SURPERBAS GO DOWN TO DEFEAT IN FIRST GAME TO DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE WORLD

Boston Red Sox, Veteran Contenders for Pennant Honors, Prove Too Much for Robinson's Recruits; Shore Starts Twirling for Boston But Is Hoisted Out in the Ninth Inning and Mays Is Inserted; Marquard, on the Mound for Dodgers, Is Also Yanked in the Seventh and Pfeffer Finishes the Game.

NINTH INNING RALLY MADE BY THE ROBINS FAILS TO BRING RESULTS

Over 40,000 Persons Witness the Initial Struggle, Which Is Marked by Brilliant Fielding on the Part of Both Teams; Weather Is Fine, Bands Play and Enthusiasm Runs High; Brooklyn Rooters on Hand to Cheer Their Team; Hundreds Are Unable to Gain Admission to Grounds on Account of All Space Being Taken.

BRAVES FIELD Oct. 7.—The Boston Americans triumphed over the Brooklyn Nationals in the first game of the world's series here this afternoon by a score of 6 to 5. The Boston victory was threatened in the last inning when Shore weakened and had to be taken from the box. Over 40,000 persons saw the contest which was marked by brilliant fielding on the part of the victors and the defense on the part of the Brooklyns. Marquard started in the box for Brooklyn but his defense completely crumpled in the seventh inning when a couple of errors and a hit gave Boston three runs and a safe lead. The official box score.

BRAVES FIELD Boston, Oct. 7.—The Boston pennant winners of the American league, and the National league champions, the Brooklyns, the two contestants for the premier honors in baseball, engaged in the first game of the world's series here this afternoon before what was apparently the largest crowd that ever looked upon a battle of bats of baseball championship.

Some 42,000 or more spectators filled every seat in the expansive reaches of the stands and they overflowed into a large space comprising foul in far standers in deep right center field.

Speculators reaped the proverbial harvest and then a little more on scandalous tickets.

An Indian summer sun turned the edge of what early threatened to be a brisk afternoon into one of warm sunshine.

The inner and outer playing fields were rolled smooth while the base paths were in fine shape. A blare band piped its liveliest airs down near the home folks players bench.

"We hope to succeed, some real baseball today," said Manager Carrigan of the Boston Americans. "We have the players, the incentive, the big prize in baseball and plenty of opposition from the other fellows."

Manager Robinson of the Brooklyn Nationals, who still undecided as to his pitching selection two hours before game time.

"Pfeffer, Smith, Coombs and Marquard will take part in the usual preliminary practice," said Robinson, "and I'll pick my pitcher from them. Maybe Marquard will work. But if Pfeffer looks good, I'll put him in. Watch me go today."

Manager Carrigan sent left handed Vean Gregg out to pitch in the batting practice for the Bostons. He was expecting that his club would have to face Marquard in the game.

The Brooklyns came on the field while the Bostons were at batting practice. They were given a big hand by the crowd as Manager Robinson led his men to the visitors bench. Jack Coombs and Dan Olson, old American leaguers, came in for quite a reception from friends on the Boston club. The Brooklyns wore their gray traveling uniforms with caps to match and black and gray stockings. The Red Sox wore white uniforms, white caps with red and white stockings.

While the batting practice of the Bostons was on, Manager Carrigan and Captain Jack Barry oftentimes called the Red Sox strategy board, conferred down at second base.

During the Brooklyn batting practice "Doster" Mails, a lefthander, served up the tenders. Manager Robinson evidently figuring that his club would be confronted by Dutch Leonard or Babe Ruth. Then Sherrod Smith, another lefthander, was sent out to pitch to the Brooklyns. While these usual preliminaries were being run a fleet of photographers crowded upon the playing field snapping pictures in fielding and batting practice.

Manager Carrigan while the Brooklyns were having their batting practice took his team to the clubhouse where he had a talk with them and gave them final instructions for the game.

