CONSTITUTIONS OF MINOR LEAGUE DISCUSSED

Revision of Governing Code Under Fire Today in Convention of National Baseball Association

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 12.—Revision of the constitution again occupied the session of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs when it got started two hours late today. An attempt to revise the optional agreement section, whereby such agreements would not carry a cash consideration, was tabled after a lively debate.

The class C and class D leagues were permitted to retain their present salary limits. A resolution making Chicago the next meeting place of the association was voted down.

The meeting of the Western league was one of the significant doings outside the regular association meetings. That league decided on a 154-game schedule, beginning April 24 and closing September 19. Five umpires will be used instead of eight and a rule requiring that fifteen balls be placed in the hands of the umpire before a game started was adopted. The meeting was adjourned to await a call of the president. In this connection it was stated that a meeting probably will be called within a month, at which time it was believed the question of changing the circuit might be intelligently discussed.

BURNS PROVE FATAL TO FOUR YEAR OLD HAROLD HOGDEN

Little Victim of Matches Lingers for Almost a Month After Receiving Terrible Injuries.

Burns received almost a month ago, when he set fire to himself with matches, caused the death last night of 4-year-old Harold Hogden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hogden, 822 South Walter street.

The accident happened in the afternoon on October 15 in the warehouse back of Mr. Hogden's grocery. How the child got hold of matches has never been learned, but when his father, attracted by his screams, ran to him he was a mass of flames.

Mr. Hogden extinguished the flames, but by that time the child was terribly burned about the body, neck and arms. His clothes were burned off.

Dr. W. R. Lovelace was summoned at once and he placed a trained nurse in charge of the little victim. Every effort was made to save the child's life, and for a time it was hoped that he would recover, but the strain on his vitality proved too great. For a week the child was fed through a tube in an effort to nourish him.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at Strong Brothers' chapel, Rev. Mr. Schuyler officiating. The remains will be sent to the family home at Kensington, Minn., for interment.

LINING 'EM OUT

Critics are agreed that Manbetsch, the line-plunging halfback of Michigan, is the best of his sort to appear in a decade.

Tommy McCarty, cousin of the late Luther McCarty, easily defeated Jim Savage in a 10-round bout in New York. He had the better of the bout throughout and knocked Savage down twice.

Johnnie Poe again has gone to war. Princeton's famous halfback, wit and fighting man extraordinary is a cannoneer in the British army.

Of all Princeton's picturesque characters Johnnie Poe is one of the most interesting. When he was in college, now nearly 20 years ago, he was a halfback of unusual talents. A runner through the line so low that he passed beneath the hips of his opponents, a tackler so hard and fierce that his name itself was a terror, his greatest asset, nevertheless, was his tremendous spirit. The higher the score mounted against Princeton the harder Johnnie fought.

All the other famous Princeton Poes are Johnnie's brothers, and each of them almost single-handed has in his time licked either Harvard or Yale on the gridiron.

When at peace Poe is a miner in the west. His life on the plains has made him a dead shot with a rifle or revolver and his war experience has made him equally adept with a cannon or machine gun.

Not long after the war in Europe broke out Johnnie started for the front and joined the English colors. He was assigned to the light artillery, sent into camp at Woolwich, and now probably is on the fighting line in France or Belgium.

Every one, says a New York expert, would like to see Michigan on the schedules of Yale, Princeton and Harvard next season except, possibly, Yale, Princeton and Harvard.

Mike Donnas, the Penn guard, is the strongest man playing football. He holds the strength record and the intercollegiate wrestling championship. Mike is gentle by nature, and when Coach Brooks first made a football player of him this season he did not take kindly to the rude rough side of the sport. He handled all his opponents gently until Busch, in the game against the Carlisle Indians, made him a target and roughed him up. Mike got sore and tore into Busch until the latter was manhandled to a fare-you-well. Now Mike makes it a point to jump into the other fellows before they start picking on him.

Yale's annual clash with Princeton Nov. 14 will have a battle within a battle that will be worth going a long ways to see.

This game will find two all-American tackles opposing each other. Not only that, but they are captains of their teams. Talbot, of Yale, was picked for one all-American tackle by Walter Camp last year. Ballin, of Princeton, was picked for the other, and later their teams elected them field leaders for 1914.

