SELF RESPECTING MEN IN BOTH PARTIES REFUSE TO SUBMIT TO GANG BOSSES

DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS ALIKE DECLINE TO SWALLOW HYBRID TICKET NOMINATED BY COALITION BACKERS

Leaders Come Out Flat Footed and Declare They Will Not Support and Help Into Office Men Who Have No Standing in Their Own Party, Who Had No Right to Be Nominees for Any Office, and Who Cannot Possibly Be Elected; Old Warhorses Declare Without Hesitation That They Will Support Straight Republican Ticket; Life Long Democrats Willing to Wager as High as Five Hundred Dollars That Gillenwater "Renegade," Aggregation Will Go Down to Disastrous Defeat.

Thoroughly disgusted with the means and the methods used in nominating the hybrid ticket placed in the field Saturday night, as the result of a coalition between renegade Republicans championed by Gillenwater and Jesus Romero, and by the Democrats, led by such strong party men as Emil Mann, J. A. Skinner, William Kicke, T. J. Passmore and W. Moore Clayton, dozens of lifelong Republicans and Democrats, men who have always had the interests of their party at heart, have broken away from the organizations with which they have been identified and have come out in the open and declared themselves for the straight Republican ticket, even though at this time that ticket has not yet been nominated.

The Democrats are through with the hybrid ticket. They absolutely decline to even consider voting for a ticket upon which the Democrats should have had, at the very least, an even representation. The Democrats refuse absolutely to even think of helping into office renegade Republicans who have no place in their own party, and who hoped to use the Democrats as a means to an end to secure five years of plenty for them.

Out of all the county offices in Bernalillo county the Democrats were given, as the culmination of the brilliant scheme, the probate judge, treasurer and surveyor.

It made the Democrats wild to think of it Saturday night and yesterday and today they feel the same way.

To think it was the Gillenwater gang of political renegades that sought the coalition, that the Gillenwater gang made the first overtures, and then to think that the Gillenwater aggregation was smooth enough to frame up a scheme whereby the Democrats shall rake the chestnuts out of the fire for the renegades, is enough to make any self respecting Democrat blush.

And the Democrats are not only blushing, but they are coming out in the open and saying that they will not only do everything in their power to defeat the hybrid ticket, but they will also do everything in their power to elect the straight Republican ticket.

After milling around from 9 o'clock Saturday morning until midnight Saturday night this is the ticket that the bosses of the coalition scheme put in the field:

For state representatives, Thomas A. Gurule, John B. Burg, both Gillenwater men, and Rafael Garcia, a Democrat.

For county commissioners, Alfred Grunsfeld, M. R. Springer and Policarpio Armijo, Grunsfeld, Springer and Armijo, a trio of Gillenwaters, have been county commissioners for years and for two years past have been laying the wires to again scrump these offices. But they have crossed their wires this time.

For probate judge, Manuel P. Vigil, a Democrat.

For county clerk, A. E. Walker, Gillenwater.

For sheriff, Jesus Romero, Gillenwater.

For assessor, F. B. Heyn, Gillenwater.

For treasurer, M. Mandell, Democrat.

For superintendent of schools, Atanacio Montoya, Gillenwater.

For surveyor, Pitt Ross, Democrat.

The Democrats bartered their birthright for a mess of pottage. The probate judge, treasurer and surveyor out of the entire list of nominations for the Democrats. The Gillenwater gang captured all the plums, leaving the choke cherries for their friends, the poor, misguided Democrats.

It was as fine a bit of political maneuvering as Gillenwater ever did in his life. Every Democrat will remember that it was Gillenwater who flimflammed the Democrats in 1906 and grabbed for his gang all the county offices with one single exception—that of treasurer, which was handed to John S. Beaven, a Democrat. The Democrats have not forgotten how Gillenwater during the intervening two years built up a great gang machine. How Gillenwater at the next election, when approached by the Democrats with a view of a coalition, told the same Democrats who had helped to put him into power in 1906 to "go to the devil" and do what they liked; he wasn't in favor of any coalition.

And it is but a few days since Gillenwater, read out of his own party, turned down by the Republican state organization and discredited before the entire county and state, made overtures to the Democrats, seeking again a coalition.

And it is but two days since Gillenwater, by means and methods known to everybody, manipulated and engineered things so that the "gang" would get all the fat offices, and the Democrats, who were not at all favorable to a coalition, got practically nothing.

TRINIDAD LUCERO WALKS OUT OF MEETING.

Trinidad Lucero of Bernalillo, who has always been a faithful worker in the Democratic ranks, and who was a delegate in the Democratic convention, was the leader of a half dozen delegates who arose as one man and shouted "traitor," when it was seen that coalition on a humiliating basis was inevitable.

Trinidad walked out of the convention, followed by a half dozen of his friends.

McManus Double-Crossed.

