ENTHUSIASM MARKS CONVENTION OF THE REPUBLICANS OUT TO SMASH MACHINE

Delegates Cheer When Told Suggested Ticket Is Made Up Mainly of Men Who Have Never Held Office in County.

APPLAUSE REACHES HIGH TIDE WHEN BACA NAMED

Clark M. Carr Nominated for Senator-at-large from Shoestring District; E. B. Garcia for Senator; Plank Against Road Tax.

When the convention was approaching its windup this afternoon, an order from the district court, issued in connection with injunction proceedings instituted by Cap W. H. Gillenwater, chairman of the Republican county committee, was served. Gillenwater and the county machine seek to prevent the anti-machine Republicans from using the party name and emblem.

With much enthusiasm and an unmistakeable earnestness, the Republicans composing the convention called by Eilego Baca under authority held to sprang from the Republican county committee, and which is contended is the regular Republican convention regardless of any claims by the G. O. P. Machine, got down to nominations this afternoon after a morning session devoted mainly to organization and the preparation of committee reports.

Up to 3 o'clock these nominations were made:

Senator at large for the counties of Bernalillo, Sandoval and San Juan (the "shoestring" district), Clark M. Carr.

State Senator—E. B. Garcia.

Members of the House of Representatives—Pedro P. Tafoya, Clemente Gutierrez, Zenon Sandoval.

Probate Judge—J. A. Garcia y Sanchez.

County Clerk—George W. Yocum.

Sheriff—Eilego Baca.

There were other nominations to be made, the recommendations regarding them by the nominations committee being as follows:

County Commissioners—Isidro Sandoval, Adriano S. Sanchez, Carlos R. Romero.

Assessor—L. H. Chamberlin.

School Superintendent—Atanacio Montoya.

Treasurer—W. E. Rogers.

County Surveyor—A. E. Hutchinson.

We further recommend the selection of the following delegates to the district convention to be shortly held for the purpose of nominating a Republican candidate for the office of district attorney for the Second judicial district of the state of New Mexico:

J. R. Moore, Antonio Sanchez, W. E. Rogers, Geo. W. Yocum, Adriano Sanchez, Jose Maria Rarela, Secundo Sandoval, Eilego Baca, Chas. Chadwick, Perfecto Armijo, M. C. Ortiz, E. B. Garcia, Secundo Sanchez, Nicholas Ortega, Carlos R. Romero, Pedro P. Tafoya, Isidro Perea, Eliseo Chavez, Juan Bautista Salazar, M. Aragon, J. A. Garcia, Victor Sais, Leopoldo Maez, Alfredo Gallegos, Alfredo Baca.

The indications at that time were that the recommendations of the committee would go through in their entirety.

The high tide of enthusiasm was reached by the delegates and audience when Mr. Baca was placed in nomination by Modesto C. Ortiz. His name was greeted with handclapping, cheers and stamping of feet.

It was not long before that that Mr. Baca, who rose to explain when the committee on nominations reported that the make-up of the ticket was entirely up to the delegates, roused the convention three times to almost as high a pitch of enthusiasm. He rang the bulldeye gong when he stated that the ticket recommended was made up with the aim of picking for the most part men who had never before held office in Bernalillo county. He scored again when he said his enemies were his enemies because he had been for the poor people. And he scored no less markedly when he said that the only race issue he had ever raised was against the men controlling Republican politics, when they set out to make Spanish-Americans for office, to pick Spanish-Americans of whom the other Spanish-Americans could be proud.

The Platform.

The platform adopted was as follows:

Be it resolved by the Republicans of the county of Bernalillo state of New Mexico in convention assembled that we endorse and affirm the national and state platforms of the Republican party, and pledge our support to the Honorable Charles E. Hughes for president and Charles W. Fairbanks for vice president of the United States.

We it further resolved that we endorse as of entirely bad policy our support to the election of the entire state and national ticket of the Republican party at the ensuing general election.

We it further resolved that we deplore internal dissensions within the party, and extend to all members thereof a cordial invitation to unite with us in restoring the management and control of the organization and affairs of the Republican party of the county of Bernalillo to the hands of the people, wherein such management and control is properly vested.

We pledge our nominees to the state legislature to work for the best interests of the people of the state at large. We believe that a just and equitable taxation law should be passed at the next session, making the founder of taxes equal in proportion to all interests in the state.

Road Tax Repeal.

We are in favor of passing and supporting proper laws for the relief of labor in all its forms so that the working men may be protected and receive just compensation.

We pledge our county officers to give an honest administration, and to see that the laws of the state are properly enforced.

We are in favor of passing a comprehensive primary law at the next session of the legislature of the state.

We are in favor of the repeal of the law which places a tax of $2 per capita for road work or three days' work in lieu thereof because we think it's an imposition upon the individual citizen and the money for such purposes should be levied by direct taxation from all property the same as other funds are created for public use.

Taking Republican county conventions as a rule and large, the convention today was almost as well attended and fully enthusiastic as any assemblage of delegates called by the county machine. Rivals lounged in and theorizing in earnest, and Democrats present, speaking as impartial bystanders, recognized it as something that would give the Republican machine a lot to think about.

There were close to 75 men in the delegates seats when the convention opened in W. O. W. hall this morning. At a meeting of the Republican Central committee held the other day Chairman Jesse Romero told the organization men that there wouldn't be twenty delegates at the Baca convention.

Among the men in the hall were several Democrats, moved by curiosity to see what the independent Republicans might do. There was also a scout from the regular Republican organization, charged with the task of carrying back a faithful account of the happenings.

