The territorial fair in this city in October will be the best exhibition held anywhere in the west this year. Get ready to get next to it.

The best ball players in the United States will contend for the $1,000 purse at the territorial fair in October. The league games will be over, and the boys are coming west for sight seeing and recreation.

The New Mexican has been urging that property be assessed at its cash value, and the board of commissioners of Santa Fe county thought the paper meant what it said and raised the valuation of the New Mexican printing plant. The business manager has appealed the case to the territorial board of equalization.

EQUALIZATION OF TAXES.

A careful reading of the statutes seems to establish the fact that the territorial board of equalization has no power to equalize any taxes except those assessed upon railroads, telegraph and telephone lines and sleeping car companies. The board of county commissioners of each county does have the power under the law to assess real estate within its respective county, at such value as it may deem proper and best for the owners. This is the opinion given the New Mexican by some very good lawyers. This thing of assessing valuable timber and grazing land at 20 and 30 cents per acre must stop.

INSURANCE.

During 1900 insurance companies of all kinds collected in New Mexico $577,039.66 in premiums and paid out only $186,826.71 or only 32.37 per cent of the sum collected, 10 per cent less than the average in other states. The auditor also shows that fire insurance is carried on $10,729,490.48 worth of property in the territory. As such insurance can be carried only on a certain class of real and personal property, generally only 5 to 10 per cent of the total wealth of a state, the New Mexican says that a better idea of the real value of personal and real property owned in the territory is gained than by looking over the assessment rolls of the different counties. Over $11,000,000 worth of life insurance is carried in New Mexico by companies doing their business directly in the territory while undoubtedly nearly as much more is carried by companies who insured present residents of New Mexico before they came here and collect the premiums by mail or otherwise than through local agents.

INTERESTED IN IRRIGATION.

In a recent interview at El Paso Governor Otero said to a Herald representative:

"All the west is becoming interested in irrigation now, and great things will be accomplished within the next few years. The commission recently let a contract to a company of eastern people to reclaim 100,000 acres lying between Deming and Silver City, and the work of surveying the ground and laying out the canals is already in progress. The company has plenty of money, and what is better than all every faith in the scheme. It has had the best men in the country to inspect the ground, and it has been found that nearly all the land it has can be irrigated with little expense, comparatively.

"The Colorado company, which has just secured a contract in the Tularosa [illegible] is also sufficiently strong [illegible] than the Deming company. The land around Tularosa is as fine as any in the west, and is much prettier. The company will put in several large reservoirs on the little streams there, to catch the flood waters from the mountains, and there can be no doubt that the company will get all the water it wants. Long canals will cross the country in every direction, and nearly every foot of the land can be cultivated.

"When that section is in cultivation it will be a veritable garden, as there is no prettier strip of land in the country. Anything in the way of fruit and vegetables can be raised there, and the whole southwest will profit by the company's efforts."

ARIZONA IN THE LEAD.

Figures on Territorial Industries From Federal Census Office.

The census office issued a bulletin on the manufacturing industries of the four territories of Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Indian Territory, showing an aggregate product of $57,897,103. In each territory a few industries exceed those mentioned in number of employes, but practically the entire production of those other industries is for the supply of local needs.

NEW CHEMICAL ENGINE.

Large List of Contributions Subscribed by Enterprising Citizens.

Since the people took it upon themselves to better equip the local fire department, subscription papers have been circulated in the city, and as a result quite a number of contributions have been made, which will go a long way toward the payment of an eighteen hundred dollar chemical engine. A number of those in the list have paid the amount set opposite their names, and there are many who are just waiting for the collector to come around to receive their subscriptions. The gentlemen in charge of the subscription lists have done an excellent work in procuring the amounts as shown below, but when it is known that only a little more than one thousand dollars has been subscribed toward an eighteen hundred dollar wagon, it is plain to be seen that quite a large amount of funds are yet needed to pay the necessary expense. An examination of the list will show a large number of enterprising merchants and citizens who have signified their intention of assisting in the equipment of a better fire department and if the remainder of the business men and residence owners will donate a like proportion there will be a Champion Chemical engine in our city, clear of all incumbrance, within a very short time.

Following is the list, with an introduction as circulated, a few days ago:

Whereas, the fire apparatus now owned and in use by the city of Albuquerque, is very inadequate to the needs of the city to properly fight fires; and

Whereas, the city is in such financial condition that it is impossible for the city to purchase additional apparatus;

Now, therefore, in consideration of the foregoing, we, the undersigned, hereby agree to pay the sums set opposite our names, the same to be applied to the purchase for the city of Albuquerque, N. M., of one Combination, all steel Champion Chemical engine, with hook and ladder attachments, manufactured by The Fire Extinguisher Manufacturing Co., of Chicago, Ill.:

WINSLOW RAILROAD ITEMS.

