The Governor has signed the Act amending the law relating to the Sheriff of St. Mary's county. Also an Act amending the St. Mary's Liquor Law.

John Adams, who was in the 96th year of his age, died at his residence in the Second District March 18th instant.

At the drawing last Monday for the horse and buggy of St. Joseph's Church, held under the direction of Mr. Patrick Russell and Mr. Bennie Love, the winning coupon was No. 105, held by Miss Hilda Edwards, of Washington.

Memorial Resolutions. At an informal meeting of the colored people held in Bowieville, Thursday evening, March 13th instant, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, it has pleased Divine Providence to take from our midst the late Hon. John N. Graves;

And whereas, he had ever shown himself to be an unselfish friend to the colored race, ever laboring to uplift them and advance their interests by urging their recognition as members of the community entitled to have all their just claims considered by insisting that they were entitled to be given the right to serve on juries, and to be appointed to such other positions as were suitable to them, and by assisting and advising them as to their best interests in all the walks of life;

And whereas, by his great charity and his kind hearted traits, he has greatly endeared himself to them as well as to many others in his neighborhood by assisting the needy and giving liberally, not only of his small worldly substance to help them, but also his services as an attorney, whenever needed;

And whereas, though his opportunities in life, to fit himself for business had been very meagre, not having attended school a month, yet, in all the positions he held, whether public or private, as Captain of a bay schooner, as Constable, Magistrate, Clerk to County Commissioners, member of the House of Delegates of Maryland and Deputy Internal Revenue Collector, he proved himself a capable and efficient official, performing the duties required in such a manner as to reflect credit upon himself and redound to the public good.

Therefore, be it resolved, That we, the colored people of this community who knew him well and intimately, many of us from his boyhood, express publicly our heartfelt sorrow at the great loss we have sustained by his death, and sincerely mourn the loss of one who had ever shown himself a true friend in sorrow as well as in joy. One who by his charity and kind feeling for us as for all men, particularly in times of great need and woe, never remitted in his efforts to aid and comfort.

And be it further resolved, That as a mark of our esteem, that these resolutions be published in the county papers and that a copy thereof be presented to his sorrowing family.

Wm. F. HALL, Pres. CHAS. L. LEATY, Secy.

Circuit Court Proceedings.

Wednesday, March 18, 1896. No. 10, Trials, which was pending when we went to press Wednesday last was tried before jury and the entire day was consumed in bringing out the evidence. At 4 p. m., the Court adjourned for the day.

Thursday, March 19. The case pending which the Court adjourned Wednesday was resumed and argued before the jury. The jury retired and No. 11 Trials, Columbus B. Brown vs. Mary Watson Sheburn, surviving executrix of Geo. M. Sheburn, was next called. Tried before jury. Jury retired and returned a verdict for plaintiff of $1338. At 9 p. m., jury in No. 10 Trials brought in a verdict for defendant, F. N. Holmes and Joseph H. Ching for plaintiff and R. C. Combs and D. C. Hammett for defendant. Mr. J. F. Morgan also appeared for plaintiff in No. 10, Trials. No. 5 Criminal appeals, Joseph Vanwrt vs. State—appeal from Justice Henry Waring was tried before Court. Adjudged not guilty and prisoner discharged. Camaller for prisoner and Hammett for State. At 9 p. m., the Court adjourned for the day.

Friday, March 20, 1896. Court met—James Brooks and Crane on 1st bench. No. 13 Trials—Samuel Peach vs. Bevins Morris—was called, but owing to absence of important witness for plaintiff was continued. Petit Jury was discharged until Monday. Court adjourned for the day.

Saturday, March 21, 1896. Court met—Judges Brooks and Crane on bench. State vs. Thomas Harper was 2d case called. Adjudged guilty and fined $15. Committee appointed to draft resolutions upon death of late John N. Graves reported and Messrs Camaller, Hammett, Holmes and Ching made addresses. The Court ordered the resolutions spread upon the minutes of the Court and a copy be sent to each of the newspapers and to the family of the deceased.

