London, Oct. 15. (12:20 p. m.)—Official announcement was made here today that Serbia had declared war on Bulgaria.

The announcement states war has been declared on account of Bulgarian attacks on Serbian armies on the Pietenia and Radovitch fronts.

It is a note in the British government today. Greece announces her definite decision not to intervene in the war on behalf of Serbia as present.

In the communication, which is of great length, Premier Zaimis of Greece presents the interpretation of the Greco-Serbian treaty. He concludes with the statement that the present Greek government is of the opinion that the treaty with Serbia does not call for intervention by Greece in the present circumstances.

Military operations in the east are now taking third place in the interest at the public which, as indicated by press comment, is not entirely satisfied with the plans made by the entente powers for meeting the latest offensive of the apparently from nowhere like the Manchurian Guardian, which has been serviceably used as support of the foreign office, expresses dissatisfaction with the efforts of the British aviators yesterday in the Zeppelin attack on Cuxhaven.

Actual military operations in the Balkans show but little change since the capture of Valievo, except for brief delays by Serbians and Bulgarians. Belonging for action is decisive. The war Bulgaria claims her neutrality was violated by Serbia.

The Serbians are claiming disorganization in the heights since Belgrade. Waiting for assistance from their allies. Such aid is expected soon as General Sarrail, commander of the expeditionary force, has landed at Salonika.

On the western front the British have gained considerable ground, some of which they subsequently lost under the German shell fire. Complicated claims regarding the possession of Hill No. 70 were cooled by the statement of the under secretary of war in the house of commons that the British official report had been held intentionally as reality showing only the capture of the mining works around this position.

A message admitting that the Serbs in general passed there again back buried across the Sutja river in Southern Italian. Portrait of nearly the advantage still rests with the Russians who hold sight miles in the east bank of the river after actions which have virtually separated the Austro-German armies.

Violent artillery conflicts on the Dvinsk front with little relative change in the positions of the contending armies.

Irritation is displayed in the press at the failure of the recommended aircraft force for the defense of London to bring down a single Zeppelin of the squadron which attacked the capital on Wednesday night. Demands for reprisals are increasing.

Lists of casualties in the British army, published in newspapers here during the first fifteen days of October show a total of 54,855 killed, wounded or missing. Of these 1,147 were officers.

The total British casualties at the Dardanelles up to October 9 according to official figures which are today was 96,939.

Of this total the number of men killed was 19,857, of whom 1,185 were officers.

Casualties of the Australasian contingents were 29,121.

BRITISH SUBMARINE SINKS GERMAN DESTROYER

Copenhagen, Oct. 15. (via London.)—A British submarine torpedoed and sank a German destroyer today at the southern entrance to the Sound, a narrow strait between Denmark and Sweden which connects the Baltic with the North sea. An explosion followed the striking of the torpedo and the destroyer foundered immediately.

A message from Falsterbo, Sweden, which brought news of this incident, adds that another German destroyer and a cruiser which were accompanying the destroyer that was sunk, sped to the southward.

Information received here indicates that all the members of the destroyer's crew were lost.

According to a subsequent dispatch, a German cruiser and three destroyers were engaged with the British submarine. The German craft moving in circles to avoid the attack of the submarine which was commanded Sarvik. This continued for some time until the submarine jolted a torpedo on the destroyer, which sank with a terrific explosion. The other German warships are said to have retreated. The submarine rose to the surface and remained on the scene.

Today's War Summary

British casualties in the Dardanelles operations have reached almost the 100,000 mark. An official statement in London today gave the figures as 96,899 up to October 9, of which number 18,557 were killed, 1,185 of the killed being officers.

Abandonment of the costly Gallipoli expedition was suggested in the house of lords last night by Lord Milner, who advanced the idea of the transfer of the troops on the peninsula to another held. The government would not commit itself as to whether the troops would remain or be transferred.

Greece will not intervene in the war on behalf of Serbia at present. She has officially notified the British government to this effect.