Harvey House Ladies Refreshing—Presentation to Trainmaster Parsons—Other Pointers.

From the Mail.

If the train men will look up the law of Arizona, they will all join the church.

George Silvey, the popular call boy, arrived from Los Angeles. George has accepted a position with the Grand Canyon of Colorado.

The aristocracy of the Harvey house ladies is refreshing. The ladies are all good looking and well dressed. Manager Jacobson knows a thing or two.

Conductor H. C. Moss has a leave of absence, and will make a run through the east and southeast. None but men who have been on the drag can appreciate a rest.

Born—To the wife of Engineer Jack Williams, a daughter. The father was around town the next day looking as happy as if his favorite uncle had died and left him a cool million.

Charley Finlow, late of Superintendent Hibbard's staff, has resigned and accepted the position of book-keeper with the Weisber Bros. at Holbrook. Mr. Finlow was one of the bright young men of the superintendent's office, and his numerous friends will always feel interested in his future.

Bertha Lewis, of the tenderloin district, supported by a frisky jay, broke into the Harvey house Thursday evening. Bertha was dancing a can can on the left ear of the night cashier when Officer Hensley took Bertha in his manly arms and laid her away in the city bastile. Friday morning Judge Mahoney fined Bertha $5.00 or 500 days for being too frisky in public.

Jack Kinucan, has been fitting in and out of the city during the week. Jack is now Judge Kinucan, as well as railroad agent at Ash Fork. We are in hopes the judge will be the successor of Mr. Parsons as trainmaster. The company can not do better for its service. He is one of the old timers, and knows what a man is and what it requires to handle the drag.

Friday evening last Trainmaster L. B. Parsons, realized that his system of handling men is away ahead of that of the office martinet. Barney Moran, leading the conductors, brakemen and dispatchers, surprised Mr. Parsons at 9 p. m. Mr. Moran was the orator of the occasion. He is versed in modern and ancient history and law. The effect of Mr. Moran's effort and the presentation to Mr. Parsons of a diamond ring valued at $75, left an impression that the men had shown their gratitude to a man who knows and appreciated the efforts of the men handling the commerce of the nation. Mr. Parsons has accepted a position with the Sea Board Air Line and left on No. 8 Saturday. His departure is regretted by all the citizens of Winslow, as well as the railroad men. He is of the old school of railroaders and his departure is a loss to the service.

THE FAIR MEETING.

Executive Committee Met Last Night and Talked Over the Details.

Pursuant to call a majority of the members of the executive committee of the Territorial Fair association met last night at the office of P. F. McCanna, secretary, and talked over some important details about the big show which will be held in this city in the coming October.

The secretary had been flooded with litograph posters from the big eastern printing offices and engravers, which were shown to the committee, and several appropriate and catchy designs selected. The secretary was authorized to send in his order for posters at once.

The secretary verbally gave out to the committee some facts contained in letters received by him about fair events, which was conclusive proof that the features of the approaching fair will be most interesting and varied, taking in many attractions now on exhibition at the summer gardens and parks of the big eastern cities.

It is now an absolute fact that the snake and rain dancers of the Moqui Indian tribe will be secured, while the cowboy tournament will bring together half a score of the best ropers in the southwest.

Dr. J. F. Pearce, who will have charge of the speed ring, was present, and was assured by the secretary that a large number of Colorado horsemen had already signified their intention to be present with their horses.

It was the opinion of the secretary, who returned the other day from the east, that quite a number of National league base ball players would be here to compete for the handsome purses offered by the fair association, among the list being the phenomenal pitcher, Christie Matthewson, of the New York club; Rube Waddell, the southpaw slab artist of the Chicago club, and "Old Man" Powell, the wonderful right hand twirler of the St. Louis club.

The meeting then adjourned.

The Green Corn Dance.

It has been learned from George P. Learnard, of the firm of Hall & Learnard, that elaborate preparations are being made at Thornton and the pueblo of San Domingo, for the celebration of the Green Corn dance by the Indians on Sunday, August 4. It is understood the dance will begin early in the morning and will continue until late in the afternoon of that day. Mert Wagner, proprietor of the Bland Transfer Co., will run his two handsome Concord stages hourly between Thornton and San Domingo during the festivities. Prof. Di Mauro and orchestra of this city, have been engaged to render music in the dancing hall of the Hotel Santa Fe in the evening. Another feature of the day will be a horse race between the horses of George Green of Cerrillos, and G. W. Ford of Golden. It is learned that the owners have $300 up on the result of the race. A large number of Albuquerqueans will attend the celebration.