Whereas, we have received with the deepest sensibility, intelligence of the death of our late brother, JOHN NELSON GRAVES, which occurred at his home in this county on the 7th of the present month, in the 96th year of his age.

Although in his early years, as he often said, the stern realities of life prevented him from pursuing the one great desire of his life, the "study of law," nevertheless, he did not despair and was admitted to the bar on the 31st day of March, 1866. Not having, therefore, the advantage of an early literary and legal training, whatever of success followed him, it can be truly said of him that he made it for himself.

"The fame which a man wins for himself is but— That he may call his own."

Therefore be it resolved, That this bar is grieved by the deepest feelings of sorrow and regret, to have entered on his long dark road of death the name of our late lamented brother, JOHN NELSON GRAVES.

Resolved, That the members of this bar and the Officers of the Court wear the usual badge of mourning as a testimony of the profound respect we entertain for the memory of the deceased.

Resolved, That the Court be requested to have these proceedings entered upon the minutes of the Court and a copy thereof sent to the family of the deceased, with the assurance of our sincerest sympathy.

Respectfully submitted, B. HARRIS CAMALLER, FRANK N. HOLMES, JOSEPH H. CHING, DAN'L C. HAMMETT, JO F MORGAN

The Court adjourned until Monday at 10 a. m. Monday, March 23, 1896. Court met—Associate Judge Crane on the bench. No. 9 Criminal appearances State vs. William H. Bennett specially assigned for the day, was called. Plea of "not guilty" and trial by jury. Jury impeached and sworn and case proceeded with as follows. Case first called to be tried by Court.

The jury in case of Bennett brought in a verdict of "guilty on first count of the indictment."

Tuesday, March 24, 1896. Court met—Associate Judge Crane on the bench. Walter Harris was arraigned for assault with intent to kill upon Capt. Rich. L. Robbins and was tried before the Court. Judgment of Guilty. Mr. Holmes was assigned to defend Bennett and Harris on indictment for larceny. Plea of "guilty" confessed. Judge Crane then sentenced the prisoners, Bennett in the usual case receiving 10 years in the penitentiary and in the larceny case, 3 years. For the assault Harris received 8 years and for larceny 2 years in the penitentiary. The sentences in larceny case are to begin when the terms in the assault case end.

The Grand Jury came into Court, was highly complimented by the Judge for its observance of its oath, its attention to duty and its punctuality and after submitting the following report was discharged:

THE GRAND JURY REPORT To the Honorable, the Judges of the Circuit Court of St. Mary's County, Maryland

We the Grand Jurors for the County of St. Mary's, beg leave to submit the following as our report: We have investigated all cases that have been brought to our knowledge, examined sixty eight witnesses, found seven presentments and seven indictments, and dismissed five cases.

We did not examine the books and accounts of the County Commissioners, the law requiring it to be done at the September Term, but we had the Clerk to the board before us, and he reports the sale of four thousand dollars of Bonds during the present term of Court, at premiums of five and seven per cent. The sale of these Bonds, together with previous sales, amount in all to eighteen thousand dollars.

We examined the list of Licenses, and found that all parties doing business have complied with the requirements of the law. The public roads are repaired to the best of their ability, with few exceptions, principally caused by hauling heavy lumber over them.

We concur in the order issued by the County Commissioners, to wit: "That all gates and fences should be removed from the public roads," and we suggest, that the requirements of the law should be strictly enforced.

use the public roads as head lands or turning rows be prohibited.

We made the usual examination of jail and surroundings, also Court House, and found the jail neatly kept and in good condition, reflecting credit upon the jailor.

The Court House needs repairs, the plastering is down in several places, and more in the act of falling. We find the upper floors have sagged in the centre and we would call attention to this matter at once, that a remedy may be applied in the nature of supports through the body of the Court room.

In view of the present financial depression that prevails, we urgently suggest that retrenchment and economy be rigidly enforced.

