

Saint Mary's Beacon.

LEONARDTOWN, MD.

THURSDAY Morning August 1.

There was no bolt from the St. Mary's Republican convention, but harmony was conspicuous for its absence.

The Herald, of the 31st, says the ticket will likely be:
For Governor—Jno. E. Hurst.
For Comptroller—M. deK. Smith.
For Attorney-General—H. Kyd Douglas.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

St. Mary's Republicans met in Convention Tuesday. E. B. Abell, Esq., of the Central Committee, called the assemblage to order and was named by Chas. B. Barber for temporary chairman. Wash. Wilkinson nominated J. Edwin Coad. Mr. Abell wished to withdraw his name but was not permitted to do it. The question was first put on Mr. Coad's nomination; then on Mr. Abell's. Mr. A. said he was placed in a delicate position but from the sound thought Mr. Abell was chosen. Mr. W. F. E. Long was made temporary secretary. Credentials were called for and were handed to the chair. The question was asked if there were credentials of an Island delegation. The chair said, "there was." W. F. Hall said he had reliable information that no election was held on the Island. Mr. Wilkinson moved that each delegation be empowered to name its member of the Committee on Credentials. Hall wanted the Island excepted from the motion but the amendment was not pressed and right "then and there" as Uncle Remus says, the opposition "draped its rabbit foot." The committee as finally named was: J. Alex. Tonnison, Chas. H. Gayther, John T. Johnson, Richard Winters, Jno. T. Curtis, Wash. Wilkinson, Abram Smith, John W. Jones, George W. Garner. The committee retired and during their lengthy absence John Cajay entertained the waiting delegates and on lookers with a speech. When the committee returned it reported, through Washington Wilkinson, that the credentials of all the districts were correct and recommended that the temporary officers be made permanent. John Cajay started to speak. Mr. Wilkinson insisted that Cajay had no right to speak. W. F. Hall obtained the floor and objected to the admission of the 9th district delegation saying there was no election held on the Island, for the gentleman who had the ballots to send him he could not and did not deliver them. The call required that the election should be by ballot and it was certainly not by ballot. Mr. Wilkinson replied to Hall saying his information was from first hands. He had been told on the Island that they did not know much about how to proceed but that they had held an election and sent delegates, and their credentials were the most precise of any brought to the convention. Hall replied. The chair said the report was before the Convention. Hall moved to amend the report by excluding the Island. The chair stated that on this question the Island delegation could not vote. The vote was taken by eyes and noses and Hall's motion was declared lost by a vote of 27 to 77. It was moved and carried that each delegation be empowered to fill vacancies. This was done and the Island having but few delegates on hand filled up from the 3rd and 6th districts. The chair announced the first business of the Convention to be the election of a Central Committee to serve for two ensuing years. On motion of Wash. Wilkinson Mr. E. B. Abell was unanimously re-elected chairman. Jos. H. Ching made an appeal for minority representation and harmony and named Henry Carberry for Committeeman in a highly complimentary speech. Wilkinson said he was pleased with the sentiments expressed; that no one desired harmony more than he did and to secure it he would willingly accept Carberry. Carberry was then unanimously elected. For the third place on the committee, Robt. Crawley, Geo. Green and James Curtis were in at the killing and a viva voce vote resulted in 66 for Crawley and 20 for Curtis.

Mr. Wilkinson next moved that the Convention send 6 delegates to Cambridge instead of 3 and that 3 be white and 3 colored. The motion was carried. E. B. Abell, Wash. Wilkinson, W. F. Hall, John N. Graves, Geo. W. Gass, I. Z. Suter, Geo. A. Thomas, Nicholas Briscoe, Richard Winters were placed in nomination. Ching moved that Jno. N. Graves be chosen by acclamation. The chair put the affirmative of the question and there was an uproar. The chair said it was impossible to decide anything in that way. After considerable wrangling and dilatory motions the convention finally got down to a ballot which resulted: Abell, 77; Wilkinson, 63; Geo. W. Gass, 61; Geo. A. Thomas, 62; Rich. Winters, 61; J. Z. Suter, 63; W. F. Hall, 28; John N. Graves, 24; Nicholas Briscoe, 37.

W. F. Hall presented a resolution reciting that the delegation to the State Convention be instructed to use its discretion in voting for a nominee for Governor, but under no circumstances to support Lloyd Lowndes, who, when in Congress, had voted against the Civil Rights Bill.