Shore and Smith warmed up for Boston while Pfeffer, Coombs and Marquard worked out for Brooklyn. The umpires came upon the field at 1:35 o'clock and immediately conferred with the field captains and managers of both clubs.

The identity of opposing pitchers was a considerable factor in the composition of the line-ups of either team, both Manager Bonigan of Brooklyn and Carrigan explaining on interchangeable outfields to bring out added strength. Stengel, a weak batsman against left handed pitchers, has no chance in a Brooklyn line-up against Ruth or Leonard. His place will be taken by Johnston. Similarly Walker, Speaker's successor at center field for Boston. His place would be thrown out of competition with Marquard in the box for Brooklyn. Merkle, Shorten being a more effective batter against pitching from the southside. Manager Carrigan, it is understood has decided to have Hoblitzel play at first base throughout the series, instead of putting in Daiber against a left handed pitcher.

The battery order:

BROOKLYN NATIONALS	BOSTON AMERICANS
Myers, cf.	Hooper, rf.
Daubert, 1b.	Janvrin, 2b.

Fast fielding kept it from being a home run. Hoblitzel up. Ball 1, ball 2. Cutshaw threw out Hoblitzel at first. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

SECOND INNING

Wheat up. Ball 1. Wheat scratched an infield hit toward first base. Cutshaw up. Ball 1, ball 2, ball 3. Strike 1. Cutshaw hit into a double play, Janvrin to Scott to Hoblitzell. Mowrey up. Ball 1. Strike 1. Ball 2. Foul strike 2. Ball 3. Mowrey walked. Olson up. Strike 1. Ball 2. Foul strike 3. Olson struck out. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

Lewis up. The crowd gave Lewis a big cheer, remembering his timely home run in the last year's series. Ball 1, ball 2, strike 1, ball 3, strike 2. Lewis walked. Gardner up. Strike 1. Gardner bunted safely, Lewis going to second. Scott up. Ball 1. Scott sacrificed, Myers to Cutshaw. Lewis going to third and Gardner to second. Cady up. The Brooklyn infield came in on the grass. Ball 1, ball 2, ball 3. Cady was purposely passed, filling the bases. Shore up. Ball 1, strike 1, strike 2. Shore fanned and the Brooklyn fans howled. Hooper up. Ball 1, ball 2. Hooper flied to Myers, who made the catch after a long run. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

THIRD INNING

Meyers up. Strike 1, ball 1, ball 2. Shore tossed out Meyers at first. Marquard up. Foul, strike 1, strike 2, foul, ball 1. Marquard was a strikeout victim. Myers up. Strike 1, ball 1. It was learned that the Boston outfield shifted as every Brooklyn batter came to the plate. Myers singled over the middle bag. Daubert up. Strike 1, strike 2. Daubert fanned on three pitched balls. It was the second time he fanned. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

Janvrin up. Strike 1, foul strike 2, ball 1. Janvrin fanned, Myers throwing him out at first. It was the second time he had fanned. Walker up. Ball 1, ball 2, foul, strike 1, strike 2. Walker struck out. Hoblitzel up. Ball 1, ball 2, ball 3, strike 1, strike 2. Hoblitzel drove a long liner to right for three bases. Lewis up. Hoblitzell scored on Lewis hot two-bagger to left. The Boston crowd was in a frenzy of excitement. Gardner up. Strike 1, ball 1. Lewis was picked off second, Meyers to Olson. ONE RUN, TWO HITS, NO ERRORS.

FOURTH INNING

Stengel up. Stengel singled along the left field foul line. Wheat up. Wheat drove a long hit to the right field fence for three bases, scoring Stengel. Cutshaw up. Cutshaw flied to Hooper who made a fine throw to Cady, who touched Wheat out as he slid into the plate. Mowrey up. Strike 1, ball 1. Janvrin threw out Mowrey, taking the ball behind the bag and getting his man by a step. ONE RUN, TWO HITS, NO ERRORS.

