NEW METHODS OF FARMING ADVOCATED BY TAFT

President Confines Himself to Conservation of Soil During First Speech and Holds Up Keynote.

HE WILL OPEN BIG GUNS IN THE WEST

Swing Around the Circuit to Discuss His Politics Before People Is Underway; He Starts in Rain.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 16.—President Taft arrived here early today to remain until 2:10 o'clock this afternoon, a visit to the state fair here being the first engagement of his 13,000-mile trip to the west.

The president was greeted by several thousand persons at the station, and there was frequent applause from the sidewalk throngs as he was escorted in an automobile to a breakfast tendered by the Syracuse chamber of commerce.

There were some 200 guests at the breakfast, and at its conclusion the president made a brief speech, acknowledging the hospitality of Syracuse. His principal address of the day was reserved for the fair grounds, whither he was escorted by state troops. A luncheon with the state fair commission at the club house on the grounds was the last fixed event on the program for the day.

Governor Dix was detained at the Spring Lake conference of governors and sent the president a telegram expressing regret at not being able personally to welcome him to New York state.

The president's "swing around the circle" started from Boston last night in a downpour, but today there was a brilliant autumn sun. It is believed the president is planning to withhold speeches that have to do with the more important policies of the administration until he reaches the western border. Today he planned to confine himself largely to a discussion of farming methods and the necessity of conservation of the soil.

From Syracuse, the president goes to Erie, Pa., where tonight he will talk of the peace treaties negotiated during the summer and now held up in the senate.

A discussion of the activities of the department of agriculture and the opportunities for progress open to farmers formed the subject of the address delivered by President Taft at the state fair grounds today.

"We are spending $17,000,000 a year in the maintenance of a department of agriculture," the president said, "and I am confident that an increase in the appropriations each year for that department may be and ought to be expected.

"We have today in continental United States about 1,900,000,000 acres of land, of this 872,000,000 are included in the acreage of farms. In the last ten years that acreage did not increase more than 35,000,000, or a little over 4 per cent. In the same time the population increased 25 per cent.

"If our population increases as rapidly as it has heretofore, we shall in fifty years have upwards of 200,000,000 people in this country to support on this 872,000,000 acres, much of which is probably not capable of producing a great deal.

In the next hundred years if this is to be a self-sustaining country, we must adopt new methods of farming and pursue them with eagerness and intelligent enterprise.

I am an optimist and believe that situations, however, threatening or immediately discouraging have in themselves elements that justify hope of betterment. The increased price of farm products has increased the value of the farms and has more than gained in the profiting.

The president then referred to the marked improvement prospects for the farmer under modern conditions, and said that these would "give to brothers who stay on the farm a much more certain prospect of a good income and comfortable living than those who seek to go into professions in which the chance profits, and a comfortable livelihood are growing less, while those upon the farms are rapidly increasing.

"The vocational schools, must be increased in every state," President Taft continued.

"Of course, we must observe economy in every expenditure of the government and must not allow our enthusiasm in favor of a particular cause to blind us to the necessity of care in the disbursement of public money, but I am bound to say that I do not know any part of the government business in which the public will receive a more certain advantage than from money expended under the appropriation bills for the agricultural department of the United States."

AVIATOR IS AGAIN FLYING WESTWARD FOR BIG PRIZE OF HEARST

Ward Made Trip of Fifty-six Miles This Morning at Speed of Mile a Minute; He is Flying This Afternoon.

FOWLER DELAYED BY LACK OF MATERIAL

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Susquehanna, Pa., Sept. 16.—James J. Ward made a fine flight from Callison to this place today. Ward flew the distance of about 56 miles at a speed of nearly a mile a minute. He will continue his air journey this afternoon towards Buffalo.

WARD WILL SPEND NIGHT AT HORNELL

Binghampton, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Aviator Ward left Susquehanna at 2:17 this afternoon after luncheon there, and passed over Binghampton at 2:45, flying swiftly west. He expected to make Corning for his next stop and thence fly to Hornell, where he planned to spend the night.