Hall supported his resolution in a vigorous speech, declaring his and his people's unfaltering devotion to the republican party and its principles and asserting that he and many of his race could not support a man who had refused to support them. When Mr. Lowndes had had a chance to help the colored race he had repudiated it and as a self-respecting race it should do as white men would do under similar circumstances and repudiate him. Hall said he was for Malster. Ching seconded Hall's efforts for the resolution saying the colored people did three-fourths of the voting for the republican party in St. Mary's and it was not right to gag them with an obnoxious man and such a course would jeopardize the success of the State and county ticket. Mr. Wilkinson said Hall had already aired his grievance against Mr. Lowndes before the people and they had passed upon it, and if there was anything in his resolutions they were to gag the delegation. Mr. Abell said that to foist such resolutions upon the delegation after it was chosen was an insult and that if the resolution was adopted he would resign. Hall was pitching into Wilkinson vigorously when he was called to order. The resolutions were snuffed under by a vote of 19 to 59, and the Convention adjourned.

THE REWARDS OF THE TEACHER.

A Paper Prepared by School Examiner Henry Wingate and read before the Maryland State Teachers' Association by Miss Marie Briscoe.

"In the strength of the endeavor, In the temper of the giver, In the loving of the lover, Lies the hidden recompense."

It is not the purpose of this paper to dwell on the pecuniary rewards of the teacher. Pecuniary compensation, one of the rewards of the teacher, as it is of all other of earth's toilers, is doubtless the primary motive that leads many classes of persons—young women who are compelled to rely upon their own resources for the support of themselves or relatives; young men and young women who are striving to raise the means to take a more extended course in education; men and women of mature years who find other avenues of employment closed to them—to follow the profession of teaching. As long as we live in a world the great majority of whose inhabitants must take thought for the morrow, or experience the pain and shame of hunger and rags, it is only the impractical idealist who will deny pecuniary compensation as one, at least, of the rewards of the teacher. The pecuniary compensation of the teacher is usually small, much smaller than it ought to be, but this compensation may be all that stands between himself and poverty. It is for a livelihood and not for glory that the men and women of the nineteenth century commonly toil. With this brief glance at pecuniary compensation as one of the rewards of the teacher I dismiss the subject.

The most priceless reward of the teacher is, or ought to be, the opportunity for doing good that his profession offers him. The exhortation that comes to every man if he will unstop the ears of his moral being long enough to listen is: Strive to make the little corner of the world in which you live better for your having lived in it. No philosopher or teacher of the past has laid down a more perfect rule for human conduct than this. No philosopher or teacher of the future will be able to lay down a more perfect rule. This rule of human conduct is the corner-stone upon which every system of ethics that shall endure must be built. When every man learns to practice in his daily life this noblest precept of the ethical code the golden age of righteousness and peace whose advent the world's sweet dreamers have foretold in poetry and song will be at our very doors. The man who follows this rule of conduct will make a success of life even though he have but a cottage to shelter him. The man who follows not this rule of conduct will not make a success of life even though he have a palace to shelter him. The opportunity for doing good, for making the little corner of the world in which he lives better for his having lived in it, that comes to the faithful teacher is not excelled by that which comes to any other man. Teaching remains, and always will remain the noblest and most useful of professions. It is a nobler and more useful profession than that of the preacher, of the lawyer or of the physician. The preacher lives at the expense of man's hopes and fears regarding an unknown world beyond the grave; the lawyer lives at the expense of the strife and discord that arise between man and man; the physician lives at the expense of man's ignorance or disregard of the laws of health and cleanliness. The teacher's work is with the young, to prepare them for citizenship in this known and present world; to teach them to deal rightly and justly towards others so that they may avoid the lawyer's wiles; to teach them how to develop and preserve the body so that they may escape the physician's drugs.

