WORLD STEEL TRUST TO BE FORMED IN BRUSSELS THIS WINTER

President Gary of the U. S. Combine Suggests That Big Men Gather to Consider a Scheme for Fixing Prices.

FIVE COUNTRIES ARE VITALLY INTERESTED

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

New York, June 16.—It is announced that the best and most distinguished officers of the world will meet in Brussels next January in an international congress to discuss a united agreement for keeping stable the prices of their products.

American, German, Russian, French and Belgian officials are to be represented at the meeting. A method to embody advice from Brussels the meeting is at the suggestion of E. H. Gary, of the United States Steel Corporation. It is understood that the American delegates propose to present a scheme for organization of the output in proportion to the demand, with a view to enforcing a maximum of prices.

THE LORD PERFORMS WONDERS BOOSTER

When we look around about us and see what natural advantages New Mexico possesses, and the Almighty has done for us by giving the final and sealed to come that passes crops of grain and fruit we enjoy, then he loves us, he gives us health and wealth and made also us ordained to do the work that is required in the hearts of a few concerns who don't love the country as they ought. These work shops should at least be patriotic enough to work in the light for statehood and be able to see New Mexico in the Union. Strangers will come to our city in a few months. They will see the wonderful resources of the new state and will invest their money. The Markets

STOCK MARKET IS FIRMER TODAY

Following Slump of Two Days Previous, Wall Street Adopts More Cheerful Attitude and Prices Rally.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

New York, June 16.—The tone of the market was more cheerful today and stocks were held firmly at higher prices throughout the morning, following the recovery from the early period of weakness. Reports of better crop conditions from a number of points were largely responsible for the better feeling and there was an absence of the most ominous of rumors today.

The demand for stocks, however, was limited and the market grew dull as prices improved. Great Northern preferred was lifted a point above yesterday's closing in the second hour and Atchison, Reading, Union Pacific and American Smelting broke as much.

Chicago Grain.

Chicago, June 16.—Firmness of European prices in the face of a decline on this side of the Atlantic makes the wheat market here lean to the bull side. Too much rain was reported in southern Russian and in Roumania, there was an improved demand from Germany and Argentine shipments were light. July started unchanged to 1-8c higher at 87 1-8@87 1-4c, touched 88 1-4c and then gave way to 87 1-2c. The close was firm with July 1-4@1-2c net higher.

Heat in the southwest rendered corn unsteady. September opened unchanged to 1-8c advance at 56@56 1-8c and sold up to 56 1-4c. The close was firm with September 1-8c higher.

Few oats were sold and the markets took higher. September started a shade off to a shade advance at 29 1-8@29 1-4c and went up to 29@29 1-2c.

Provisions were firm. First sales were 2½@17½c higher, with September $11.10 for pork, $6.30 for lard and $6.12½@6.25 for ribs.

A GENERAL REVIEW OF CROP CONDITIONS

Washington, June 16.—The month of May was not, on the whole, very favorable for crop growth, drouthy conditions having prevailed over a great portion of the United States. In consequence the average condition of crop growth in the United States on June 1 was 7.8 per cent below the average condition on that date, some relief from the unfavorable conditions came at the close of May and the first part of June.

A comparison of the conditions of various crops on June 1 with their average condition on June 1 of recent years (ten for cotton, fifteen for most crops) is shown as follows (100 representing average conditions and not normal):

Cotton 78.1, sugar beets 90.1, apples 88.5, raspberries 101.8, spring wheat 101.1, watermelons 100.6.

Pears 99.7, cantaloupes 99.8, blackberries 99.3, sweet cane 99.3, barley 98.2, winter wheat 98.1, rye 98.2, oats 97.8, apples 96.1, onions 95.5, lima beans 95.5, cabbage 97.9, potatoes 97.1, hay 96.9, clover hay 94.6, all hay 95.1, peaches 95.5.

The above figures relate only to relative growing conditions, not taking into account changes in acreage.

Taking into account both acreage and condition, indications are for about 4.9 per cent larger wheat crop than was produced last year, and 18.1 per cent larger than the average of the past five years; oats crop 19.1 per cent less than last year and 4.9 per cent more than the average of the past five years. Barley 8 per cent more than last year and 5.7 per cent more than the five year average. Tame hay acre has not been estimated for the other crops, except that the rye area planted is about 4.4 per cent less than last year. Clover (the hay) acreage 6.3 per cent less and sugar cane acreage 6.1 per cent more than last year.

The average condition of all crops in states on June 1 was approximately as follows, for indicating the average (not normal) for that date on June 1:

Maine 93.7, New Hampshire 94.2, Vermont 93.9, Massachusetts 95.5, Rhode Island 95.2, Connecticut 93.9, New York 93.9, New Jersey 91.8, Pennsylvania 95.1. Average for above division, 94.2, contrasting unfavorably with June 1, 1910, 97.9 per cent.

Delaware 91.7, Maryland 94.5, Virginia 95.3, West Virginia 90.9, North Carolina 95.2, South Carolina 96.9, Georgia 100.1, Florida 100.8. Average for above division 95.7 per cent, condition compared with June 1, 1910, 95.0 per cent.

Ohio 97.5, Indiana 96.2, Illinois 92.8, Michigan 97.1, Wisconsin 94.1. Average for division, 95.8 per cent, compared with June 1, 1910, 98.7 per cent.

Minnesota 102.6, Iowa 101.7, Missouri 98.6, North Dakota 109.8, South Dakota 96.2, Nebraska 95.7, Kansas 95.2. Average for division, 97.9 per cent, compared with June 1, 1910, 102.9 per cent.

Kentucky 95.41, Tennessee 95.1, Alabama 111.5, Mississippi 106.2, Louisiana 110.6, Texas 107.1, Oklahoma 97.4, Arkansas 104.6. Average for division, 102.2 per cent, compared with June 1, 1910, 100.2 per cent.

Montana 100.3, Wyoming 97.7, Colorado 98.4, New Mexico 111.4, Arizona 107.5, Utah 92.8, Nevada 95.5, Idaho 100.1, Washington 107.1, Oregon 107.2, California 96.3. Average for division, 99.1 per cent, compared with June 1, 1910, 96.1 per cent.