Talbot will play left tackle for Yale and Ballin will buck him when the Yale-Princeton game is staged. It will be the first time since 1898 that two all-American players have played opposite each other. In that year ends Cabot, of Harvard, and Gelbert, of Pennsylvania, clashed and put up a wonderful game.

In naming his All-American baseball team, Stallings in a moment of absent-mindedness, picked one or two players who are not members of the Boston Braves.

ANARCHISTS HELD FOR LATEST BOMB OUTRAGE

Message Left in Ruins of Bronx Courthouse Indicates Belated Vengance for Events of 20 Years Ago.

New York, Nov. 12.—Amidst the ruin wrought by a powerful bomb, exploded last night at the entrance to Bronx county's new $1,000,000 courthouse, detectives today found what they consider strong evidence that the outrage was perpetrated by anarchists who had in mind the Haymarket riots at Chicago more than twenty years ago.

Detectives who had believed that the explosions had been prompted by vengeance upon County Judge Louis D. Gibbs for heavy sentences imposed recently by him on seven traffickers in women, turned from their theory to follow the fresh clue.

Among the fragments of metal clipped from the door casing and cornices of the courthouse they found the tatters of a pamphlet printed in Spanish and headed "Los Mortires de Chicago" (the martyrs of Chicago).

White Freed—Still Defiant.

New York, Nov. 12.—Rouck White, pastor of the Church of Social Revolution, was discharged today from the Queens county jail. He had served his six months' sentence for raising a disturbance in Cavalry Baptist Church. A delegation of fifty friends, each wearing a red flower, welcomed him enthusiastically in the jail yard. An automobile draped with flags took him away.

Standing uncovered in the courtyard White led in singing "The Hymn of Liberty" and "I'm Coming Here Tomorrow." He has announced his intention to try again to discuss with the Rev. Cornelius Woelfkin of Calvary church, where John D. Rockefeller, Jr., worships, the grievances of the strikers at the Colorado mines.

ASK PRESIDENT TO INSIST ON COLORADO OWNERS ENDING STRIKE

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—A resolution was presented at today's convention of the American Federation of Labor, urging President Wilson to insist that the Colorado mine owners accept the federal plan for peace and if they fail to comply, that the president take steps to have coal mines operated under government supervision.

The resolution was filed by William Green of the United Mine Workers of America, acting for the mining department of the federation. It was referred under the rules of the convention, to a committee.

The resolution recited the history of the struggle between the mine owners and miners in the state and asserted that investigations have shown the justice of the miners' cause. Continuing the resolution says:

Resolved that the thirty-fourth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor call upon the president of the United States to insist that the Colorado coal operators immediately comply with the federal plan of settlement, and in the event they refuse, that he take such steps as are necessary to have a receiver appointed for the purpose of taking over the mines and operating them in the interest of the people, under federal supervision, until such time as the civil and political rights of the people are established.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have headache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorder.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

PARTISANSHIP IS FROWNED UPON BY LEADERS

National Executive Council of Suffrage Association Rebukes Women Who Attacked Democratic Party.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 12.—By a decisive vote the executive council of the National American Woman Suffrage association, at the opening of the forty-sixth annual convention here today, declared its political non-partisanship and went on record as opposed to attacks upon any political party.

This action was considered a preliminary victory for the so-called administration forces against the element in opposition and generally supposed to look with favor upon the congressional union.

The resolution defining the policy occasioned spirited debate. It asserted "that our non-partisan policy requires that the attitude of the Nation association toward an individual member of congress or a candidate therefor shall be determined by his individual attitude or record on woman suffrage and not by the attitude or record of the party to which he may belong."

Debate in favor of this resolution was led by Mrs. Medill McCormick of Chicago, chairman of the congressional committee of the National association. Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch of New York headed the opposition which took exceptions to the so-called "black list" sent out by the congressional committee and containing the names of nine senators and nine representatives who opposed suffrage in congress.

Mrs. McCormick explained that it was the policy of the committee to let the record of the legislators speak for themselves but she disapproved attacks upon any political party.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 42 to 15.