The convention was called to order by Eilego Baca. He introduced Assistant District Attorney E. B. Garcia who made a brief speech as to the motives and the principles actuating those engaged in the convention's business.

His own motive in associating with the movement, he said, was to see the Republican party led by independent men who believed in the high principles of the Republican party and were ready to help labor for the ideal set up by Abraham Lincoln—government of the people, by the people and for the people.

The men in charge of the Republican party in Bernalillo county at this time, and in other counties that he might name, said Mr. Garcia, were anything but supporters of that principle.

It was the aim, said Mr. Garcia, to name a ticket that would make its appeal as nominations made by independent men men independent in that they were not afraid to act for themselves a ticket made up of men whose intelligence would be recognized when their names were announced.

Attorney James R. Moore was elected temporary chairman, and was escorted to the chair amid applause. Mr. Moore, in his speech, said that he had examined into the question of legality carefully, and that the convention was unquestionably the legal Republican county convention. That Mr. Baca's authority to call it after Jesus Romero refused to do so, was legally unassailable, and that the nominations made by the convention would be the legally regular nominations of the regularly constituted Republican county organization and would have to be accepted as such by the county clerk, and accorded the use of the Republican emblem for balloting.

The following committees were appointed:

Credentials: S. Sandoval, Charles Chadwick, Antonio Sanchez.

Rules: E. B. Garcia, J. R. Skinner, George W. Yocum.

Resolutions and permanent organization: M. C. Ortiz, W. E. Rogers, Alfredo Gallegos, E. B. Garcia, James R. Moore.

Nominations: Charles Chadwick, N. Ortega, James R. Moore.

Mr. Garcia read a magazine article by Theodore Roosevelt against President Wilson, after which the convention took a recess until 1:30 o'clock. The committees were instructed to work up to noon, and have their reports ready when the convention reassembled.

When the convention reassembled at 2 o'clock the temporary organization was made permanent, with James R. Moore in the chair and E. M. Quintana secretary.

Carranza's Decree Displeases Gompers

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 9.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, came here yesterday to protest to the Mexican members of the Mexican-American joint commission against General Carranza's attitude toward labor unions in Mexico, and to ask the American commissioners to take this phase into consideration in their conferences with the Mexicans.

SUBMARINE WARFARE IS CARRIED BY KAISER ALMOST TO SHORES OF UNITED STATES

Four British, One Norwegian and One Dutch Vessel Are Sunk and Passenger Liner Stephano Is Captured by Raiders.

A FLOTILLA OF DIVERS OPERATING, IS BELIEF

Experts Think the U-53 Is Only One of a Fleet of Several Vessels Gathered to Attack Ships Belonging to the Allies.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)

Boston, Oct. 9.—German submarine warfare brought to this side of the Atlantic Sunday was earnest relentlessly throughout the night.

The captain of the Nantucket lightship reported that three German submarines were operating south and southeast of Nantucket and that a total of nine vessels had been destroyed.

Rushing to give battle to the submarines, three British cruisers were off Nantucket shoals early today. The belief is growing that the U-53 is only one of a flotilla of German submarines gathered for attacks on vessels of the allied nations and neutral nations carrying contraband of war.

Shipping at ports along the New England coast had been held up to a greater extent today and vessels at sea were reported making for the nearest harbor.

The richest prize bagged by the Germans yesterday was the passenger liner St. Stano. The vessel, British owned, carried 53 passengers including thirty Americans. The Stephano was valued at $400,000 when she was launched three years ago. She carried also a cargo of codfish, codfish oil and seal oil, valued at $150,000. Her naval value was due to the fact that she had been sold to the Russian government was soon to be used as an ice breaker.

Submarine activities began at daylight Sunday, three miles east of Nantucket lightship when the American steamer Kansan was sighted and signalled to stop. When the submarine commander was satisfied that she was an American vessel he allowed her to proceed.

Four British, one Norwegian and one Dutch vessel were sunk. The British vessels were the West Point, Strathdene, Kingston, Stephano. The others were the Bloemersdijk and the Christian Knudsen.

COMPLICATIONS MAY ARISE WITH ALLIES AND GERMANY OVER LATEST SUB RAIDS

England Is Believed to Hold to the View That Vessels of This Kind Should Not be Allowed to Enter Neutral Ports.

ANY LOSS OF LIFE WILL REOPEN WHOLE QUESTION

Should Americans Perish Following Any of These Attacks the Kaiser Will Have to Answer; Operations May be Shifted.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)

Washington, Oct. 9.—Possibilities of diplomatic complications over the German submarine raid along the New England coast seemed today to point toward the allies as well as Germany.

State and navy officials said today the unofficial report of the destruction of ships within sight of American shores found no reason today to change their first impression that the submarine operations had been conducted so far within the limitations of international law, but they were fully alive to the dangerous possibilities. Destruction of an American ship carrying contraband might easily cause another Frye case and any loss of life at all in any case might easily reopen the whole submarine question. The threatened complication with the allies lies in their contention that submarines, because of their nature should be excluded from all neutral ports. Today's London dispatches quoting from Manchester guardian to the effect that such a view has been "set out in the recent memorandum sent by the allies to neutral governments" contained the first intimation received here that anything in the nature of a formal representation had been made.

The position of the United States, as far as it has been announced is to decide on its merits the case of each submarine entering an American port. Inasmuch as the German submarine which entered New Port Saturday took no supplies, asked for no privileges, and departed almost immediately, it is not thought that she raised any issue.

The general opinion prevailing today was that with the gathering of allied cruisers off the New England coast the submarine would desert that field and strike their next blows further south. Some officials expected to hear of operations in the Gulf of
