OFFICIAL NOTES OF THE CAPITAL

Crisp Paragraphs of the Activities of the Various Offices in the Territorial Government at Santa Fe.

Santa Fe, N. M., June 12.—Governor Mills has appointed the following notaries: Charles A. Hawkins, Peoria, San Miguel county; George E. Cardwell, Alamitos, Lincoln county; Nellie C. Brown, Albuquerque; William F. Buchanan, Farmington, San Juan county; Nan E. Stevens, Albuquerque, Bernalillo county.

Territorial Treasurer M. A. Otero has received the following sums for the treasury: Chris Redfield, treasurer of Luna county, $9,621.14; R. J. Hodges, of Roosevelt county, $1546.36; Reynolds Roberts, of Torrance county, $1286.82; Game and Fish Warden Thomas P. Gallup, $19.50.

A certificate of amendment to the articles of incorporation of the New Mexico Bonds syndicate was filed in the territorial secretary's office, changing the name to the Home Bond and Loan company. The company has its office in Albuquerque.

The department of education is sending out questions for the eighth grade examination which will be held throughout the territory June 16 and 17.

Professor John E. Watson of the University of New Mexico is visiting the various institutes of the territory and will lecture before each on "Nature Study" and kindred subjects.

Sheriff Julius Meyers of Torrance county has arrived, bringing Edward Trujillo, one of the persons implicated in the murder of Juan Peralta May 28 at Tajique. Trujillo is a young man and is said to have taken the most active part in the tragedy. He was brought here for safe keeping and is lodged in the pen.

Sheriff Meyer also brought Theodore Hicks of Estancia to this city where he was committed by Judge R. M. Fe to the insane asylum at Las Vegas, on the charge of lunacy. Hicks form of mania seemed to be a desire to get acquainted with everybody he met and to tell them his imaginary troubles.

Captain Fred Fornoff of the New Mexico mounted police has returned from Willard where he reports Wesley Ford was arrested and fined $25 by Justice Howell for selling beef without producing the hide.

More Civil Service Exams.

Secretary Parsons of the local civil service board has received the following notices of civil service examinations: Draftsman, department of agriculture, $1800 per year, July 5; assistant chemist in forest products $1200 to $1500, July 5; laboratory aid (male) bureau of plant industry, department of agriculture, July 5; assistant agricultural engineer $1200 a year, July 5; quarry technologist (male) in the bureau of mines, Pittsburg, Pa., $3,000 a year on July 1, and horticulturalist (male) at $2,000 to $2,500 a year on July 5. For blanks and further information application may apply to Secretary Parsons at Santa Fe.

Mayor Seligman has invited the chiefs and their best citizens of neighboring pueblos to take part in the De Vargas pageant which will be held here on July 4. When Don Diego R. Vargas made his first entry into Santa Fe the Indian warriors, mounted on their superb horses and costumed in their barbaric splendor, escorted the triumphal procession, according to historians.

The publicity committee of the chamber of commerce has issued a few copies of a dainty little folder, the neat thing of the kind yet published, for the Post Card day, June 22. It tells all about the delights of summer and outdoor life in and about Santa Fe. Several beautiful scenes from the paper Poems, loaned by the Valley Ranch, are used. It will cost one cent to mail this folder by itself. It can also be enclosed with any business letter without increasing postage, for it is small enough to fit into a No. 6 envelope. Secretary Hollis will distribute these folders among business men where they can be had upon application.

POSTMASTERS NOW ORGANIZING

F. O. Blood of Las Vegas Is Chosen Temporary President and W. A. Davis the Secretary.

Las Vegas, N. M., June 12.—F. O. Blood of this city has been chosen temporary president of the New Mexico Postmasters' association, an organization which is now in process of formation. W. A. Davis of Clovis is temporary secretary. He and Mr. Blood are working for the permanent organization of the association. It is planned to call a meeting of the postmasters in Albuquerque next fall during the territorial fair. The association will include in its membership all first, second and third class postmasters. Mr. Blood and Mr. Davis have had correspondence with a large number of New Mexico postmasters and have received assurance of their hearty support of the proposed association.

The banquet given Friday night in the armory for the delegation of Sunday school workers who stopped off here on the way to San Francisco to attend the International Sunday school convention, was a success. The viands prepared and served by the ladies of the First Christian church were both plentiful and appetizing and the addresses by the visitors at the close were full of interest.

Dr. Frank H. Roberts presided as toastmaster and introduced the speakers.

That the Colmor cut off and the sixty-stall round house for Las Vegas will not be built this year, was the statement made Friday morning by F. C. Fox, general manager for the western grand division of the Santa Fe railway, who was in Las Vegas this morning. Mr. Fox says the Santa Fe will spend no money this year in new lines and extensions and such improvements as the road has been contemplating here. It will spend a large amount of money, however, in maintenance.

Next Saturday, Tag day, will be observed in Las Vegas for the benefit of the public library. The library board has invited a number of the popular and pretty girls of the city to do the tagging stunts.

SOAK THE LAWN TO SAVE THE GRASS

Authorities on Subject Declare Light Sprinklings Are Harmful and Plenty of Water Should Be Used.

How to save the lawns from being ruined by drought and heat has been the subject of many neighborhood discussions the last two weeks. The too ardent sunshine has burned the grass in dooryards and parks until some exceptional persons begin to doubt the truth of J. J. Ingall's assertion that "forests decay, harvests perish, flowers vanish, but grass is immortal." In many instances, where bits of lawn have been exposed to the full force of the sun, the soil is burned to a crisp and ruined for the summer.

A majority of the lawns that have suffered either have been clipped too closely or watered improperly, experienced horticulturalists say. Where the grass in exposed places has been crowded too close there has not been sufficient protection for the roots and the sun has parched the earth and destroyed the plant growth at its source. And as for watering, the experts say many persons know very little about it.

Water never should be turned on a lawn while the sun is shining or early in the morning, so the grass will remain wet after sunrise. The effect of such sprinkling in hot weather is to "blister" and wither the vegetation and weaken, if not totally destroy the growth.

Neither are frequent light sprinklings good for a lawn. When the earth is parched a little water on the surface causes the grass roots to turn upward, thirsty for the moisture, and thereby expose themselves to the heat of the sun. A German gardener, whose lawn has remained green and fresh looking has this to say about the care of it:

"I never clip my lawn too closely in hot, dry weather. The long grass protects the roots and the earth from the heat of the sun and retards the evaporation of what little moisture may be in the soil. And when I water my lawn I give it a thorough soaking, not a mere sprinkling. I never use the nozzle on the hose for watering the grass. Instead I let the water flow over the lawn in a full stream from the open hose, moving the end of the hose from place to place so the earth and the grass roots become thoroughly saturated. If that method is followed, and the watering is done at night after the air has cooled somewhat, no drought will wither your lawn."

"I want a pass."

"Pass?" You're not entitled to a pass. You are not an employe, sir."

"No; but here the anti-pass law gives free transportation can be granted to necessary caretakers of livestock, poultry and fruit." Well, I'm going on this trip with an aunt that's a hen—there's your poultry; a girl that's a peach—there's your fruit, and a mule that's a mule—there's your livestock. Gimme a pass.—The Wise Bill.
