Weekly Citizen

ALBUQUERQUE, — — JULY 28, 1900

From Wednesday's Daily.

The San Domingo Indians will have their feast on Saturday, August 4.

S. B. Hess, from Santa Fe, is spending a few days at Sturges' European.

The board of county commissioners is holding an adjourned regular meeting at the court house this afternoon.

S. H. Mulligan, the restauranteur of Bland, came in last night. He returned to the Cochiti mining district this morning.

District Attorney Miles Alexander, of Socorro, after a business trip to Santa Fe, returned south to Socorro this morning.

Miss Elizabeth Todd, the public school teacher at Belen, passed through the city this morning on a visit to Columbus, Kan.

H. S. Van Slyck, the traveling live stock agent of the Santa Fe railway, with headquarters at El Paso, passed up the road this morning.

Mrs. J. G. Hope and children, family of Dr. Hope, have returned from their vacation among Pennsylvania and Kansas relatives and friends.

Mrs. Charles Zeiger, wife of the big hotel keeper at El Paso, came in from the south this morning, and will visit relatives and friends here for a short time.

Fred L. Griggs, the Santa Fe Pacific railway division storekeeper, stationed at Winslow, is on a visit to Albuquerque friends. He will return west tomorrow night.

Rev. Father Brown, president of the Sacred Heart college at Denver, after a pleasant visit with Rev. Mandalaris and the priests in old town, returned to Denver this morning.

An Indian, who was hurt out on the Santa Fe Pacific, was brought in yesterday from Gallup and turned over for treatment to Surgeon Cornish, of the local railway hospital.

Mrs. L. B. Stern and daughter, accompanied by the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Stern, returned to the city this morning, after a most delightful visit to Socorro relatives.

Mrs. H. T. Vaille and two children, who have been here the past few weeks on a visit to his brother and sister, J. E. Elder and Miss Ida Elder, expects to return to Denver in a few days.

J. E. Nagley and wife, of El Paso, who visited Denver and other Colorado cities, are spending several days in the New Mexico metropolis. Mr. Nagley is an undertaker of the Pass City.

Jacob Myers, son of Colonel Ben Myers, and one of the clerks at the dry goods store of L. B. Stern & Co., is off duty now. He is sick with throat troubles at his home on north Second street.

Emil Kleinwort, who was down south to purchase a car load of fine cattle, returned to the city this morning. He will show some extra fine sides of beef at his Third street market in a few days.

Paul Wirlandy and wife, and W. S. Prazer are in the city from St. Louis, and registered at Sturges' European from "1903"—meaning the year the Louisiana Purchase exposition will be held in St. Louis.

Charles Roe left last night for the west. He is the New Mexico and Arizona manager for the Singer Sewing Machine company, and before returning will visit all the principal towns of western New Mexico and Arizona.

J. J. Frey, Jr., and wife, who returned to the city last night from Denver, left this morning for Chicago and from there to the lake resorts of Michigan and Wisconsin. Mr. Frey was the night ticket agent at the local depot, but he has resigned and will accept a position under his father at Denver, the senior Frey being the popular president of several Colorado roads.

B. Ruppe, the chief of the fire department and druggist, returned last night from the east, where he enjoyed a most pleasant vacation of a month. He took in the Big Elks' convention at Atlantic City, N. J., after which he visited the big cities and, of course, called at the fire headquarters, being shown courtesies by the chiefs and assistant chiefs. He reports having had a splendid time, but says the weather was extremely warm.

P. E. Harroun, the well-known civil engineer and surveyor, and his assistant, J. R. Farwell, came in from the south this morning. They have been doing some important surveying for a big irrigation company in the vicinity of Fort Worth. Mr. Harroun remained in the city several hours, taking the No. 2 passenger train for Santa Fe. Mr. Farwell remained here in order to see H. P. Owen about some promising investments requiring the immediate use of a few thousand dollars.

The United States marshal of New Mexico, C. M. Foraker, returned from Silver City this morning. He had gone there to take Jerome Adams, the Mormon murderer, back to Colonia Diaz, Mexico. Adams, in a quarrel, shot and killed another Mormon, Oliver Gruwell, and then fled to this country, being captured in Grant county and taken to jail at Silver City. Mr. Foraker states that Adams will be held by Sheriff Bailey, of Grant county, for forty days, to await the arrival of extradition papers, when Adams will be removed to Mexico. It is understood that Adams will resist extradition.