Gardner up. Strike 1, strike 2, ball 1, ball 2. Gardner fanned. Scott up. Scott flied to Wheat, who made a pretty catch. Cady up. Ball 1, ball 2, ball 3, strike 1. Cady walked. It was the second time Cady walked. Shore up. Ball 1, strike 1, strike 2, ball 2. Shore fouled out to Mowry. NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

FIFTH INNING

Olson up. Strike 1. Gardner threw out Olson. Myers up. Myers got a three-base hit, when Walker lost his high fly in the sun, the ball going to the center field fence. Marquard up. Janvrin threw out Marquard at first, Myers going held at third. Meyers up. Meyers popped to Scott. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

Hooper up. The crowd applauded Hooper because of his great throw which prevented a run by Brooklyn in the fourth inning. Ball 1, strike 1. Hooper got a two-bagger when Myers completely lost his fly in the sun. The sun shone directly in the eyes of the center and rightfielders. Janvrin up. Janvrin sacrificed, Mowrey to Cutshaw. Hooper moved on to third. Walker up. Ball 1. Hooper scored on Walker's single. Hoblitzel up. Foul, strike 1. Carrigan again claimed that Marquard was using a balk action but Umpire Connolly would not allow it. Strike 2. Hoblitzel went out to Daubert, unassisted. Walker going to second. Lewis up. Mowrey took Lewis' grounder and touched Walker as he came into third. ONE RUN, TWO HITS, NO ERRORS.

SIXTH INNING

Daubert up. Ball 1. Gardner tossed Daubert out at first. Stengel up. Strike 1; strike 2; ball 1. Stengel struck out. Wheat up. Janvrin threw out Wheat, coming in fast and getting the Brooklyn batters grounder. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

Gardner up. Ball 1; strike 1, strike 2. Olson fumbled Gardner's grounder and the batter was safe at first. Scott up. Foul, strike 1; foul, strike 2. Scott forced Gardner, Mowrey to Cutshaw. Cady up. Scott went to second on a passed ball. Ball 1, ball 2, ball 3. Cady walked for the third time. Shore up. Strike 1, strike 2, ball 1. Shore popped to Daubert. Hooper up. Hooper popped to Olson. NO RUNS, NO HITS, ONE ERROR.

SEVENTH INNING

Cutshaw up. Ball 1. Janvrin threw out Cutshaw after fumbling his infield grounder. Mowry up. Mowrey singled to right. Olson up. Ball 1. Olson hit into a double play, Gardner to Janvrin to Hoblitzel. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

Janvrin up. Foul, strike 1. Janvrin got a double past Mowrey. Walker up. Olson fumbled Walker's grounder and the batter was safe, Janvrin going to third. Hoblitzel up. Strike 1, foul strike 2. Janvrin scored when Cutshaw made a bobble on Hoblitzel's grounder, the batter being safe at first and Walker going to second. Lewis up. Lewis sacrificed, Daubert to Cutshaw, Walker going to third and Hobitz to second. Gardner up. Ball 1, ball 2, ball 3, strike 1. Cutshaw took Gardiner's grounder but his throw to the plate was too late to catch Walker, as he slid over the path. Hoblitzel went to third. Scott up. Ball 1, foul strike 2, ball 2. Meyers gave Marquard a wild pitch. Ball 3. Hobbs scored on Scott's sacrifice fly to Stengel. Gardner remained on first. Cady up. Ball 1. Cutshaw threw out Cady. THREE RUNS, ONE HIT, TWO ERRORS.