A Miner's Queer Deed.

News was circulated in the local Italian colony yesterday that a native of sunny Italy, who came over to the glorious United States to get freedom and wealth, committed suicide in the coal mines at Madrid. A blast had just been fired and every miner had left the place excepting the aforesaid Italian, who despite threats and coaxing, remained where the blast was ready to explode. After the explosion his remains were picked up and prepared for burial. It is understood that the man was somewhat of a bully, and "just for fun," stood near the blast to show his countrymen what a brave man he was.

Death From Consumption.

Late yesterday afternoon death came to the relief of Dr. Fred Downing, a young gentleman who came to Albuquerque only three weeks ago from his Virginia home expecting that the invigorating climate of New Mexico would prolong his days, from that wretched disease, consumption. He was accompanied to Albuquerque by his brother Romie Downing. Deceased was 24 years of age and was a graduate of the university of Virginia. The remains were embalmed and accompanied to the old home in Virginia by the surviving brother this morning.

Friends Remembered.

Yesterday George P. Learnard, junior member of the enterprising firm of music dealers, received three boxes of fine cigars from his brother in Manila, H. G. Learnard, captain of the Fourteenth infantry, U. S. A. The cigars bear the well-known celebrated brands, "High Life in the East," and "Perfectos Alhambra," and many [illegible]

WHY?

Why do women continue to endure suffering caused by womanly diseases? There are many answers to that question. Sometimes because they have exhausted the skill of local physicians and remain uncured. At other times it is because they shrink from submitting to obnoxious examinations which local physicians deem necessary. And to sum it all up, they endure suffering because they do not know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries disagreeable drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I enjoy good health; thanks to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. J. J. Schnitter, of Pontiac, Livingston Co., Ill. "I was taken sick and the doctors here called it 'Grip.' I lay for four weeks in bed, then when I got up I found I had 'displacement.' Had such aches and pains in my back and limbs could not stand any length of time. I knew that our home doctor would insist the first thing on an examination, and that I would not submit to, unless I was dangerously sick. My son had your book, Common Sense Medical Adviser, and I thought from reading it that Dr. Pierce's medicine would do me more good than all the home doctors—and so it has. I can truly say I was surprised at the benefit I received. I can do all my washing and also tend my flower garden. In fact I am on my feet most all the time. An old friend of mine said to me, 'Why what is the matter with you? You are getting young again.' I told her I had taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicines, and that if she would do likewise she would feel ten years younger, too."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser paper covers is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. Learnard in this city today, in a letter to his brother, the captain said he would leave Manila on the 20th inst., on the transport Sheridan, bound for San Francisco, and upon the arrival at that port he would leave for the great lakes where he would be stationed in the future.

ALL IN THE SHADE.

Rock Island's July Business Beats the World's Record.

The passenger records of all American railroads for any month in the past will appear insignificant when compared with the record of the Rock Island road for July, 1901. The Rock Island business during the past month has been heavier than that of any American road during a similar period. The fact that it is the only line into El Reno has caused more than three-fourths of the homeseekers to use it in making the trip to the promised land and in addition the Colorado business over the Rock Island has been enormous. The combined travel will, at the end of the month, be found to have established a record for that road which it is likely will not be broken for a number of years.

It is estimated that the passenger earnings of the Rock Island as a result of the rush to El Reno will amount to $1,000,000.

GOLD NEAR ALAMOGORDO.

Sixteen Men Have Been Put to Work on the Prospect.

Pat Doruck has purchased for $5,000 a half interest in a silver and gold property about four and a half miles from the town of Alamogordo. The ore was sent both to Cripple Creek and Denver to be assayed, and the two assays went as high as $119 and $120 to the ton.

Little development work has as yet been done. Three tunnels have, however, been sunk to a distance of 100, 50 and 75 feet.

J. L. Burke, of Cripple Creek, has charge of the property with a gang of sixteen men at work. According to Mr. Doruck's statements the country is very much worked up about the rich strike, and he thinks a wonderful mining country will be developed there.

What's the Matter With Bloomers?

The Santa Fe base ball players are trying to get the "Boston Bloomers," to stop over and play a game with them at Santa Fe, and the boys at the capital have made a pledge that they will behave and be nice toward the visiting lady ball tossers. The "Bloomers" are scheduled to play in Silver City tomorrow and the ball loving public of Albuquerque are wondering why the manager of the Browns don't get a move on himself and secure this attraction for Albuquerque. The "Bloomers" are composed of young women, good looking, well behaved and are the champion female base ball team of the United States.

FIREMAN DAVIS KILLED.

His Tragic Death Occurred on Santa Fe Pacific Saturday Morning.