It has been said in allusion to the power of the mother to mould the youthful mind, that "the hand which rocks the cradle rules the world." The mother has opportunity to mould the character of the children in her own household. It falls to the lot of the teacher to have entrusted to his care the children of many households. The teacher who follows his profession for ten, or twenty, or thirty years may really become a more powerful factor in forming public sentiment and in shaping the destinies of the race than those favored mortals who have won world-wide fame as warriors or statesmen? If a few years ago, you had visited the rural communities in some of the North-Western states, you would have met intelligent looking boys and girls, eight and ten and twelve years old, who could not speak or understand one word of English. These boys and girls were born on American soil, but being far from the cities and towns of their State, and hearing from infancy no language spoken save that of their parents and friends who were of foreign birth, they were entirely ignorant of the language of America, where they first saw the light of day. If today you should visit one of these rural communities you would be greeted in as pure English as you can hear in any portion of the United States. If you should question these youths in American history you would find that they could tell you about Washington and Jefferson and the Revolution of 1776; that they were familiar with the events of 1812, of 1846 and of 1861; that they could speak intelligently of the noted personages and events of the present day. If you should question them in geography you would find that they could discourse intelligently regarding Maryland, and the rest of the States of the Union; that they could tell you the location and the population of New York, of Philadelphia, of Baltimore, and of the other important cities of the country. You would discover, in fact, that in these few years these boys and girls have been transformed into American boys and girls, speaking the language of America, familiar with the history and the customs of America, in love with the laws and the institutions of America. And who is responsible for the marvelous change that has been wrought so speedily in that rural community? The country school teacher, the young woman with her salary of thirty or thirty-five dollars a month, who has pitched into that district and labored lovingly, patiently, earnestly with her rising generation of Scandinavian-Americans. This country school teacher assuredly has a trophy for her labors that the wisest and proudest statesman in all America would not despise.

The result of the teacher's labor is characterized by permanent good. The lessons that I learned in the public schools during the formative period of youth, say between the years of seven and fourteen, whether these lessons were in the ordinary branches of secular learning, or touched upon my duties and obligations towards my fellow men were the most enduring lessons I ever learned. My geography and my grammar and my ethics that I imbibed during these years of youth remain with me to-day as fresh as if they were but yesterday that I learned them. My experience is not different from that of others. The teacher who initiates a class of boys and girls into the beauties of geography, beginning with the littlest and leading them step by step into a knowledge of the great world that lies beyond them—the great world of States and countries and continents and oceans—or who conducts them through the mazes of grammar, teaching them to use with correctness and precision the noble English language, or who, tramping from the physical to the moral, dwells on the wisdom of virtue and the folly of vice, on the nobleness of truth and the baseness of falsehood can feel assured that his words do not fall in desert places which will vanish like the mists of morning. He is helping to mould the thoughts and form the habits of those who may in after years fill positions of honor and trust in the nation. He is laying the foundation of the moral code so broad and deep in the mind of youth that the temptations of after years will be powerless to shake it. He is building in the mind of youth the citadel of moral character which neither the bribable arts of the politician, nor the bribes of wealth will be able to overthrow.

The opportunity the teacher has for inculcating lessons of good citizenship in the minds of the youthful generation is not one to be neglected or lightly esteemed. Our country stands in need to-day of more of the spirit of true patriotism—not of the rampant, rabid brand of so-called patriotism that fosters sectional hatred; not of the sort of so-called patriotism that inspired a United States Senator in a recent speech in Bridgeport, Conn., to declare: "We will place our flag on all the seas of the earth, restore the merchant marine to its place, and will increase our white, strong-armed squadrons so that they command the respect of all nations. We will annex the Hawaiian Islands, fortify Pearl Harbor, build the Nicaragua canal, and marry two great oceans. We will show people a foreign policy that is American in every fiber, and hoist the American flag on whatever island we think best and no hand shall ever pull it down." The kind of patriotism that American citizens need to-day is not that which leads them to plant the American flag in foreign lands or on the distant islands of the sea, but that which leads them to purify and elevate politics at home. We need not an aggressive policy abroad that shall inspire us to conquer the nations of the world by force of arms, but an aggressive policy at home that shall inspire us to work in the interest of clean and healthy government. In this age of blind partisanship and ring-rule, of selfish greed, of aristocratic tendencies, of oppression of the poor and servile obedience to the rich we need especially to kindle in the mind of youth a spirit of independence, of brotherly love, of democratic equality and of impartial justice before the law. The teacher because he has the greatest opportunity of all men for doing good ought to consider himself the most fortunate of men. His work is self-rewarding. Blessed is the teacher of whom his pupils can say as Xenophon in the "Memorabilia" says of Socrates, his instructor: "By showing that he was himself such a character, he made those in his society hope that, by imitating him, they would become such as he was."