FOWLER COULD NOT START FLIGHT TODAY

Colfax, Cal., Sept. 16.—Failure to receive certain parts necessary in the construction of his biplane prevented Aviator Robert G. Fowler resuming his flight today. Fowler has been assured, however, that the parts will be here today and he expects to make trial flights tomorrow, having decided that he would make better time in the long run by giving his biplane a thorough test. He will start at 5 o'clock Monday morning, according to present intentions.

CRUCIFIX IS STRUCK BY ASSASSIN'S BULLET

When Premier Stolypin Was Shot, the Leaden Pellet Hit Religious Ornament He Always Wore.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Kiev, Russia, Sept. 16.—The minister of finance, who has assumed the duties of the premier temporarily, has issued stringent commands regarding the prompt suppression of disturbances. A Cossack regiment is protecting the Jewish quarters. When Bogroff attempted the life of M. Stolypin, the one revolver bullet that entered the body first struck the crucifix which the premier always wears and thus lost much of its force. M. Stolypin's condition is said to be satisfactory.

JUAREZ HOLIDAY IS PEACEABLE

Twenty-One Guns Are Fired as Salute and Night Is Spent in Dancing and Revelry Without Bloodshed.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 16.—Juarez celebrated Mexican independence by dancing all night and firing a salute of 21 guns this morning and is today as quiet as a country village.

Threatened Magonista attacks on the town have not materialized, and the largest band of Magonistas reported in the country around Juarez is at Rancherip, 20 miles below town, where 30 men are said to be under arms. No attack on Juarez is threatened today and the only disorders feared in the border town are those usually attending celebrations.

MEXICO CITY CELEBRATES IN PEACE

Mexico City, Sept. 16.—The anniversary of Mexico's declaration of independence was celebrated today, the feature of the program being a parade of military reviewed by President De La Barra.

Early in the day the streets were thronged with merrymakers, who appeared imbued with a spirit of freedom and the occasion was celebrated much noisier than heretofore.

The official program began when the members of the chamber of deputies, cabinet officers, members of the supreme court and diplomats called upon the president at 9 o'clock.

The later at the head of the reception partion party, the president drove to Chautepectec, where formal exercises were to be held.

The program included a reading of the declaration of independence.

WHAT THE PEOPLE ALSO KNOW

In the leading article of yesterday morning's paper, there lurks the fine hand of a would-be state officer, who, in many ways has attempted to help the Journal and its rump committee since the downfall of Gillenwater last winter. The gentleman may think he is hidden, but like the bird of the desert who sticks his head in a hole and imagines himself out of sight, he is perfectly visible and his efforts at hiding from cover simply ludicrous. His labored article on the rise and fall of Hubbellism is the state and ancient history of a fight long since had and forgotten. What the Hubbell said in the past is not now an issue. The present committee duly recognized by the State Republican committee is not a Hubbell machine, nor anything that could be so construed. Mr. Hubbell is not even a member of the committee and the foolish attempts of the Acrobat to put up straw men and then throw rocks at them will not go. The real live issue now is the fall of Mr. Gillenwater and the corrupt and rotten methods employed by him and his organ, the Journal, in the last few years in this county. How the fusion of 1906 in which both participated resulted in the election of the reform treasurer and assessor who were elected upon a platform which stood for a reduction of salaries but who sued for and received the full four per cent, is more interesting and less ancient. Then a history of why the county taxes here have been raised each year to keep pace with the reduced territorial tax might prove interesting to those of its readers who care for current literature. An itemized statement of the $12,000 mile of road built to Traction park, might interest those who care for mathematical problems.