EIGHTH INNING

Meyers up. Ball 1. Scott threw out Meyers. Johnston batted in place of Marquard. Ball 1, ball 2, strike 1. Johnston singled over Janvrin's head. Myers up. Foul, strike 1, ball 1. A double play followed. Myers grounder was deflected by Shore to Scott and he tossed to Janvrin who then threw out Myers at first. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

Pfeffer now pitching for Brooklyn. Shore up. Ball 1, strike 1, strike 2. Shore flied out to Wheat. Hooper up. Ball 1, strike 1; ball 2; ball 3. Hooper walked. Janvrin up. Strike 1. On the hit and run play Janvrin singled, Hooper going to third and when Stengel threw wildly past second, Hooper scored. Janvrin went to second. Walker up. Ball 1, ball 2; ball 3. Walker walked. Hoblitzel up. Hobitz flied out to Wheat, Janvrin holding second. Lewis up. Foul, strike 1, strike 2, ball 1. Lewis forced Walker, Olson to Cutshaw. ONE RUN, ONE HIT, ONE ERROR.

NINTH INNING

Daubert up. Ball 1, ball 2, ball 3. Daubert walked. Stengel up. Ball 1, strike 2, foul, ball 3. Stengel singled to right. Daubert going to second. Wheat up. Wheat forced Daubert, Shore to Gardner. Stengel going to second. Cutshaw up. Strike 1. Cutshaw was hit by pitched ball and the bases were filled. Mowrey up. Ball 1, strike 1, strike 2. Stengel and Wheat scored when Janvrin fumbled Mowrey's grounder. Cutshaw moving on to second. Olson up. Ball 1, strike 1. Olson got an infield hit, filling the bases. Meyers up. Strike 1, foul strike 2. Meyers fouled out to Hoblitzel. Merkle batting for Pfeffer. Ball 1, strike 1, ball 2, strike 2, foul, foul. Merkle walked. Cutshaw scoring. Shore was taken from the box. Mays pitched Shore. Thomas went in to catch for Cady. Myers up. Strike 1. Mowrey scored when Myers grounded an infield hit. Olson moved up to third and Merkle to second. Daubert up. Foul, strike 1, ball 1, ball 2. Scott threw out Daubert. FOUR RUNS, THREE HITS, ONE ERROR.

DEMOCRATS OF STATE FULL OF ENTHUSIASM OVER THE OUTLOOK

After Solid Month of "Hitting the Ball" They Can See Nothing but Success for Party Next Month; Rufus Hardy Coming.

(Special Correspondence.)

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 6.—A month of intensive campaigning in all parts of New Mexico except the south central and southwestern part finds the Democrats of the state some strong and full of enthusiasm and optimism as to the result of the election on November 7. For a solid month the Democratic candidates have been "hitting the ball" hard in two-thirds of the counties of the state, ranging from San Juan in the far northwest to the lower valley of the Pecos. Everywhere they have been greeted by large and enthusiastic gatherings of voters. Their automobile cavalcade have honked and passed their way into hamlets and villages and cross-roads, they have talked hand to hand with the farmers, the cattle and sheep growers, the country store keepers, the irrigators, the miners, the railroad section hands, the merchants and the professional men, the manufacturers and the ordinary, average citizens. It has been a thorough, systematic and comprehensive campaign. It has entailed some hard traveling, some long hours and other hardships, but the good news extended to the people and the cheers which have greeted the appearance of the speakers everywhere have more than rewarded them.

"Greatest campaign that I ever took," said W. H. Walton, candidate for congressman, on his return from a swing around the northwest with A. A. Jones, candidate for United States senator, and half a dozen other Democratic nominees. "If there is anything in popular enthusiasm and cordiality this election is going to be ours." At Farmington, San Juan county, this party was greeted by the largest political gathering ever seen in the county, and the whole trip was an ovation.

Judging from the great receptions tendered them in the Pecos valley, H. C. de Baca, candidate for governor, Governor McDonald, candidate for lieutenant governor, and former Governor M. A. Otero, candidate for state auditor, along with the entire Democratic ticket, will sell practically the solid vote of the heavily Democratic southeastern counties. Chaves and Eddy counties, whose delegates led the van of the De Baca enthusiasts at the state convention, turned out splendidly to greet the three candidates whose speeches were among the most vigorous and panegyric yet delivered in the campaign and who vociferously backed the records of Barnum, Hobbs and other Republican nominees. The Roosevelt and Carlsbad meetings were especially enthusiastic. H. C. de Baca, who the Republicans have been hoping would be unable to take an active part in the campaign, demonstrated on the Pecos valley trip that his physical condition is steadily improving and he is now arranging to start on a vigorous campaign of speech-making and personal work among the voters from now until election day.