Having concluded our labors, we tender our thanks to the Court and the Officers thereof for the courtesies extended to us, and respectfully beg to be discharged.

HENRY C. ADAMS, Foreman. Next case called was No 5 criminal appearance, State vs. Alfred Harris. Indicted for larceny. Tried before jury. Verdict of guilty. Hammett for State, Ching for prisoner.

Wednesday, March 25, 1896. Court met—Judge Crane on the bench. First case called was, State vs. J. Oscar Jarboe. Indicted for assault. Motion to dismiss and motion overruled. Indictment demurred to and demurrer overruled. Plea of not guilty and trial by jury. This case is pending as we go to press. Hammett for State; Camaller for Jarboe.

James Green, colored, indicted for larceny, was brought into Court to be arraigned. Green pleaded guilty, and in consideration of his plea, his previous good character and on the request of Mr. J. T. Brume from whom he had stolen the meat, was discharged on probation for 3 years.

At 2 o'clock p. m., Wednesday, Judge Crane discharged for the term all the petit jury not impaneled on the pending case. Francis, alias Son Williams, indicted for larceny, was brought into court, and pleaded guilty.

Fifth Congressional District. Mr. Editor:—We observe a number of names are being put forward as suitable candidates for the nomination for Congress on the Republican ticket. We have not heard, however, the name of any gentleman suggested as a worthy representative of the Democratic party.

In this connection, therefore, we would suggest the name of Judge John B. Brooke, of Prince George's county, whose term on the bench expires in the coming fall. Judge Brooke has made for us a most acceptable judge, and is well qualified to serve us with equal satisfaction as a representative in Congress.

He was elected to his present position as a Democrat, but being endorsed also by the Republicans as their candidate, holds in this respect, the confidence of both parties.

He is not without experience in legislation, having served his country for several sessions in each branch of the General Assembly; and was the presiding officer of the Senate in 1861 when the Legislature was dispersed by force of arms. He was also a prominent member of the Constitutional Convention of 1867.

Should the voters favor our suggestion and select Judge Brooke as our candidate, it will greatly tend to forehadow Democratic success in the Fifth Congressional district.—Enquirer.

Lewinstown Leads. (From our Regular Correspondent.) Judging from the appearance of the weather the scale preponderates most decidedly in favor of continued inclemency of the same. Traveling is very disagreeable, yet considerable hauling, &c., is being done.

Truckers have gone to work, and we presume that a large acreage of tomatoes are in contemplation. Some building and repairing in different localities is to be seen by the passing observer, and carpenters are comparatively happy, inasmuch as their time is profitably utilized.

There was Mass at St. Michael's last Sunday, and as usual a large congregation was in attendance. It is remarkable that how ever conclusive the arguments of ministers may appear, there are not wanting men of splendid talents and erudition who doubt the immortality of the soul.

Wheat, so say those who are judges, is growing and looking well. Dr. Wm. Becker has returned to Baltimore, and Drs Miles and Tippett are also two physicians—the only ones located in St. Inigo.

Merchants complain of scarcity of money. Their principal profit is in the liquor they sell. It certainly creates a lively spirit in some of our acquaintances, and the complaint is frequently impressed upon our mind. "Whom hath not an inspiring bumper taught A flow of words, and loftiness of thought?"

THE MARQUETTE STATE. To the Editors of the Beacon.—In your issue of February 27th appeared among your editorials an article under the heading—"What A P. A. the Beacon!" I suppose it is a complete quotation from the Baltimore Evening News, but its position among your editorials would seem to imply that the article expresses the sentiments of the Editors of the BEACON.

I have waited hoping some one, far more able than I, would send to the BEACON an article upon the subject, and, at least, strive to correct the false impression that the opposition to the placing of the Marquette Statue in the Capitol at Washington is chiefly an A. P. A. movement. May I, therefore, be permitted space in the BEACON for a few words upon this subject. I am not a member of the A. P. A., but I am very sure that the only ones, nor do they constitute the majority of those who are opposed to the placing in Statuary Hall of the Marquette Statue. The opposition as expressed is general—and I am sure is not grounded upon prejudice, as some would have us believe—or is it the work of those who are opposed to the statue.

question is one of precedence and law.