John B. McManus, who was a candidate on the Democratic ticket for treasurer or assessor, whichever office his party cared to honor him with, was gloriously "double-crossed" in the Democratic convention. McManus, secretary of the fair association, didn't have time to get out and do any work to get the nomination. He trusted the convention to treat him on the square. But he was tripped up in a shameful way and many supporters of John B. McManus will vote the Republican ticket.

CHARLIE ROEHL IS OUT IN THE OPEN

Charlie Roehl, for years a prominent and hard worker in the Democratic ranks, one of the best known of the younger politicians in the county, and a man who has always been faithful to the organization, declared today that he will support the Republican ticket.

"The Democrats can't stand for the hybrid ticket, said Mr. Roehl today. "That convention Sunday was the worst thing I ever saw. If the Gillenwater crowd thinks for a minute that the Democrats of this city and county are going to support that ticket they nominated Saturday night they will have cause to change their minds before election day."

FELIX LESTER NOT HEEDED BY DELEGATES

One of the most significant features of the Democratic convention was the absolute disregard by the delegates of any advice given by the men who have real standing in the party. For instance, Felix H. Lester, a man who was prominently mentioned by his friends for the state senate, was not given any consideration, either as a delegate in the convention, or as a possible candidate. Mr. Lester was sidetracked by such men as Emil Mann, Passmore, Kicke, et al, men who did everything possible to defeat Mr. Lester when he ran for mayor the last time.

MARRON AGAIN IN THE FOREGROUND

O. N. Marron, candidate on the state ticket for treasurer, was one of the most radical supporters of coalition at any cost. Marron pleaded with his "fellow Democrats" to combine with the Gillenwater gang.

"It will mean the support of the united Republican organization in Bernalillo county," shouted and orated Marron. "I plead with you my fellow Democrats to form this coalition. It will mean victory for McDonald, our candidate for governor."

Later in the day some of the delegates saw the significance of the statement, when they remembered Marron is candidate on the ticket for state treasurer.

SAME SCENES IN GILLENWATER MEETING

The scenes that were enacted in the Democratic convention were repeated in the Gillenwater convention. David H. Boatright, who was led by the Gillenwater gang to believe that he would be named assessor, was sidetracked and put on as county commissioner. Mr. Boatright asserted his manhood when he declined to permit his name to go before the convention as a candidate for commissioner. He further asserted his independence when he walked out of the convention hall, followed by J. F. Sulzer. Both Mr. Boatright and Mr. Sulzer have always been hard workers for the Gillenwater crowd and their loss and prestige will mean much to that gang.

If the Gillenwater gang believed that the Republicans of Bernalillo county would support a ticket with Alfred Grunsfeld, M. R. Springer and Policarpio Armijo for commissioners; Jesus Romero, for sheriff; A. E. Walker for clerk, and Fred Heyn for assessor, they had the most colossal nerve of any aggregation of political pirates that ever sailed under the black flag. All these men have held office for years. They saw no way under the sun in which to get the nominations again in this election on a straight Republican ticket. They bolted and fixed up a slate that carried every one of them on for renomination. And then have the audacity to ask the Republicans of the county to support them. And still further have the nerve to ask the Democrats to support them.

For state representatives on the Republican ticket, there are Thomas A. Gurule and John Baron Burg, on the Democratic side is Rafael Garcia. These men are all weak sisters. Tom Gurule, Johnnie Burg and Rafael Garcia. All perfectly harmless. If Gurule gets a majority in his home precinct he will be doing the work. Baron Burg, who drives through the streets of Albuquerque with two fox terriers on the seat alongside of him in his carriage, has indicated time and again his ability—to keep the terriers from falling off the seat. Rafael Garcia is a good man at laying cement sidewalks. But who in heaven's name wants to send Rafael Garcia up to the legislature to have him frame laws? Rafael and better stay at home and attend to laying concrete walks while business in that line is good. He has already admitted that he doesn't expect to be elected.

Isaac Barth, who is to be switched by the Republicans on the "shoestring" circuit and given a chance to try for senator from the three counties, was nominated as a joke, by a joker, and will prove to be the biggest joker in the whole deck. Barth was put in the face of strong opposition on the part of men who wanted to put Felix H. Lester on the ticket. And the hybrid ticket lost a good many votes there in that play.

All in all the hybrid ticket is a wonderful thing. It is beaten in city and county even before it is two days old. Old "Buffalo" Jones, when he heard about the ticket today, shook his head and smiled.

"I thought I was the original hybrid artist," said the man who has roped lions in Africa and who has "crossed many animals, "but I never heard of such a hyorid proposition as that Gillenwater - Democratic-Gillenwater ticket is."

