"cosmopolitan" personnal of the victims.

"I listened to the list," he added with a profound feeling, "because they were not Irishmen or Germans or Hebrews when they went to Vera Cruz.

"They were Americans and no matter where their people came from they did the things that were American.

"War is only a sort of dramatic representation, a symbol of a thousand forms of duty. I never was in battle or under fire, but I fancy it is just as hard to do your duty when men are sneering at you, for when they shoot at you they take your natural life, and when they sneer at you they wound your heart.

"As I think of these spirits that have gone from us, I know that the way is clearer for the future for they have shown us the way."

When the president had finished there was a moment of silence, then Rabbi Stephen Wise delivered a prayer for the dead.

The religious service ended with a prayer by Rev. John P. Chidwick, chaplain of the Maine. It was nearly noon when a navy bugler stepped forward and "taps" sounded above the crowd standing bareheaded and silent. The president and Secretary Tumulty and Dr. Grayson entered an automobile and were taken back across the bridge to Manhattan.

The seventeen coffins remained on the parade ground for half an hour, still guarded by the sailor pall bearers and then were taken to the naval barracks for distribution to the escorts that will convey them to family homes.

It was just 10:50 when the procession reached the navy yard. President Wilson, Secretary Daniels, Governor Glynn and the others on the president's stand stood bareheaded while the coffins were taken from the caissons and were placed in a line in front of the stand. This occupied 15 minutes. Ten thousand spectators with bare heads stood massed about the four sides of the square. Several thousand more gathered on neighboring roofs. The heat was so oppressive that one of the marines from the Wyoming fainted and was dragged out of the front rank by a captain.

The silence that had overhung the parade ground was broken for the first time when the band began to play softly "Nearer, My God to Thee." When the hymn was finished, Chaplain Cassard began to read the opening prayer.

When the chaplain ended his prayer, he stepped back, leaving Secretary Daniels and the president facing each other.

Then the secretary recited the names of the nineteen men in whose honor the services were held. This included two who have died at Vera Cruz since the Montana steamed away.

Throughout the procession mounted police closely surrounded the president in a hollow square, a secret service man rode on the box with a greyhaired coachman, and others marched behind and beside the vehicle. Seated in the carriage with Mr. Wilson were Secretary Tumulty and his physician and navy aide Dr. Cary Grayson. At the city hall where the cortege halted while Mayor Mitchell placed the city's wreath on a coffin and delivered a short speech, the mayor stepped through the crowd and entered the president's carriage. He rode with him to the navy yard.

As the procession passed the partly completed Equitable structure on Lower Broadway, a strange sight met the president's gaze. Above him, tier upon tier, were seated more than a thousand workmen in their overalls. They bestrode beams and girders high above the sidewalk. Many waved their hands and the president looking up lifted his hat and smiled.

After President Wilson left the navy yard he went by automobile to the house of his friend, Colonel E. M. House.

He planned to remain in the city the afternoon and evening, leaving for Washington on a midnight train.

ASK ANOTHER TRIAL OF NICK METZ'S DAMAGE SUIT

Grape Grower who Sought $24,000 for Loss of Barelas Water Says $2,400 Verdict is Inadequate.

Counsel for Nick Metz, who was awarded $2,500 damages by a jury in the district court recently because the city shut off the water in the Barelas ditch, appeared before Judge Raynolds today and argued for a new trial. Judge W. C. Heacock and Harry H. Cornell, the Metz lawyers, contend that the verdict is inadequate. Metz asked $24,000 damages, basing his claim on the alleged value of his land for grape culture.

City Attorney John C. Lewis argued against the motion for a new trial. The verdict was regarded as a virtual victory for Mr. Lewis and the city at the time it was rendered, the decision of the supreme court that the city had no right to shut off the water leaving the municipality with no defense, and making the action merely a question of the amount of damages to be assessed. Up to 3 o'clock Judge Raynolds had given no decision on the motion, although it was expected he would pass on it in the course of the day.

Health a Factor in Success.

The largest factor contributing to a man's success is undoubtedly health. It has been observed that a man is seldom sick when his bowels are regular—he is never well when they are constipated. For constipation you will find nothing quite so good as Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only move the bowels, but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. They are sold by all druggists.

CIRCLE AROUND QUEVEDO IS NARROWING

Bandit General Who Has Threatened Villa's Rear Believed to be Near End of His Rope.

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.]

El Paso, Tex., May 11.—The circle drawn around General Rodrigo Quevado, leader of a guerilla band which has committed depredations on both sides of the border, by the constitutionalists and American authorities is narrowing rapidly, according to reports received here. The constitutionalist cavalry dispatched from Juarez Saturday morning is believed to have cut Quevado off from the south and is combing the country north to the border where the American border patrol are on the lookout for the former federal general. His capture is expected within a few hours.