The nice clean, gentlemanly methods used by the same gang at the last election in 1908, when it took a campaign fund of something like $15,000 to carry a republican county with a normal majority of 1600 to 2000, might also make nice reading, coupled with a biographical sketch of some of those who distributed the "slush fund." The most ridiculous thing in the article in question is the claim that the people would not vote for Felipe Hubbell because of his name last year, when it is well known that that defeat was due to the bolt of Jesus Romero, who put in his whole time during the campaign knifing Mr. Hubbell, although he was a delegate in the convention that nominated him, and it looks on the face of the thing, that the chairman heartily aided and abetted in knifing his own ticket, and electing Mr. Ferguson to the constitutional convention.

The facts are that the Journal crowd are using him to scare and intimidate Republicans out of the party. They put up a ticket days in advance of the convention and then proceed to fight it. They are against Republicanism, Republican principles and Republican leaders, state and national, and are trying to lead Republicans out of the party. Mr. Gillenwater and the Journal have repeatedly fought Republican nominees as the results of late years will show.

BANK ROBBERS ARE HIDING NEARBY

Detectives Are Certain That Gang Which Secured Quarter of Million From Institution Did Not Flee.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 16.—That the robbers who looted the bank of Montreal at Westminster, are somewhere in Vancouver, is regarded today as almost certain, and the fact that they are hiding in the vicinity of the bank, has caused a posse of detectives and sheriffs to follow the trail.

A number of well known Republican orators will make addresses, among them Ralph C. Ely of Deming, Governor E. S. Stover, and Colonel Edward Johnson of Albuquerque. Mr. Ely will be the chief orator. His ability as a public speaker is well known and needs no introduction to the people of Albuquerque. All Republicans in the county and other citizens, regardless of political belief, are urged to attend the meeting.

SECTION HANDS ON DELEWARE GO ON A STRIKE TONIGHT

They Demanded Concessions and Are Met With Refusal to Arbitrate on Part of Railroad Officials.

THEY WANTED AN INCREASE IN PAY

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 16.—Twelve hundred and fifty foremen and section hands on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad have been ordered by A. B. Lowe, president of the Maintenance of Way Employes' union, to strike at 6 o'clock.

The strike was authorized by the national officers of the Trackmen's union and followed the refusal of the company to arbitrate differences with the men.

The section men had asked for an increase in wages, which was refused.

Subsequently, it is said, M. G. Foley, a section foreman and chairman of the grievance committee, was dismissed. The section men asserted that he had been discharged because of his activity in the agitation for increased wages and demanded his reinstatement. This, the men say, also was refused and then the union men suggested arbitration. President Truesdale of the company declined to arbitrate and the strike today was the result.

The strike order takes in the entire Lackawanna system between Hoboken, N. J., and Buffalo.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Paris, Sept. 16.—The German foreign minister, Herr Von Kiderlen-Waechter, today informed the French ambassador at Berlin, Cambon, that the German government would not be ready before Monday to indicate what is thought of the French reply to the German note concerning Morocco.

GERMAN SOLDIERS NOT UNDER ARMS

Berlin, Sept. 16.—Rumors regarding the retention of German soldiers with the colors because of the Moroccan situation, were set at rest today by an official statement that all of those enlisted in accordance with orders issued last March were being dismissed within three days following their return from the maneuvers.

Reports that Great Britain, Holland and Belgium are continuing military preparations cause some disquietude, but the general feeling of reassurance prevails.

MINER IS KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Small Cave-in Results Fatally for Peter Martini at Glenwood Springs, Colorado; Others Are Injured.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Glenwood Springs, Colo., Sept. 16.—A small cave-in and gas explosion last night in a coal mine at South Canon, three miles south of here, resulted in the death of Peter Martini, a miner aged 30 years. Following the explosion, Martini started for the mine entrance, but was overcome with black damp. All other men at work in the mine were hoisted through the air course. All were injured.

CONVENTION OF DEPUTY SHERIFFS IS HELD

Jesus Romero and His Lieutenants Render Great Assistance at Gillenwater Junta in Court House Today.

PEERLESS TENNESSEAN RECITES GRIEVANCES

Post Mortem Examination of Defunct Alleged Republican Bernalillo County Organization Sad to Behold.