THE REWARDS OF THE TEACHER.

A Paper Prepared by School Examiner Henry Wingate and read before the Maryland State Teachers' Association by Miss Marie Briscoe.

"In the strength of the endeavor, In the temper of the giver, In the loving of the lover, Lies the hidden recompense."

It is not the purpose of this paper to dwell on the pecuniary rewards of the teacher. Pecuniary compensation, one of the rewards of the teacher, as it is of all other of earth's toilers, is doubtless the primary motive that leads many classes of persons—young women who are compelled to rely upon their own resources for the support of themselves or relatives; young men and young women who are striving to raise the means to take a more extended course in education; men and women of mature years who find other avenues of employment closed to them—to follow the profession of teaching. As long as we live in a world the great majority of whose inhabitants must take thought for the morrow, or experience the pain and shame of hunger and rags, it is only the impractical idealist who will deny pecuniary compensation as one, at least, of the rewards of the teacher. The pecuniary compensation of the teacher is usually small, much smaller than it ought to be, but this compensation may be all that stands between himself and poverty. It is for a livelihood and not for glory that the men and women of the nineteenth century commonly toil. With this brief glance at pecuniary compensation as one of the rewards of the teacher I dismiss the subject.

The most priceless reward of the teacher is, or ought to be, the opportunity for doing good that his profession offers him. The exhortation that comes to every man if he will unstop the ears of his moral being long enough to listen is: Strive to make the little corner of the world in which you live better for your having lived in it. No philosopher or teacher of the past has laid down a more perfect rule for human conduct than this. No philosopher or teacher of the future will be able to lay down a more perfect rule. This rule of human conduct is the corner-stone upon which every system of ethics that shall endure must be built. When every man learns to practice in his daily life this noblest precept of the ethical code the golden age of righteousness and peace whose advent the world's sweet dreamers have foretold in poetry and song will be at our very doors. The man who follows this rule of conduct will make a success of life even though he have but a cottage to shelter him. The man who follows not this rule of conduct will not make a success of life even though he have a palace to shelter him. The opportunity for doing good, for making the little corner of the world in which he lives better for his having lived in it, that comes to the faithful teacher is not excelled by that which comes to any other man. Teaching remains, and always will remain the noblest and most useful of professions. It is a nobler and more useful profession than that of the preacher, of the lawyer or of the physician. The preacher lives at the expense of man's hopes and fears regarding an unknown world beyond the grave; the lawyer lives at the expense of the strife and discord that arise between man and man; the physician lives at the expense of man's ignorance or disregard of the laws of health and cleanliness. The teacher's work is with the young, to prepare them for citizenship in this known and present world; to teach them to deal rightly and justly towards others so that they may avoid the lawyer's wiles; to teach them how to develop and preserve the body so that they may escape the physician's drugs.

It has been said in allusion to the power of the mother to mould the youthful mind, that "the hand which rocks the cradle rules the world." The mother has opportunity to mould the character of the children in her own household. It falls to the lot of the teacher to have entrusted to his care the children of many households. The teacher who follows his profession for ten, or twenty, or thirty years may really become a more powerful factor in forming public sentiment and in shaping the destinies of the race than those favored mortals who have won world-wide fame as warriors or statesmen? If a few years ago, you had visited the rural communities in some of the North-Western states, you would have met intelligent looking boys and girls, eight and ten and twelve years old, who could not speak or understand one word of English. These boys and girls were born on

GRAND EXCURSION.

WHERE WILL THE GREAT MOONLIGHT EXCURSION FROM LEONARDTOWN TO COLONIAL BEACH?

AUGUST 14th instant.

The magnificent Steamer POTOMAC, Capt. W. C. Gass, in command, will leave Leonardtown wharf at 11:30 a. m., touching at St. Clements Island, Bay, the Cape Charles Light, reaching Colonial Beach early in the evening. Returning, will leave Colonial Beach at 7:30, touching at St. Clements Island, Bay, the Cape Charles Light, reaching Leonardtown wharf at 11:30 a. m. Tickets: Adults, 25 cents; children, 15 cents. A Lunch can be had, if desired, for 25 cents. Departure 11:30 a. m. Aug 14-15

SACRED HEART DINNER, UPPER TOURNAMENT.

At Sacred Heart Church, on TUESDAY, August 6, 1895.