The Statue is not one of an American citizen, nor could it possibly be recognized as such. It is distinctly the Statue of a Roman Catholic Jesuit Priest, vested in his robes of office. Surely such a thing is a cloud, small to be sure, rising above the horizon and casting a shadow upon America's pride—Heligius Freedom. Statuary Hall is not the place for the collecting of statues to the memory of clergymen.

"There is a place for everything, and I should be just as much opposed to the placing of a statue of Phillips Brooks in the Capitol as I am of placing Marquette's Statue there, provided, of course, Dr. Brooks appeared vested as a Bishop of the church.

The Hon. Mr. Linton, of Michigan, who has spoken of this subject in the House, is said to be, by the Press, an advocate of A. P. A. doctrine. In other words, the Baltimore Sun, as an example, would lead its readers to believe that Mr. Linton makes this objection because he is an A. P. A. Is this, I ask, altogether fair? Are we not to consider the members of Congress simply as those who represent the people, who make the laws, in whose hands we trust the political life of our Nation, irrespective of their affiliation outside of Congress, with any Order, Sect, or Church, be it Masonry, A. P. A., Methodism, Romanism or the Salvation Army?

In your editorial you say: "Marquette did his brave work of exploration in the Jesuit's garb," etc. Then, his splendid work (about which his biographers almost all) had a distinctive object, and was under the control of a distinctive religious body as his garb signified. He was a Missionary work, a Church work—for all this I would gladly and willingly give credit—but the questions to answer: Was Marquette a citizen of Wisconsin?—was his service a civic or military one, such as Section 1314 of the Revised Statutes speaks of? I think not.

Marquette came to this land a Jesuit Priest. There is no record of any civic services rendered by him. His service was to the Roman Catholic Church. He established a Mission in Canada in 1605. He travelled through parts of Wisconsin and Illinois as a Jesuit Missionary—always as a Missionary; all praise to him for his zeal—but was distinguished for civic or military services? This is the question.

Again, the Statue of Marquette is not that of an American citizen, but from all appearances it is the Statue of a Jesuit Priest. If we are to place in the Capitol Statues of Missionaries, if in this land, where religious freedom is carved on the foundation stone, marble or bronze statues of clergymen are to be preserved, their religious zeal to be spoken of by our children's children, then let us have not one, but many, and let us select, at least, one or two native born Americans.

The whole question is not one aimed against any religion or body, though Marquette Statue does partake very largely of setting up Missionary Spirit of the Roman Catholic Church, but, I repeat, it is a matter of precedence, a question of expediency, a question of law. If it can be proven that Marquette's work in this land demands recognition because of civic or military character, it is most and right he should be so acknowledged, but let us have him as Marquette, the Patriot, not the Priest.

In the fall of 1893 a son of Mr. T. A. McFarland a prominent merchant of Live Oak, Sutter Co., Cal., was taken with a very heavy cold. The pains in his chest were so severe that he had spasms and was threatened with pneumonia. His father gave him several large doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which broke up the cough and cured him. Mr. McFarland says whenever his children have croup he invariably gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always cures them. He considers it the best cough remedy in the market. For sale by W. Scott's Emulsion

Is the standard emulsion the world over. There is not a man, woman or child who is run down or emaciated or has weak lungs that Scott's Emulsion will not benefit.

When you ask for it you will likely be told by the druggist that he has an emulsion "just as good." It is not true. No emulsion is as good.

Scott's Emulsion has benefited millions of people. Ask your druggist if he can refer you to a single case that has been helped by the unknown emulsion he sells, and if so, we will send you a book giving thousands of cases. You want the standard; not something that nobody knows anything about.

All druggists sell Scott's Emulsion. Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.