WHO'S WHO ON THE COUNTY FUSION TICKET

The Republican bolters, by an oversight, so it is said, have failed and neglected thus far to endorse Isaac Barth, Democratic nominee for the state senate from Bernalillo county of the "shoestring" district. The "float" nomination is in doubt.

Is Isaac Barth the nominee on the fusion ticket for the state senate from Bernalillo county, or isn't he?

Is Barth the fusion nominee for the "float" district, composed of this, Sandoval and San Juan counties, or isn't he?

Is Barth a candidate on the fusion ticket at all?

If Barth isn't on the ticket, who is the candidate for the state senate from this county and who is the candidate for the float district?

You can search Mr. Barth. He doesn't seem to know. The Democratic bosses who handled the steam roller during a fourteen hour run last Saturday they do not know. The bolting Republicans do not know. Up to a late hour this afternoon the committees appointed by both sides to find out didn't know. The top of the fusion ticket has taken the aeroplane route. At last reports it was still going up.

Comment on the fusion ticket has been lively today. About every other man remarks that so far as the Republican side is concerned it is made up of the same old crowd who went into office on the wave of reform in 1906. There is no reform wave now and the only issue the public has seen so far is that the old crowd want to hold on to the jobs.

The fusion ticket has started on its way with its tail dragging. The atmosphere of gloom noticeable around the two conventions Saturday has deepened since the ticket was made public. The rap that started when the bolters bolted has become a roar. Last Friday a leading fusionist predicted 1200 majority for the ticket. Today the same man placed the majority at 500. Other fusionists are not so hopeful.

New Mexico's Educational Institutions Are a Monument to Republican Progressiveness

At the close of the Thornton administration—the last Democratic administration in New Mexico, there was an empty treasury and a deficit of $127,339.91.

Likewise the territorial educational institutions were absolutely bankrupt. The University of New Mexico, now the foremost educational institution in New Mexico, was a mere joke. It was so run down, so devoid of accomodations, so in need of buildings, repairs, instructors and apparatus that it could in no manner fulfill its work and it was not receiving students from New Mexico where parents could afford to send their children to schools in other parts of the country. This was true in the Agricultural College, of the Military Institute, or the Normal School and of every educational institution in New Mexico.

At the close of the Thornton administration, no funds were available for additional buildings for these schools and there were not even sufficient funds to run them without deficits.

THE TOTAL VALUATION OF EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS THEN WAS APPROXIMATELY $250,000 putting it at the highest figure. Today these institutions are monuments to the advancement and enlightenment of New Mexico and their valuation, including their up-to-date and modern apparatus, is in excess of $2,000,000. The various communities in which these educational institutions are located know that these facts are true.

Look at the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque. Look at what it is today and look at what it was when these same old Democratic plunderers who ran the Thornton administration, got through with it in less than four years' time.

The citizens of the Mesilla valley—irrespective of party lines—know what the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts has grown to be under Republican regime. They know what it was in Thornton's heyday and what shape it was in when the Republicans took it up and began to lay the foundations for the present great school.

Over in the Pecos valley and the pretty little city of Roswell, they point with pride to the Roswell military institute—one of the ten foremost military and educational institutions of the kind in the United States, outside of West Point. They will tell you what that institute needed and never received from the Thornton Democratic gang. They know what that school is today and they are proud of that institution.

And in this connection remember that every Republican legislature, every Republican governor, every Republican politician has had to undergo villification and abuse at the hands of the Journal Democrat at Albuquerque. They have been accused of graft, dishonesty and all political crimes but despite the abuse, despite the slander, lie and libel of that paper and of the Democratic bosses these splendid institutions have been built up. The money has been well and wisely spent and these educational institutions stand forth today, one of the greatest monuments of them all, to Republican progress and Republican ability. There are many of these institutions mentioned here. It is not necessary to name them all, the school for the blind, the school for the deaf and dumb, the Normal university and the rest of them. They are one and all alike, standing testimonials to the great party of progress. Ask the communities in which they are located. Some of these institutions were not even in existence when the Democratic gang held the reins and they would not be in existence today had the Democratic party remained in charge of the administration. Do you want these educational institutions to continue to grow and to prosper?

ROOSEVELT DOESN'T WANT NOMINATION

President of Roosevelt Club of St. Paul Says He Is Authorized to Make Statement.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Chicago, Ill. Oct. 16.—Hugh T. Albert, president of the Roosevelt club of St. Paul, who was an early arrival for today's session of the National Republican Progressive league, declared that Theodore Roosevelt would not be a candidate for the Republican nomination for president.

"I received a telegram from Mr. Roosevelt, in which he spoke of the conference of progressive Republicans to be held in Chicago and said

"No one must be for me," said Mr. Albert.

The opening session of the congress was called to order by Professor Charles E. Merriam, of the University of Chicago, and George S. Record, of New Jersey, was chosen chairman.