H. L. Hall, candidate for state treasurer, and John B. Larrazolo, son of C. A. Larrazolo, are now touring the counties of Sandoval, Bernalillo, Torrance, Valencia and Santa Fe, speaking at every settlement however small. Larrazolo is proving a most effective campaigner. They expect to get into the smaller places in a number of the counties within the next week or two.

A. A. Jones, candidate for United States senator, Secretary of State Antonio Lucero, candidate for reelection, and W. H. Walton started this week on a swing through the counties of Guadalupe (gap), Union, Colfax and Mora, speaking from two to four times daily. Harry L. Patton, candidate for attorney general, George A. Dargusch, candidate for state land commissioner, and Holiday Montoya, candidate for corporation commissioner, have also been making a number of the northern towns, Santa Rosa, Tucumcari, Nara Visa, Clayton, Logan, Mosquero and other places they have visited by both parties. At Clayton the campaigners received a royal welcome, and some exceptional Democratic majorities are expected in Union county.

All the candidates declare that the sentiment which swept Democrats into the executive and most of the other offices at the state election in 1912 has merely strengthened in the five years of Democratic administration, and that they will be shown considerably on election day.

"I am confident," the people are with us," said Governor McDonald, who is into the campaign with his coat off and his sleeves rolled up. We couldn't ask for a more encouraging campaign than we have had so far.

"I am immensely gratified at the outlook," said A. A. Jones, after his return from his first trip and address upon stump in Albuquerque. "In my opinion Democratic counties will increase their majorities, and the Republicans will not make nearly as good a showing as they did in 1912."

M. A. Otero, for nine years governor of the territory of New Mexico, who has been a Progressive for several years, and who was nominated by the Democrats as a representative of the Independent or Progressive element, declared that the Republicans are already "on the run." Otero is making a characteristically determined and aggressive campaign. In company with Colonel George W. Prichard, another Progressive leader, he will soon start on another speaking tour and will make addresses in Raton, Las Vegas and Albuquerque.

Governor McDonald will carry the campaign into the south within a few days, having arranged to make an address at Las Cruces. This is expected to be one of the most interesting speeches of the campaign as the Republicans have been resorting to gross misrepresentation in a desperate effort to make political capital out of the failure of the First State Bank of Las Cruces.

Congressman Rufus Hardy of Texas has been secured by the Democrats for six speeches in the state, beginning at Santa Fe October 9. He will speak in Albuquerque on the 10th, Belen on the 11th, Deming on the 12th, Lordsburg on the 13th, and Silver City on the 14th.

The best place to get the real atmosphere in a political campaign is at headquarters. If anyone doubts the enthusiastic optimism of the Democrats he should come into the six crowded and busy rooms of the Democratic headquarters in this city. The enthusiasm is infectious, and if the visitor stays for any length of time he becomes convinced that the Democratic ticket is certain of success.

Chairman Arthur Seligman of the Democratic state central committee declares the Democratic seat everywhere evident is the best assurance of victory at the polls next month. The fact that every Democrat is alert and on the job, and that every candidate is taking such an enthusiastic personal interest in getting the issues forcibly before the people, he emphatically means that there can be only one result—a smashing Democratic triumph. It is admitted by Republicans as well as Democrats that Seligman is putting on the most effective campaign in the annals of the party. Everybody is working and everybody is optimistic.

CARRANZA MAY NOT RUN FOR PRESIDENT AGAIN IS REPORT

Prominent Mexican Arriving from Mexico City Brings This Information to El Paso; Only a Four-year Term Hereafter.