Misses Jennie and Laura Ashdown, of St. Louis, who were at Cerrillos on a visit to their father, W. G. Ashdown, came in last Monday night, to enjoy a few days with their friend, Mrs. C. A. Hudson. After a stay here, the young ladies will visit Santa Fe, again Cerrillos and thence to their home at St. Louis, where Miss Jennie is the cashier at the big Harr's store. The visitors are making the acquaintance of Albuquerqueans to-day, being introduced around by Mrs. Hudson.

A short time ago The Citizen called attention to the fact that Albuquerque would sooner or later have a new brass band and orchestra, and that Professor Di Mauro was then engaged as leader and teacher. This new band will be composed entirely of Italian musicians, and they expect to be in good trim for fine music in the next few months. Instruments will be ordered from New York at once, and Commodore Barnett states that many of the boys will undoubtedly be heard making music on the handsome float which the C. Colombo society will have in the grand trades' display and parade at the fair.

Louis Becker, one of the best base ball players on the Belen team, came in from the south this morning and is trying to get one of the local clubs to visit Belen and play a game there next Sunday afternoon. To-day he was noticed in consultation with Manager Brockmeier of the Browns, and Manager Washburn, of the Washburns, and it is likely he will fix up for one of the clubs to visit Belen next Sunday.

A hand organ, handled by a healthy looking man, without the monkey, is making music throughout the city today, while a "knife game," looked after by a hunchback, monopolizes the corner in front of Sturges' European. These are not advance guards of the coming street fair and carnival, which will be held in this city from September 10 to 22, but are simply stragglers. The executive committee will wait for a merry go-round or a band organ with a monkey, before making an official announcement.

F. H. Rapp, of Las Vegas, the architect of the new and handsome capitol at Santa Fe, came in from the north last night and put up at Sturges' European. Mr. Rapp states that James McCorkindale, who has the contract to put in concrete cement walks at the capitol, is doing a most excellent piece of work. Mr. Rapp expects to return north tomorrow morning.

J. S. Raynolds and son, after a stay of two days at Las Vegas, returned to this city last night. During the absence of M. W. Flournoy, vice president of the First National bank, President Raynolds will be almost exclusively in charge.

J. S. Tribble, who visited his old Kentucky home, will return to the city tonight. On his way to the "dark and bloody" ground he took in the big democratic national convention.

C. C. Clark, grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, came in from the south this morning. Mr. Clark has been on a visitation to the lodges of southern New Mexico.

Thomas Hall, the senior member of the piano firm of Hall & Learnard, left last night for Gallup.

From Thursday's Daily.

Arthur L. Mitchell, a young gentleman who attended the Bryant & Stratton business college of Chicago, returned last night. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Mitchell, of the Hotel Highland.

There will be a regular conclave of Pilgrim commandery, No. 2, Knights Templar, at Masonic hall, this (Thursday) evening, at 8 o'clock. Visiting Knights invited. L. H. Chamberlin, recorder.

Mrs. Louisa Thomas and son, George Thomas, after a most pleasant visit to the brother of Mrs. Thomas, Hon. J. L. Hubbell, at Ganado, Ariz., returned to the city this morning on the delayed train from the west.

The social of the Lead Avenue Methodist church, held last night on the Strong vacant lots opposite the city park, proved a grand affair, successful in attendance and finances. Japanese lanterns illuminated the premises.

Mrs. K. M. Hazer and daughter, mother and sister of Ticket Agent Kelly, after a pleasant visit here, will leave to-night for their home at Ash Fork, Ariz. Mrs. F. B. Lindsey accompanies Mrs. Hazer and will visit her for several weeks.

Albert Trockman was up before Justice of the Peace Crollott this morning, and was bound over to the next grand jury in the sum of $500. Trockman was accused of assaulting a colored man, Abram Meyers, striking him over the head with a shotgun.

Madame Hupfe, the palmist, left last night for Silver City, where she will read the hands of the good people of Silver City for the next few weeks. She promised to return to this city after her engagements down south, and would open a booth on the "Midway Plaisance" of the Territorial fair in September.

Dr. Ray Sylvanis, the spirit medium, palmist and psychic healer, and wife, have appealed to the Non-Sectarian Benevolent society to help them out of the city, and to-day a ticket was purchased for them. It is understood that they will leave to-morrow morning for Pueblo, Colo. It is probably dawning on some of these people, who allege to do impossible things, that Albuquerque is not a very successful field financially for their avocation.