The Quevedo bandits have begun to carry out their threats to destroy the windmills on the property of three large north Mexican ranches owned by American interests. Word has been received by officials of the Palomas Land and Cattle company that a number of their windmills have been destroyed. The company is moving cattle valued at $500,000 into the United States as rapidly as possible for if all the windmills are destroyed, the cattle face certain death from thirst.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC WINS SAN JUAN RIGHT OF WAY

United States Supreme Court Today Decides Long Standing Contest Over Crossing Near Farmington.

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.]

Washington, May 11.—The controversy between the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad company and the Arizona & Colorado Railroad company of New Mexico, over a right of way from the Colorado-New Mexico state line to Farmington, N. M., down the Animas river, was decided today by the supreme court in favor of the latter.

The right of way in issue was for a line proposed by the Arizona & Colorado, a Southern Pacific projected feeder, from Durango, Colo., to near Gallup, N. M., thence to Clifton, Ariz. The surveys for the line were approved but no actual work has ever been done. The D. & R. G. contested the crossing and several miles of right of way.

EIGHT HUNDRED GOATS FIGURE IN LAW SUIT

Also a Signature which is Held to Make One of Parties Sued by Sylvester Mirable Responsible.

Suit to recover under a note in which it is admitted that one of the signers had no part or interest in the transaction, but in which it is contended that the instrument is good just the same because the signer acted by and with the authority of the properly interested party and signed her own name instead of his through inadvertence, was begun in the district court today.

The suit is brought by Silvester Mirabel of Valencia county. The defendants cited are Jose Badaracco, of this county, and L. Donesio, whose whereabouts are said to be unknown at the present time.

According to the papers in the suit Mirabel sold 881 goats to Badaracco and Donesio for $2 a head in February, 1912. He delivered the goats to Donesio, it is alleged, and Badaracco gave $800 in cash as first payment, according to agreement, and a note for $962 was drawn up. Donesio signed it. Badaracco, according to the complaint, authorized his daughter, G. Badaracco, to sign for him. Inadvertently, it is alleged, the girl signed her own name to the paper, instead of her father's. It is admitted that she was a minor incapable of assuming liability and had, in fact, no interest or part in the transaction. Plaintiff says he has been unable to collect under the note, and asks the court to grant him judgment in full under the instrument.

Irrigates the Blood Knocks Rheumatism

A Remedy That Flushes the Blood from Head to Foot.

To get rid of rheumatism requires that the blood be completely flushed—not a mere makeshift as by salts and pain killers. The long record of S. S. S. is important to know. It has found its way into every section of the nation. It is the most widely used and most widely talked-of remedy there is for all blood troubles. And it is a known fact that rheumatism is primarily a blood trouble.

It is conceded by the closest students of the subject that rheumatism is caused in most cases by an acid condition of the blood and aggravated by the remedies commonly used for relief. In other cases rheumatism is the result of nerve depression; in still others it is the effect of some vitiated blood condition, having been treated with mercury, iodides, arsenic, and other poisonous mineral drugs.

The recoveries of all these types of rheumatism by the use of S. S. S. is a wonderful tribute to the natural efficacy of this remarkable medicine, for it is assimilated just as naturally, just as specifically, and just as well ordained as the most acceptable, most palatable and most readily digested food. Do not fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. today, but insist upon S. S. S. Don't accept a substitute. You will be astonished at the results. If your rheumatism is of such a nature that you would like to consult a great specialist confidentially, write to the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 536 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

LAMAR AND LEHMAN

correspondent for a Washington newspaper, was arrested today on returning to Vera Cruz. Advices of his arrest reached the war department from General Funston.

Maigne's arrest was ordered from Washington on the ground that it would be difficult satisfactorily to explain the presence of an American officer within the lines of those who contest the right of the United States on Mexican soil.

Orders had previously gone out for Maigne to cease writing newspaper stories and when General Funston reported that the retired officer had passed through the Mexican federal lines, the order for his arrest followed.

Officials here took the view that as Lieutenant Maigne, although retired, still is subject to the jurisdiction of Secretary Garrison, it would be difficult if not impossible to satisfy the Mexican federal commander that the officer's presence within the enemy's lines was in his purely civil capacity as a newspaper correspondent and not as a United States military spy.

CONSUL SILLIMAN STILL IMPRISONED AT SALTILLO

Washington, May 11.—American Consul Silliman still is imprisoned at Saltillo, according to a later dispatch from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City, who reported to the state department he has made the strongest representations possible for the release of the American. Mr. Silliman's clerk, Mr. Marchani, has been set at liberty and left for Vera Cruz yesterday.

HUERTA PROTESTS AGAINST SEIZURE OF LIGHTHOUSE

Washington, May 11.—Secretary Bryan indicated late today the reported seizure of the Mexican lighthouse at Lobos island by Admiral Mayo has been made the subject of a protest by the Huerta government. He said the matter had been called to his attention by the South American mediators at the direction, he assumed, of Huerta. He added an investigation of the report of the seizure had been ordered, but the state department had no direct information on the subject.

