WAY OF TRANSGRESSOR IS INDEED HARD ONE

The mill of justice continued to grind this morning, and three unfortunates who had skirted too near the border of its pitiless machinery were crushed beneath its cogs. Quinceritia Arazon was convicted of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He paid a fine of $5 and costs, and was taken into custody by members of his family.

Lucero Martinez, who was drunk and asleep on the street confessed to his transgressions, and will do ten days. C. F. Pennington, although he exercised what some might consider better judgment in the choice of a sleeping place, was doomed to ten days in jail. He had sought out the soft corner of a box car.

HUNDREDS ATTEND BELEN FIESTA FROM HERE

Two Days Jollification in Cut Off Town Attracts People From All Over Central Rio Grande Valley.

Several hundred Albuquerque people have gone to Belen, many yesterday and many today, to attend the festival which began early yesterday morning and which will continue until midnight tonight. A carload of people went to Belen from Albuquerque on the morning train yesterday; several dozen went down at midnight last night and a large number went on the morning train today. Others went in wagons and automobiles, the people traveling in wagons being prepared to camp out on the trip. Belen is in gala attire for the fiesta. The plaza is thronged with people during all hours. Carnival shows and like attracitions vie with the dance pavilions in entertaining the visitors who are in attendance from all parts of the central Rio Grande valley.

"I can't say. The longest Pullman trip I ever took occupied seven days."—Louisville Courier Journal.

"You mean alone, don't you?"

"Exactly. I want a loan of a fiver."—London Bystander.

OUTLOOK SPLENDID FOR INCREASED ENROLLMENT

President E. McQueen Gray of University of New Mexico Lining Things Up for Opening Day of School.

That the indications are favorable for a splendid enrollment at the University of New Mexico this fall, is the belief of Dr. E. McQueen Gray, president of the University, who is busily engaged these days in lining things up for the opening day of school, which will be Monday, September 11. Dr. Gray recently returned from Santa Fe where he called personally upon several prospective students, who assured him that they will enroll for the year. Within a day or two Dr. Gray will go to Portales, where he will address the teachers' institute now in session. On the trip through Eastern New Mexico, Dr. Gray will work through the medium of newspapers, high school principals and through teachers institutes, in an effort to secure scholars for the Varsity who have made records in the high schools and other institutions as good students.

Regents to Meet.

A meeting of the board of regents of the University will probably be held within the next day or so, at which time action will be taken on a number of matters which must be decided upon before the opening of school.

CITIZENS' TRACTION COMPANY AWARDED JUDGMENT

Judge M. C. Mechem Issues Order Against R. G. Munn of Denver, for $200 Stock Subscription.

The Citizens' Traction and Power company, which financed the Highland street car system, which property was later taken over by the Albuquerque Traction company, has been awarded judgment in the sum of $200 against R. G. Munn of Denver, according to papers filed in the Second judicial district court yesterday afternoon. The judgment was granted by Judge Merritt C. Mechem, following arguments by Attorney Isaac Barth, for the Traction company. Munn formerly was proprietor of two picture show houses in Albuquerque and purchased $200 worth of stock in the Citizens' company, later, it is alleged, refusing to pay the subscription.

Billiards Are Sued.