[By Evening Herald Leased Wire]

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 7.—General Venustiano Carranza may not be a candidate for the presidency of Mexico at the first election to be held by the de facto government, J. J. Pastoriza, Carranza consul at Los Angeles, Cal., declared here today upon his arrival from Mexico City en route to Los Angeles.

"General Carranza has made no formal statement of his position," Consul Pastoriza said. "But there is a strong feeling among the men who are close to him as the national capital that he will not be a candidate."

Dead Driver at the Wheel of an Auto

[By Evening Herald Leased Wire]

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 7.—F. S. Trullinger, a real estate dealer, died instantly at the wheel of his automobile here last night while the machine was speeding down a steep hill on West Farnam hill. Mrs. Trullinger, the only other occupant of the runaway car, came attempted to stop the machine but could not remove the dead man's hands from the wheel, our his feet from where they rested lightly on the brakes. At the foot of the hill the runaway car ran into another automobile going the same direction without injury to the occupants of either machine.

WILSON MAKES BID FOR INDEPENDENTS TO VOTE DEMOCRAT TICKET THIS FALL

President Delivers Campaign Speech Today Before a Delegation of New York Men Who March to Shadow Lawn.

OPPONENTS CRITICIZE BUT HAVE NO REMEDY

Every Act of the Government for Last Three Years Has Been Questioned, But No New Policy Has Been Suggested.

[By Evening Herald Leased Wire]

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 7.—President Wilson today gave reasons why he thought independent and Progressive voters should cast Democratic ballots in November. He spoke to a large delegation of Progressives, members of the Woodrow Wilson Independence league, and the College Men's league, who came here from New York and marched to Shadow Lawn, preceded by a band.

President Wilson declared in his speech that every policy of the government for the last three years had been questioned, but that no new line of policy had been suggested.

"We are indeed at a critical juncture of the world," he said, and added that behind him stood a united Democratic party, while other parties were disorganized.

The president criticized the Republican party as made up of "everybody discontented with present conditions."

"I hope only for a return to secure peace," he said. "If I were a member of that party, I would be afraid to be elected, because I would know it can accomplish nothing."

One branch of the Republican party in New York supported a man for the senate who was openly unneutral, the president asserted. If one branch of the Republican party controls, he said, there would be war for the United States and if it does not control there would be war for that party.

The president charged that the "old guard" of the Republican party controlled its last convention and was responsible for everything done by it, including the framing of its platform.

SUB U-35, SEVENTEEN DAYS FROM GERMANY, COMES TO ANCHOR IN HARBOR AT NEWPORT

One of Kaiser's Men-of-war, from Wilhelmshaven, Crosses the Atlantic and Slips Quietly Into Port on This Side.

NO HOSTILE CRAFT ARE SIGHTED ON THE TRIP

Boat Is Plentifully Supplied With Provisions and Fuel and Will Take Nothing Aboard Here; One Gun on Her Deck.

[By Evening Herald Leased Wire]

Newport, R. I., Oct. 7.—The German submarine U-35 from Wilhelmshaven arrived in the harbor this afternoon. She crossed the ocean in seventeen days.

The U-35 is a man of war, flies the flag of the German navy and has a single gun mounted on her deck.

The submarine anchored in the outer harbor two miles down the bay. No one came ashore, but a representative of The Associated Press was allowed to go aboard and learn the vessel's story. The U-35 will go outside the harbor for anchorage during the night.

The U-35 in command of Lieut. Captain Hans Rose, appeared spick and span upon her arrival here and looked as if he had been out only for maneuvers. Her commander reported that he had not sighted any hostile crafts on the voyage over, adding that the boat was plentifully supplied with provisions and fuel and that nothing could be taken aboard here. Shortly after the submersible came in, Commander Rose paid an official call upon Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight, commandant of the Narragansett Bay naval station, to whom he stated that he was preparing to leave Port tonight.

Commander Rose explained that the submarine which is a regular war vessel and equipped with wireless had put in here only to deliver official mail for the German ambassador. He declined to say whether he had been ordered to American waters to search for the German merchant sub-
