The Markets

IMPORTS OF CATTLE FROM MEXICO STILL HEAVY

Fifteen Hundred Head Come Through El Paso This week for Texas and New Mexico Ranges.

El Paso, Texas, Dec. 24.—Although movements of stock from the west were small during the week, importations from Mexico continued on a large scale. In general with other lines of business, the cattle trade has been light around the holidays, but cattlemen are highly optimistic regarding conditions in the trade after the first of the year.

About 1500 head of cattle were imported from Mexico. Much of this goes to the Fort Worth market, the remainder being put on pasture in west Texas and New Mexico. Ranges in both of these sections are in fine shape. About 3500 head of sheep, the greater part from the Hearst ranch, were entered during the week. The stock was in fine shape and was a good run.

A number of contemplated shipments from points along the Northwestern were delayed by the burning of bridges, but these will start moving in a few days. Shipments from Casas Grandes, which have been driven in from the surrounding country, will total about 1500 head.

THIRD MEMBER OF FATAL HUNTING PARTY GIVES HIMSELF UP

The Raton Range, arriving here today, says:

Ed. C. Stewart, the third member of the hunting party alleged to have been connected with the murder of Don Antonio Martinez at Taos two weeks ago, came up Sunday morning from French and gave himself up to Sheriff Hixenbaugh. Stewart states that he was several miles away from the scene of the murder at the time it was committed and that he immediately concluded to give himself up on hearing that he was implicated with the other two members of the tramping party. Martinez is one of the well known Spanish-American residents of Taos county who became involved in an altercation with the hunting party over a horse which he alleged they had stolen from him. In the quarrel which ensued he was shot to death. Stewart is being held pending a preliminary hearing.

PIERSON SIGNED TO FIGHT TORRES IN FERNS' PLACE

Battle of Championship Contender Substuted for Clash Over Title; Carded for December 30.

Charlie Pierson will take Wildcat Ferns' place as the opponent of Jack Torres at the Cactus A. C. December 30th. The Cactus management closed negotiations with Pierson by wire last night and sent him transportation. The fighters will perform as championship contenders. As two welterweight hopes they should afford fans an interesting and instructive spectacle.

Pierson fought Ferns a draw recently over the ten-round route at Kansas City, so Torres' ability to class with topnotchers may be gauged by his showing with the elusive "Fighting Newsboy."

Pierson is known here, having fought Al Smaulding and also having managed Tommy Dixon in his fight with Johnny Dundee. He and Torres fought a draw some time ago in Denver.

Taking him all around, Pierson is as good an attraction for the fight lovers as Wildcat Ferns, and Promoter Wilfong made a ten-strike when he landed the Newsboy. Pierson whipped Kid Alberto in a fifteen-round fight, and Alberto beat Fowzer at Juarez. It is only ten days since Pierson fought a draw with Ferns, so the gait he is traveling now is not a matter of speculation.

Pierson is due to arrive here tomorrow night. Next day he will go into training at the Cactus club.

LINING 'EM OUT

Among recent miracles is to be noted an All-American team named by Walter Camp without a single Yale player on it.

Coach Juneau's football class at the University of Wisconsin is as popular as ever. Sixty men reported when the course opened.

The Harvard club of Boston has presented medals to the leading coaches who aided Percy Haughton. They earned the honor beyond cavil.

The lateral pass may have been given up by China several hundred years ago and Yale may not have been very successful with it this fall as told at the Harvard banquet, says an Eastern critic, but there are a few persons who saw the Harvard-Pennsylvania game who will continue to think that it worked pretty well when Harvard tried it.

Rob Unglaub has been re-engaged to manage the Fargo, N. D., team next year.

Kansas City signed Walter Schmidt, a catcher, brother of Charles Schmidt, of the Boston Braves.

George Stallings says he has been astounded to discover that the brainy men of baseball, as well as the outsiders, persist in regarding the Braves as an accident, and incapable of repeating. He can't understand it. Neither can a good many other friends of the Braves.

It stands to reason that a team simply must have inherent strength to win a championship. Apart from the fact that the Braves drove a wedge through the standing that carried them from last to first place, a 154-game schedule is the last thing in the world on which to nourish a fluke. To win a pennant a team has got to be a pennant-winning team and that's all there is to it. As for repeating, that is a matter in the laps of the gods. If the Braves of 1915 fail to repeat, it won't prove a single thing regarding the sum total of dynamic force in the Braves of 1914.

It isn't often that a suit is dropped for the reason the Boston National case against Pitcher Quinn was dropped. As the Boston club won the world's championship without this pitcher, it was felt there would be little chance to get damages for the loss of his services.

Philadelphia is to give four players for Shortstop Bancroft of the Portland (Ore.) team.

Harry McCormick, who managed the Chautauqua team of the Southern league last summer, batted .332. He was formerly the successful pinch hitter of the New York Giants.