With deputy sheriffs in attendance from all parts of the county, each deputy being accompanied by several of his trusty friends, and with the county commissioners acting as ushers, a Gillenwater junta was held in the Bernalillo county courthouse this afternoon at which the would-be chairman of a defunct organization recited at length his grievances against the state organization and against the Republicans in Bernalillo county who have refused to submit to his leadership. But for the deputy sheriffs and their followers the junta would have been even more of a fizzle than it was. But the deputies were on the job with bright, blazing stars, announcing to all the world the majesty of their office. The deputies were there strong with the manufactured applause. It was a brilliant idea—this thing of bringing in the deputies. They were of greater assistance than Romero ever imagined they would be.

TWELVE OF ORIGINAL COMMITTEE PRESENT

When Mr. Gillenwater had looked over the vast assemblage of deputy sheriffs for the fortieth time in the vain hope that some common citizens and a few of the "sovereign" people would put in an appearance, he conceived the thought of calling the rump convention to order, which he did promptly at 2:40, forty minutes after the scheduled time.

Mr. Gillenwater formally called time, and after stating the purpose of the gathering, at which a great light dawned on the deputy sheriffs, gave the signal to Secretary A. E. Walker to read the manifesto, officially announcing the junta. This done, Mr. Gillenwater proceeded with a post mortem examination of the defunct Gillenwater organization, which, as every live wire, progressive and up-to-date Republican knows, became ancient history some few days ago.

Proceeding to the roll call, Mr. Walker ascertained that there were present twelve members of the original Bernalillo county central committee, either in person or by proxy. The names of the twelve follow:

Antonio Garcia, Policarpio Armijo, Filomeno Mora, D. S. Rosenwald, by proxy held by M. R. Springer; A. E. Walker, Jesus Romero, Julian Perea, Carlos Griego, W. H. Gillenwater, D. H. Boatright, Jose Sabedra, Jaramillo and Henry Bramlett. There was an audible sigh of relief when the assemblage heard Henry answer to his name when the roll was called.

As the Gillenwater committee lined up, including the twelve members of the original committee and those who have since been initiated in to the Gillenwater organization, the roll call stacked up as follows:

Precinct 1, George Blake and Cresencio Lopez; precinct 2, Antonio Garcia; precinct 3, B. Falkenrich; precinct 5, J. M. Sanchez; precinct 6, Meliton Cordova; precinct 8, Juan M. Montoya; precinct 9, Policarpio Armijo; precinct 10, Filomeno Mora; precinct 12, D. S. Rosenwald (by proxy M. R. Springer), A. E. Walker, A. Grunsfeld, P. Hanley; precinct 13, Jesus Romero, Julian Perea (by proxy M. R. Springer), M. R. Springer; precinct 22, Carlos Griego; precinct 23, Tercio Lucero; precinct 26, W. H. Gillenwater, D. H. Boatright, H. S. Lithgow, by proxy; precinct 28, Jose Sabedra Jaramillo; precinct 35, Jose Antonio Garcia; delegate at large, H. Bramlett.

Those who failed to answer when the rump organization roll was called were: Nicanor Martinez, in precinct No. 4; Dario Chavez, in precinct No. 7; Dolores Muniz, in precinct No. 11; Teodoro Garcia, in precinct No. 14; H. F. Raynolds and W. W. Strong, in precinct No. 24; Francisco Meldonado, in precinct 34. It was generally rumored about the court house that H. F. Raynolds, of precinct No. 24 had left the Gillenwater organization.

The roll call on the executive committee showed as present W. H. Gillenwater, A. Grunsfeld, T. Gurule, D. S. Rosenwald, by proxy) Jesus Romero, P. Hanley, A. E. Walker, B. Spitz. Messrs. G. S. Klock, A. B. Stroup, H. F. Raynolds and M. R. Summers of the executive committee were absent.

Notwithstanding that there were only twelve members of the original