On Saturday morning last at about 10:30 o'clock Fireman Ira B. Davis was killed near Armijo station on the Santa Fe Pacific railroad, while the train was running at a high speed. He stood in the gangway of the engine, leaning out to see that the cars contained no hot boxes, when suddenly he was struck on the back of the head by bridge timbers, and knocked from the engine. Davis' body fell through the bridge, bounding from one obstruction to the other until it reached the ground. The engineer, seeing what happened, brought the train to a standstill, and hastened back to the relief of his fireman, but when he reached that point, Davis was dead. The train crew picked up the body and carried it to the nearest station and notified the railway officials of the accident. The skull was badly fractured and many bones were found pressing on the brain, and the body was horribly bruised. Later in the day the body was brought to this city and turned over to Undertaker J. W. Edwards for embalming.

Mr. Davis came to this city with his wife and three small children about two months ago from Fairbury, Neb., where he entered the service of the Santa Fe railway company. He was 33 years of age, was a member of Blue lodge and Royal Arch Masons and of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

Besides wife and three children Mr. Davis is survived by his parents, brothers and sisters in Fairbury, Neb., to which place the remains will be shipped this evening for interment.

TRAGIC SUICIDE.

Grieved Over Killing Young Lady He Killed Himself.

Two deaths instead of one have resulted from the accidental slipping of a gun at the Kent camp, on Bill Williams Fork, says the Phoenix Enterprise. Ethel Kent, the daughter of Alexander Kent, was the first victim. Bert Ohmertz, the young man who after the dove hunt had leaned the fatal gun against the rock in the second. He was overcome by bitter despondency over what he considered his criminal carelessness, and on the night of the funeral of the girl he took his own life by shooting himself with the same gun.

He was alone in camp at the time and the loneliness doubtless added to the horror of the occasion in his disordered state of mind. He was found next day and taken to Congress and buried in that place on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Kent had started back to Hill Williams Fork and learned the news in Congress and wrote it back to their daughters here.

Ohmertz was a young man and had worked for Mr. Kent a number of years. He had a mother and several younger brothers and sisters living in Congress. He wrote a last letter to his mother, telling her he felt directly to blame for the tragedy. He said that had he placed the gun away as he should have done, the accident would never have occurred, and thus reasoning he ended his own existence.

HEAVY RAINS.

Yesterday Afternoon and Last Night Flooding the Adjacent Country.

Late yesterday afternoon between 4:30 and 5:30 o'clock the city and the country directly east and south was visited by a regular old-fashioned downpour, and in the vicinity of Barelas and to the east for a mile or two the country has the appearance that a huge waterspout had occurred, many places being flooded and water standing knee deep in the gullies.

Down in the vicinity of San Marcial, where the Rio Puerco empties into the Rio Grande, one of the heaviest rains imaginable took place yesterday and last night, and at Armarillo water ran over the Santa Fe railway track.

Just beyond Rincon and in the vicinity of Las Cruces the heavens literally opened and for over an hour the rain came down in torrents, flooding the lowlands and badly undermining a number of adobe houses. The railway bridge between Rincon and Las Cruces was weakened, and in consequence the north bound passenger No. 22, due here at 7:10 a. m., was detained about six hours until the bridge was repaired.

At this writing, the indications are good for more rain.

EASY FOR ENGINEERS.

Secretary Arnold Says That Oil For Fuel is a Good Thing.

Frank Arnold, secretary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, is an advocate of the use of oil as fuel for engines. He says the substitution of oil for coal even if it becomes widespread, will not do away with firemen, though it will make their work much lighter and more pleasant. An engineer has more apparatus to attend to than one man can easily look after, and the fireman could be of much assistance. Moreover, the laws would require two men on every engine as a matter of protection to the train, in case sickness or death should strike the man at the throttle. When the air brake was introduced it was thought that its use would do away with a brakeman but legislation took a hand and required at least two brakemen on every train. Engineers are developed out of firemen. Oil nor nothing else could provide another method of making the men who run the big iron horses.

The use of oil might possibly have some effect upon the wages of firemen, but this possibility is too remote to cause worry.

HANDY WITH HIS FISTS.

Detective Montgomery Would Not Stand for Any Insults.

The Wellington, Kansas, Journal tells a good story on G. C. Montgomery, the special railroad detective. Montgomery is noted for his nerve, and is handy with his fists as well as a gun. He lives at Winfield, and a few days ago with his wife and boy started out on bicycles to spend an evening in the country. The boy rode ahead of them some distance and met a bunch of cows. He got off and stood aside, but as the two men who were driving the cows passed the boy one of them struck him with a whip. When Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery came up they found the boy crying. Montgomery dropped his wheel and started back after the men. He knocked down the first one twice, then