Orator of the Day, B. Harris Camaller. Orator of the Evening, George W. Joy. Chief Musician, Ign. E. Mattingly. Host, J. Frank Simpson. Judges: Dr. R. P. Blightstone, F. Oscar Morgan, George F. Testoline. A singing will be done for Knights. Prizes for Knights: Saddle, Bridle, Whip and Hobe. Tilling at 1 p. m.

Wanted by middle aged English lady

Position of teacher for the fall. English, German, French, Music, Singing and Water Colors taught. Address S. E. R care of Mrs. M. F. Horvath, Mechanicsville, St. Mary's county, Md. July 35-36

CHARLOTTE HALL SCHOOL.

CHARLOTTE HALL, ST. MARY'S CO., MD. 122nd year. One of the oldest and best established schools in Maryland. Thorough academic instruction under military discipline. Healthful location at the historic "Cool Springs." Estate of 325 acres, including beautiful campus of 12 acres. Board and tuition, $20 per session of 6 months. Daily trains from Baltimore and Washington. GEO. M. THOMAS, A. M., Principal. July 18-19

ANNUAL EXAMINATION.

The annual examination of applicants for Teachers' certificates will be held in the Public School building, Leonardtown, on MONDAY and TUESDAY, AUGUST 12th and 13th, proximo. The first day will be for applicants for Second Grade certificates. Applicants for First Grade certificates will be required to attend both days. Exercises to commence at 9 a. m. By order, HENRY WINGATE, Secretary. July 25, '95-96

GRAND DINNER AND SUPPER AT CHAPTICCO HALL, CHAPTICCO, MD.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 1, 1895. FROM 11 A. M. TO 3 P. M. Ice cream, cake, lemonade, foreign fruits, etc., in abundance. Proceeds for the Rectory Fund of Christ Church, Chapticco. Come all, and have a very pleasant time. July 18-19

FOR SALE.

Two young Jersey COWS and CALVES, full blood; also young black driving horse. Apply to GILES P. DYER, Beavune, Md. July 18-19

NOTICE.

NO goods on which freight or freight and charges are due will be delivered or be permitted to be removed from the Leonardtown wharf until the freight and charges are paid. Call in the store, settle your bill and take your receipt. FRANK N. HOLMES, Wharfinger. July 18-19

Children to be indentured.

Notice is hereby given, That the Orphans' Court of St. Mary's county on the 2nd TUESDAY of AUGUST, 1895, will proceed to indenture as apprentices the three colored children now inmates of the Almshouse. Applicants will file their applications on or before that date. PHILIP H. DORSEY, Register of Wills. July 18-19

J. F. HALL, of Washington.

PAINTER AND PAPER-HANGER, Will be in St. Mary's for two months from July 1st, proximo, and will do all work in his line. Orders addressed him in care of BRACON OFFICE, Leonardtown, will receive prompt attention. June 27-28

ESTABLISHED 1869. Piedmont Guano

FOR TOBACCO PLANTS AND TOBACCO. THE BEST FINE FERTILIZER MADE FOR GROWING TOBACCO. FOR COTTON, CORN, OATS, WHEAT, PEANUTS, AND ALL OTHER CROPS. USE PIEDMONT SPECIAL FERTILIZER. MANUFACTURED BY THE MT. AIRY MANUFACTURING CO. BALTIMORE, MD. 602, 100 Commerce St. Factory, McHenry's Wharf. W. V. WATERS, Agent for St. Mary's county, Maryland. Dec 13, '94-95

New Advertisements.

Free Scholarship. A competitive examination for a scholarship, for either sex, in the Western Maryland College will be held in the Public School Building Leonardtown, on Monday and Tuesday, AUGUST 12th and 13th inst.

The Scholarship entitles the holder, free of charge, to tuition, board, fuel, lights and washing. Examination commences at 9 a. m. By order, HENRY WINGATE, Examiner. Aug 1, '95-2t

Potomac River Line.