Hon. Neill B. Field, who looks after the legal matters of Jose L. Perea, will return from the Pecos country to-night, when it will be known what steps the collector and treasurer will take in the removal matter ordered against him by the board of county commissioners at the meeting yesterday morning. The newly appointed collector and treasurer, Charles K. Newball, is around today fixing up his bond. He expects to qualify to-morrow morning.

Miss Anna Coltrane, sister of one of the city's public school teachers, met with a nasty accident at the corner of Second street and Railroad avenue this morning. She was on her bicycle and in turning the corner of Second street, going east on Railroad avenue, she ran into a wagon and was thrown from the wheel. She was picked up and taken into Matthew's drug store, after which a telephone message brought Dr. Hope. He examined the lady and found that she had sustained slight bruises about the shoulders. A few applications of liniment will restore health.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

MRS. TERESA BRUNO.

Mrs. Teresa Bruno, mother of Mrs. B. Totti, wife of the north Third street grocery dealer, died at residence, No. 215 west Copper avenue, this morning at 2:30 o'clock from paralysis, and her funeral will take place at the Church of Immaculate Conception to-morrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, with burial in Santa Barbara cemetery. The deceased was born in 1828 in Rondanino, province of Pavia, Italy, and was 61 years and 4 months old. She came to New Mexico in 1885, and has been a resident of this city almost the entire time. She leaves behind her to mourn her death a daughter, Mrs. B. Totti, and a son, Pasqual Bruno, of this city; also a brother in New York city, and a brother and sister at the old home in Italy.

JULIUS FAHLEN.

Julius Fahlen, of St. Louis, Mo., aged about 50 years, died at the Ainsworth residence on Garfield avenue in south Albuquerque, this morning at 11 o'clock, from consumption, although the immediate cause of the death was paralysis. Accompanied by his wife, son and a sister, the deceased came here for his health from St. Louis last April, being a druggist at the Southern hotel in that city for a number of years. His remains will be taken back to St. Louis on the No. 2 passenger train Saturday morning.

MRS. JOHN KIRKLAND.

The Santa Fe New Mexican contains the following death notice:

"Mrs. Ellen Kirkland, of Cerrillos, wife of John Kirkland, a miner, died at St. Vincent hospital at 9 o'clock this morning, after a long and painful illness. Her daughters, Mrs. Kenney, of Waisenberg, Colo., and Mrs. Warren Graham, of Cerrillos, have been at her bedside for several weeks. Mrs. Kirkland was an excellent woman, the mother of a large family. Four of the younger children are at the family home in Cerrillos. The remains will to-morrow be taken to Albuquerque for burial beside those of the deceased mother."

The deceased, for several years, quite a long time ago, resided in this city with her family, but since then has lived at Gallup, Cerrillos, Madrid and San Pedro.

The body will be brought to this city to-night and the funeral will occur to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. Stuart on south Broadway.

J. H. Kinney and wife, Warren Graham and wife, William Kirkland and Misses Lulu, Sadie and Jennie Kirkland are here from Cerrillos to attend the funeral and burial.

The First Baby.

When baby comes to the home it will bind the wife closer to the husband, or it will gradually tend to cut her off from his companship. A sickly mother loses in physical charm, and often in temper and disposition. A fretful child is a trial, even to loving parents. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription prepares the wife for motherhood. It strengthens the body, and induces a healthy condition of mind, free from anxiety or fear. It makes the baby's advent practically painless. The mother being healthy her child is healthy, and a healthy child is a happy child, a joy to the parents, linking them together with a new bond of affection.

There is no opium, cocaine or other narcotic in "Favorite Prescription."

"I read what your medicine has done for other people," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Gardner, of Beechwood, Norfolk Co., Mass., Box 76, "so thought I would try it, and I found it a blessing to me and family. I took your medicine a year when I had a ten pound girl. I had the easiest time I ever had with any of my three children, and I have been very well ever since. I took three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' three of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and three vials of 'Pellets.' Before I took your medicine I only weighed 125 pounds, and now I weigh 175 pounds."

INTERNATIONAL DAM.

Why Consulting Engineer Follett, of Boundary Commission, Resigned.

THE MEXICAN BOUNDARY LINE.