ALLEGED RUSTLER PICKED UP IN COURTHOUSE

Undersheriff Lewis Finds Much Wanted Man Right Under His Thumb; Fifty Stolen Horses at Escobosa.

Two officers from other counties came to the sheriff's office this afternoon and told Undersheriff Lewis that they were after three men alleged to be implicated in wholesale horse thieving. Undersheriff Lewis went out and picked up one of the men right in the courthouse corridor.

The prisoner is Santiago Garcia of Escobosa. Lewis hasn't learned yet just what brought the mild-mannered Garcia right into the teeth of the law. The county authorities are looking for the other two suspects named as the outside officers.

The latter are Undersheriff Rollins son of Torrance county and a deputy from Lincoln county. They report that many horses have been stolen by one band of thieves in Lincoln county. Some of the missing animals, although taken in Lincoln county, belonged in Torrance county people.

The officers said the trail led to Escobosa, where numbers of the stolen animals have been branded. It is said that fifty or more of the horses are in the Escobosa neighborhood.

Calistano Aldereto of Escobosa is reported as under arrest in connection with the case. Two stolen horses are said to have been found on his place.

WALSH TELLS AMERICAN FEDERATION OF WORK OF HIS COMMISSION

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—Frank P. Walsh of Kansas City, Mo., chairman of the federal commission on industrial relations, addressed the delegates to the American Federation of Labor today on the work of the commission which has been investigating industrial conditions throughout the last year.

Mr. Walsh said the first report would be made to congress next month. He said that the commission has examined 200 employers representing the great industries of the country. Of these, he said, only five employers have disagreed with the underlying principle of collective bargaining.

JURY DISAGREES IN DOMINGO VALLES ROBBERY CASE

Unable to Reach a Verdict in an All-Night Session. Defendant to be Put on Trial Again.

After a futile all-night attempt to reach a verdict, the jury in the case of Domingo Valles, charged with being the ringleader in an attack by a band of four men on Romero, a Valencia county sheepgrower, reported to Judge Reynolds in the district court today that they were hopelessly divided. Judge Reynolds discharged them.

The case went into the jury's hands at 8:30 o'clock last night. The prosecution's case, presented by District Attorney E. D. Tillman of Valencia county, was finished Tuesday afternoon, and the defense, marshalled by Judge P. S. Holmes, began yesterday morning. Valles attempted to set up an alibi, his wife and his son swearing that he was at home the night of the attack on the wealthy sheepgrower. The prosecution's testimony was to the effect that Valles, despite a mask, was recognized by Romero through his walk, bearing and form and a trail was followed from Romero's house to within 200 feet of Valles' house.

The jury is said to have split on the credibility of the alibi.

Valles will be placed on trial again, it was announced this morning, at the March term of court. Martin Valleros and Guillermo Ancores, also under indictment for the alleged attack on Romero, will not be put on trial until Valles' case has been disposed of. They were to have followed him in the dock at this term, but their cases will be set over along with the Valles case.

The Valles jury was made up of Juan Chaves y Molina, Lino Garcia, Pablo Salazar, Jose L. Torres, Beatrice Amaya, Adolfo Montoya, Fidel Elwell, Will McClurkan, Francisco Gutierrez, S. Garcia and Baltolo Trujillo.

GUITERREZ SAID TO BE MIXED UP IN SAVEDRA CASE

Arrested Yesterday and Held For the Alleged Sale of Stolen Goods—Savedra's Hearing Tomorrow.

Miguel Gutierrez, arrested yesterday charged with larceny, is said to be involved in the case of Jesus Savedra, a man John, at whose home last week much of Chas. Ilfeld's coffee, bolts of goods and other stuff alleged to have been stolen from a flour mill and Santa Fe freight cars were found.

The complaint against Gutierrez was filed at the instance of Savedra's wife, it is said, and the real charge to be said to be selling stolen goods. Courts officials have an idea that the charge against Gutierrez is to be used as the basis of Savedra's defense.

Justice P. B. Torrealba yesterday held Gutierrez for the grand jury in the sum of $500, failing which the defendant was committed to jail.

Savedra will be arraigned for a hearing before Justice Craig tomorrow.