Summer Schedule. Beginning June 22, '95. Steamer Potomac will leave Piers 13 and 15 Light Street Wharf, Thursday and Sunday at 6 P. M. On Thursday's trip will make the following Landings: Miller's, Cowart's, Kinsale, Broome's, Bondick's, Sandy Point, Bacon's, Conant's, Mundy's Pt., Lewistown, Adams, Leonardtown. Returning, will leave Lodge at 1 P. M. Kinsale at 2 P. M. Coan at 3 P. M. Friday. SUNDAY'S TRIP will make all the above Landings and extend her trip to Alexandria and Washington, leaving Barnet at 3 P. M., Coan at 4 P. M., Bondick's at 5:30 P. M. Mondays for Washington. Will leave Washington on Tuesday at 5 P. M. for Baltimore, stopping at the following Wharves: Alexandria, Leonardtown, Coan, Alexandria, Leonardtown, Bondick's, Cowart's, Col. Adams, Mundy's Pt., Lewistown, Lancaster, Sandy Point, Lewistown, Bushwood, Mundy's Pt., Miller's, Stone's, Kinsale, Broome's, Howard's, Lodge, Bacon's, Abell's, Barnes. Leaving Leonardtown at 7 A. M. Lodge 1 P. M., Kinsale, 2 P. M., Coan 3 P. M. Wednesday. Grain Sacks Furnished Free. Freight on Tobacco $1 per Hundred. FARE FROM RIVER LANDINGS TO BALTIMORE: Round Trip First Class, $2.50. Single Trip First Class, $1.50. Round Trip Second Class, $1.00. Single Trip Second Class, $0.50. HENRY W. KENNEDY, Manager. Telephone No. 10.

Notice to Creditors.

Orphans' Court of St. Mary's County, June 24, 1895. Ordered by the Court, That John H. Parsons, Executor of SARAH A. BOND, late of St. Mary's County, deceased, give the notice required by law to the creditors to exhibit their claims and that the same be published once a week for six successive weeks in the St. Mary's Beacon newspaper, published at Leonardtown, Md., on or before the 28th day of Dec., 1895, they will otherwise be lawfully excluded from the benefits of the said estate. All persons indebted to the deceased are requested to make immediate payment to the subscriber. JOHN H. PARSONS, Executor. June 27-6w.

Confectionery, etc.

Soda-water, Ice-cream, Candies Fresh and Pure. Fruits of all kinds, Peas, Cabbage and all kinds of Vegetables in season. KEMPER VERT, June 6-1t

READ, And Don't Pass it by.

Just received a full cargo of Cypress Shingles from Pinhook, North Carolina; 150,000 5 grades hearts and sap, 6x20 inches. Furnish all kinds of building material at manufacturers' prices. Shingles from $4.50 to $7.50 per m. I have also marked down to a very small advance over cost for cash my large and complete assortment of general merchandise, including two of the very best grades of FLOUR on the market. GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, DRUGS, OILS, PAINTS, HARDWARE, TINWARE, CROCKERY. Dry goods, consisting of DRESS PATTERNS, CALOES, GINGHAMS, and DOMESTICS. NOTIONS, HATS, CLOTHING and SHOES, of which I handle none but what will give satisfaction. I intend to clean my shelves for fall stock, and to do this I must begin now. I do not stand on cost. They must go. Bargain for cash. In addition to selling your cheap goods and good goods at unheard of prices, I will allow 5 per cent. discount for every dollar's worth you buy and plank cash down for. I can save you money. Come and see. W. P. POWELL, P. O. Belvoir Coal to all parts along the Potomac River at lowest possible rates. June 6-1t

FOR SALE.

A large Nancy built boat 30 feet in length, 9 feet 6 inches beam, with all fixtures, viz., sails, oars, oar-locks and a pair of Patent Oyster tongs. Will take a small boat in part payment. Apply at This Office. June 20 '95-1t

$100 REWARD.

I will pay a REWARD of ONE hundred dollars for the delivery to me of Levi J. Wise or information leading to his capture. It is publicly asserted that Wise's whereabouts is known to different parties in the county. The Commissioners' Court has defined any reward and I will pay the above amount out of my own pocket. LEO M. WATHEIN, Sheriff. July 11-1t

"OLD CLOTHES MADE NEW"

CLEANING AND DYING. HAVING arranged with a first-class establishment, I am prepared to have gentlemen's clothes, ladies' dresses and dress goods and other articles cleaned and dyed in the very best manner and at bottom figures. LUKE F. MATTHEWS, Brown Store, Leonardtown. Nov 22 94

LOUIS HARLE,

CUSTOM BOOT AND SHOEMAKER, has located at CALIFORNIA, and is ready to fit any foot from the smallest to the largest at the most reasonable rates. Ladies and gent's fine work a specialty at shortest notice. Nov 15-1t

WEEMS STEAMBOAT COMPANY.