W. W. Follett, consulting engineer of the international water boundary commission is at Santa Fe on a business trip. He said that it was true that he had resigned his position with the commission, but that the El Paso and Denver papers were wrong in attributing this action to any open breach between himself and Colonel Anson Mills, head of the commission, over the Elephant Butte dam affair. Their personal relations, he said, remained entirely friendly, but a difference of opinion arose between them as to the prosecution of his work as consulting engineer, and as Colonel Mills had been instrumental in securing him the position in the first place, he thought it best to retire and leave the way clear for the government to name an engineer who might look at things more in accordance with Colonel Mills' ideas. Paul D. Cunningham, of Tennessee, now in Cuba, has been appointed Mr. Follett's successor, and will reach El Paso and enter upon his duties August 10.

WATER COMMISSION'S DUTIES.

The United States-Mexico water boundary commission is composed of Colonel Mills, a retired army officer, receiving the pay of colonel, representing the United States; General Jacobo Blanco, representing the Mexican government, and a consulting engineer appointed by the American government. It was organized to settle disputes between the two countries arising from the constant shifting of the international boundary line through the erratic behavior of the Rio Grande. By treaty the boundary is fixed at the center of the river channel; when the channel moves by erosion or deposit the boundary moves with it, but when the channel moves by avulsion—that is, abandons its old course and the river cuts for itself a new channel—then the old channel remains the boundary. Under the treaty these cutoffs remain under the jurisdiction of the county from which they are cut. Thus it often happens by the shifting of the stream that United States territory is left on the west side of the river adjoining Mexico and Mexican territory is left lying east of the river adjoining the Texas state line. These cut-off sections are called "bancos." Between Rio Grande City and the gulf are some sixty of these cut-offs, and they constitute a source of never-ending trouble and annoyance arising from the use of water for irrigation, and other contentions between border settlers, which the commission must look into and report upon. The United States has for five years endeavored to induce Mexico to agree to eliminate the provision respecting these "bancos" and make the center of the normal channel the true boundary line between the two countries, but there are details which the Mexican government has thus far refused to agree to.

THE EL PASO SCHEME.

In speaking of the El Paso projected government dam, Colonel Mills' fight on the Elephant Butte dam and the use of waters in the Rio Grande, Engineer Follett appears to be in cordial sympathy with Colonel Mills' well-known ideas on these subjects. He said the Colorado farmers were chiefly responsible for the lack of water in the lower Rio Grande; that there had been no marked increased use of the waters in years by the people of New Mexico. As to the international dam project at El Paso, Mr. Follett considered it doubtful if a bill appropriating $2,500,000 for its construction will ever pass congress unless some administration in full control of all the branches of government takes it up and pushes it as a strictly party measure.

THE ELEPHANT BUTTE CASE.

The status of the legal controversy over the Elephant Butte dam was asked about. He said the case was pending on appeal by the government from Judge Parker's district to the territorial supreme court, and a decision is expected next month. The main question at issue is whether the construction of the dam and the enlarged use of water for irrigation that will follow will materially interfere with the navigability of the Rio Grande at the point where it is now considered navigable—that is, between Rio Grande City, which is 800 miles below El Paso, and the mouth of the river. Judge Parker ruled that it would not. The government then asked for more time to present testimony tending to show the contrary, and Judge Parker declined to grant it. From this ruling appeal was taken to the territorial supreme court.

SHECKELS VS. HOWARD.

Verdict in Sidewalk Case Rendered for Defendant.

J. R. Sheckles, who married Mrs. Helen J. Hawley, of this city, has been in El Paso for some time constructing cement sidewalks. The Herald of that city has the following account of a suit he is interested in:

The case of R. R. Sheckels against A. A. Howard was tried yesterday afternoon before Judge Harper in the county court, and a verdict rendered in favor of the defendant. A motion for a new trial was filed and the plaintiff stated that he proposed to appeal the case if the motion was overruled.

The suit was for $125, the balance alleged to be due on a bill of $455 against the defendant for the construction by Sheckels of a cement sidewalk on the property of Mr. Howard on Mesa avenue. The evidence showed that during the progress of the work the plaintiff has received $310 on account.

Mr. Howard refused to pay the balance, claiming that the work had not been done according to the terms of the contract, and that it was of inferior quality and workmanship. The testimony showed that while the work had not been done in a first-class manner, it would, however, last for ten or fifteen years. The sidewalk was alleged by experts to be uneven and the coping not of uniform height.

