the unanimous wish of the people of Holbrook that when President McKinley casts his eyes about for a suitable postmaster he will drop them approvingly on Mr. Zuck. Besides being a stalwart, life-long republican, Mr. Zuck has been in business in Holbrook for many years and during all that time has been a public-spirited, progressive citizen, working assiduously for the interest of the town as well as the surrounding country.

While the people of Holbrook are mourning over the retirement of such a genial hotel proprietor as Mr. Zuck, they are at the same time rejoicing that his successor is such an amiable gentleman as Mr. Stanfer.

There can be no doubt that times are commencing to improve in Holbrook and vicinity. So much is visible to the naked eye. This particular portion of Arizona is dependent, almost entirely, for its prosperity upon the success of the cattle, sheep and wool business. These different enterprises have been showing marked improvement of late and promise to continue in the upward path. A number of the operators around here have been holding out for higher prices, and from rumors, confirmed by appearances, it is believed that they have been successful in their efforts.

From the present outlook, Holbrook has good reason to feel confident of a bright and rosy future. ON-THE-ROAD.

Narrow Escape From Drowning.

Miss Blanche Potter, Miss Belle Lee and their escort, Hilton Shaw, had a narrow escape from death while crossing the San Juan river.

Miss Potter's school had closed the previous day and she was returning to her home on this side of the river. The river was up and Mr. Shaw missed the ford. The light rig was overturned, throwing the occupants into the water. Mr. Shaw caught Miss Lee and succeeded in reaching shore. Miss Potter grasped a wheel and was swept down the stream with the horse and buggy. She was under water several times, but retained her presence of mind sufficiently to retain her hold until rescued.

Several men witnessed the catastrophe and hastened to the scene. The ladies were taken to the residence of Mrs. Martha Wise, and dry clothing was provided. They are badly frightened, but their many friends are thankful that the accident resulted no worse.

Later—Under date of April 1, our correspondent from Bloomfield writes that Miss Lee was not in the wagon at the time the accident occurred, consequently was in no danger. Miss Potter was doubly unfortunate, as she lost nearly $20 in cash, a check and a box of books. We also learn that a balky horse was the cause of the accident.—San Juan County Index.

Hon. W. B. Childers, United States attorney, who was at Las Vegas on legal matters, returned this morning.

Women are learning that it pays to be healthy; it pays to be strong. Women make homes and worse without women need not necessarily become angels in order to fit them for the duties of wife and motherhood. If they will obey common rules of health, be sure that the organs constitute her womanhood are always healthy and strong, she will be a capable and healthy wife and mother. The best medicine for the treatment of weakness and disease of the organs distinctly feminine is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It is the discovery of a regularly educated physician, an eminent and skillful specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. There are on file at that institution letters from grateful women testifying to the marvelous merits of the Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the organs that make womanhood and motherhood possible. It makes them strong and healthy. It cures weakness and disease. It smooths the way to almost painless maternity. It makes healthy children. All good druggists.

Mrs. H. F. Reynolds of North Fenton, Oneida Co., N. Y., writes: "I thought I would write a few lines as I have been taking your medicine and using it in my family. I have used other bottles of your Favorite Prescription. It has done me lots of good. I think it a good medicine."

The newly wedded wife, above all women, needs a good medical book. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser fills this want. It contains over 1000 pages and 300 illustrations. Several chapters devoted to the physiology of the organs distinctly feminine. Send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy; paper covers; a cloth binding is wanted, send 50 extra (in cents in all).

THE WILLIAMS 400.

How a Needles Gal Took the City Pines In.

A golden-haired girl, with a Madonna face, played havoc recently with the 400 at Williams, out on the Atlantic & Pacific. The maiden moved in the best society, was smiled at by every man in the town, and made one of the Williams wives jealous. But a few nights ago this angel went down, loaded up with Kentucky stimulant, and the first act of the coy damsel was to shoot out the chandelier in the hotel. She then danced the hula-hula and other kinds of kickups, and then ended by throwing her shapely arms around the hotel proprietor, who is verging into 70, smothering the old sinner, not abashed, encouraged her by returning her embrace, and the town is therefore scandalized. The people of Williams avow that if any of the Needles visitors come there they will find a cold welcome till they prove their standing. So society, in its busy whirl, moves on to further victims, but the golden-haired creature from the banks of the Colorado, out west, can play pinochle on Albuquerque's 400.

Big Mining Deal.

A special dispatch from Santa Fe to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, says:

Santa Fe, N. M., April 5.—Carlos Aranda, of the Gold Standard mine, this county, have agreed to sell the mine for $60,000 to J. K. Saint, of Albuquerque, and have given him fifteen days in which to tender the cash, declining to give a bond. They brought in $425 in gold to-day, and say the free gold streak, which runs $10,000 to the foot, widened, at a depth of 45 feet, from 6 inches. Outside of the rich streak they have milled everything taken out of the shaft, and it averages $12 per ton.

Mr. Saint was seen this afternoon by a representative of this paper, and asked in regard to the above item. He stated that it was substantially correct, but that he was given forty days instead of fifteen in which to purchase the property. He is negotiating same for a syndicate of New York g