Intense activity, chiefly on the part of the artillery, has prevailed along the western front. Today's Paris report says in Lorraine the Germans made a violent attack near Letricourt which the French fire is declared to have checked. There has been spirited trench fighting in the Vosges.

A German torpedo boat destroyer was sunk by a British submarine today in the passage connecting the Baltic and the North sea, known as The Sound, a Copenhagen dispatch states.

A German cruiser and another destroyer in the vicinity hastily steamed away southward, the dispatch adds.

The first war statement issued by the Bulgarian general staff, dated Thursday night, accuses the Serbians of initiating the offensive.

It declares the latter on Tuesday made a surprise attempt to obtain possession of strategic points in Bulgaria commanding the route to Serbia, but were defeated and driven back.

A press dispatch from Nish to Paris declares the Teutonic forces have not progressed south of the Danube, while the Bulgarians are being held along the border.

Greece is being financed by the entente allies to an extent sufficient to pay the expense of keeping her army mobilized, according to an Athens dispatch to Milan. The sum of $6,000,000 already has been advanced, it is declared.

In the Dardanelles the Turks claim to have inflicted heavy losses on the allies near Anafarta by the use of bombs, and to have had a similar success near Seddul Bahr in hand grenade attacks. Allied torpedo boats have been driven from the narrows by the fire of Turkish batteries.

CARRANZA CONTINUES TRIUMPHAL JOURNEY

Material Improvement of Conditions in Mexico City Reported Since First Chief Has Been Recognized.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)

Tampico, Mexico, Oct. 15 (via Laredo, Texas).—First Chief Venustiano Carranza, who is making a tour of the northern Mexico states, accompanied by General Alvaro Obregon and his staff as an official escort, left late today for Monterey, capital of the state of Nuevo Leon. A brief stop will be made at Victoria, capital of the state of Tamaulipas.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 15.—Desertions from official ranks of the Villa government of Juarez continued early today, when following the lead of General Ortiz, military commander, and Major Montoni, the chief of police, the head of the secret service of Juarez crossed the line while the El Paso representative of the secret police renounced allegiance to the Villa government from this side of the border. Dr. Villarreal, chief of the Villa sanitary corps, is also among those renouncing the Villa cause.

General Manuel Ochoa, military commander of Casas Grandes, now in charge of the garrison in Juarez, is maintaining tranquility there. A report indicates that General Francisco Villa would arrive at the border shortly.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 15.—The Carranza consulate today telegraphed General Carranza that General Lopez Payan, formerly of Manuel Chao's brigade, had abandoned Villa after a skirmish at Villa Ahumada with the troops of Jose Pelaez and retired to the mountains. That General Rueda Quijano of Urbina's brigade has declared himself independent of Villa and is en route from Casas Grandes to Torreon to join Obregon, while General Lucio, also at Casas Grandes, has decorated and is marching to Palomas, opposite Columbus, N. M., with a body of men. The troops advancing on Agua Prieta, it was said, are in small columns.

Other advices are that Rosalio Hernandez, who recently revolted from Villa near Santa Rosalia, and was reported by Villa agents as killed by his own men, has captured Santa Rosalia and has cut the wires south of that point. It was also reported that General Pierce is marching 3,000 men from Villa Ahumada to join the Villa mobilization at Casas Grandes.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Order is being maintained at Guaymas and Empalme, on the west coast of Mexico, by the Carranza troops which occupied those places Wednesday after the Villa garrison had retired northward by train. Navy advices today said no looting by the retiring Villa troops had been reported.

The United States naval collier Justin has given supplies to some important lighthouses on the Mexican coast in order that the lights may be kept burning.

A dispatch from Mexico City states that exchange there had advanced 1½ cents since Saturday, when recognition of Carranza was recommended.

WEATHER MAN UNABLE TO SCARE THE FRIDAY CROWD

Threat of Rain Fails to Keep a Soul Away and Attendance Record for Friday Goes All to Smash.