The jury was out for only a few minutes. The defense was represented by Patterson & Wallace, and the plaintiff by D. A. Richardson.

A War on Weeds.

The health board at Denver has issued a proclamation that would apply equally as well to this city. It declares war on the weeds. The season has arrived for the destruction of weeds which are both detrimental to health and unsightly to all lovers of a beautiful city, and the Denver proclamation declares all weeds and noxious plants growing in vacant lots a nuisance, and calls upon all citizens owning or controlling lots or blocks upon which weeds are allowed to grow to at once cut and remove the same. A failure to do so when notified by any health officer will subject the party to prosecution.

Paying the Losses.

Some ten or twelve special agents for fire insurance companies are in town adjusting the losses by the recent fire. When the losses are small and clear proofs are made, a check is drawn in payment of the claims. In this way a large number of the losses have been disposed of.—Prescott Journal-Miner.

REMOVAL OF PEREA.

Why He was Removed by the County Commissioners.

It appears that Jose L. Perea was not removed for alleged shortage in the collector's office, for which he is being sued in the district court. It is charged that he never properly qualified to fill the office. Following is the resolution removing Mr. Perea and appointing Mr. Charles K. Newball to the position of county collector:

At the session of the board of county commissioners, held pursuant to adjournment at the court house in Albuquerque, N. M., on the 25th day of July, A. D. 1900.

In the matter of the treasurer and ex-officio collector of Bernalillo county, New Mexico;

Whereas, It has come to the knowledge of this board, and as it appears from its original records, that Jose L. Perea, who was elected at the regular election held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1898, to fill the office of treasurer and ex-officio collector of the county of Bernalillo for the term of two years, beginning in January, A. D. 1899, has failed and neglected to qualify as such treasurer within the time prescribed by law, by failing to make oath that he is not the holder of any public moneys due the territory of New Mexico or any county thereof, which is unaccounted for; and

Whereas, Alejandro Sandoval, who was elected and duly qualified as such treasurer and ex-officio collector for term preceding that to which the said Jose L. Perea was elected as aforesaid, has tendered his resignation of the office to this board; be it

Resolved, That the resignation of the said Alejandro Sandoval be, and the same is hereby accepted, and be it further

Resolved, that the said office of treasurer and ex-officio collector of the said county of Bernalillo, on account of the acceptance of the resignation aforesaid, and of the failure and neglect of the said Jose L. Perea to qualify, by making the same oath as aforesaid, be and the same is hereby declared vacant; and be it further

Resolved, That Charles K. Newball be and he is hereby appointed to fill the vacancy in said office of treasurer and ex-officio collector of said county of Bernalillo, and is hereby authorized and empowered to take possession of said office and discharge the duties thereof so soon as he shall have qualified in the manner prescribed by law.

(Signed.) E. A. BIERA.
(Signed.) IGNACIO GUTIERREZ.

To the Honorable Board of County Commissioners of the County of Bernalillo, New Mexico: The undersigned, who was duly elected and qualified as treasurer and ex-officio collector of the county of Bernalillo for the term next ensuing after his election at the regular election in November, A. D. 1898, and who duly qualified as such treasurer and ex-officio collector hereby tenders his resignation to your honorable body of said office.

This resignation is tendered to remove any question as to whether the undersigned is, or is not now, an incumbent of said office.

(Signed.)
ALEJANDRO SANDOVAL,
Treasurer and ex-Officio Collector of of Bernalillo County, New Mexico.

FIFTH BATTALION OF MARINES.

Five Hundred "Dogs of War" Pass through City Enroute for China.

Two sections of the Fifth battalion of marines—companies A, B, C, D—passed through the city for San Francisco this morning. The first section contained companies A and C, numbering 251 men, and was under Major R. Dickens. Captain L. H. Moses, Captain McKelvey, Lieutenants Taylor, McDougall, Mathews and Backstone. The second section contained companies B and D, numbering 251 men, and they were under Captains Dutton and Low, Lieutenants Lay, Lem, Lander and Schwatde, with Dr. Fish.

Conductor James Furlong left for the west with the first section and Conductor Peter Davern with the second section.

W. B. Fristle, excursion agent of the Santa Fe, with headquarters at Chicago, came on to this city with the train, and then turned them over to J. L. Blair, excursion agent, from San Francisco.

John Stein, for the Harvey eating house, saw that the marines had plenty to eat from the east to this city, and at this point W. P. Nott took care of them going west.