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not really need them. If you are one of these unfortunates, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear these "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to Ruppe's Drug Store or to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona; fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water and drop in one Optona tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, cataract, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so, or who wear glasses would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.

GOOD ROAD NEWS IS REPORTED FROM VARIOUS POINTS

Colonel Sellers Sends His Weekly Bulletin on to California Club and the Kansas Bureau.

Col. D. K. B. Sellers sent his weekly bulletin on the roads of the Ocean-to-Ocean highway to the Automobile Club of Southern California today. The same bulletin goes to the Kansas City good roads information bureau. The bulletin follows:

"I am pleased to advise you of this week's bulletin of the Ocean-to-Ocean highway, from Kansas City to Yuma, Ariz., as follows:

"'Hutchison, Kan.: The Santa Fe trail from Kansas City through Kansas to La Junta, Colo., is fine. (Signed) H. H. Taylor.'

"'Raton, N. M.: The road from Trinidad over Raton Pass was injured some by recent rains, but has been fully repaired. From Raton to Las Vegas the road is very good, with the exception of crossing the Mora river, which is up at this writing high enough for water to run in the carburetor. However, a team and man is stationed here to pull cars over at $2 each. (Signed) E. C. Sperry.'

"'Las Vegas, N. M.: The road south of Las Vegas leading to Glorieta is in good condition. About seven miles south of Las Vegas it is temporarily torn up in making a new road, but is passable. (Signed) Leo M. Tipton.'

"'Santa Fe, N. M.: The road from Glorieta to Santa Fe is in good condition. Are now engaged graveling this portion of the road, which will be passable in any kind of weather. The new Socorro bridge and road leading thereto will be open in about three weeks, thus shortening the distance from Albuquerque to Socorro forty miles. (Signed) J. A. French, State Engineer.'

"'Magdalena, N. M.: Road from Socorro to Springerville is in fine condition. (Signed) J. S. Mactavish.'

"The latest reports I had of the road over the White mountains is that it is in good condition with the exception of about three miles on the Apache Indian reservation, which I have now taken up with the Indian department at Washington.

"A traveler just arriving at Albuquerque states the road from Globe, through Phoenix to Yuma, is passable, in no place sandy but quite rutty in some places.

"From what I can learn the present road of least resistance is to divert at Springerville, Ariz., to Holbrook, thence following the Santa Fe Pacific, crossing the Colorado river at Needles, thence to Barstow and on west.

"Yours very respectfully,
"D. K. B. SELLERS."

In a communication accompanying the bulletin Colonel Sellers reports the arrival here Saturday night of J. Harry Minor, who is logging roads from Los Angeles to New York. Minor disregarded Colonel Sellers' advice relative to diverting from the Grand Canyon, Santa Fe and Needles route at Holbrook, and endeavored to follow a proposed route by way of Gallup, Laguna and across the Rio Puerco, with the result that he had a decidedly hard time getting through. He said that he "passed over roads that weren't passable."

In a communication accompanying the bulletin Colonel Sellers reported to the club the arrival here Saturday of J. Harry Minor, who is logging Old Trails roads from Los Angeles to New York. Minor disregarded Col. Sellers' advice relative to diverting from the Grand Canyon, Needles and Santa Fe route at Holbrook and tried to come into town by way of Gallup, Laguna and cross the Rio Puerco. The result was that he put his car to severe strain and spent a lot of time digging out of the sand.

LAST OF CONSTITUTIONALIST TROOPS LEAVE FOR FRONT

El Paso, Tex., May 11.—The last of the constitutionalist troops remaining in Torreon were expected to start for the front today, according to Roberto V. Pesquiera, confidential agent of General Carranza, who returned here today from Torreon, after a conference with his chief.

General Raoul Madero with the Zaragoza brigade left for the front Saturday, he said, and other troops left yesterday. The railroad between Torreon and Saltillo has been repaired to Paredon, a point about 45 miles from Saltillo. The constitutionalist troops are being taken by train to that point, where headquarters will be established and a base maintained for the main advance on Saltillo.

MORE REFUGEES REACH 'FRISCO FROM WEST COAST

San Francisco, May 11.—Bringing further details of the hostile attitude of Mexican federals toward Americans on the west coast, interspersed with many laughable incidents of bravado, news faking and comic opera warfare on the part of the Huertistas, 63 refugees reached San Francisco from Salina Cruz and way ports today on the Pacific mail liner San Jose. They left behind them a few Americans who preferred to take whatever risk might be entailed in safeguarding their property.

The San Jose had trouble in getting the refugees aboard and in taking on coal, but her captain's difficulties were lightened by the presence of American warships whose demands brought response. However, the Mexican port officials refused to receive the San Jose, and she arrived here without her usual clearance papers and other credentials.

Among the refugees were 41 from Salina Cruz, representing the last of the American population at that place. They were told by the Mexican authorities that the San Jose would be the last vessel they would be able to get passage home and that they could board the steamer or take the consequence.