Counsel for McNamaras Makes Dramatic Speech Before Judge Bordwell in Attempt to Get Nelson Off Jury.

NO CHICKEN THIEF CASE SAYS ATTORNEY

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 16.—Opposing counsel engaged again today before Judge Walter Bordwell over the case of Talesman E. T. Nelson, in the murder trial of James McNamara. Joseph Scott, considered the principal orator among counsel for the defense, made the final argument for the defense, reading from the record to support his contention that Nelson was a man biased and could not determine whether McNamara caused the death of Charles J. Haggerty.

"Better the defendant be taken up a mob and hanged than to be tried by a jury consisting of men like Nelson," Scott declared.

Attorney Scott finally was checked by the court when he used the phrase "railroaded to the gallows."

"The court held that no measure intent had been shown by the prosecution.

"The greatest personal misfortune in history have been connected in concerted men," repeated Scott.

Attorney Scott in his argument said:

"This is no chicken thief case. It is a charge of great importance to the defendant.

"I have confidence in this court and the administration of justice and that there is enough left in this country to give this man a fair trial."

Mr. Harton objected to Mr. Scott's charges that the state was attempting to railroad McNamara to the gallows.

"Mr. Scott, said Judge Bordwell, "you are not at all justified in such admonitions on the district attorney and his staff. He presents the case in course that seems as best he can. He may differ with you, but I don't think I would take the view that the district attorney is actuated by improper motives. It occurs to me that if he believes he is doing his duty he is justified in his activity."

"Your honor, continued Mr. Scott, "I don't think we can conceal the fact that there has been tremendous feeling engendered in this case. My zeal will have to creep in, but I wish to do no one any more wrong."

The Score:	R.	H.	E.
New York	1	5	4
Philadelphia	3	8	0

Shibe Park, Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 16.—The Athletics turned the tables on the New York Giants in the second game for the world's championship this afternoon by a score of 3 to 1. The game was even until the sixth inning when Collins doubled and Baker drove the ball over the right field fence for a home run.

Both pitchers were in excellent form, Plank having a slight advantage owing to his steadiness. Marquard was visibly nervous in the opening innings, but steadied down and the Athletics were unable to do anything with his delivery except in the sixth inning. New York's only run was the result of a misjudged fly in center which went for two bases. The local team backed up Plank in faultless style while the Giants made three errors and a rank muff by Devore, the latter also striking out four times.

The batting order follows:

New York—Devore, lf; Doyle, 2b; Snodgrass, cf; Murray, rf; Merkle, 1b; Herzog, 3b; Fletcher, ss; Meyers, c; Marquard, p.

Athletics—Lord, lf; Oldring, cf; Collins, 2b; Baker, 3b; Murphy, rf; Davis, 1b; Barry, ss; Thomas, c; Plank, p.

It was decided that a ball hit over the temporary fence in the playing field would go for two bases.

First Inning

First half, New York—Devore struck out. Doyle flied to Lord. Snodgrass hit by pitched ball. Murray drove a fly to Collins. No runs.

Second half, Philadelphia—Lord singled, reaching from the record to second on Murray's fumble. Crandall is warming up for the Giants.

Lord took third on Oldring's sacrificial sacrifice, Marquard to Merkle. Lord scored on a wild pitch. Collins lined out an infield hit. Marquard was visibly nervous. Baker struck out. Murphy was the third out on a fly to Devore. One run.

Second Inning

First half, New York—Merkle out, Barry to Davis. Herzog drove a double to center, taking misjudged fly ball. Fletcher was thrown out, Collins to Davis. Herzog taking third. Herzog scored a moment later on Meyers' single. Marquard struck out. One run.

Second half, Crandall Davis was retired, Doyle to Merkle. Barry drove a hard fly to left which Devore got under but muffed. Barry taking second. Phegley lifted a fly to Devore. Plank was out, Meyers to Merkle, on a wide grounder towards first. No runs.

Third Inning.

First half, New York—Devore struck out. Doyle flew out to Lord. Snodgrass singled to right. Murray was retired, Plank to Davis. No runs.

Second half, Philadelphia—Lord lined out. Oldring lifted a foul which Meyers took care of. Collins flew out to Devore. No runs.

Fourth Inning

First half, New York—Merkle was thrown out, Collins to Davis on a prettily picking. Herzog lifted a high one to Barry. Fletcher was thrown out to Barry to Davis. No runs.

Second half, Philadelphia—Baker retired Doyle to Merkle. Marquard had steadied down and was pitching a splendid game.

Murphy gave Devore an easy out on a long fly. Davis made the third out on a foul to Meyers. No runs.

Fifth Inning.

First half, New York—Meyers was out, Baker to Davis on an easy chance. Marquard fanned, four pitched balls. Devore struck out the third time in succession. No runs.

Second half, Philadelphia—Up to this time had six strikeouts and Mar-