The marines came from the navy yards at Brooklyn and Boston, and represented a first-class gathering of Uncle Sam's young warriors. They will do service in China.

Love at First Sight.

Miss Riga Curtis, the charming young lady at the Harvey house at Lamy, was married to E. Hockel by Rev. Shaw, manager of the hotel at Lamy. The young people had met about a month ago and were stopping at the same hotel. They took the train Wednesday for California, where they will spend their honeymoon. About thirty guests were present at the marriage ceremony. The bride was the recipient of many handsome presents.

J. S. Raynolds, president of the First National bank, left this morning for El Paso, Texas.

The Truth

about women's ills can be frankly told by one woman to another.

Remember that Mrs. Pinkham is a woman. Remember that her advice and medicine have cured a million women of weaknesses peculiar to their sex.

Remember that no man ever sees a letter written to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, that the letter is opened, read and answered by women, and no testimonial ever published without special permission.

Remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the recognized safeguard of woman's health.

Remember these things when some other remedy is suggested, and remember them when you want advice. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

BRODERSON IN EL PASO.

Alleged to Have Made Another Attempt at Kidnapping.

HE IS FROM ALBUQUERQUE.

C. H. Broderson, of Albuquerque, who was charged by his wife last Saturday with endeavoring to kidnap his 10-year-old son, is again in El Paso and at his old tricks, so it is reported, says the News.

Just before noon to-day he created a little excitement down Myrtle avenue by driving by the home of his wife. This time, however, he was less fortunate than before, and had to leave without even seeing his son.

Mrs. Broderson came up town this morning to consult her lawyer and on return say two men in a buggy, with the curtains up. This being unusual she peered in at the front of the buggy and recognized her former husband and his compadre. They were driving rapidly toward the house, and when they recognized Mrs. Broderson, whipped the horse into a swift run.

Mrs. Broderson suspected their purpose and asked a lady passing in a buggy to drive her home, which she did, and when she arrived Broderson and his helper were just leaving the place.

This is the third attempt Broderson is alleged to have made to kidnap the boy and Mrs. Broderson is making every effort to have both the men arrested.

The case grows a little mysterious as time goes on. This morning Mrs. Broderson received a letter over her husband's signature and bearing the Albuquerque postmark. She took the letter to her lawyer, who advised her to keep close watch on her boy. It was on her return from his office that she met the man in the street. In the letter Broderson asked his wife to give him the custody of the boy. She thinks that he has been in El Paso all the week and had a friend mail the letter.

Up to date Broderson has succeeded in evading the officers and the notice of Mrs. Broderson's application for a divorce has not yet been served on him.

COMING SURE.

The Rock Island Railroad is Surely Headed for New Mexico.

A dispatch from Clayton, Union county, says: The chief engineer of the Rock Island railroad arrived here this morning with his corps of assistants, en route for the Pecos Valley railroad. In substance, he said:

"We started from Liberal, Kan., and surveyed the old line for about a hundred miles to a point twenty miles east and eighteen miles north of the southwest corner of Beaver county, Oklahoma. There we left the old line which ran almost due west, and will travel in some point on the Pecos Valley railroad, and then will survey a line to Liberal, Kan., and in all probability will cross the Colorado & Southern at some point south of Clayton."

"Do you believe the Rock Island will construct this line soon?"

"I see no reason why they should not and, while there are three prospective routes, I believe the line through Clayton will be the true one, as this is the most direct route for the Cimmaron, Ute Creek and Red River valley counties."

"The party will leave to-morrow for the Pecos Valley country."

The Denver Republican also says: "Denver will soon have a new line to the City of Mexico. The Rock Island has sent out men to survey an extension of the road from Liberal, Kan., to White Oaks, where it will connect with the El Paso & Northeastern, now built from El Paso to near White Oaks. The Rock Island's line will cross the Colorado & Southern at Clayton. This connection will give the Rock Island the shortest line from Omaha to Mexico. It is understood that the Rock Island intends to bid for Mexican business from Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City and Denver and other cities along its lines."

ABOUT THE FAIR.

Pleasant Words from Two Albuquerque Weekly Papers.