Potomac River Route. Summer Schedule. Steamer Potomac leaves Baltimore every Tuesday at 6 P. M. for the following Landings: Miller's, Cowart's, Kinsale, Broome's, Bondick's, Sandy Point, Bacon's, Conant's, Mundy's Pt., Lewistown, Adams, Leonardtown. Returning, will leave Lodge at 1 P. M. Kinsale at 2 P. M. Coan at 3 P. M. Friday. SUNDAY'S TRIP will make all the above Landings and extend her trip to Alexandria and Washington, leaving Barnet at 3 P. M., Coan at 4 P. M., Bondick's at 5:30 P. M. Mondays for Washington. Will leave Washington on Tuesday at 5 P. M. for Baltimore, stopping at the following Wharves: Alexandria, Leonardtown, Coan, Alexandria, Leonardtown, Bondick's, Cowart's, Col. Adams, Mundy's Pt., Lewistown, Lancaster, Sandy Point, Lewistown, Bushwood, Mundy's Pt., Miller's, Stone's, Kinsale, Broome's, Howard's, Lodge, Bacon's, Abell's, Barnes. Leaving Leonardtown at 7 A. M. Lodge 1 P. M., Kinsale, 2 P. M., Coan 3 P. M. Wednesday. Grain Sacks Furnished Free. Freight on Tobacco $1 per Hundred. FARE FROM RIVER LANDINGS TO BALTIMORE: Round Trip First Class, $2.50. Single Trip First Class, $1.50. Round Trip Second Class, $1.00. Single Trip Second Class, $0.50. HENRY W. KENNEDY, Manager. Telephone No. 10.

Notice to Creditors.

Orphans' Court of St. Mary's County, June 24, 1895. Ordered by the Court, That John H. Parsons, Executor of SARAH A. BOND, late of St. Mary's County, deceased, give the notice required by law to the creditors to exhibit their claims and that the same be published once a week for six successive weeks in the St. Mary's Beacon newspaper, published at Leonardtown, Md., on or before the 28th day of Dec., 1895, they will otherwise be lawfully excluded from the benefits of the said estate. All persons indebted to the deceased are requested to make immediate payment to the subscriber. JOHN H. PARSONS, Executor. June 27-6w.

Confectionery, etc.

Soda-water, Ice-cream, Candies Fresh and Pure. Fruits of all kinds, Peas, Cabbage and all kinds of Vegetables in season. KEMPER VERT, June 6-1t

READ, And Don't Pass it by.

Just received a full cargo of Cypress Shingles from Pinhook, North Carolina; 150,000 5 grades hearts and sap, 6x20 inches. Furnish all kinds of building material at manufacturers' prices. Shingles from $4.50 to $7.50 per m. I have also marked down to a very small advance over cost for cash my large and complete assortment of general merchandise, including two of the very best grades of FLOUR on the market. GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, DRUGS, OILS, PAINTS, HARDWARE, TINWARE, CROCKERY. Dry goods, consisting of DRESS PATTERNS, CALOES, GINGHAMS, and DOMESTICS. NOTIONS, HATS, CLOTHING and SHOES, of which I handle none but what will give satisfaction. I intend to clean my shelves for fall stock, and to do this I must begin now. I do not stand on cost. They must go. Bargain for cash. In addition to selling your cheap goods and good goods at unheard of prices, I will allow 5 per cent. discount for every dollar's worth you buy and plank cash down for. I can save you money. Come and see. W. P. POWELL, P. O. Belvoir Coal to all parts along the Potomac River at lowest possible rates. June 6-1t

FOR SALE.

A large Nancy built boat 30 feet in length, 9 feet 6 inches beam, with all fixtures, viz., sails, oars, oar-locks and a pair of Patent Oyster tongs. Will take a small boat in part payment. Apply at This Office. June 20 '95-1t

$100 REWARD.