IMPORTANT EVENTS ON TONIGHT'S PROGRAM

Exhibitor's Banquet, Announcement of Awards, Montezuma Ball and Special Fair Grounds Program.

The New Mexico state fair will close tomorrow night at midnight. At the hour of 12 o'clock sharp the state fair commission, headed by President Putney, will order lights out and gates closed at the state fair grounds; and will say good-bye to the visitors.

But—and it is a most important "but"—the state fair amusement program will continue right up to the minute of midnight of tomorrow night. There will be something doing every minute at the fair grounds and amusements to fill the time and hold the interest of the most exacting will continue right to the closing second.

The Saturday afternoon program will be one of the strongest of the week, and added attractions have been provided for tomorrow night.

This is no ordinary state fair. It is a success and has been such from the opening moment. It will be continued as a success to the final moment. Everybody in the management will have full speed on an flags flying, until, as President Putney has it, the tail has gone with the hide. It's the whole show and a full week of it for fairgoers. Therefore tomorrow's closing program will be one of the best, if not the very best of the week.

A threat of rain by the weather man, and clouds that promised to make it good, failed in any way to dampen the enthusiasm of state fair visitors or Albuquerque people this afternoon and before 2 o'clock the Friday attendance record at the gate had gone all to smash. The afternoon program at the fair grounds promised to be of unusual interest, and there were larger crowds in the exhibit tents than on any previous day, many people who had not had an opportunity to see the exhibits before taking this afternoon for that pleasant duty. Judging in all departments was progressing handily, with the prospect that it would be closed in every exhibit section by tonight.

The night program at the fair grounds promises to be one of exceptional merit and a number of special events are on the card, the evening, including the banquet for exhibitors at Camp Putney at 7 o'clock, and the Montezuma ball at the Alvarado hotel at 9:30. Arrangements are all complete for the ball which this year will have its largest attendance and which promises to be an affair of unusual brilliance.

Camp Putney was deserted this afternoon, the boys and girls clubs having been invited to spend the late afternoon at the University of New Mexico and to take tea there. The invitation was readily accepted, not only because the boys and girls wanted to see the University, but because the invitation to tea at the college left the camp kitchens free for preparing the banquet for the exhibitors.

Attendance at the fair grounds this morning surprised everyone. It seemed to be the day for seeing exhibits and the big tents and the lanes between the stock pens were packed from shortly after 8 o'clock, when the gates opened until the events before the grandstand began to draw attention this afternoon.

The Brundage carnival shows on the midway are drawing well. They are good shows throughout, clean and fresh and first class in every particular and their patronage has grown with every fair day, as their reputation has been spread by patrons who have been pleased.

The judges late this afternoon will

FATAL PISTOL BATTLE PROVES CLIMAX OF HOTLY CONTESTED CHARLESTON PRIMARY

PRESIDENT WILSON APPROVES NAVAL PLANS CALLING FOR EXPENDITURE OF $500,000,000

Five-year Building Program Submitted by Secretary Daniels Would Provide for Ten Superdreadnaughts and Six First-class Fast Cruisers With Large Number of Smaller Ships; Five Millions Asked for Laboratory by Advisory Board Not Likely to Be Granted This Year; Other Department Estimates Roll In.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)

Washington, Oct. 15.—The national defense plans of the administration, calling for an expenditure in the next fiscal year of more than $400,000,000 for army, navy and fortifications, were completed today. Secretary Garrison has forwarded his estimates, already approved by President Wilson, to the secretary of the treasury and Secretary Daniels submitted his estimates today, after going over the final details with President Wilson.

Secretary Daniels today discussed with the president the question of how many battleships, battle cruisers and smaller warships to recommend each year during the five years for which a program has been mapped out. He and the president reached an agreement but the secretary said he could not give the figures until later. It was learned, however, that the expenditures would be distributed as evenly as possible over the five years.