One of the busiest men in Albuquerque is W. T. McCreight, president of the Territorial Fair Association. Mr. McCreight is thoroughly public-spirited and certainly deserves much credit for his unselfish and enthusiastic efforts to make the forthcoming fair a success. He is leaving no stone unturned to secure the best attractions possible for the free entertainment of visitors here during the week of the fair. Besides, the Albuquerque merchants are very active in their preparations to make a grand display in the street parade. Several have sent east for some of the latest designs in floral decorations; while others are busily engaged in trying to originate designs of their own, some of which will no doubt be very novel and attractive. It can be said further that the citizens of Albuquerque are doing their share toward boosting the fair also. From all indications, the coming fair, in point of interest and attendance, will surpass all previous undertakings.—Albuquerque American.

The people of New Mexico and Arizona are now looking forward to the next great Territorial street fair, to be held in Albuquerque from the 18th to the 22d of September, and the business men of the city should lend every effort to making it even a greater success than the most creditable affair of 1899. President McCreight is devoting much of his time and all of his great energy to the success of the fair for this year, and he should be seconded in his efforts by every man, woman and child in Albuquerque. Fairs are immense undertakings, and particularly in New Mexico, and no such affair can be even measureably successful if after appointing officers and committees, the people of the city in which it is held retire from the field and leave a few faithful men to struggle along under a mountain of dead weight in the shape of non-support and indifference.

The programme for the occasion, as far as yet prepared, assures a great fair, and now let the citizens give the fair officials a very encouragement, not only in carrying out the amusements now proposed, but in adding new features, until the fair of 1900 goes down into history as a fitting end of a great and eventful century.—Industrial Advertiser.

EASILY WORKED.

A Middle Aged Woman Played a Soft Skin Game.

Yesterday a rather handsome middle-aged woman went around among business men trying to get enough money to send a little boy, whose mother, she said, was dying in a hospital here, to his grandmother in New Mexico.

She always tacked one dollar of having the required amount, and it is thought that she collected over $100 on her scheme.

She could not be found to-day and the general supposition is that she left town last night for some new field.—El Paso Herald.

It is learned that the "soft skin game" is being played successfully in this city at the present time. Sympathetic individuals would be doing a wise act by turning a deaf ear to all these smooth hold-ups.

From Friday's Daily.

John H. Walker, a surveyor of Santa Fe, came in from the north last night.

J. K. La Prade, a railroader known to many of the local boys, is here from Winslow.

Sheriff T. S. Hubbell, having business at Gallup, left for the west last night. He will return to-night.

W. D. Kemp, the well-known proprietor of the hotel at Thornton, is here to-day purchasing supplies.

O. W. Johnson and wife, registering from Los Lunas, are in the city to-day, stopping at the Hotel Highland.

Hon. Pedro Perea, delegate to congress, came in from his Bernalillo home last night, and is in the city to-day.

Harry Lockhart left this morning for El Paso. He enjoyed his vacation on the upper Rio Pecos and in this city.

Charles F. Hunt, the El Paso cattle shipper, passed through the city for Kansas and Colorado points this morning.

V. P. Edie and J. H. Bearrup, of the Albuquerque wool scouring mills, left this morning on business for the northern towns.

Mrs. Thomas Hughes left this morning for Camp Whitcomb, where she will enjoy the invigorating atmosphere for a few days.

Mrs. H. T. Vaille, after a pleasant visit to her brother, J. E. Elder, and sister, Miss Ida Elder, returned to Denver this morning.

J. W. Edwards, with his wife and son, arrived last night from Raton, and have taken rooms at the Grand Central. Mrs. Edwards is quite sick, but is much better than several days ago.

Miss A. Mugler and neice, Miss Freda Weintge, are in the city from the territorial capital, and stop at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hase, the latter being a sister of Miss Mugler.

Dr. Vilas, Dr. Haggins and Judge Harper, of El Paso, Texas, came in from the south to-day and continued on to the upper Rio Pecos, where they will hunt and fish for a few weeks.

Attorney Max Ehrlich, who was at Pena Blanca and Bland the past few days on legal matters, came in from the north last night and is around among the local legal lights to-day.

Fine metal signs adorn the front of the clothing store of Simon Stern. The improvements he is now making will be nothing compared with what he will show the 20,000 visitors during fair week.

The funeral of Mrs. Teresa Bruno occurred this morning at the church of Immaculate Conception, and was one of the largest ever held in this city. The remains were buried in Santa Barbara cemetery.

W. C. Hencock and family registered last night at the Grand Central. They left this afternoon to enjoy a few weeks' vacation on the ranch of County Commissioner Miera, up in the Nacimiento country.