I will pay a REWARD of ONE hundred dollars for the delivery to me of Levi J. Wise or information leading to his capture. It is publicly asserted that Wise's whereabouts is known to different parties in the county. The Commissioners' Court has defined any reward and I will pay the above amount out of my own pocket. LEO M. WATHEIN, Sheriff. July 11-1t

"OLD CLOTHES MADE NEW"

CLEANING AND DYING. HAVING arranged with a first-class establishment, I am prepared to have gentlemen's clothes, ladies' dresses and dress goods and other articles cleaned and dyed in the very best manner and at bottom figures. LUKE F. MATTHEWS, Brown Store, Leonardtown. Nov 22 94

LOUIS HARLE,

CUSTOM BOOT AND SHOEMAKER, has located at CALIFORNIA, and is ready to fit any foot from the smallest to the largest at the most reasonable rates. Ladies and gent's fine work a specialty at shortest notice. Nov 15-1t

UNDERTAKING.

COFFINS and CASKETS latest styles always on hand and furnished at shortest notice and at lowest prices for cash. THREE HEARSES, always at hand. BONESHOES, $1.00 each. In conjunction with my BLACKSMITH and WHEELWRIGHT department, I am prepared to build CARTS, WAGONS, BUGGIES, &c at low prices. PAINTING and TRIMMING a specialty! J. A. DILLOW, Leonardtown, Md. April 31, 97-1t

UNDERTAKING.

HAVING provided for the public one of the finest Hearses in Southern Maryland, I am prepared to serve funerals with a full line of CLOTH BOUND and WOODEN CASKETS, SHAWLS, GLOVES and DISH-FUNCTIONAL HOTEL stables. Branch house Leitch Station, B. P. R. R. June 6-1t

UNDERTAKING.

WITH an elegant new Hearse and a full stock of Coffins and Caskets I am prepared to serve funerals at the shortest notice and upon the most reasonable terms. In connection with this I designate special attention to my Blacksmith and Wheelwright departments. All orders quickly and neatly attended to. A. C. WELCH, Chapticco, Md. June 1-1t

UNDERTAKING.

Situated one mile and a-half from Great Mills, on the road to St. George's, with an elegant hearse and a full stock of coffins and caskets, we are prepared to serve funerals at the shortest notice and upon the most reasonable terms. All orders quickly and neatly attended to. LEWIS T. CLARKE & BRO., April 26-1t

UNDERTAKING.

With two hearses and a full line of coffins and caskets of latest styles. We take leave to inform the public that we are prepared to serve funerals promptly and at moderate prices. S. C. GOODRICH, HENRY A. BELL, LEWIS T. CLARKE & BRO., RIDGE, MD. March 21, 1895-7

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after Wednesday, June 12th, STEAMER ST. MARY'S Will leave Pier 5, Light Street, every Saturday and Wednesday at 6:30 a. m. for Fair Haven, Plum Point, Governor's Run and Patuxent River, as far up as Benedict. Returning, will leave Benedict every Monday and Thursday at 6:30 a. m., Saturday at 9 a. m., Millstone Landing at 11 a. m., Governor's Run at 1 p. m., Plum Point at 2 p. m. and Fair Haven at 3:30 for Baltimore. Freight received at Pier 5 Tuesday and Friday. Steamers Westmoreland and Essex Will leave Pier 5, Light Street, every Sunday and Wednesday at 9 a. m. for Patuxent River direct, as far up as Bristol. Returning, will leave Bristol at 12 m. on Monday and Friday at 9 a. m., Millstone 8 p. m. for Baltimore, calling at no wharves on Monday below Leitch's except when signalled from wharves on the river for passengers and perishable freight. On Friday will call at all wharves, and only take on passengers and perishable freight from those below Leitch's. Freight received at Pier 2 Wednesday and Saturday. HENRY WILLIAMS, Agent. Office—Pier 2 Light St. June 12t

WEEMS' Steamboat Co.

PATUXENT RIVER ROUTE. On and after Wednesday, June 12th, STEAMER ST. MARY'S Will leave Pier 5, Light Street, every Saturday and Wednesday at 6:30 a. m. for Fair Haven, Plum Point, Governor's Run and Patuxent River, as far up as Benedict. Returning, will leave Benedict every Monday and Thursday at 6:30 a. m., Saturday at 9 a. m., Millstone Landing at 11 a. m., Governor's Run at 1 p. m., Plum Point at 2 p. m. and Fair Haven at 3:30 for Baltimore. Freight received at Pier 5 Tuesday and Friday. Steamers Westmoreland and Essex Will leave Pier 5, Light Street, every Sunday and Wednesday at