Reports from secretaries Garrison and Daniels will be made public within the next few days. The navy estimates probably will be made public tomorrow and those of the army on Monday.

The plans of the navy, Secretary Daniels admitted, include a large building program. He said he wanted to increase the capacity of the various government navy yards and the speed of the new warship construction in those yards. It is planned also to have some aeroplanes for the navy built by the government.

The secretary conferred in Orange, N. J., last night with Thomas A. Edison, chairman of the naval consulting committee, regarding the committee's recommendation for an appropriation for research work, but Secretary Daniels has not asked for $5,000,000, the sum the committee thought should be spent for a laboratory, because such a large sum for this purpose is believed to be unnecessary the first year.

Secretary Lane saw the president regarding interior department estimates, which will total approximately $210,000,000, or about $1,000,000 less than the estimate last year. His estimates include $9,000,000 for the Alaskan railroad $750,0000 for the Flathead Indian reservation reclamation project, between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 on other irrigation work, $2,000,000 less than last year for pensions, about the same amount as last year for the land office, a slight increase for the bureaus of mines and education, and more money than last year for Indian work and national parks.

The increase for national parks has been made necessary by the fact that this year more than twice as many people visited the parks than did last year. The European war caused many tourists to visit the parks instead of going abroad.

Additional money to employ more patent examiners also has been asked by Secretary Lane.

Secretary Lansing later discussed the estimates for the state department with the president. He said he would ask for about $1,000,000 more than the state department estimates of last year. Added expenditures growing out of the European war and

REPORTER KILLED WHEN COUNTY CANVASSING COMMITTEE BLOWS UP

GOVERNOR MANNING CALLS OUT MILITIA

Whole Second Regiment Ordered to Duty in Charleston Where Serious Trouble Seems to Threaten.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 1.—Sydney J. Cohen, a newspaper reporter, was killed and four men shot in a melee that occurred here today just outside the room where the Democratic city executive committee was to meet to canvass the returns of the municipal primary last Tuesday.

W. A. Turner was shot in the right lung and seriously injured; W. E. Wingate received a serious scalp wound; H. L. Wilensky was shot in an arm, and Jeromich O'Brien was shot in an ankle.

The committee was just about to be called to order to canvass the returns of yesterday's primary at which the trouble was threatened. A fight started in a room adjoining that in which the committee was to meet. The cause has not been determined.

The scuffling occasioned by the fight hardly had started when a fusillade of shots was heard from the committee room. This continued for several minutes as the committeemen and spectators made a frantic rush to get out.

Policemen were stationed in the committee room adjoining, but no arrests had been made two hours after the shooting and as far as known at that hour no one seemed to know who had fired the first shot, or who kept it up.

The setting for the affair was dramatic. At the intersection of King and George streets, where is situated the building in which the committee was to meet, a large crowd had gathered. The demeanor of those there had led the chief of police to place a large number of officers there. Up to the time of the shooting, however, this crowd had remained orderly.

The Democratic municipal primary developed into such a bitter factional fight between the adherents of Mayor John P. Grace and Tristram T. Hyde, running at the head of the tickets, that serious trouble was feared. Representations made to Governor Manning by the sheriff and members of the Democratic executive committee, resulting in the governor ordering four companies of militia and three divisions of national guard at the armories as a precautionary measure.

The state adjutant general was hurried to Charleston from Columbia Monday afternoon to take charge of the situation and to have the militia take over the business of polling the vote, should it be deemed necessary. The sheriff swore in fifty extra deputies, and had them ready for immediate action. Charges that the governor was interfering with the primary in favor of one faction were heard and promptly denied. Those who made the charge pointed to the fact that there was no trouble Tuesday or Tuesday night as substantiation. The militia was ordered to report to the armories at 8 o'clock Monday night and was not dispersed until 7 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The unofficial count showed that Hyde had won by nineteen votes but more than 100 votes were contested. The committee met today to canvass the returns and settle the contests.

The crowd had gathered to get first news of the decision of the committee
