The base ball game between the Black Copper boys and the Red River boys was quite a tame affair but all seemed to enjoy themselves. The score was 17 to 42 in favor of the Black Copper. The picnic was fine and every one had all they could eat and drink. The Red River boys should practice up a little if they wish to play ball as this was the first day they all played together.

In the base ball game last Sunday, the following were the players from the Black Copper: Wm. Harper, Jones Grigesby, Cline Fletcher, J. B. Bidwell, James Vickers, Eric Anderson, Fred Hoffman, Al Kuntz and Harley Holmes. The Red River players were Charles Cannon, Fred Leffler, N. N. Nelson, M. D. Pierce, Paul George, Robt. Hatton, Jack Conley, Charles Compton and John Compton. L. W. Brown was umpire.

New Mexican.—James Garland, a former Santa Fe boy, who is well remembered by many citizens of the capital, was with the Eyworth League people from Texas, who spent this morning in the city en route for California. He is a Pullman car conductor and was in charge of one of the trains. He lives at San Antonio, Texas, is married and has one child. He was glad to see again the old town where he was born. The above is the son of our townsman James Garland, who is proud of his son.

The couple arrived in Red River Monday evening and will make their home here. The people of Red River with the Prospector wishes the couple a long and plessant life.

Five Year Old Child Lost.

Last Sunday evening just after the game of ball the news spread very rapidly that a child was lost. When an investigation was made, it was found that Ernest Hatton, the five year old boy of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hatton had not been seen since the dinner on the picnic grounds. Searching parties were at once sent out. The river was searched, every cabin and prospect hole from the mouth of Mallette canon to the head, by men and women. Many of the men were on horseback. His father found the boys shoe tracks going up the canon and followed it until dark to where the boy had left the trail. He returned for his dog with the hope that he could trail him. When he reached town he found the boy had been found by A. D. Parker of the Little Gem mining property. Mr. Parker reports the boy reached his place near Midnight about exhausted, and was going by when his dog barked and called his attention to the child. He asked the child where he was going and he said he was going home. He asked him where he lived and he pointed north, the opposite direction from Red River. He did not want to stop but wanted to go right home. He said he expected his folks would think he was lost, but said he was not lost but that the house was lost. Mr. Parker got the boy to go in and take supper and then he took the boy on his horse and brought him home a distance of about eight or nine miles the distance the boy had walked after two or three o'clock. Many of the searching parties did not return until morning.
